Harman, C. D. Mann, S. A. Weber. Constables Sent Back. York constables are to be sent back to York county, at the request of county officials and Senator Brice. We agree with the Columbia Record that "this seems curious when we take in consideration the allegation that is continuously made to us that where a county votes for prohibition that fact shows that public sentiment is back of it and that sentiment would see to it that prohibition is enforced. There seems to be something wrong with the allegation or with public sentiment and we would like for somebody to explain to us what is the trouble. In York, for instance, did the vote in the dispensary election represent the sentiment of the majority? If so why is it necessary to call in outside aid to enforce the law? The truth is that the enforcement of prohibition is a dream which cannot be realized and we might as well realize the fact from what experience we have already had with it and consider the question from a practical standpoint." He Advertised. Once there was a boy named John—we think his last name was Wannamaker, or maybe it was Money-maker anyhow, his name was John, with some sort of a maker attached to his last name. He owned fifty yards of calico, three pairs jeans, a half dozen pair of home made yarn socks and five pairs of boots. He called this a dry goods store through a Philadelphia newspaper and it fared to sell a pair of socks for 39 cents. The don't believe in advertising merchants laughed! Young John spent 65 with the Philadelphia Ledger to advertise just one pair, and had less than $100 worth of goods. He was cautioned by the merchants who 'knew he didn't pay'! It was thru sympathy that they offered him advice. But John didn't listen to them, and went and blew his money in foolishly; and today poor John sees the results of his misdoings—he has so many large dry goods stores that he can hardly find time to study his Sunday school lesson. Breakfast Food Hamburg. With that multiplicity of cereals and breakfast foods that has been invented and manufactured the head of an average family is up against it when he goes down town to order his supply of inside matter sent to his house. He is at a loss what kind of a breakfast food is best adapted for his interior department. Between "Ground Coco," "Silvered Shingles" and "Sawdust Nutto" the old man is liable to get a fairly nutty himself. To the good old days of hog and corn, baked beans, mush and milk there was no attempt at stuffing the bill of fare with salted shavings. A tablespoon of vinegar added to cooking turnips, onions or other ill smelling vegetables, will kill the smell. Burning papers in a room, will purify it wonderfully if coffee, camphor or spices are not handy.

LOST IN A SNOW STORM. A 'Red Girl' in Wild Hills Thought to be Dead. A dispatch from Denver, Col., says Miss Vivian George, daughter of F. George, a wealthy Los Angeles merchant, and Ralph Loughbrough, an artist and cartoonist, of Kalamazoo, Mich., are believed to have perished in the mountains near Arapahoe Peak, fifty miles northwest of Denver. They were members of a hunting party, and left Down's mining camp on Saturday morning, Dec. 16. They have been missing since that afternoon. Hunting parties have been scouring the mountains since their disappearance, but the only trace found was Mr. Loughbrough's rifle. The search still continues, and the searchers are being added to by new recruits. Miss George's father has offered a large reward for the return of his daughter, dead or alive. Miss George is well known in Denver, where she has often been the guest of friends. She is an heiress and when presented at the English court last year was declared by King Edward to be one of the most beautiful of America's beautiful women. She is an enthusiastic hunter, and when a hunting party was proposed last Saturday she entered into it with eagerness. Mr. and Miss George, accompanied by George Ballington, a prominent Salt Lake City attorney, and Ralph Loughbrough, followed a guide from Down's camp to Windy Point, near Arapahoe Peak. There they found a line, despite a heavy snowstorm, and started, about fifty yards apart, to talk what was believed to be an elk. When Miss George and the artist failed to return it was thought at first they had taken refuge in some sheltered spot and would return as soon as the fury of the storm abated, but they were not seen afterward. JEWELS SAVED BY DREAM. Salesman Woke Up in Time to Frighten Burglar Away. Louis Popkin, a jewelry salesman of Kansas City arrived in New York four days ago, with $2,300, which he carried in a belt around his waist, and a satchel, which he says contains $11,000 worth of samples. He hired a room in the boarding house at 142 Clinton street, and made no secret of the treasures he carried. At night when he went to bed, he put the belt under the pillow and the satchel under the bed. Early Tuesday morning, as Popkin described it afterward, he had a terrible dream. He thought the house was revolving around, while a fierce tornado raged without. Then suddenly the roof caved in, and he woke up just in time to see a man groping under the bed. The burglar fled, and Popkin quickly placed his hands under the pillow and found that the belt was gone. He ran down the stairs in his night clothes, but the burglar was nowhere in sight when he reached the street. He found a policeman at the next corner, and when they went back to investigate they found money strewn in the halls and on the stairways leading to Popkin's room. They gathered up $1,300, which the burglar must have dropped out of the belt as he ran. The satchel was safe. Max Adler, of 163 Broome street was subsequently arrested on suspicion of being the thief. A Lobby of Bootlers. It has come out in the testimony before New York's insurance committee that there is in existence a lobby supported by great financial interests provided with a joint boiler fund and maintained for the purpose of fighting any measure that threatens to advance the public interests or curtail the power of special interests in any particular. Referring to "the scope of the insurance lobby" in the Denver News says: "The letters read in the investigation, written by Thomas D. Jordan, former controller of the Equitable, proved this fact beyond a doubt. The New York Tribune, in its report of the proceedings, said that the instructions given to lobbyists 'revealed a range of legislation practically without limit. Here are some extracts from these letters: We are in favor of bill No. 99 for the widening and improvement of West One Hundred and Thirty-fifth street. Please note we are opposed to assembly introductory bills 135 and 136 amending the stock corporation law in relation to books of account of stockholders. Please note that we are vigorously opposed to senate bill 150, Malby. I want to keep track of this measure till it is killed. We are vigorously opposed to introductory No. 272, Robinson, ceding to the town of Islip certain water rights. We are interested in Senator Moran's bill, introductory 350, reducing the rate of interest to 5 per cent. I imagine this latter measure will have a long sleep. I desire to again call your attention to Senators Malby's bill, introductory 250. We are opposed to this bill. Some of these 'objectionable' bills related to the employment of women and children, some to labor laws protecting or aiding the workingman, some relating to tenement houses, to the taxation of banks and trust companies and the News asks: 'Can anyone doubt that what is true of the insurance trust and legislation at Albany is also true in Washington and in all state capitals and of many other financial combines? Can they longer doubt that machine politics, whatever the party always works with wheels oiled by corporate funds? Can they not see that something fundamental is required to free the nation from such a clutch upon its throat?'" Cotton Ginned. The census bureau has issued a bulletin showing the quantity of cotton ginned from the growth of 1905 to December 13, to be 9,282,191 bales, or uniting round bales as half bales, as compared with 11,971,477 bales on the same date in 1904, and 8,526,244 bales on the same date in 1903.

PLUNGED INTO ICY-WATERS. Assaulted and Beaten Into Insensibility by a Brute. A dispatch from Greenville says Mrs. Frank James, the young wife of a prosperous farmer, living in Chick Springs Township, between Greer's and Taylor's was assaulted at her home about dusk Tuesday night, by Andrew Thompson, a negro 40 years old, who beat her into insensibility, and threatened her with death if she told. Her husband, coming from work, found her hysterical and disfigured from the blows of the negro's fists. The neighbors formed a posse and began searching for the fiend. Constable A. C. Rainey found Thompson in a drunken stupor at his cabin, a mile from the scene of the crime at 3 o'clock this morning. Fearing a lynching the constable left the posse with the impression that he was going to drive across the country with his man, by the way of the Paris mountain road. They out across the country to head him off, and lynch the prisoner, but he made a detour and caught Southern train No. 39 at Taylor's Station for Greenville. Rainey delivered the prisoner at the county jail by noon. Excitement is intense about Greer's and Taylor's. The young woman who was assaulted has been married three years. She is the daughter of John Duncan, and a member of an excellent country family, with an extensive connection. The man who is said to have assaulted her has lived in this neighborhood all his life, and presumably committed the deed in a drunken frenzy. Refused to Marry Her. Miss A. Chaffee Drake, who claims to be a wealthy young woman of Hendersonville, N. C., arrived in Chester, Pa., Tuesday night after coming one thousand miles from Fernandez, Fla., to become the bride of Hawkes S. Thomson, a youth of eighteen years of age, who came to Chester two months ago from Florida. After the woman arrived in the city, her intended husband refused to have anything to do with her, stating that his people would not allow him to marry. Miss Drake went to a local boarding house, and although she made every effort to interview the young man, she was refused admittance to the house of his aunt, Mrs. Thomas A. Devers, where he is stopping. Thomson says he never intended marrying the woman. Miss Drake is thirty-five years of age, beautiful and very refined and educated. She has telegrams and letters from Thompson asking her to come here to be married. Jail Breaking. Sheriff T. R. Blount Thursday night was overpowered by prisoners in the McIntosh County, Ga., jail awaiting a guard from the State penitentiary and James Hinton escaped. Dick Wilson and Hinton attacked the sheriff and the deputy. The sheriff had to shoot Wilson before he could subdue him and keep him from following Hinton. Another prisoner named Nasworthy gave the alarm and did not try to escape, but assisted the sheriff. A posse went in pursuit of Hinton, but returned after an unsuccessful search. To Stop Hazing. Rear Admiral Sands, superintendent of the Naval Academy, reached the department Friday morning and conferred with Secretary Bonaparte and Rear Admiral Converse, chief of bureau of navigation, regarding the hazing at Annapolis. The conference lasted until the cabinet hour, and will be resumed Friday afternoon when the details of the condition of affairs at the academy will be taken up and a plan of campaign mapped out looking to the absolute abolishment of hazing in all forms. Switch Engine Amuck. At Evansville, Ind., a switch engine jumped the main track on the Illinois Central Friday morning and ploughed into the four story building of the Indiana Stove company at Pennsylvania avenue and Sixth street. It buried the engineer and fireman in the wreck and their bodies have not yet been rescued. It is believed other are dead. Boiler Blew Up. Three trainmen were killed by the explosion of a boiler of a freight engine on the Reading railway between Birdsboro and Joanna, Pa., on Tuesday of last week. What caused the explosion is not known. The boiler was lifted bodily from the frame and hurled into the woods. Nothing but the wheels and machinery remained on the rails. OF ALL contemptible callings that of making and selling obscene photographs and pictures is about the worst. The government has just captured and jailed a man who has been doing this on a large scale in Chicago. Over one hundred thousand obscene negatives and photographs were found on the premises. A man who is guilty of such a thing should be forced to spend the rest of his days in solitary confinement. Killed by a Woman. At Paducah, Ky., W. M. Pryoraged fifty-seven, a prominent farmer, was shot and killed by Mrs. Ella Gholson, a young widow. Pryor and Mrs. Gholson were in a dispute over a tree which the woman wanted to cut down. He who says "I will" over and over to himself and tries and who keeps on saying and trying is bound to win, whether he be only 18 years of age or 80. The trouble with the average man or woman is to be found in the too ready disposition to give up. The tin (the will) is dethroned long before 80, sometimes before 40. The individual thinks he has lost his chance and the scripture says "As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he." He thinks he is not good for much and so thinking he is not good for much, he has lost his grip. Killed Them All. William McWilliams was sentenced on Monday to be hanged for the murder of his wife and five children two weeks ago at Independence, Iowa.

Prepared to fill orders for thousands or millions. MINISTER TELLS THE TRUTH. Personal Experience of Aged and Well Beloved Preacher. No other man in the community is so well-beloved or whose words have such weight as the minister who has devoted his life to the service of mankind. In Maryland one of the most noted Methodist ministers in the State suffered severely with rheumatism. He found no relief until a friend recommended RHEUMACIDE. He was so delighted with the results that for the benefit of other sufferers, as a duty to mankind, he tells his experience in the following letter: "Reistertown, Md., Feb. 27th. "I was taken with inflammatory Rheumatism in my left hand and foot in the beginning of this winter and suffered greatly. A gentleman in Baltimore who had tried RHEUMACIDE for Rheumatism recommended it to me. I secured three bottles and took it in smaller doses than prescribed, and am now entirely cured. Can use both hand and foot without the least inconvenience. "Yours respectfully, "J. R. WHEELER. Pastor, Reisterstown M. E. Church. Your druggist sells and recommends RHEUMACIDE. All 50c.
