A STORY OF THE DEAD-ROOM.

I presume, doctor, there are many sorrowful scenes which present themselves in your profession. I remarked to the surgeon of our regiment, as I spent an evening in his tent, while we were in camp.

A Profitable Crop in the Northwest

The second factor making for the new prosperity may be termed "the discovery of flax." For years there had been a few scattered flax fields, but it was only in the middle nineties that the Northwestern pioneer awoke to the discovery that linseed oil was of a more truly golden hue...

Railway Acquaintances in America.

"You may travel 1000 miles on a railway in Europe and never a man, whether English, French, German or what not, will open his mouth to speak to you if you are a stranger," said J. W. Pike, of Philadelphia.

TO DRIVE ANARCHISTS OUT OF THE COUNTRY

Immigration Officials Ordered to Work With Local Police. Secretary Straus Orders His Men to Co-operate With Police in Locating Criminals—Indorsed by Roosevelt.

Washington, D. C.—The United States has declared open war on Anarchists. As a result of the great increase in crime and the growing boldness of those who are enlisted under the red flag, Commissioners of Immigration and Immigrant Inspectors have been instructed by Secretary Straus, of the Department of Commerce and Labor, to ally themselves with the police and detectives of the East River some weeks after, but it was too much decomposed for identification.

Secretary Straus orders that the immigration authorities shall take steps necessary for "securing the co-operation of the police and detective forces in an effort to rid the country of alien Anarchists and criminals falling within the law relating to deportation."

SHERIFF PAT GARRETT SLAIN

Man Who Killed "Billy the Kid" Shot by New Mexican. Wayne Brazle Surrenders to Sheriff and Says He Killed Famous Ranger in Self-Defense.

Santa Fe, New Mexico.—Patrick F. Garrett, until two years ago Collector of Customs at El Paso, Texas, was shot and killed near Las Cruces, New Mexico, by Wayne Brazle, son of an old settler.

Garrett was the slayer of the notorious "Billy the Kid" in 1880. He served as Captain of Texas Rangers and Sheriff of Dona Ana County. He was a personal friend of President Roosevelt.

After the shooting Brazle rode five miles to Las Cruces and surrendered to Sheriff Lucero. He said he had shot in self-defense, and that he had had reached for his shotgun.

The quarrel between Garrett and Brazle started over a ranch that had been leased by Garrett to Brazle, and on which he had pastured a herd of goats.

Garrett was Sheriff in Lincoln County, New Mexico, thirty years ago, and his campaign against cattle rustlers was replete with dashing arrests and bloody encounters with the cattle thieves.

The best known of his exploits was the killing, while an officer of the law, of "Billy the Kid," who after the killing, according to some reports, twosome of men, was lodged in the Territorial penitentiary, only to escape.

Garrett used to say, after passing through a perilous experience, that he would die with his boots on. Garrett first appeared in New Mexico in 1878, and went to Lincoln County, where he engaged in ranching and cattle raising.

Garrett was later a Captain of Rangers in Texas, and did much to help make the reputation for fearlessness which the Texas Rangers then had.

"ANDY" HAMILTON FOUND DEAD. Former Yellow Dog Fund Custodian Died at Albany, N. Y. Albany, N. Y.—The picturesque career of a man whose influence had been felt in legislation in this State and in many other States for many years was ended when "Judge" Andy Hamilton died in his home in this city.

Hamilton died in bed of heart failure and he was found dead in bed by one of the servants. His health had been failing since last July, when his wife died, but he tried to hide his grief before his friends and outwardly he was congenial and cheerful.

Wherever the insurance interests were threatened there Hamilton went or sent his representatives. He was successful in most of his efforts to defeat hostile legislation, and that he spent money lavishly was shown by the books of the New York Life Insurance Company.

Hamilton left a mother and three daughters, one of whom is Mrs. Jas. Cox Brady, of New York, daughter-in-law of Anthony N. Brady. Hamilton was born in Lansingburg, North Troy, N. Y., April 29, 1854.

SHARES HER FORTUNE. Former Mrs. Weightman Walker Makes Gifts in Philadelphia. Philadelphia.—Within a few hours after the marriage of Mrs. Anne Weightman Walker to Frederick Courland Pennell in New York, her attorney in this city announced on behalf of the bride many gifts to relatives and institutions.

Mrs. Penfield is the daughter of the late William Weightman, a wealthy manufacturing chemist of this city. As the only surviving child she was made sole heir of Mr. Weightman's large fortune, and her wealth has been estimated at from $40,000,000 to $60,000,000.

CHIEF OF POLICE KILLS LAZARUS AVERBACH

Murderously Attacked in His Home in Chicago. GEORGE M. SHIPPY SAVES LIFE His Son and the Coachman Participate in Desperate Encounter With a Supposed Anarchist—Mrs. Shippy Present.

Chicago, Ill.—George M. Shippy, chief of the Chicago Police Department, shot and killed an anarchist who invaded his home, and who shot the chief's son, Harry, in the lung and severely wounded the family coachman, James Foley, as well as wounded the chief himself. The chief of police was stabbed in the hand.

The assailant entered Chief Shippy's house while the chief and his son were alone in one of the rooms. The man is said to have handed the chief a letter, which the latter opened and began to read.

Again the chief closed with the man, and the latter turned on him with a knife. Chief Shippy attempted to grasp the weapon, and received a deep cut on the hand. The assailant then succeeded in reaching his own revolver and fired shot after shot at his assailant.

"When he handed the envelope to me the thought struck me like a streak of lightning that he was up to some wrong," said Chief Shippy. "I didn't like his looks. He appeared to me to be an anarchist. I grabbed his arms, and forcing them behind his back, called to my wife who was in another room. When she ran in I said:

"Mother, see if this man has a revolver." She felt one of his back pockets and said that he had. "I tried to hold him with one hand and draw my revolver with another, but he jerked away and fell against the door. I caught him again, and he fought hard to reach his revolver. My son must have heard the struggle, and just as he came to my aid, the man freed one hand, drew his revolver, and fired two shots at my son. Then Foley ran in and the man shot him.

"By this time I was able to draw my own revolver. I fired at the man four times. The first two bullets entered his head and the others his body. He fell at the first shot and I fired three more into him. The man drew a knife also in the struggle, but I didn't know I had been cut until after the fight was over.

The attack on the chief is believed to have been inspired by the recent activity of the Chicago police, following the killing of the Rev. Leo Heinrichs, the Roman Catholic priest who was shot by an anarchist in Denver, Col., while the priest was administering the sacrament to his slayer.

The police succeeded in identifying the assassin as Lazarus Averbach, a Russian Jew, twenty years old, born in Kishinef and living with his sister Olga Averbach, a seamstress, at No. 218 Washburn avenue.
