GOT HIS REWARD.

The Abbeville Sheriff Delivers a Prisoner to the Sheriff of Newberry.
Sheriff Lyon of Abbeville yesterday delivered George Summers, colored, to sheriff Buford at the depot at Newberry. Summers is the negro who escaped from the chaingang nine months ago and was captured by the Abbeville sheriff. Deputy Johnson went after the negro a week ago, but the sheriff of Abbeville refused to give him up unless he was paid $25, and the deputy, not being authorized to pay it, returned without the prisoner. After some correspondence on the subject, Supervisor Schumper agreed to pay the $25, less Deputy Johnson's expenses in going to Abbeville, if the prisoner were delivered at Newberry.

LOWNESVILLE.

News from the Seven Hill City as Related by an Interesting Writer.
Lowndesville, S. C., Jan. 13th, 1904.
Rev. R. W. Barber left here Monday for Franklin Springs, where he will spend a week or two.
There was a law case here Monday, before Magistrate J. G. Huckabee's court, by and between Mr. John Tarrant and Mr. McAlister, plaintiff and defendant in the case, and of Mr. Carmel. Hon. M. P. DeRuhl of the Abbeville Bar for the prosecution and Hon. W. N. Graydon of the same bar for the defense. The litigants are well known at their homes, and it seems as if they will well know here before the case is decided, as they have been here twice and will have to come at least once more. The lawyers in the case are known as some of the most successful at the Abbeville bar, and all who are so unfortunate as to get into the courts, may safely place their cases in their hands, and be well assured that their interests will be well looked after. A jury made a mistrial of the case and unless it is compromised another trial may be expected.
Mr. W. C. DuPre of Abbeville C. H., was in our town Tuesday, on business.
Mr. Will Fressley, a former Lowndesville boy, now engaged in a prosperous business in Atlanta has been here, his old home, among friends for the past few days.
Mrs. T. B. Clinkscales, of the Fork, has been for a time at Wideman's her old home among her relatives.
Mrs. E. R. Horton and her two pretty and interesting little girls of Anderson C. H., spent several days last week with her old friends in and around this place all of whom were glad indeed to have her with them.
Miss Elise Brownlee of Penny's Creek, was with her cousin, Miss El Louie Harper for some days.
Miss Louise Barber went to Williamston Thursday to pay a mournful tribute to the memory of the late lamented, Dr. Samuel Lander who for some years had been the successful, efficient and beloved President of the Williamston Female College. A great and good man has fallen. Wherever duty or inspiration called Dr. Lander, in the walk of life, he received the whole of all who knew him. His place will be hard to fill.
Miss Lulu Red of Red's has been for several days, with Miss Fannie May Moorehead.
Word came Saturday morning that Mrs. Mason Miller had just died at Walhalla. Mr. Miller a Lowndesville boy, and Miss Floyd of Walhalla, were married a few years ago, had several children. Mrs. D. K. Cooley and Miss Elia Floyd, left Saturday morning on the S. A. M. freight train, for Walhalla to attend the funeral services of their sister Mrs. Miller.
Miss Eliza Kay has been for the past few days with friends in Seneca.
A projected meeting will begin in the Baptist church in this place on the fourth Sunday (21st) of this month. Rev. G. A. Wright of Newberry, will preach the pastor, Dr. J. A. Brown in the services.
Misses Annie, Lou and Bertie Power of Augusta, Ga., came up Saturday, and will remain at the Winter home for some time.
Saturday between 12 and 1 P. M. we had a splendid rain, with some hail, wind thunder and lightning. One of the most flourishing and beautiful shade trees near the center of the town was struck by lightning. It was in part splintered and barked, yet it is hoped that it will not die from the effects of it, for it would take years for another, put in its place, to reach such a growth, and state of beauty as it was.
Mrs. Ella Latimer of Abbeville, C. H., came up Tuesday, and remained at Mr. J. A. Latimer's, till Saturday, when she and Mrs. J. R. Thornton who was there also, on a visit, went to Greenwood, to see their brother, and family Mr. T. L. Cooby.
Master Jas. Latimer, left for Washington D. C. one day last week. He expected to come for some time.
A crowd (male) went down upon Rock River several miles below here, Friday morning and remained there till Saturday, and had a big fish fry. The caught, cooked and ate, till all (about 15) had enough. Their trip was such a successful one that they brought a number of fish home with them.
There seem to be, in some way, to have been brought about somewhat anomalous conditions in some places. If you go West, South North or East from this place the crops are said by those who have seen them to be unusually fine after getting out of the dry area in and immediately around this place. This condition of the crops presupposes a plenty of rain, the main essential to good crops. With enough rain the wells and streams ought to be supplied with a sufficient quantity of water, yet it is so. In our small place there are several cases where three and more families are supplied with water by the same well, and those holding claims against the estate must present them properly attested to.

Now Jim Bug Was Frightened

"The police are after you!" cried But-terfly to Jim Bug.
"What for?" asked Jim Bug.
"They say you climbed the fence around Farmer Jones' orchard and bit a piece out of one of his apples."
"Oh, my!" cried Jim Bug. "I am discovered! What will they do with me?" Then he began to run for his home. When he finally reached the house he rushed in out of breath.
"Oh, ma," he cried, "what am I to do? The police are after me for taking a bite out of one of Mr. Jones' apples."
"Hide in the cellar under the wash-tub!" exclaimed his mother.
So down into the cellar Jim Bug hurried and crawled under the wash-tub. He kept just as quiet as he could because he expected a big fat policeman would come along at any moment and carry him off to jail.

Presently he heard his mother coming down the stairs.
"It's all right, Jimmie; it's all right!" she cried. "They are not coming to do anything with you."
"How do you know, ma?" he asked.
"Caterpillar has just been here and told me," she replied. "They were going to punish you, but changed their minds."
"Why, ma?"
"Because they found that you had only bitten a crab apple. They thought that would make you very sick and that would be punishment enough for you."
"I do feel rather sick under my shirt," said Jim.
"Well, I'll give you a dose of ginger and you'll be well in a little while," said his mother.
"That was the greatest scare I ever had in my life," said Jim. "I guess I won't eat any more apples that are not mine."—Pittsburg Dispatch.

The Frog Makes Love to the Moon

The frog fell in love with the moon and made up his mind that he would ask her to marry him. He put on his best clothes, and when night came and the moon rose high in the sky he sat down beneath a tree and began to croak out his story of love. Just as he reached the point where he was going to ask the moon to marry him she hid behind a cloud.

When she reappeared he began his courtship all over again; but just as he got to the point of proposing, away she went behind another cloud. Then he tried a third time and a fourth time, but whenever he was ready to "pop the question" the moon disappeared.
He was a very persistent fellow, however, and at last he was successful in asking her the very important question. He smiled his sweetest and spoke in his tenderest, most loving tones.
"Will you, oh, will you, dear moon, will you be?"
And before he could say "mine" the moon had disappeared behind a hill, and the poor, foolish frog shed a few frog tears and went home. He is a bachelor yet if he has waited to marry the moon.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

The Mice Who Would Be Frogs

Mr. Bullfrog sat sunning himself on the bank of the pond and wiggling his throat to get it in good shape for the evening concert at Lily Pad Opera House.

Three young field mice came sauntering by looking for grasshoppers. They soon spied Mr. Bullfrog and were much attracted by the funny wiggle in his green throat. "I wish I could do that," said No. 1.

"Easy enough," grunted Mr. Bullfrog.

"Yes, but we haven't the kind of throat," said No. 2.

"It's all in practice," commented Mr. Frog. "All in practice, I assure you."

FATHER AND MOTHER PULLED HIM OUT.

Practice, my dear young mice, makes perfect. See! I do this every day for ten hours."

"Whew!" gasped No. 3. "I don't think it's worth while. I'd rather be a frog out and out and swim around in the cool pond. It's so hot out here in the fields! How do you learn to swim? Is that just practice too?"

"Purely so," said Mr. Frog, drawing himself up proudly. "Purely so. Just jump in like this, then strike out like this, and then like this, and in a few months you will find that your hair will come off. Your feet will become webbed like mine, and your mouths will stretch, your tails will drop out as mine did, for I had a tail once, and you will become frogs. But, my dears, remember, it's practice, practice, practice. Practice will change anything into anything."

"Thank you," said they in chorus, "we will try it at once."

Off they set to the barn, where the drinking trough stood.

"Here goes for a frog," said one, and, standing on the edge, he plunged in.

"Oh! Oh! Oh! Help, help!" he squealed piteously. "I'm drowning. I can't practice, 'cause I can't get my breath. Mother! Father! Help!"

Just then mother and father came by and pulled him out, dripping.

"Silly thing," scolded his mother, "to try to be what you can't."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.
