

RIOTING IN FULL SWAY.

STRIKERS SHOT DOWN BY PENNSYLVANIA DEPUTIES.

Fifty Men Were Arrayed Against a Mob of Two Thousand Excited Miners—Fight Started by a Deputy Who Fired into the Air—Towns Terrorized in Illinois.

The bloodiest battle in the industrial history of Fayette County, Pennsylvania, occurred a few mornings ago, at Stickle Hollow. Four strikers were killed and many others were wounded. Two thousand strikers were pitted against seventy-four deputies, but the little band won the fight in a few minutes and captured a large number of the rioters.

Only one of the dead men was an English-speaking miner. His name was Barney McAndrew, and he lived at Wood's Run, four miles up the river. The other dead were Hungarians.

The scene of the battle was a farm once owned by President George Washington, lying midway between the Monongahela and Yonahoe rivers, twenty-one miles west of Uniontown.

The Washington Coal and Coke Company, operating the Stickle Hollow mines, had a hundred men working and had been the only mine in that part of the Pittsburgh district that was mining any coal. The strikers collected from various points all day and threatened the men and guards.

They kept up their intimidation all night and in the morning the combined forces numbered about two thousand. They all carried clubs and pick handles and a great many of them carried repeating rifles. They kept in the public road close by the works and watched every point by which workmen could reach the plant.

Not until daylight did any of the workmen venture to start from their homes to the plant, and the first lot of about twenty was in charge of a few deputies. They were surrounded by the strikers and ordered back home and the guards were roughly handled. Another group at this time had nearly reached the mines when the strikers saw them and made a dash after them.

The deputies at the works started at the moment the strikers started and one deputy fired in the air and then volleyed after volley followed. The armed strikers fired at the deputies and stood their ground, while those without weapons fled for their lives.

The narrow road, the scene of the fight, ran through a gorge, and so precipitate was the flight of the strikers that they became packed in the gully and trampled on each other as they fled. The strikers' ammunition soon gave out and then all fled, the deputy pursuing them hotly and firing as they ran.

Many of the strikers broke through a barbed wire fence and ran into the woods and hid deep in mud, and there, and in the gorge is where the deputies made their arrests. The strikers had more guns than the deputies, but the latter were scattered so far apart that but a few of the general or national strike.

Four strikers' dead bodies lay in the road when the fight was over. Three deputies were wounded and eight strikers were known to have been killed. In the afternoon many more of the injured were helped away in the fight. The dead strikers were left lying in the road where they fell.

The seventy-five deputies captured sixty-six of the strikers among them the Sewickley brass band, one of the three bands with the crowd. The prisoners were at once placed in two box cars and taken to Uniontown and placed in jail.

Nearly every man arrested, except the members of the band, were armed when arrested. After the battle was over the men went to work and the usual run of coal was made.

A rumor reached Uniontown that a wild mob of 8000 strikers, collected from all along the Monongahela River, was marching for Stickle Hollow to avenge the death of their companions.

The killing arose out of a continuation of the coke strike trouble, which began on April 2, in an effort of the men and their leaders for better wages. The Frick Company continued paying the same wages for a long time.

The news of the killing caused the strikers to become bloodthirsty, and further riot and bloodshed were imminent.

The leaders themselves admitted their role in the control of the strikers, and sent out formal notices to that effect.

Five hundred and fifty men marched from Dunbar to Jintown, and went into camp on the property leased by the strikers a few days before. They then served notices on the company that they would remain in camp until the works were closed down.

Rioting Elsewhere.

A dispatch from La Salle, Ill., says La Salle has passed through the experience of being all day long they had things their own way, and when Sheriff Taylor and his handful of deputies sought to put a restraining hand upon their actions they turned upon him and gave battle.

Not one of the deputies escaped injury. Sheriff Taylor and Deputies Walters, Hoolihan and Devers were dangerously, if not fatally, injured.

When another force of deputies arrested them in the streets, the jail was entered by the infuriated horde and the release of the men accomplished.

The foreigners were armed with all kinds of deadly weapons and carried a full complement of clubs and knives. They attacked the Sheriff and his posse of forty deputies.

The strikers opened fire and it was returned by the Sheriff and deputies, the latter holding their own until their ammunition was used, when they were forced to fly for safety.

The success of the strikers in their riot seemed to infuriate them until they lost their heads completely. They then began parading the streets, howling and raising pandemonium.

About 7.15 o'clock p. m. two of the ringleaders were put under arrest by deputy sheriffs and hurried through the Harrison House and taken to jail through the back alley.

In five minutes a mob of 1000 men had surrounded the hotel and threatened to blow it up unless the prisoners were produced. The strikers' excitement prevailed, and all the guests of the hotel left for quarters more safe. The prisoners were liberated to avoid bloodshed.

The Pittsburg and Davis mines in Centralia, Ill., which had been working for several days with about thirty men, was visited by a delegation of strikers from Duquoin and St. John's mines. The mines attacked and badly damaged the works. The strikers filled with loss material, such as trucks, cars and tools. The being on the machinery was out and the oil-cups knocked from all the shafting. Several wheels were broken and the machinery rendered useless. Every pane of glass in the entire lot of buildings was smashed. The damage is estimated at about $5000. The men came from Duquoin on a freight train, which they captured, and forced Engineer Charles Stewart to haul them to Centralia.

A BIG SUIT.

The French Republic wants $1,000,000 From the World's Fair.

Suit for $1,000,000 damages was begun in the United States Circuit Court at Chicago, Ill., by the French Republic against the World's Columbian Exposition.

The litigation grows out of the French Government's claim for damages to exhibits of French subjects injured during the Manufacturers' Building fire.

NATHANIEL P. CRANE, aged eighty-four, and Mrs. Chloe Gibson, aged seventy-four, were married at Belvidere, Ill. The officiating minister is eighty-two years of age.

THE NEWS EPITOMIZED.

Eastern and Middle States.

The trial of Professor H. P. Smith, of Lane Seminary, for heresy, was begun before the Presbyterian General Assembly at Saratoga, N. Y.

GOVERNOR GREENHALGE and staff and Mayor Matthews, with a distinguished company, were handsomely entertained by Admiral Hopkins on board the British battleship Blake, in Boston harbor. It was the return of the Admiral's call on the day before.

ERIC ERISON, a framer, thirty years old, was killed and three others injured in the collapse of a storage warehouse in process of reconstruction in Brooklyn, N. Y.

EDWARD BELL, of Kearny, N. J., jealous of his wife, killed her by cutting her throat and then tried to take his own life. He fatally injured himself.

BROKER DAVID C. RANDALL accidentally shot and killed Richard Mercer on the Providence (R. I.) Board of Trade.

The sixty-fifth anniversary of the Brooklyn Sunday-school Union was celebrated in that city by 80,000 children. The children marched through the principal streets arrayed in pretty dresses and carrying banners and flags. Through miles of streets and avenues, made gay with flags and streamers, 6000 children of the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Wards, New York City, also took their May walk.

A BALTIMORE and Ohio express train ran into a rock which had fallen on the tracks at Pine Grove, Penn. Two men were killed and twenty were injured.

The Presbyterian General Assembly, in session at Saratoga, N. Y., by a vote of 394 to 95, denied the appeal of Professor Henry Preserved Smith, convicted of heresy, of Lane Theological Seminary, the New York City delegation voting solidly against him.

AFTER an almost riotous all-night session the New Jersey Legislature took a recess until October 2.

South and West.

The great New Orleans (La.) resort, West End, on Lake Pontchartrain, has been destroyed by fire. Loss, $1,000,000.

THERE was a conflict between striking miners and deputy sheriffs at Cripple Creek, Col. State militia were ordered out in Illinois to quell a riot.

The Congressional nomination in Colonel Brockbridge's district in Kentucky will be decided by primaries to be held on September 15. This is a victory for Brockbridge.

By a cave-in at the bluffs near the wharves, Tacoma, Wash., Major W. F. O'Connell, a well known miner, and Arnold Berger, a stationary engineer, aged forty-five were killed.

Two colored men who had robbed a country store and were tried in Clinton, Miss., were taken from jail and hung.

MISS MAE HELEN CLEVERLY, seventeen years old, came to Joliet (Ill.) Penitentiary with a record for a burglary license, and was married by Chaplin J. D. Both to John Keating, convict No. 3004. Ten minutes later Keating was hurried back to his work, and the bride took the train home to Chicago with her mother.

Washington.

The President, accompanied by Secretaries Carlisle and Gresham and Captain Roddy Evans, of the Lighthouse Board, arrived at Washington on the lighthouse tender Violet from their outing in North Carolina. They shot 314 snipe and caught a lot of bluefish.

SENATOR PERKINS introduced in the Senate a bill intended to grant the use of Springfield rifles and their equipments now on hand and not needed for use by the regular army to the militia of the various States and Territories.

The President nominated Christopher C. Baldwin to be Naval Officer of New York, and John A. Sullivan to be Collector of Internal Revenue for the Second District of New York.

The special committee appointed to investigate the charges of attempted bribery on the part of Charles W. Burtz submitted their report to the Senate. Burtz is found by the committee to have made the attempt at bribery, despite his denial, and Senators Simon and Kyle are exonerated from all blame.

The United States Supreme Court upheld section 12 of the Interstate Commerce law and the Indiana Railroad Tax law.

Mrs. CLEVELAND, wife of the President, accompanied by her children and their nurse, returned to the White House from Buffalo.

REPRESENTATIVE W. BOUKER COCKRAN testified before the Senate Committee, which is investigating the sugar scandal, that he had never said the Administration had informed him that the sugar scandal would be passed because of the Trust's contributions to the Democratic campaign fund.

Foreign.

The Queen's seventy-fifth birthday was celebrated throughout England.

REAR ADMIRAL EBBER, Captain Mahan and the officers of the United States cruiser Chicago, were entertained at a great banquet in London. Lord George Hamilton presiding.

PORTUGAL has apologized to Argentina in settling the trouble relative to the seizure of Brazilian rebels who escaped from a Portuguese vessel in an Argentine vessel.

CROBIA is making in the districts of Ploch, Bzdowa and Petroskoff, in Russian Poland.

Mrs. JACKSON, of Upper Economy, Nova Scotia, became suddenly insane and drowned two of her children.

A FIRE-BOMB explosion occurred in the Anderlus mine near Charleroi, Belgium. Eleven miners were killed outright and five others were injured severely.

A SAIL SALVADOR dispatch says that the Salvadoran rebels were routed with a loss of over eight hundred men.

At Gijon, on the Bay of Biscay, an explosion on board the Norwegian steamer Norden killed five persons and injured several more.

FLAG TORN DOWN.

Drunken Members of the Queen's Own Rifles Insult the Stars and Stripes.

An American flag was torn from the United States Consulate at St. Thomas, Ontario, Canada, by soldiers of the Queen's Own Rifles, of Toronto.

THE LONGVIEW, TEXAS, FIRST NATIONAL LOOTED.

A Gang Invade the Institution and Begin to Shoot at Once—They Get a Lot of Money, Kill One Citizen, Injure Several Others, Lose One of Their Own Men, and Dash Away.

At 3 p. m. a few days ago two rough-looking men walked into the First National Bank at Longview, Texas. One had a rifle concealed under his coat. He handed this note to President Clemmens:

HOPE, May 23.

First National Bank, Longview, Texas. This will introduce to you Charles Speck-Lemeyer, who wants some money and is going to have it. B. and F.

It was written in pencil legibly on the back of a printed poster. The bank President thought it a subscription to some charity, and started to ask for particulars, when the stranger pointed his rifle at him and told him to hold up his hands. The other man rushed into the bank, Tom Clemmens, cashier, and the other bank officials also were ordered to hold up their hands. The robbers hurriedly emptied the tills and went into the vaults, carrying $2000 and one or two hundred Longview bank notes, which may lead to detection.

While this was going on two confederates were in the rear alley shooting at every one who appeared. They were soon being driven back by a subscription to some charity, and started to ask for particulars, when the stranger pointed his rifle at him and told him to hold up his hands. The other man rushed into the bank, Tom Clemmens, cashier, and the other bank officials also were ordered to hold up their hands. The robbers hurriedly emptied the tills and went into the vaults, carrying $2000 and one or two hundred Longview bank notes, which may lead to detection.

While this was going on two confederates were in the rear alley shooting at every one who appeared. They were soon being driven back by a subscription to some charity, and started to ask for particulars, when the stranger pointed his rifle at him and told him to hold up his hands. The other man rushed into the bank, Tom Clemmens, cashier, and the other bank officials also were ordered to hold up their hands. The robbers hurriedly emptied the tills and went into the vaults, carrying $2000 and one or two hundred Longview bank notes, which may lead to detection.

While this was going on two confederates were in the rear alley shooting at every one who appeared. They were soon being driven back by a subscription to some charity, and started to ask for particulars, when the stranger pointed his rifle at him and told him to hold up his hands. The other man rushed into the bank, Tom Clemmens, cashier, and the other bank officials also were ordered to hold up their hands. The robbers hurriedly emptied the tills and went into the vaults, carrying $2000 and one or two hundred Longview bank notes, which may lead to detection.

While this was going on two confederates were in the rear alley shooting at every one who appeared. They were soon being driven back by a subscription to some charity, and started to ask for particulars, when the stranger pointed his rifle at him and told him to hold up his hands. The other man rushed into the bank, Tom Clemmens, cashier, and the other bank officials also were ordered to hold up their hands. The robbers hurriedly emptied the tills and went into the vaults, carrying $2000 and one or two hundred Longview bank notes, which may lead to detection.

While this was going on two confederates were in the rear alley shooting at every one who appeared. They were soon being driven back by a subscription to some charity, and started to ask for particulars, when the stranger pointed his rifle at him and told him to hold up his hands. The other man rushed into the bank, Tom Clemmens, cashier, and the other bank officials also were ordered to hold up their hands. The robbers hurriedly emptied the tills and went into the vaults, carrying $2000 and one or two hundred Longview bank notes, which may lead to detection.

While this was going on two confederates were in the rear alley shooting at every one who appeared. They were soon being driven back by a subscription to some charity, and started to ask for particulars, when the stranger pointed his rifle at him and told him to hold up his hands. The other man rushed into the bank, Tom Clemmens, cashier, and the other bank officials also were ordered to hold up their hands. The robbers hurriedly emptied the tills and went into the vaults, carrying $2000 and one or two hundred Longview bank notes, which may lead to detection.

While this was going on two confederates were in the rear alley shooting at every one who appeared. They were soon being driven back by a subscription to some charity, and started to ask for particulars, when the stranger pointed his rifle at him and told him to hold up his hands. The other man rushed into the bank, Tom Clemmens, cashier, and the other bank officials also were ordered to hold up their hands. The robbers hurriedly emptied the tills and went into the vaults, carrying $2000 and one or two hundred Longview bank notes, which may lead to detection.

While this was going on two confederates were in the rear alley shooting at every one who appeared. They were soon being driven back by a subscription to some charity, and started to ask for particulars, when the stranger pointed his rifle at him and told him to hold up his hands. The other man rushed into the bank, Tom Clemmens, cashier, and the other bank officials also were ordered to hold up their hands. The robbers hurriedly emptied the tills and went into the vaults, carrying $2000 and one or two hundred Longview bank notes, which may lead to detection.

While this was going on two confederates were in the rear alley shooting at every one who appeared. They were soon being driven back by a subscription to some charity, and started to ask for particulars, when the stranger pointed his rifle at him and told him to hold up his hands. The other man rushed into the bank, Tom Clemmens, cashier, and the other bank officials also were ordered to hold up their hands. The robbers hurriedly emptied the tills and went into the vaults, carrying $2000 and one or two hundred Longview bank notes, which may lead to detection.

While this was going on two confederates were in the rear alley shooting at every one who appeared. They were soon being driven back by a subscription to some charity, and started to ask for particulars, when the stranger pointed his rifle at him and told him to hold up his hands. The other man rushed into the bank, Tom Clemmens, cashier, and the other bank officials also were ordered to hold up their hands. The robbers hurriedly emptied the tills and went into the vaults, carrying $2000 and one or two hundred Longview bank notes, which may lead to detection.

While this was going on two confederates were in the rear alley shooting at every one who appeared. They were soon being driven back by a subscription to some charity, and started to ask for particulars, when the stranger pointed his rifle at him and told him to hold up his hands. The other man rushed into the bank, Tom Clemmens, cashier, and the other bank officials also were ordered to hold up their hands. The robbers hurriedly emptied the tills and went into the vaults, carrying $2000 and one or two hundred Longview bank notes, which may lead to detection.

While this was going on two confederates were in the rear alley shooting at every one who appeared. They were soon being driven back by a subscription to some charity, and started to ask for particulars, when the stranger pointed his rifle at him and told him to hold up his hands. The other man rushed into the bank, Tom Clemmens, cashier, and the other bank officials also were ordered to hold up their hands. The robbers hurriedly emptied the tills and went into the vaults, carrying $2000 and one or two hundred Longview bank notes, which may lead to detection.

While this was going on two confederates were in the rear alley shooting at every one who appeared. They were soon being driven back by a subscription to some charity, and started to ask for particulars, when the stranger pointed his rifle at him and told him to hold up his hands. The other man rushed into the bank, Tom Clemmens, cashier, and the other bank officials also were ordered to hold up their hands. The robbers hurriedly emptied the tills and went into the vaults, carrying $2000 and one or two hundred Longview bank notes, which may lead to detection.

While this was going on two confederates were in the rear alley shooting at every one who appeared. They were soon being driven back by a subscription to some charity, and started to ask for particulars, when the stranger pointed his rifle at him and told him to hold up his hands. The other man rushed into the bank, Tom Clemmens, cashier, and the other bank officials also were ordered to hold up their hands. The robbers hurriedly emptied the tills and went into the vaults, carrying $2000 and one or two hundred Longview bank notes, which may lead to detection.

While this was going on two confederates were in the rear alley shooting at every one who appeared. They were soon being driven back by a subscription to some charity, and started to ask for particulars, when the stranger pointed his rifle at him and told him to hold up his hands. The other man rushed into the bank, Tom Clemmens, cashier, and the other bank officials also were ordered to hold up their hands. The robbers hurriedly emptied the tills and went into the vaults, carrying $2000 and one or two hundred Longview bank notes, which may lead to detection.

While this was going on two confederates were in the rear alley shooting at every one who appeared. They were soon being driven back by a subscription to some charity, and started to ask for particulars, when the stranger pointed his rifle at him and told him to hold up his hands. The other man rushed into the bank, Tom Clemmens, cashier, and the other bank officials also were ordered to hold up their hands. The robbers hurriedly emptied the tills and went into the vaults, carrying $2000 and one or two hundred Longview bank notes, which may lead to detection.

While this was going on two confederates were in the rear alley shooting at every one who appeared. They were soon being driven back by a subscription to some charity, and started to ask for particulars, when the stranger pointed his rifle at him and told him to hold up his hands. The other man rushed into the bank, Tom Clemmens, cashier, and the other bank officials also were ordered to hold up their hands. The robbers hurriedly emptied the tills and went into the vaults, carrying $2000 and one or two hundred Longview bank notes, which may lead to detection.

While this was going on two confederates were in the rear alley shooting at every one who appeared. They were soon being driven back by a subscription to some charity, and started to ask for particulars, when the stranger pointed his rifle at him and told him to hold up his hands. The other man rushed into the bank, Tom Clemmens, cashier, and the other bank officials also were ordered to hold up their hands. The robbers hurriedly emptied the tills and went into the vaults, carrying $2000 and one or two hundred Longview bank notes, which may lead to detection.

While this was going on two confederates were in the rear alley shooting at every one who appeared. They were soon being driven back by a subscription to some charity, and started to ask for particulars, when the stranger pointed his rifle at him and told him to hold up his hands. The other man rushed into the bank, Tom Clemmens, cashier, and the other bank officials also were ordered to hold up their hands. The robbers hurriedly emptied the tills and went into the vaults, carrying $2000 and one or two hundred Longview bank notes, which may lead to detection.

While this was going on two confederates were in the rear alley shooting at every one who appeared. They were soon being driven back by a subscription to some charity, and started to ask for particulars, when the stranger pointed his rifle at him and told him to hold up his hands. The other man rushed into the bank, Tom Clemmens, cashier, and the other bank officials also were ordered to hold up their hands. The robbers hurriedly emptied the tills and went into the vaults, carrying $2000 and one or two hundred Longview bank notes, which may lead to detection.

While this was going on two confederates were in the rear alley shooting at every one who appeared. They were soon being driven back by a subscription to some charity, and started to ask for particulars, when the stranger pointed his rifle at him and told him to hold up his hands. The other man rushed into the bank, Tom Clemmens, cashier, and the other bank officials also were ordered to hold up their hands. The robbers hurriedly emptied the tills and went into the vaults, carrying $2000 and one or two hundred Longview bank notes, which may lead to detection.

While this was going on two confederates were in the rear alley shooting at every one who appeared. They were soon being driven back by a subscription to some charity, and started to ask for particulars, when the stranger pointed his rifle at him and told him to hold up his hands. The other man rushed into the bank, Tom Clemmens, cashier, and the other bank officials also were ordered to hold up their hands. The robbers hurriedly emptied the tills and went into the vaults, carrying $2000 and one or two hundred Longview bank notes, which may lead to detection.

While this was going on two confederates were in the rear alley shooting at every one who appeared. They were soon being driven back by a subscription to some charity, and started to ask for particulars, when the stranger pointed his rifle at him and told him to hold up his hands. The other man rushed into the bank, Tom Clemmens, cashier, and the other bank officials also were ordered to hold up their hands. The robbers hurriedly emptied the tills and went into the vaults, carrying $2000 and one or two hundred Longview bank notes, which may lead to detection.

While this was going on two confederates were in the rear alley shooting at every one who appeared. They were soon being driven back by a subscription to some charity, and started to ask for particulars, when the stranger pointed his rifle at him and told him to hold up his hands. The other man rushed into the bank, Tom Clemmens, cashier, and the other bank officials also were ordered to hold up their hands. The robbers hurriedly emptied the tills and went into the vaults, carrying $2000 and one or two hundred Longview bank notes, which may lead to detection.

While this was going on two confederates were in the rear alley shooting at every one who appeared. They were soon being driven back by a subscription to some charity, and started to ask for particulars, when the stranger pointed his rifle at him and told him to hold up his hands. The other man rushed into the bank, Tom Clemmens, cashier, and the other bank officials also were ordered to hold up their hands. The robbers hurriedly emptied the tills and went into the vaults, carrying $2000 and one or two hundred Longview bank notes, which may lead to detection.

STATE CONSTITUTION.

Daily Proceedings of the Convention at Albany.

4TH DAY.—Mr. Kellogg moved that the reading of the journal be omitted, but one of the delegates at once objected, on the ground that this would establish a bad precedent. The reading of the journal occupied the forenoon and the reading of the resolutions in favor of woman suffrage has so far been presented to the convention.

On behalf of the anti-suffragists Jesse Johnson offered the protest of 6017 women of New York, and Mr. Hollis presented the protest of the women of Yonkers against woman suffrage.

Mr. Tekulsky, of New York, offered a resolution providing that when the convention adjourns it adjourn to meet on Tuesday afternoon, on account of the fact that a legal holiday was to occur that week. Mr. Root said he hoped that the resolution would not prevail. If it should prevail the convention would present the spectacle of sitting four weeks and drawing pay without doing anything. The resolution was adopted.

Mr. Moore moved that all overtures be read from the clerk's desk in full when presented. Mr. Davies moved to lay the motion on the table. Carried.—Mr. Moore then moved that the overtures be printed and laid on the desks of the members the next morning. This was referred to the Committee on Resolutions.

The Committee on Resolutions reported to furnish statistics of property exempt from taxation. Referred to the Committee on Taxation.

Mr. Becker offered a resolution directing the Committee on Railroads to investigate the advisability and cost of furnishing the newspapers of the State a copy of the convention proceedings, which was laid on the table.

Mr. McMillan offered a resolution providing that copies of the overtures presented to the convention be printed and bound for the big petitions praying for the right of suffrage for women. As soon as the order of petitions was reached, the yellow book documents were put in evidence, the representatives of the various counties were sent in. The total number of signatures was 76,732.—After the journal had been read Mr. Spear moved to amend by inserting a mention of the fact that the convention was held by the Republican members of the convention after the session. If the proceedings of the convention were to be fixed by caucus, the journal should show for the caucus the names of the counties and the names of the big petitions praying for the right of suffrage for women. As soon as the order of petitions was reached, the yellow book documents were put in evidence, the representatives of the various counties were sent in. The total number of signatures was 76,732.—After the journal had been read Mr. Spear moved to amend by inserting a mention of the fact that the convention was held by the Republican members of the convention after the session. If the proceedings of the convention were to be fixed by caucus, the journal should show for the caucus the names of the counties and the names of the big petitions praying for the right of suffrage for women. As soon as the order of petitions was reached, the yellow book documents were put in evidence, the representatives of the various counties were sent in. The total number of signatures was 76,732.—After the journal had been read Mr. Spear moved to amend by inserting a mention of the fact that the convention was held by the Republican members of the convention after the session. If the proceedings of the convention were to be fixed by caucus, the journal should show for the caucus the names of the counties and the names of the big petitions praying for the right of suffrage for women. As soon as the order of petitions was reached, the yellow book documents were put in evidence, the representatives of the various counties were sent in. The total number of signatures was 76,732.—After the journal had been read Mr. Spear moved to amend by inserting a mention of the fact that the convention was held by the Republican members of the convention after the session. If the proceedings of the convention were to be fixed by caucus, the journal should show for the caucus the names of the counties and the names of the big petitions praying for the right of suffrage for women. As soon as the order of petitions was reached, the yellow book documents were put in evidence, the representatives of the various counties were sent in. The total number of signatures was 76,732.—After the journal had been read Mr. Spear moved to amend by inserting a mention of the fact that the convention was held by the Republican members of the convention after the session. If the proceedings of the convention were to be fixed by caucus, the journal should show for the caucus the names of the counties and the names of the big petitions praying for the right of suffrage for women. As soon as the order of petitions was reached, the yellow book documents were put in evidence, the representatives of the various counties were sent in. The total number of signatures was 76,732.—After the journal had been read Mr. Spear moved to amend by inserting a mention of the fact that the convention was held by the Republican members of the convention after the session. If the proceedings of the convention were to be fixed by caucus, the journal should show for the caucus the names of the counties and the names of the big petitions praying for the right of suffrage for women. As soon as the order of petitions was reached, the yellow book documents were put in evidence, the representatives of the various counties were sent in. The total number of signatures was 76,732.—After the journal had been read Mr. Spear moved to amend by inserting a mention of the fact that the convention was held by the Republican members of the convention after the session. If the proceedings of the convention were to be fixed by caucus, the journal should show for the caucus the names of the counties and the names of the big petitions praying for the right of suffrage for women. As soon as the order of petitions was reached, the yellow book documents were put in evidence, the representatives of the various counties were sent in. The total number of signatures was 76,732.—After the journal had been read Mr. Spear moved to amend by inserting a mention of the fact that the convention was held by the Republican members of the convention after the session. If the proceedings of the convention were to be fixed by caucus, the journal should show for the caucus the names of the counties and the names of the big petitions praying for the right of suffrage for women. As soon as the order of petitions was reached, the yellow book documents were put in evidence, the representatives of the various counties were sent in. The total number of signatures was 76,732.—After the journal had been read Mr. Spear moved to amend by inserting a mention of the fact that the convention was held by the Republican members of the convention after the session. If the proceedings of the convention were to be fixed by caucus, the journal should show for the caucus the names of the counties and the names of the big petitions praying for the right of suffrage for women. As soon as the order of petitions was reached, the yellow book documents were put in evidence, the representatives of the various counties were sent in. The total number of signatures was 76,732.—After the journal had been read Mr. Spear moved to amend by inserting a mention of the fact that the convention was held by the Republican members of the convention after the session. If the proceedings of the convention were to be fixed by caucus, the journal should show for the caucus the names of the counties and the names of the big petitions praying for the right of suffrage for women. As soon as the order of petitions was reached, the yellow book documents were put in evidence, the representatives of the various counties were sent in. The total number of signatures was 76,732.—After the journal had been read Mr. Spear moved to amend by inserting a mention of the fact that the convention was held by the Republican members of the convention after the session. If the proceedings of the convention were to be fixed by caucus, the journal should show for the caucus the names of the counties and the names of the big petitions praying for the right of suffrage for women. As soon as the order of petitions was reached, the yellow book documents were put in evidence, the representatives of the various counties were sent in. The total number of signatures was 76,732.—After the journal had been read Mr. Spear moved to amend by inserting a mention of the fact that the convention was held by the Republican members of the convention after the session. If the proceedings of the convention were to be fixed by caucus, the journal should show for the caucus the names of the counties and the names of the big petitions praying for the right of suffrage for women. As soon as the order of petitions was reached, the yellow book documents were put in evidence, the representatives of the various counties were sent in. The total number of signatures was 76,732.—After the journal had been read Mr. Spear moved to amend by inserting a mention of the fact that the convention was held by the Republican members of the convention after the session. If the proceedings of the convention were to be fixed by caucus, the journal should show for the caucus the names of the counties and the names of the big petitions praying for the right of suffrage for women. As soon as the order of petitions was reached, the yellow book documents were put in evidence, the representatives of the various counties were sent in. The total number of signatures was 76,732.—After the journal had been read Mr. Spear moved to amend by inserting a mention of the fact that the convention was held by the Republican members of the convention after the session. If the proceedings of the convention were to be fixed by caucus, the journal should show for the caucus the names of the counties and the names of the big petitions praying for the right of suffrage for women. As soon as the order of petitions was reached, the yellow book documents were put in evidence, the representatives of the various counties were sent in. The total number of signatures was 76,732.—After the journal had been read Mr. Spear moved to amend by inserting a mention of the fact that the convention was held by the Republican members of the convention after the session. If the proceedings of the convention were to be fixed by caucus, the journal should show for the caucus the names of the counties and the names of the big petitions praying for the right of suffrage for women. As soon as the order of petitions was reached, the yellow book documents were put in evidence, the representatives of the various counties were sent in. The total number of signatures was 76,732.—After the journal had been read Mr. Spear moved to amend by inserting a mention of the fact that the convention was held by the Republican members of the convention after the session. If the proceedings of the convention were to be fixed by caucus, the journal should show for the caucus the names of the counties and the names of the big petitions praying for the right of suffrage for women. As soon as the order of petitions was reached, the yellow book documents were put in evidence, the representatives of the various counties were sent in. The total number of signatures was 76,732.—After the journal had been read Mr. Spear moved to amend by inserting a mention of the fact that the convention was held by the Republican members of the convention after the session. If the proceedings of the convention were to be fixed by caucus, the journal should show for the caucus the names of the counties and the names of the big petitions praying for the right of suffrage for women. As soon as the order of petitions was reached, the yellow book documents were put in evidence, the representatives of the various counties were sent in. The total number of signatures was 76,732.—After the journal had been read Mr. Spear moved to amend by inserting a mention of the fact that the convention was held by the Republican members of the convention after the session. If the proceedings of the convention were to be fixed by caucus, the journal should show for the caucus the names of the counties and the names of the big petitions praying for the right of suffrage for women. As soon as the order of petitions was reached, the yellow book documents were put in evidence, the representatives of the various counties were sent in. The total number of signatures was 76,732.—After the journal had been read Mr. Spear moved to amend by inserting a mention of the fact that the convention was held by the Republican members of the convention after the session. If the proceedings of the convention were to be fixed by caucus, the journal should show for the caucus the names of the counties and the names of the big petitions praying for the right of suffrage for women. As soon as the order of petitions was reached, the yellow book documents were put in evidence, the representatives of the various counties were sent in. The total number of signatures was 76,732.—After the journal had been read Mr. Spear moved to amend by inserting a mention of the fact that the convention was held by the Republican members of the convention after the session. If the proceedings of the convention were to be fixed by caucus, the journal should show for the caucus the names of the counties and the names of the big petitions praying for the right of suffrage for women. As soon as the order of petitions was reached, the yellow book documents were put in evidence, the representatives of the various counties were sent in. The total number of signatures was 76,732.—After the journal had been read Mr. Spear moved to amend by inserting a mention of the fact that the convention was held by the Republican members of the convention after the session. If the proceedings of the convention were to be fixed by caucus, the journal should show for the caucus the names of the counties and the names of the big petitions praying for the right of suffrage for women. As soon as the order of petitions was reached, the yellow book documents were put in evidence, the representatives of the various counties were sent in. The total number of signatures was 76,732.—After the journal had been read Mr. Spear moved to amend by inserting a mention of the fact that the convention was held by the Republican members of the convention after the session. If the proceedings of the convention were to be fixed by caucus, the journal should show for the caucus the names of the counties and the names of the big petitions praying for the right of suffrage for women. As soon as the order of petitions was reached, the yellow book documents were put in evidence, the representatives of the various counties were sent in. The total number of signatures was