WHEELING, WEST VA.

Wednesday Morning, Oct. 21, 1863.

God guard our flag, and keep each star Each stripe as bright as new they were, Still may it lead our ranks in war, Still may it lead our soldiers' graves, Death to the traitor that would dare To trail it through the dust of shame, All honest hearts its lot will share And follow it to death or fame.

UNION TICKET.

FOR CONGRESS,
Hon. JACOB B. BLAIR, of Wood,
STATE SENATE,
JOHN H. ATKINSON, of Hancock, HOUSE OF DELEGATES,
DANIEL LAMB,
W. W. SHREVER,
A. F. ROSS.

Fourth Page.
Interesting reading matter will be found on the fourth page of this paper.

To-night.
Hon. Jacob B. Blair, the Union nominee for Congress, will speak to-night at the Court House. We hope to see a full turn out. Mr. Blair is a forcible and interesting speaker and will say many things worth hearing.

The Election To-morrow.
The election to-morrow, contrary to what was expected some days ago, promises to be quite animated. This is in consequence of five candidates coming out for the House of Delegates. Up to yesterday morning but three candidates were out and there was, consequently, no excitement. To add to the interest of the occasion Mr. Blair, the Union nominee for Congress, will speak to-night at the Court House.

Look to Your Tickets.
Voters to-morrow will bear in mind that there are five Union candidates on the track for the House of Delegates—viz:— Messrs. Lamb, Shriver, Ross, Logan and Weber. Only three of these can be elected, and of course, only three of them can be voted for. We say this because many of the tickets will have all five names printed on them, and some persons, not knowing better, may hand in the whole ticket at the ballot box. All such votes will be thrown out and lost. Voters, therefore, must be careful to see that their tickets only carry three names on them.

The Third District.
There is strong hope of the election of Col. Dan Frost in the Third district tomorrow over Whaley. We hope for the success of the former, not because the latter was not loyal, after a fashion, but because he was absolutely next to no account at all. He did not vote more than one half the time, if that, and no such man ought to be in Congress. Col. Frost is a vigorous, thorough going kind of a man, who, if he has not always been up to high water mark, has not ebbed any after getting there. We have noticed him this two years past as one of our progressive men.
Mr. Whaley has no growth or outcome, and is just as apt to take a step backwards as forwards.

A Reported Scheme in the Second District.
We have been informed on what has the appearance of reliable authority, that a man named Augustus Crisp, of Kingwood, is to be run as an underground candidate for Congress in the 2d district. Evidence is said to have been discovered of a wide spread understanding throughout the district among the disloyal, that the names of the loyal candidates (Messrs. Brown and Burdett) are to be scratched and Crisp's name written on their tickets instead. We are requested to give notice of this scheme so that Union men may have knowledge of it and govern themselves accordingly.
If there is really an understanding among the disloyal in the 2d district there may be also a similar understanding in this district.

A Visible Change.
We received yesterday our regular files of the New Orleans Picayune. The old "Pic" is as always an interesting sheet to us, even though one half of its fair proportions are shorn by the rebellion. It looks prosperous, however, and we are glad of it.
We are struck by the character of the advertisements in it, with the change that has come over New Orleans society, and in no respect are we more impressed than with the fact that in no number of it do you ever see any more the inevitable cut of a runaway nigger with his bundle swinging from a stick over his shoulder. That sort of thing is all played out even in New Orleans.

The world moves.

A Card from Prof. Ross.

Editors Intelligence: I was not aware until lately, that my connection with the mileage question as agitated in this House, was a matter of any concern to my constituents. At all the mileage to which I am entitled is exactly $24.00, I recently ascertained that I might very fairly be counted out of the number of those who had any personal interest in its settlement. But as I have been informed that it is desirable that the public should know how I have stood and still stand upon this matter, you will permit me to make the following statement: Upon every occasion when the subject came before the House, I voted against it, and finally when the subject was agitated to substitute per diem for mileage, the only phenomenon of the matter in which I had any pecuniary interest, I spoke against it in the most decided terms, contending that the House had adjourned with a perfect understanding that they should receive no pay for the recess. It was an "exceedingly small business," to say the least of it, to be agitating either the subject of mileage or per diem, and that it was no very gracious attitude for the House to place itself in before the country, even to entertain the discussion of a proposition to vote money into their own pockets. As regarded the mileage, I contended that no matter what the custom might have been, the House had stopped themselves by their own vote, and as to the per diem, which, by the way, would have paid $86 into my pocket, I hoped the House would no longer entertain my proposition to discuss the subject.

Such was the very decided attitude which I assumed toward the subject, and I presume every member of the House can bear witness to the statement I have made above.
I merely append the statement of the Clerk of the House, with that of a member who sits near me, as to the correctness of the statement I have given above, as likewise that of the Sergeant-at-Arms, through whom my pay is received.

A. F. ROSS.
The undersigned cheerfully testifies to the truth of the statements given in the card of Prof. Ross. Our desks in the House are near together, and being my task when the question of pay for the recess was discussed, I had the most favorable opportunity of knowing the course taken on that question by Prof. Ross. The Professor's opposition to the whole question of pay for the recess was not only earnest, but really indignant. And it is manifestly unjust that, consequently, he be taken to a question he so earnestly and ably opposed.

S. R. DAWSON.
The subscriber very freely endorses the statement of Prof. Ross respecting his course in the House upon the question of mileage and per diem for the recess.
What he states is not only true in substance, but as well as I remember he quotes the exact language used in the discussion referred to.

G. D. HALL.
Clerk House of Delegates.
To all whom it may concern: I certify that A. F. Ross, one of the House of Delegates from the county of Ohio, both spoke and voted against members receiving mileage or per diem during the recess from Aug. 5th to Sept. 2d. He has not, and neither will he receive the mileage. It is a part of my business to pay the members of the House of Delegates their mileage and per diem.

Sergeant-at-Arms House of Delegates.

Barns and Holman.

Editors Intelligence:
I trust that the people of Marion county will return these gentlemen to the House of Delegates for the next session. As one of their constituents, I have watched their course in that body with great care, and have found nothing in it to which I have exceptions can be taken. They have been faithful in their work, and prompt in their attendance upon the meetings of the House, and have watched the interests of their constituents with zealous care. No two men could have been selected who would have surmounted better in the House, and business which concerns their people, and the people of the State. Mr. Holman is well known as a good business man and a close financier, who watches his own interests, and is well qualified to guard those of the public. He knows what the people want and will exert all his power to obtain it. Mr. Barns is a legislator of no little experience, and his place can not well be supplied. His long experience at Richmond enables him to comprehend the minutiae of legislation, and to understand the tricks and plans of those who would legislate for a class or clique. Any one without his practical experience will render much less benefit to his people than indeed, the people cannot at this time fill his place; if they consult their interests, as I believe they will, they cannot refuse the services of one who has served them so well, and who is so well qualified to serve them again. I am of the opinion, most clearly, that the people will make a mistake if they do not elect both of these gentlemen named; and I trust that the good feeling, for the other candidates against whom I charge nothing, except that they lack that experience without which they cannot serve the people with efficiency and success. Messrs. Barns and Holman are both loyal beyond question, having proven that by their works, not only in private and public acts, but at the point of the bayonet, both having been actively engaged in the fight at Fairmont in April last, and the former being dangerously wounded, and both of them taken prisoners.

The clap rap about mileage, so far as they are concerned, falls harmlessly, for both voted against the resolution allowing it, and then refused to take it. An unnecessary cry is made against Mr. Barns on account of a resolution which he is said to have offered upon the subject of interest. The resolution was a mere matter of inquiry, to draw out the opinions of the members. Mr. Barns did not advocate the idea of the law upon that subject. A reflecting people will not discuss a public servant for a cause so trivial, and especially will they not bearken to the mad dog cry raised against him, when he has no opportunity, by reason of his absence in the House, to refute the charges against him, which he could successfully do, I know.

WEST VIRGINIA LEGISLATURE.

Senate.
TUESDAY, October 20, 1863.
A message from the House of Delegates announced that the house had agreed to the proposition for a Committee of Conference in regard to a bill fixing the compensation of certain officers and clerks.
Mr. STEVENSON reported back the Senate bill to change the seat of justice from Pocontas, with the recommendation that it be passed.

The Senate then took up the military bill and after making considerable progress towards its completion, it was laid on the table.
