ARTESIAN — AND — Terra Cotta Wells.

AT GREAT EXPENSE I AM NOW PREPARED to sink wells through clay, quick sand and rock to any desired depth. Curbing the clay down to rock with heavy Artesian Wrought Iron Pipe, by no other means is it possible to get down to the water bearing strata except with a Drill Machine. I would be glad for parties failing to get water on account of rock or quick sand to communicate with me. I expect to continue sinking the Terra Cotta Wells where desired, and claim that in ten year's experience I have sunk more and given more general satisfaction than any man in the State. I am no squatter, here-to-day probably in Texas next week, consequently my guarantee is of some effect, Address, C. M. CALHOUN, Greenwood, S. C. March 7, 1892.

ESTATE OF Dr. John DeLa Howe.

At a meeting of Board of Trustees of Estate of DeLa Howe, July 22, 1892, it was resolved to "Petition the next Legislature to grant them authority to sell 100 acres of the real estate so that the school may commence at once," and that this resolution be published.

This would still leave between 700 and 800 acres attached to the estate which is ample for all purposes and will retain most of the cleared and arable land.
