

FITTING CLIMAX TO ROOSEVELT'S CAMPAIGN TOUR.

New York Turned Out En Masse to Welcome Teddy--City Overflowed With Enthusiasm.

VOLUMES OF ELOQUENCE.

Burning of Fireworks and Electrical Displays Such as the City Never Witnessed Before.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—This city overpowered with Republican enthusiasm tonight on the occasion of the reception arranged for Governor Roosevelt, candidate of the party for vice president.

As early as 5 o'clock, the crowds began to gather at the Grand Central station to see "Teddy here." Many of the men and women arrived in carriages and the crowd to a great extent was a well dressed one.

Some minutes before train time the reception committee arrived at the station. There was an open carriage for the governor. In it were General Francis V. Greene and Secretary George H. Manchester, of the county committee, and Cornelius N. Bliss.

When the governor's train came in on time on a very demure, well dressed man, broke through the lines and shouted: "Just like Teddy. Right on the minute."

This was the signal for the crowd which broke into a cheer. Mr. Bliss was first to greet Governor Roosevelt. He shook hands cordially and told the governor he looked fine.

Smiled and Shook Hands. He smiled and shook every member of the committee by the hand. As he passed along the platform he was kept bowing to the crowd.

Removed Stains of Travel. The governor took only the time necessary to remove some of the stains of travel and then in company with the committee and others sat down to an informal dinner in Parlor A.

While the governor was at dinner the crowds gathered in Madison Square. At 6:30 the fireworks display began. Every invention in the pyrotechnical line was utilized and some of the displays took the crowd by storm.

Removal of Perfect Control. Deputy Chief Courtright and the five inspectors who worked with him had 1,000 policemen about Madison Square and in the garden.

Stood Vowing Flaps. The audience stood waving flags and cheering and when the governor appeared there was a great tumult. Bands tried hard to make their music heard, but except to those immediately alongside, they might have been silent.

F. V. Greene, Senator Scott, Frederick K. Gibbs and J. H. Manly. When the governor got to his place on the front of the stand the applause was deafening.

General Greene introduced the speaker as the strongest advocate of the administration's policy in the Philippines. Another ovation followed as the governor raised his hat to command attention.

"My fellow Americans," "Good for you, Teddy." He referred to Colonel Bryan's visit to the state and to the reception prepared by Tammany Hall and the audience groaned and hissed.

"Good for you, Teddy, soak it to 'em," yelled a man away up high. Many like exclamations came from other parts of the garden.

The governor took up militarism. He caused much laughter when he told of the danger of 86-100ths of a man to every thousand of our population.

Refers to General Lawton. In answer to Colonel Bryan's remark that the soldiers "walk about in idleness," the governor shouted: "General Lawton no longer walks about in idleness," and the crowd cheered.

Odell and Black Speak. B. B. Odell, Jr., candidate for governor of New York, followed Mr. Fairchild, accusing Mr. Bryan of concealing the main issue of the campaign—the financial question, behind expansion, imperialism, militarism and trusts.

Smiled and Shook Hands. He smiled and shook every member of the committee by the hand. As he passed along the platform he was kept bowing to the crowd.

BRYAN'S TOUR CONCLUDED IN NEW JERSEY.

Majority of the Crowds Not as Large and Demonstrative as he Had in Other States.

SERENADED BY GERMANS.

Will Take a Run Into Connecticut To-day, but Will Return for the New York Demonstration.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Hon. William J. Bryan to-day concluded his campaign tour of the state of New Jersey. The day was a successful one in that the crowds which he addressed were both attentive and of fair size, but the majority of them were neither so large nor so demonstrative as those of New York.

The tour made over the Delaware & Lackawanna road, the most distant point touched being Dover, forty miles south of New York. The other towns at which speeches were made were Hoboken, Harrison, Orange, Summit, Morristown, Boonton, Paterson, Belleville and Newark.

When he reached his hotel in Hoboken, after his carriage tour of the city, he found about five hundred German citizens awaiting his arrival. They insisted upon tendering him a serenade and sang several songs of the fatherland in a way that delighted the president.

At the conclusion of the series of meetings in this city to-night, Mr. Bryan will leave for Hartford, Conn., to deliver a speech at the request of the Connecticut to-morrow, speaking at New Haven and Bridgeport, but will return in time to participate in the meeting of the Democratic clubs in New York City to-morrow night.

Mr. Bryan made the longest stop today at Dover, forty miles out of New York. He spoke at that place for about an hour and addressed a large crowd, which listened to him attentively, notwithstanding a light rain was falling at the time.

He referred in his speech to criticism of himself to the effect that he made himself a candidate for President. He said that he was not a candidate for President and would not make a speech unless I am paid several hundred dollars. They also say that I am so ambitious that I would like to be President.

BENWOOD DEMOCRATS STAGGERED

By the Magnificent Demonstration Given by Their Republican Fellow Citizens.

IN HONOR OF HON. A. B. WHITE.

Millmen and Railroaders in the Industrial Town Give Marchers a Fine Reception.

Marshall county never witnessed such a demonstration as that of the Republicans at Benwood last night, and Benwood was never enthused as last night. Figuratively speaking, the town was torn wide open from the upper county line to McMechen, and amid a din caused by the tooting of steam whistles of the factories and locomotives, the blowing of tin horns, bands and drum corps playing, fire works spluttering, over a thousand men marched, escorting West Virginia's next governor, Hon. A. B. White, through the principal streets to the place of meeting.

The demonstration was in marked contrast to the one given to Mr. Holt a few days since, and it made the Bryanites feel just about as sick as they looked. It was about 9 o'clock when the clubs were all in line at the starting point at Forty-eighth street, where the Hon. August Schach gave the command to march. The procession was made up as follows:

- First Division. Division Marshal—William Leach. Aides. Police. Band. Drum Corps. Mark Hanna Club, of Martin's Ferry. J. Gill Club, of Martin's Ferry. Benwood Republican Club, in Bridgeport. Elkins Cadets, of Wheeling. First West Virginia Rough Rider Regiment. Carriage with Hon. A. B. White, Mayor Shepherd, Dr. J. W. McDonald and Hon. Perry A. Shanor. Carriage with Edward Newton, J. R. Rader and Hon. Charles W. Martin. Carriage with County Clerk E. M. Lewis and Other Officials.

- Second Division. Division Marshal—John Glesler. Band. Sherrard Cavalry. Blackburn Club, of Belleair. S. M. Steele Club, of Moundsville. Six Flocks, of Moundsville. North Benwood Republican Club. McMechen Republican Club. Citizens' Republican Club, of Benwood. Young Ladies' McKinley and Roosevelt Club, of Benwood. Benwood Rough Riders.

The procession passed over the following route: On Jacob to Second, on Second to Marshall, on Marshall to Fourth, on Fourth to Main, on Main to Eighth, on Eighth to Main, on Main to Eighth, on Eighth to Main, on Main to Eighth, on Eighth to Main, where the speech took place.

An Ovation. All along the line of march the residences of the citizens were brilliantly illuminated and profusely decorated, and there was more red fire burned than Benwood ever saw before. The clubs all marched in fine style, and to mention one and not all would be an injustice to Marshall, to John's, to the Citizens' Club, of Benwood, composed of nearly 300 employees of the factories, and a more enthusiastic lot of citizens had no hand to find. Immediately following the parade, the Young Ladies' Club, all carrying American flags. The ladies were given a royal greeting by the speakers at Marshall, to which they seemed to enjoy the long march, for it was a long one.

From the time the parade began until it ended up at the speakers' stand, Hon. A. B. White was the center of attention, and he was kept bowing right and left in answer to the cheers on all sides.

As the column passed the mills, and later the Baltimore and Ohio yards, a steam whistle were kept a-tooting until the noise was actually deafening. Nearly every young lady, and some of the older ones, had tin horns, which they made use of to the fullest capacity of their lung power. Pictures of McKinley, Roosevelt, White and Downer were held up in every where, and one visitor remarked that the parade was rather a disappointment, as the parade was rather a disappointment, as the parade was rather a disappointment.

The speaker began by saying that owing to the lateness of the hour he would not detain the people with a long speech. He said, however, he would speak, if indeed, if he would refuse to talk for a few moments, at least, and thank them for the most magnificent welcome ever accorded a man in the state. He then took from his pocket a small book, which he held up and said that it was the largest gold fund in the history of the government.

He told of the enthusiasm of the people in the state now, and compared them with what they were four years ago. He drew a picture of the state's prosperity under the present administration, and told of the bright prospects in store for the state. New railroads were being built and mines to be opened, new railroads built, opening up undeveloped territory, thus giving work to thousands of men and the investment of millions of dollars.

ple all over the state for the Republican party, and predicted that the majority for the prosperity ticket would reach not less than 15,000. (Cheers.) To Stand Firm.

The next governor said that owing to the condition of his voice he would be forced to close, but before doing so he wanted to ask the Republicans to stand firm, the believers in a sound currency and national honor to leave no stone unturned to get every vote out of election day. See that the entire legislative ticket is elected, and by a majority too large to be counted out. He then introduced Hon. Perry A. Shanor, of Sistersville, who he said would speak for him.

As he closed Mr. White was cheered to the echo, and Mr. Shanor was warmly received as he began his address. He spoke on every subject of the campaign, interspersing his remarks with a number of anecdotes, such as only Perry can get off. He was listened to attentively for nearly an hour, and very few of the audience left until the end of the meeting.

During Mr. Shanor's remarks, a man in the crowd of Popocatepetel asked him to explain the difference between a 15 to 1 dollar and a gold dollar, and the clever Shanor was not slow to take advantage of the opportunity to deliver some telling blows on the money question. He explained the question in a way, much to the satisfaction of the crowd and the chagrin of the questioner, who was not heard from again during the meeting.

The speaker talked of imperialism, trusts, money and protection, and every time he made an attempt to close he was urged to go on by the crowd. When he finally closed the question of imperialism, evidently wanting another talk, but Chairman Manly dismissed them. Many wanted to shake hands with Mr. White, and among these were numerous ladies. Even some of the city in the carriage the next governor was greeted on all sides with cheers and encouraging words.

It was a great night, and one which indicates what Marshall county will do this year. By actual count there were 1,045 men in line, which is a remarkable showing, and no mistake. After the meeting the Benwood committee requested the Intelligencer to thank the clubs from Martin's Ferry, Belleair, Wheeling and Moundsville for their generous donations to the parade. Wood is always ready to respond to any call that may be given her clubs to repay the visit.

BUSINESS DEPENDS

Upon the Results of the Election. Dealers Do Not Care to Take Chances—Steel and Iron Steadily Improving—Wheat on the Toboggan—Corn Weak—Wool Stationary.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—R. G. Dun & Company's weekly Review of Trade tomorrow will say: The election means a great deal to all business interests, and although confidence in the future is seen on every hand, it is not natural that men do not care to take unnecessary chances, and therefore delay new engagements, as far as possible, until after the ballots are counted. But contracts for steel rails for the season thus far are being in 50,000 tons of last year's heavy workings, and the confidence in the future is so strong that all raw materials are firm, and without any speculative activity to stimulate them. The agitation for an advance in bills, though a small one, is an indication of what the iron and steel markets expect in the next six months, and in the great industries sellers of material could easily make heavy profits if they cared to buy the political provisions of their agreements. However unreasonable fears may be, it is likely to be better for business in the long run that conservative ideas for the present are entertained. The weather over a great part of the country has been favorable for agricultural operations, which are progressing well, and in the east the unseasonable temperature has retarded the growth of many crops, but there has been no great stimulus yet this season.

Improvement in Iron and Steel. Conditions in the iron and steel market steadily improve; orders gradually swell in volume and buyers make less efforts to secure concessions. In most cases quotations are not altered, but there is an advance of $20 at Philadelphia for billets, owing to the better business in rails. Pig iron moves freely, especially at Chicago, where manufacturers have contracted freely for the week. Cast iron pipe is in urgent demand, and new plans for ship-building will take place. Bridge builders are buying structural forms heavily. Makers of rails and other products of iron have been accused of quoting better terms to foreign than to domestic buyers. If this is done, it would seem that the manufacturers of rails rather than the makers of iron. Minor metals are quiet, except for further weakness in tin. Silver has reached the highest price in four years.

Cotton showed little recuperative power after last week's decline, and closed lower. The loss in price is $7.50 a bale since October 3, and exporters are still holding off.

Wheat Continued Down. Wheat also continued its downward course, owing to good news here and abroad, but an encouraging report was the accelerated forward buying as quotations declined. Atlantic exports for the week were 2,335,624 bushels, against 2,335,625 bushels last year. Corn is slightly weaker, while pork products have fallen sharply. Most all other provisions are heavy, but lard and rose sharply to 75c. The better tone of the boot and shoe market was sufficient explanation of the advance in materials. New England shops are busy, but thus far manufactured goods have not advanced with materials. Sales of wool at the three chief eastern markets continue to increase, exceeding 5,000,000 pounds last week. Prices are not altered, and bids slightly below the market are refused. Cotton goods move rather more freely as raw materials, but nearer parity with raw materials, and the shavings are dull at the advance to 22c.

Failures for the week were 265 in the United States, against 190 last year, and 24 in Canada, against 23 last year. Another Draw Game. BOSTON, Oct. 26.—Charles F. Barker and Richard Jordan continued their checker match to-day with two "Glasgow's," both of which were drawn, making the grand score now: Jordan, 11; Barker, 1; drawn, 34.

SUICIDE AND DEATH THINS BOXERS' RANKS.

Governor Yu Hsien Takes the Gold Leaf Route to End His Misery and Yang Ki Dies.

BOTH WERE RING LEADERS

In the Late Uprising—Prince Tuan Not Allowed to Accompany the Court to Shensi.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—The Chinese minister has received the following dispatch, which was handed the secretary of state to-day: "Cablegram from Wicrey Chang Chi-Tung dated October 25th, states that governor of Shensi has reported that Kang Yi died on October 18; that Yu Hsien (late governor of Shansi) has committed suicide by swallowing gold leaf; and Prince Tuan has not been permitted to accompany the court."

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—The death of Kang Yi is an important event, as he was one of the ring leaders whose punishment was demanded by the powers. He held the position of assistant grand secretary and president of the civil board and also was one of the six Chinese statesmen making up the privy council of cabinet, which is the body nearest the throne. Following the demands of the powers for his punishment, an edict was issued handing him over to the board of censors to consult and decide upon penalty for his wrongdoing. The same edict ordered the punishment of Prince Tuan, but it was thought that the Tuan influence would secure leniency for Kang Yi and others. To-day's dispatch shows, however, that Kang Yi himself recognized that there was no hope of imperial favor.

Natural Result of Disgrace. Although the dispatch to Minister Wu says only that Kang Yi "died" on the 18th instant, it is thought that the "death" was the natural result of the disgrace which has overtaken the anti-foreign and boxer element. Governor Yu's method of suicide, by swallowing gold leaf, is peculiar to China. It is a means by which high persons take their own lives, the gold leaf being representative of their high station. The leaf forms a ball in the canals of the body and brings death from suffocation.

To Fix the Penalties. WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—A cablegram dated October 24, from director general Sheng states that an imperial decree has been issued, directing Prince Ching and Earl Li to fix and submit for approval the several penalties to be inflicted on those princes and ministers that ought to be punished for the crime of Kang Yi and Yu Hsien. It has been reported that Kang Yi has died of sickness, and that Prince Tuan and Prince Chwang have not been allowed to accompany the court to Shensi.

Prince Tuan May Be Banished. WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Minister Wu's advice to-day also show that Prince Tuan has been visited with severe censure from the throne, and to such an extent that it would be no surprise if he were banished. The crime of Kang Yi and Yu Hsien has been prevented from accompanying the imperial court to Sian-Fu, and remains at Shansi, cut off from further influence on the throne. It is expected that he will be banished, which, to a prince of the blood, is worse than decapitation, and under the Chinese idea of propriety suicide is likely to be his end.

Manchuria to Go to Russia. LONDON, Oct. 27.—"Emperor Nicholas," says the St. Petersburg correspondent of the Daily Mail, "has received a letter from the Chinese emperor, asking him to take the conquered Manchurian provinces under Russian protection."

VISITS MCKINLEY. General Wood Spent the Day in Conference With the President—Allen's Message Received. CANTON, Ohio, Oct. 26.—Governor General Wood, of Cuba, arrived here today for a conference with President McKinley. Secretary Cortelyou escorted him directly to the McKinley home, where he remained until 11 o'clock this evening. General Wood came to confer with the President and Secretary of War Root on the matter of McKinley's connection with Cuban affairs. He was accompanied by Secretary of Agriculture Lacombe, of Cuba, and his aide, Lieut. Frank Ross.

Mr. C. B. Bulbaugh, commissioner of education in Porto Rico, visited the President to-day. He delivered to the President a message from Governor Allen, the nature of which has not yet been made public. He also made a verbal report on affairs of the island in general, and on educational matters in particular. To a reporter of the Associated Press he said conditions in Porto Rico are steadily improving, and the improvement will be more rapid as soon as the nature of the Federal assistance given in the past fortnight endorsed by an act and declared against American administration. The latter party embraces the pro-Spanish element, he says, and the former the industrial classes.

USED TOBACCO. And Drank Liqueur, but Edward Henry Did Not Die Young. PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 26.—Edward Henry, reputed to be the oldest man in the country, died at his home to-day, aged 116 years, old. He was born a slave in Culpepper, Va., in 1784, during his long career he was married five times, and is survived by his fifth wife, by whom he had thirteen children. He is said to be the father of sixty children. At his life he was addicted to the tobacco habit, and was a moderate drinker of intoxicants.
