

WEST END.

Happenings and Incidents of a Week

About the City.

Miss Elise Long has gone to Carlton, Ga. for an extended stay with relatives there. Miss Louise DeLain is expected home this week from Augusta, where she has been the guest of her cousin Miss Fannie Caldwell for the past month. Miss DeLain has just completed her third year at the Methodist Female College in Columbia. She has taken a fine standing in all her studies.

Mrs. Fred Morrow left Thursday for her home in Savannah, after spending some time here as the guest of her sister, Mrs. John M. Hardin.

Miss Nettie Russell leaves Wednesday for Hendersonville, N. C., where she goes for the summer months. Miss Russell will be out of the city until September.

Miss Margaret Brooks was the guest of Mrs. E. S. Galloway in Due West several days last week. Miss Brooks went to Due West to be present at the Galloway wedding.

Miss Helen Mower and Miss Nancy Poole, two of Newberry's most attractive young ladies are in the city spending some time with their sister, Mrs. L. W. White.

Mr. and Mrs. William Fenney left Saturday for their home in Inlet, where they will spend the best of the summer in their new home.

Mr. Geo. Speer of Monterey was in town Saturday for a few hours.

The friends of Mrs. Robert Kennedy are distressed to learn of her illness at her home at the residence of Mr. J. C. Cochran.

Miss Clara Seagoe has returned to Greenwood after spending some time here, the guest of her cousin, W. D. Barksdale.

Mrs. William Wiedenman and her children leave in a few days for Troy, where they will visit Mrs. Fannie Thompson.

Mrs. Pink McIlwain of Hodges is in the city spending some time with her sister, Mrs. W. A. Nichols.

Mrs. Sophia Hardin and Mrs. Anna M. Maxwell are spending the week with the family of Mr. J. Allen Clark.

DECISION ON APPEAL.

COURT REVERSES IMPORTANT OPINIONS IN FIFTEEN CASES.

Reverses Decision of Lower Judiciary in the Suit Bought by Wagonhurst Against Wineand for Ownership Funds.

Washington Post.

The District Court of Appeals began its final session yesterday before adjournment for the summer, and, after hearing a few motions, handed down fifteen opinions. All of them bear on interesting cases. One sustained the rulings of the Criminal Court in the trial of Benjamin G. Hill for the murder of his wife; another sustained the action of the Police Court in imposing fines without a jury trial upon automobiles which exceed the speed limit; The Wineand-Wagonhurst case was decided in the favor of the latter.

REVERSES JUDGE HUNGER.

The Court reversed the decree in the case of E. O. Wineand and others, appellants, against Elias Wineand. The suit, which has been passed on twice by the Court of Appeals, was originally filed against the appellants to establish ownership of funds on deposit in the Treasury of the United States for payment of certain district sewer contracts, and on April 27 Justice Hagner signed a decree declaring that the funds belonged to Wineand. The appellants at once noted an appeal to the higher court, and in making exception to the ruling of Justice Hagner that their answer to the appeal was insufficient, Chief Justice Alvey, says it cannot understand why the answer was held insufficient, unless it was because the answer was not divided into paragraphs, as required by rule 51.

The higher court held that such requirement was an impracticable thing; that the appellants have good ground for defense to the bill of the plaintiff, and that, apparently because of some supposed defect in the pleadings or proceedings the benefit of that defense has been denied to the defendant.

The decree which the Court of Appeals has thus reversed is the decree made by Justice Hagner, who, after a hearing on the appeal, had granted a portion of the suit, and had ordered the appellants to pay to Mr. Johnson, holding that by the words so spoken Mr. Johnson had shown contempt for his court.

This is the second time a decree made by Justice Hagner, Chief Justice of the United States, has been reversed by the Court of Appeals. The first was reversed on May 3, 1902, when Justice Hagner made a decree declaring Wagonhurst to be entitled to the funds, but that decree he set aside; ordered the case to be reargued, and after reargument made the decree of November 15, 1901, in Wineand's favor.

MORNING WEDDING.

Miss Maude Cromer and Mr. J. C. Burns, Victims of Cupid's Darts.

Miss Maude St. Claire Cromer, daughter of Mr. W. O. Cromer who lives in the vicinity of Abbeville, and Mr. J. C. Burns of Greenwood were married on the 24th inst. at the beautiful ceremony being performed by Rev. J. D. Pitts of Laurens.

The decorations were carried out in green and white. The wedding march was played by Miss Sara Henry.

The bride and bridesmaids were preceded by the two sisters of the bride Miss Daisy and Miss Marie Cromer, being dressed in beautiful white and pink organdies, carrying white carnations.

The bride was dressed in white chiffon and veil, and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

After the ceremony, and refreshments having been served, the couple left for Greenwood, where they boarded the train for the mountains of North Carolina. After a short stay they will return to Greenwood, where they will make their future home.

Visitors:—Mr. and Mrs. Lee Burns and Miss Burns; Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Jones; Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Hill, Miss Virginia Lewis, Dr. and Mrs. Neffler, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Calvert, Mr. Leon Newton and sister Miss Helen, Miss Nettie Brannon, Mr. Albert Henry, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. White, Mr. and Mrs. John W. M. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Lambert Caldwell, Mrs. Francis Henry and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Leslie, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Williams, and Mr. R. E. Cox, Mr. J. D. Cox, Misses Miller, Davis, Hammond, Calvert, Hill, Cox, Trotter, Lott, and Hugh Wilson, Mrs. J. L. Hill and daughter.

The presents were numerous and beautiful, one of the most unique of which was an exquisite piece of the new art work of photography or burnt work the handwork of the kind artist, Mrs. R. G. Gilliam of Abbeville.

An exquisite art square in drawn work which would have done credit to the fair fingers of Penelope herself, was the gift of Mrs. Lila Mabry.

Mr. Burns is a native of Laurens, of the merchant firm of J. C. Burns & Co. The firm began business at Laurens, but now has a branch store at Greenwood. Mr. Burns is an active worker in the Baptist church at Greenwood.

Miss Cromer, in the last few years, has been teaching in Laurens and Abbeville counties.

The bridegroom is busy in the activities of the "Possessing nobleness of head and heart he establishes a new home in which he and his bride may live in prosperity and happiness for all the remaining years that are theirs. The bride, who is as modest as a violet, as pretty as a rose, and as dignified as a queen, to adorn the home which he has prepared for her. Her presence will be a blessing to her husband, and her encouraging words will give strength and energy to all his manly efforts.

After returning for a while at the Oregon, or until their home is ready for them, they will go beneath their own vine and fig tree, where husband and wife and their love will be for each other.

THE WINDOW.

Its Importance in the Scheme of Retailing.

Many dealers in the smaller towns and some retailers in the cities fail to use their windows in the best advantage. To most retailers a well-dressed window will prove in results only secondary to good newspaper advertising—and the window advertisement costs nothing except the time and thought necessary to prepare the display. Window dressing can be done on dull forenoons when there is little trade coming in, although the dealer is delegated to certain of the employees who display some sense of proportion and artistic instincts. Do not make a hodge-podge of the windows. Display one or two lines at a time and change the display often. No matter how well a window may be arranged it is not good enough to remain indefinitely. If you are making a special drive on certain lines, give prominent advertising space to the window display, and always, always, have easily-seen price tickets attached to each article.

Did you ever stand in the street outside a well-dressed shop window? If not, do so. Notice the number of people who pass, nearly every one giving a glance at it, and many stopping for a closer examination. Many will enter the shop and inquire about the goods; many others will do so later, when they have more time at their disposal.

Some of those passing may not have seen the firm's newspaper ads; others have already noticed the ads and the stock in the window should be chosen so as to back up the statements made in the advertising. The window should be a "clincher" which will convince the doubters. Never, never, display old style goods in the windows, no matter how low the price marks, unless you wish to drive away the better class of trade. If you wish to get rid of the out-of-date goods, work them off on country customers or others who are not particular about style, telling them frankly that the goods are of previous seasons' make, and therefore sold at a low price.

I said at the beginning of this article that good window display was only secondary to good newspaper advertising. Do you notice in how many particulars the same principles govern the two kinds of advertising? A few lines advertised at a time; the advertising copy in the window display changed often; artistic and attractive displays; goods prominently priced. All the difference there is, while in the ad, one must give word pictures of the goods, often accompanying them by cuts; in the window advertisement the goods speak for themselves. See that they have every opportunity to speak convincingly.

Byron Howard

DIRT AT DONALDS.

Work on the Oil Mill—Boxy Carpenters—Children Busy Their Father.

Donalds, S. C., June 29, 1903.

Work on the oil mill has started in earnest and that end of town looks lively now. Mr. J. C. Donald, of Greenville county, has charge of the hands and pushes the work along at a rapid rate. The foundations have been dug and they will probably begin to lay brick tomorrow.

Five carpenters will begin work on the Southern Oil Mill this afternoon. Good wages are paid by both companies.

Last Saturday there was a barbecue and baseball game.

Mr. James C. Booker is sick with probably typhoid fever.

Mr. John Shannon of Elberton Ga., spent some time with his uncle Mr. L. A. Shannon this place.

Rev. J. W. Elkins has been attending District Conference at Hodges.

Donalds, S. C., June 29, 1903.

Miss Lucia Tribble attended District Conference at Hodges.

Mr. W. M. Rowland will probably leave for Knoxville Tenn. tomorrow to visit relatives.

On last Tuesday evening the remains of Mrs. W. H. W. of the city were buried in the green hill cemetery. Rev. W. J. Wylie preached the eulogy. All of Mr. Rowland's children were there for the funeral.

THE PEONAGE CASES.

A Prominent Alabama Planter Pleads Guilty and Appeals to the Circuit Court of Appeals.

Montgomery, Ala., June 24—Today in the United States Court, J. W. Pace, a prominent planter of Alabama, pleaded guilty to a charge of holding an negro in involuntary servitude. He suspended the fine under conditions. In holding the negro in involuntary servitude, he was fined $100. In holding the negro in involuntary servitude, he was fined $100. In holding the negro in involuntary servitude, he was fined $100.

OTHER PEONAGE CASES.

Judge Emyer Deals Mercifully With Three Young Men Who Pleaded Guilty.

Macon, Ga., June 21—In the United States Court today Judge Emyer imposed a fine of $100 on three young men—Wm. S. Arthur, Arthur Lawson and I. Turner—for holding a negro in involuntary servitude. He suspended the fine under conditions. In holding the negro in involuntary servitude, he was fined $100. In holding the negro in involuntary servitude, he was fined $100.

THE SOUTH CAROLINA COLLEGE.

The South Carolina College.

The South Carolina College is commencing out the first century of its existence and will celebrate its centennial in January, 1905. The College was chartered in 1801 and opened for active work in January, 1805. It owes its existence to the patriotic purpose, the education of all the youth of the State at a common center. "In order to promote the instruction, the good order and the harmony of the whole community," and the highest average at the time, the proceeds of a reimbursement made by the United States to South Carolina for expenses incurred in the Revolution. During the century that is closing the College has contributed largely to the statesmanship, the patriotism, the learning and the high moral standards that have prevailed in South Carolina and the Southern States. The roll of graduates and Alumni contains the names of men who have become noted in all the pursuits of life, both in peace and war. The exigencies of the struggle between the States and the secessionists in 1861, and the buildings were used as hospitals for sick and wounded Confederates. But as soon as peace was restored the institution was reopened by the "Old Guard" and employed several years of success until it was overturned during the Radical regime. Since 1880, however, the college has been continuously open, and has educated hundreds of men and number of young women, who for some years have been permitted to partake of its advantages.

Originally the College was known as a literary institution, although from early times its faculty contained scientists of great ability, but of late years its courses have broadened out so as to embrace also technical scientific instruction, instruction in the law and course in practical methods for teachers.

President Benjamin Sloan, the head of the Department of Physics and Engineering, is a graduate of West Point, and was a distinguished officer of ordnance during the war between the States. His graduates in engineering are now occupying most responsible positions in the various parts of the United States. Professor Joseph Daniel Pope, dean of the Law Department, has had wide experience in government in the legislative halls of the State and in the Executive Department, and is recognized as high authority in law and in equity jurisprudence. Some of the other members of the faculty have had distinguished careers in this College, while others have brought to it the best methods of colleges and universities elsewhere.

The most recent and most important addition that has been made to the usefulness of the College is the establishment of scholarships to be given to one man-teacher in each county who has taught at least one year. This is intended to offer the advantages of professional training to one who has already gathered practical experience in direct contact with pupils in the school room and realizes the difficulties that attend the preparation of a teacher. The law, who is at the head of the department in pedagogy, is eminent in his profession both as a student and as a practical teacher and school superintendent.

The College is situated at the capital of the State and affords to the student opportunity for studying the workings of government in a direct way. It is accessible from all parts of the State and is in a beautiful locality. The religious advantages are exceptional because each of the principal denominations has a prosperous congregation in Columbia. Expenses are moderate. There is a suite of three rooms for each pair of students, warm in winter and well ventilated in summer. A large campus, a fine gymnasium and an excellent athletic field afford ample opportunity for exercise.

The College is increasing in usefulness and in prosperity with the increasing prosperity of the State, and the prospects are that with the new century this institution will surpass the admirable record it has already made.

Impatient people water their miseries and hoe up their comforts; sorrows are visitors that come without invitation, but complaining minds send a wagon to bring their troubles home. Many people are born crying, live complaining, and die disappointed; they chew the bitter pill which they would not even know to be bitter if they had the sense to swallow it in a cup of patience and water.—C. H. Spurgeon.

THE WINDOW.

The South Carolina College.

Many dealers in the smaller towns and some retailers in the cities fail to use their windows in the best advantage. To most retailers a well-dressed window will prove in results only secondary to good newspaper advertising—and the window advertisement costs nothing except the time and thought necessary to prepare the display. Window dressing can be done on dull forenoons when there is little trade coming in, although the dealer is delegated to certain of the employees who display some sense of proportion and artistic instincts. Do not make a hodge-podge of the windows. Display one or two lines at a time and change the display often. No matter how well a window may be arranged it is not good enough to remain indefinitely. If you are making a special drive on certain lines, give prominent advertising space to the window display, and always, always, have easily-seen price tickets attached to each article.

Did you ever stand in the street outside a well-dressed shop window? If not, do so. Notice the number of people who pass, nearly every one giving a glance at it, and many stopping for a closer examination. Many will enter the shop and inquire about the goods; many others will do so later, when they have more time at their disposal.

Some of those passing may not have seen the firm's newspaper ads; others have already noticed the ads and the stock in the window should be chosen so as to back up the statements made in the advertising. The window should be a "clincher" which will convince the doubters. Never, never, display old style goods in the windows, no matter how low the price marks, unless you wish to drive away the better class of trade. If you wish to get rid of the out-of-date goods, work them off on country customers or others who are not particular about style, telling them frankly that the goods are of previous seasons' make, and therefore sold at a low price.

I said at the beginning of this article that good window display was only secondary to good newspaper advertising. Do you notice in how many particulars the same principles govern the two kinds of advertising? A few lines advertised at a time; the advertising copy in the window display changed often; artistic and attractive displays; goods prominently priced. All the difference there is, while in the ad, one must give word pictures of the goods, often accompanying them by cuts; in the window advertisement the goods speak for themselves. See that they have every opportunity to speak convincingly.

Byron Howard

THE PEONAGE CASES.

A Prominent Alabama Planter Pleads Guilty and Appeals to the Circuit Court of Appeals.

Montgomery, Ala., June 24—Today in the United States Court, J. W. Pace, a prominent planter of Alabama, pleaded guilty to a charge of holding an negro in involuntary servitude. He suspended the fine under conditions. In holding the negro in involuntary servitude, he was fined $100. In holding the negro in involuntary servitude, he was fined $100.

OTHER PEONAGE CASES.

Judge Emyer Deals Mercifully With Three Young Men Who Pleaded Guilty.

Macon, Ga., June 21—In the United States Court today Judge Emyer imposed a fine of $100 on three young men—Wm. S. Arthur, Arthur Lawson and I. Turner—for holding a negro in involuntary servitude. He suspended the fine under conditions. In holding the negro in involuntary servitude, he was fined $100. In holding the negro in involuntary servitude, he was fined $100.

THE PEONAGE CASES.

A Prominent Alabama Planter Pleads Guilty and Appeals to the Circuit Court of Appeals.

Montgomery, Ala., June 24—Today in the United States Court, J. W. Pace, a prominent planter of Alabama, pleaded guilty to a charge of holding an negro in involuntary servitude. He suspended the fine under conditions. In holding the negro in involuntary servitude, he was fined $100. In holding the negro in involuntary servitude, he was fined $100.

THE WINDOW.

Its Importance in the Scheme of Retailing.

Many dealers in the smaller towns and some retailers in the cities fail to use their windows in the best advantage. To most retailers a well-dressed window will prove in results only secondary to good newspaper advertising—and the window advertisement costs nothing except the time and thought necessary to prepare the display. Window dressing can be done on dull forenoons when there is little trade coming in, although the dealer is delegated to certain of the employees who display some sense of proportion and artistic instincts. Do not make a hodge-podge of the windows. Display one or two lines at a time and change the display often. No matter how well a window may be arranged it is not good enough to remain indefinitely. If you are making a special drive on certain lines, give prominent advertising space to the window display, and always, always, have easily-seen price tickets attached to each article.

Did you ever stand in the street outside a well-dressed shop window? If not, do so. Notice the number of people who pass, nearly every one giving a glance at it, and many stopping for a closer examination. Many will enter the shop and inquire about the goods; many others will do so later, when they have more time at their disposal.

Some of those passing may not have seen the firm's newspaper ads; others have already noticed the ads and the stock in the window should be chosen so as to back up the statements made in the advertising. The window should be a "clincher" which will convince the doubters. Never, never, display old style goods in the windows, no matter how low the price marks, unless you wish to drive away the better class of trade. If you wish to get rid of the out-of-date goods, work them off on country customers or others who are not particular about style, telling them frankly that the goods are of previous seasons' make, and therefore sold at a low price.

I said at the beginning of this article that good window display was only secondary to good newspaper advertising. Do you notice in how many particulars the same principles govern the two kinds of advertising? A few lines advertised at a time; the advertising copy in the window display changed often; artistic and attractive displays; goods prominently priced. All the difference there is, while in the ad, one must give word pictures of the goods, often accompanying them by cuts; in the window advertisement the goods speak for themselves. See that they have every opportunity to speak convincingly.

Byron Howard

THE PEONAGE CASES.

A Prominent Alabama Planter Pleads Guilty and Appeals to the Circuit Court of Appeals.

Montgomery, Ala., June 24—Today in the United States Court, J. W. Pace, a prominent planter of Alabama, pleaded guilty to a charge of holding an negro in involuntary servitude. He suspended the fine under conditions. In holding the negro in involuntary servitude, he was fined $100. In holding the negro in involuntary servitude, he was fined $100.

OTHER PEONAGE CASES.

Judge Emyer Deals Mercifully With Three Young Men Who Pleaded Guilty.

Macon, Ga., June 21—In the United States Court today Judge Emyer imposed a fine of $100 on three young men—Wm. S. Arthur, Arthur Lawson and I. Turner—for holding a negro in involuntary servitude. He suspended the fine under conditions. In holding the negro in involuntary servitude, he was fined $100. In holding the negro in involuntary servitude, he was fined $100.

THE PEONAGE CASES.

A Prominent Alabama Planter Pleads Guilty and Appeals to the Circuit Court of Appeals.

Montgomery, Ala., June 24—Today in the United States Court, J. W. Pace, a prominent planter of Alabama, pleaded guilty to a charge of holding an negro in involuntary servitude. He suspended the fine under conditions. In holding the negro in involuntary servitude, he was fined $100. In holding the negro in involuntary servitude, he was fined $100.

OTHER PEONAGE CASES.

Judge Emyer Deals Mercifully With Three Young Men Who Pleaded Guilty.

Macon, Ga., June 21—In the United States Court today Judge Emyer imposed a fine of $100 on three young men—Wm. S. Arthur, Arthur Lawson and I. Turner—for holding a negro in involuntary servitude. He suspended the fine under conditions. In holding the negro in involuntary servitude, he was fined $100. In holding the negro in involuntary servitude, he was fined $100.

Now is the Time to Buy

L. W. White

HAS AN IMMENSE STOCK OF COTTON GOODS OF ALL KINDS AND IS OFFERING THEM AT PRACTICALLY THE SAME PRICES AS WHEN COTTON WAS FIVE CENTS A POUND CHEAPER THAN IT IS NOW.

An advance in price is sure to come.

Save money by buying before the advance is established.

L. W. WHITE.

B. Y. P. U.

Many Advantages via the Seaboard Air Line to Atlanta.

A circular has been issued in which the official route from Abbeville to Atlanta is named via Seabee, and while we know that the people of Abbeville realize there is only one direct route without change of cars, Abbeville to Atlanta, and that is the Seaboard Air Line, in order that the unknown may know something of the only direct route, we name here a few of the many advantages for using the Seaboard Air Line to the meeting of Baptist Young People's Union:

The Seaboard Air Line is the only line running solid through trains daily, without change of cars, Abbeville to Atlanta.

The Seaboard is the only line operating solid vestibule trains Abbeville to Atlanta, elegantly furnished high-back vestibule coaches, no extra charge.

The Seaboard the only line operating three trains daily in each direction, making six trains daily between Abbeville and Atlanta.

For further information and a catalogue, compare the schedules, then go buy your tickets from G. H. Fuller, Agent Seaboard, Abbeville, S. C.

For all information, write to J. H. von Dolan, Traveling Passenger Agent, 116 Peachtree Street, N. E., Atlanta, Ga.

W. E. Christian, Asst. Gen. Pass. Agent.

Winthrop College Scholarship and Entrance Examinations.

The examinations for the award of vacant scholarships in Winthrop College and for the admission of new students will be held in the County Court House on Friday, July 10th, at 9 A. M.

Applicants must not be less than fifteen years of age.

When scholarships are vacated after July 10th they will be awarded to those making the highest average at this examination.

The next session will open about September 16, 1903.

For further information and a catalogue, address Pres. D. B. Johnson, Rock Hill, S. C.

Mails Close.

Abbeville, S. C., May 26, 1903.

The mails close at the post office at Abbeville, S. C., as follows:

S. A. L. R. R.—
8:10 a. m. North.	12:30 p. m. South.
10:10 a. m. South.	12:30 p. m. North.
10:10 a. m. Hodges.	4:20 p. m. South.
1:30 p. m. North.	4:20 p. m. North.
1:30 p. m. Hodges.	8:30 p. m. South.
	8:30 p. m. North.

Night mails on Sunday close at 6 p. m. Antireville mail closes at 7:15 a. m. The Rural Carriers leave at about 7:15 a. m. Robt. S. Link, Postmaster.

Packing for Market.

Growing early fruits and vegetables for distant markets is a long since done in the South. But after the growing comes the marketing. That is of vital importance, and experience has taught wide-awake growers to place themselves in the position of the buyers, thus insuring full weight and the best condition for their shipments. The business is bound to grow, but it will grow the more rapidly and the more steadily just in so far as packages shall meet the exigencies in transportation and the goods reach the market in prime condition.

Taking off His Hat to Nature.

Hamilton W. Mabie repeats a story which shows how one man, at least, was affected by the beauty of nature.

One day in the early spring a Scotchman was walking along the side of a mountain in Skye, when he came to a hut in which lived an old man he had known a great while. He bowed and his bonnet in his hand. He came up and said to him after a bit: "I did not speak to you, Sandy, because I thought you might be your prairie."

"Well, not exactly that," said the old man, "but I will tell you what I was doing. Every morning for forty years I have taken off my bonnet here to the beauty of the world."

Beauty, wherever it is seen, is a reflection of God's face, the shining of heavenly light down upon the earth. Wherever we come up to it, it should touch our hearts with a spirit of reverence. God is near; we are standing in the light of his countenance.

Try L. W. White's roasted coffee at 10 cents a pound. It is a bargain.

WHY USE LARD?

PALMATINA

THE VEGETABLE FAT
SUPERIOR IN QUALITY AND PURITY
TO ALL OTHERS

LOOKS LIKE LARD
PRODUCES PERFECT ASTRY

Address SAVANNAH, GA. SOUTHERN COTTON OIL CO.
THE CAROLINAS AND GEORGIA.

HOME SEEKERS EXCURSION RATES

TO
Texas, Indian Territory, Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Missouri,
..... VIA

THE NASHVILLE, CHATTANOOGA & ST. LOUIS RAILWAY, AND WESTERN AND ATLANTIC RAILWAY.

Solid Vestibule through trains between Atlanta and Memphis. Only one change of cars to Texas. Very low rates to points North, Northwest and West.

BEST SERVICE. . . . QUICKEST TIME.

For rates, schedules, maps or any information, write,
JNO. E. SATTERFIELD,
No. 1 N. Pryor St., Atlanta, Ga. Traveling Passenger Agent

L. W. White's Locals.

Our trade in embroideries has been phenomenal. We had the largest stock of them we ever had to begin with, and yet we received two large additional shipments last week. Prices are the lowest ever known for these goods. Come and see them.

L. W. White's immense stock of white goods is still holding out. He still offers the choicest things to be had in white madras, linens, waists, linens, organdies, batistes, sheetings, muscades, quilts, etc., etc.

Black veils continue to be the leading black goods of the season. Since L. W. White first received his spring stock he has sent forward five different grades, one at 50 cents a yard and another at $1.00 a yard.

If you want cheap goods you will surely find them at L. W. White's. Those white lawns more than a yard wide at 5 cents a yard cannot be matched anywhere. We have sold already more than fifteen hundred yards of them.

L. W. White always carries an immense stock of cotton goods. His prices are as cheap now as they were when cotton was five and six cents a pound. His stock of unbleached sheetings, bleached long cloths, full width sheetings, bed tickings, gingham, prints and percales was never larger than at present.

Southern Railway Schedule.

Trains for Hodges leave Abbeville, S. C., No. 114 (daily) 8:40 a. m.; No. 115 (daily) 10:50 a. m.; No. 116 (daily) 1:55 p. m.; No. 117 (daily) 4:10 p. m.; No. 118 (daily) 10:20 a. m.; No. 119 (daily) 12:05 p. m.; No. 120 (daily) 3:10 p. m.

Close connection at Hodges with through trains for Greenville, Columbia, Charleston, etc., connecting at Greenville for A. & C. D. Division points and the East, also Asheville, Atlanta, etc.

Union Services were held in the Associate Reformed church Sabbath evening. Rev. W. C. Ewart, pastor of the church, officiated. A large audience was present at this meeting. Mr. Ewart is a scholarly man and his sermons are instructive and helpful. The next union meeting will be held at the Methodist church.

Sunday evening Rev. W. A. Gordon delivered his last message to his people at the Baptist church. He will be succeeded by Rev. Fort Mill to begin his new work. Mr. Gordon has labored here for several years and his church has grown wonderfully under his pastorate.

At the close of the morning services at the Presbyterian church Miss Fannie Starke sang a beautiful solo that suited her full sweet voice to perfection. She has been studying voice culture at the College of Greenville and she reflects great credit upon her instructors.

Miss Helie Wicker left Thursday for Rock Hill where she will visit her sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Wicker Witherspoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Calhoun Marshall and their children are in the city the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Marshall.

Union Services were held in the Associate Reformed church Sabbath evening. Rev. W. C. Ewart, pastor of the church, officiated. A large audience was present at this meeting. Mr. Ewart is a scholarly man and his sermons are instructive and helpful. The next union meeting will be held at the Methodist church.

Sunday evening Rev. W. A. Gordon delivered his last message to his people at the Baptist church. He will be succeeded by Rev. Fort Mill to begin his new work. Mr. Gordon has labored here for several years and his church has grown wonderfully under his pastorate.

At the close of the morning services at the Presbyterian church Miss Fannie Starke sang a beautiful solo that suited her full sweet voice to perfection. She has been studying voice culture at the College of Greenville and she reflects great credit upon her instructors.

Miss Helie Wicker left Thursday for Rock Hill where she will visit her sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Wicker Witherspoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Calhoun Marshall and their children are in the city the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Marshall.

Union Services were held in the Associate Reformed church Sabbath evening. Rev. W. C. Ewart, pastor of the church, officiated. A large audience was present at this meeting. Mr. Ewart is a scholarly man and his sermons are instructive and helpful. The next union meeting will be held at the Methodist church.

Sunday evening Rev. W. A. Gordon delivered his last message to his people at the Baptist church. He will be succeeded by Rev. Fort Mill to begin his new work. Mr. Gordon has labored here for several years and his church has grown wonderfully under his pastorate.

At the close of the morning services at the Presbyterian church Miss Fannie Starke sang a beautiful solo that suited her full sweet voice to perfection. She has been studying voice culture at the College of Greenville and she reflects great credit upon her instructors.

Miss Helie Wicker left Thursday for Rock Hill where she will visit her sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Wicker Witherspoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Calhoun Marshall and their children are in the city the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Marshall.

Union Services were held in the Associate Reformed church Sabbath evening. Rev. W. C. Ewart, pastor of the church, officiated. A large audience was present at this meeting. Mr. Ewart is a scholarly man and his sermons are instructive and helpful. The next union meeting will be held at the Methodist church.

Sunday evening Rev. W. A. Gordon delivered his last message to his people at the Baptist church. He will be succeeded by Rev. Fort Mill to begin his new work. Mr. Gordon has labored here for several years and his church has grown wonderfully under his pastorate.

At the close of the morning services at the Presbyterian church Miss Fannie Starke sang a beautiful solo that suited her full sweet voice to perfection. She has been studying voice culture at the College of Greenville and she reflects great credit upon her instructors.

Miss Helie Wicker left Thursday for Rock Hill where she will visit her sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Wicker Witherspoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Calhoun Marshall and their children are in the city the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Marshall.

Union Services were held in the Associate Reformed church Sabbath evening. Rev. W. C. Ewart, pastor of the church, officiated. A large audience was present at this meeting. Mr. Ewart is a scholarly man and his sermons are instructive and helpful. The next union meeting will be held at the Methodist church.

Sunday evening Rev. W. A. Gordon delivered his last message to his people at the Baptist church. He will be succeeded by Rev. Fort Mill to begin his new work. Mr. Gordon has labored here for several years and his church has grown wonderfully under his pastorate.

At the close of the morning services at the Presbyterian church Miss Fannie Starke sang a beautiful solo that suited her full sweet voice to perfection. She has been studying voice culture at the College of Greenville and she reflects great credit upon her instructors.

Miss Helie Wicker left Thursday for Rock Hill where she will visit her sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Wicker Witherspoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Calhoun Marshall and their children are in the city the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Marshall.

Union Services were held in the Associate Reformed church Sabbath evening. Rev. W. C. Ewart, pastor of the church, officiated. A large audience was present at this meeting. Mr. Ewart is a scholarly man and his sermons are instructive and helpful. The next union meeting will be held at the Methodist church.

Sunday evening Rev. W. A. Gordon delivered his last message to his people at the Baptist church.