

BLUE GRASS STATE

Did Herself Proud in Inauguration of Governor Beckham.

KENTUCKY COLONELS PRESENT

With All Their Military Trappings. Young Governor Did Not Refer to the Killing of Goebel.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Dec. 11.—Governor Beckham was inaugurated to-day for a term of three years. The inaugural ceremonies were the most elaborate witnessed in this state in the present decade. The inaugural parade was made up of all the military companies of the state, three regiments, the Duckworth Club, of Cincinnati, political clubs from this city, Louisville and other towns of the state, civic societies and distinguished citizens in carriages and on horseback, forming a procession of great length. When the inaugural procession reached the state capitol, the oath of office was administered to the governor by Chief Justice Hazelrigg, in the presence of a great crowd, which had gathered to witness the ceremonies. After the ceremonies at the inaugural stand the governor reviewed the state troops.

Did Not Refer to Goebel. Governor Beckham in his inaugural address did not refer to the murder of William Goebel, but devoted himself entirely to state matters. He thanked the people for the honor conferred upon him by electing him governor for the remaining part of the present term. He promised the state a clean and honest administration of its executive affairs in a spirit of fairness and tolerance, with no feeling of partisan hate or malice, with the sincere desire to remove as far as possible, all friction and ill feeling from among the people. He briefly stated some of the leading policies by which he will be guided in the administration of the office and promised his cordial support in the development of Kentucky's industrial interests. He said it would be his policy to keep the state guard in a first class condition but that the military power shall always be in absolute subordination to the civil authority and shall never be called into active service except as a last resort in carrying out the decrees of judicial tribunals.

The festivities wound up to-night with the conventional inaugural ball, which has been a feature of inaugurations in this state for many years and at which the elite of the state were in attendance.

CANAL CONVENTION

May Not Be Accepted by Great Britain—Stories in the Affirmative Denied by State Department.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—A prominent official of the state department said to-day:

"There is no foundation whatever for the story that this government has assurance from that of Great Britain that the canal convention will, if ratified by the senate with the pending amendment, be accepted by the British cabinet. No such promise, suggestion, or intimation has ever reached the state department from any official source, and the department does not know what action the British government would take in the event that the Peking treaty is amended as proposed. Every intimation, however, that has reached here goes to show that the adoption of any amendment would be regretted by the British authorities.

"Through misunderstanding, or some other reason, the impression was conveyed to the public as a result of the proceedings in secret session in the senate yesterday in connection with the treaty that Secretary Hay had stated that he would resign his office if the pending Davis amendment to the Hay-Pauncefote treaty were adopted. The secretary's exact attitude in this matter was purely negative. He simply stated that he had never threatened the senate or any other authority to resign his office if certain actions were not taken respecting the treaty. He did not promise to remain if it were amended; he did not threaten to quit."

GOVERNOR OF OREGON

Uses Pe-ru-na in His Family For Colds and Grip.

CAPITOL BUILDING, SALEM, OREGON.

A Letter From the Executive Office of Oregon.

The Governor of Oregon is an ardent admirer of Pe-ru-na. He keeps it continually in the house. In a recent letter to Dr. Hartman he says: Its victims, Pe-ru-na not only cures catarrh, but prevents. Every household should be supplied with this great remedy for coughs, colds and so forth. It will be noticed that the Governor says he has not had occasion to use Pe-ru-na for other ailments. The reason for this is, most other ailments begin with a cold. Using Pe-ru-na to promptly cure colds, he protects his family against other ailments. This is exactly what every other family in the United States should do. Keep Pe-ru-na in the house. Use it for coughs, colds, la grippe, and other climatic affections of winter, and there will be no other ailments in the house. Such families should provide themselves with a copy of Dr. Hartman's free book, entitled "Winter Catarrh." Address Dr. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio.

Six masked burglars last night seized the town marshal of Seville, O., and after blinding and robbing him, robbed High's bank, which carried about $1,000 and succeeded in making their escape. Marshal Weaver in passing the bank shortly before midnight discovered the burglars at work. He was quickly seized by four of the men and rendered powerless. The bank vault was then blown open by the burglar. The explosion resulted in many citizens appearing on the streets. The burglars, however, with drawn revolvers, made a dash for the Cleveland, Lorain & Wheeling depot and got away on a hand-car.

A Good Example of Perverseness. New York Tribune: The anti-expansionists make a great ado against helping the Philippines, on the ground that to do so will cost more than it will ever pay. And then, when it is shown that the islands will be valuable and highly profitable, they roll up their eyes in austere reprobation of the inquiry of taking the islands for the sake of unhallooed gain. As Sam Weller would say, "Wot a perverse creature it is!"

THRILLING STORY

Told by Captain Shields of His Experience in the Philippines—Captured by Insurgents.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 11.—Captain Devereaux Shields, of the Twenty-ninth Infantry, United States Army, who has been invalided home on account of two wounds received in one of the most thrilling adventures of the war in the Philippines, arrived here on the transport Hancock. Captain Shields and fifty-two men left Santa Cruz, on the island of Marinduque, September 11 last for the purpose of reconnoitering. Two days later they fell into an ambush and were fired upon by about 250 men with rifles, who were supported by about 2,000 men with bolos.

Captain Shields, telling of the engagement, said: "I was twice wounded and fell unconscious, but soon recovered and then gave the order for the command to fight its way back to the station. I told them to leave me with a man from the hospital corps.

Raised White Flag. "I dropped behind a rice stack and told the men to raise the white flag. The insurgents continued to fire at us. The men fought their way back a short distance, but were surrounded and had to surrender or be killed.

"After the insurgents came to me one of them took all my belongings. Another man was just going to shoot me when I saw a hand and arm come forward and strike up the gun.

"We were kept in native hovels for twelve days and then we started on a march over mountains, through dense forests and across rivers, compelled to sleep in mud and rain. We were given only the dirtiest water with which to wash our wounds. This continued until October 12, when we were told that orders had been received to turn us over to the Americans. We were taken to Buena Vista and turned over to General Hare."

STANDARD WINS. Its Contempt Suit in Supreme Court of Ohio—The Court Equally Divided.

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 11.—The supreme court to-day by an equally divided vote, refused to hear the charges of contempt of court preferred by former attorney general Frank S. Monnett, of Ohio, against the Standard Oil Company and its officials, including John D. Rockefeller. The court divided as follows:

For the dismissal: Chief Justice Shauck and Justices Burkett and Davis. Dissenting: Juges Minshall, Spear and Williams.

When D. K. Watson was attorney general, he instituted a proceeding to oust the Standard Oil Company, alleging it had exceeded its corporate powers and was operating in a manner contrary to public policy. On March 20, 1892, the supreme court ousted the company.

On November 8, 1897, Mr. Monnett filed the information in contempt claiming that the Standard was following a line of policy that would in effect never result in winding up its affairs. This information was to-day dismissed.

All They Needed Was a Start. "A friend of mine told me a few days since of an occurrence he witnessed in 1879 in western Texas, which illustrates forcibly the peculiar talent of our race for government," said a man from the Lone Star state the other day. "He was hunting in that section, and saw a group of men in a clump of trees on a prairie. He joined them, and found that they were trying to organize a county. Immediately after the Civil war a great many Confederate soldiers went out upon the frontier of Texas among the Indians and began life anew. Population crowded around them, and it became necessary to organize a civil government. They sent out and got blanks, but when this particular party mustered it was found that none of them could write. Fortunately a sewing machine agent was traveling around that direction, and he could write. They hired him at $25 per day, and proceeded then to organize a county, and to-day it is one of the most prosperous in the state."

The Greatest Railroad in the World. uses Walker's Soap because it is free from alkali and saves the company thousands of dollars in a year in preserving paint, varnish, and fabrics washed with it. Before the Pennsylvania Railroad used Walker's Soap, newly varnished cars were found to be shabby and need re-varnishing. The cause was a mystery till the company's chemist investigated and found it was the alkali in common soaps that was destroying property. A standard of soap purity was then set up, and now the cars are washed with Walker's Soap. Many housekeepers find paint and varnish washing off or losing its glossy surface. Blame the soap you use. Get Walker's Soap and be as wise as the Pennsylvania Railroad. Look for the game rooster on the wrapper and you will know you have the genuine.
