AN HONEST DOCTOR ADVISED PE-RU-NA.

MR. SYLVESTER E. SMITH, Room 218, Granite Block, St. Louis, Mo., writes: "Peruna is the best friend a sick man can have.

"A few months ago I came here in a wretched condition. Exposure and dampness had ruined my once robust health. I had catarrhal affections of the bronchial tubes, and for a time there was a doubt as to my recovery.

"My good honest old doctor advised me to take Peruna, which I did and in a short time my health began to improve very rapidly, the bronchial trouble gradually disappeared, and in three months my health was fully restored.

"Accept a grateful man's thanks for his restoration to perfect health."

Pe-ru-na for His Patients. A. W. Perrin, M. D. S., 980 Halsey am recommending it to my patients in all cases of catarrh, and find it to be more than you represent. Peruna can be had now of all druggists in this section. At the time I began using it, it was unknown."

"C. B.' in the Abbey.

Out of the nineteen prime ministers who held office in the nineteenth century only seven have had monuments in the Abbey erected at the public expense. It is not, therefore, a customary honor, but a distinction, which Mr. Asquith will ask Parliament to confer on Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman when he makes the proposal of which he has given notice -a distinction due by the verdict of popular opinion—British and foreign —to a character of singular grace and truth.-Westminster Gazette.

Ants Used as Food.

The termites, or great white ants which are highly esteemed as food in Central Africa, live in great colonies and build enormous hills. As soon as the rainy season begins, when the termites are full grown and about to leave their nests, they are regarded most choice as edibles, and the man ant eater then goes forth with his axe and chops his way into their dwelling place in order to kill them. -Kansas City Journal.

Artificial Honey.

Bee keepers in southern Italy are becoming seriously alarmed at the perfection which has been attained in the manufacture of artificial honey. The West India Committee's Circular, referring to the matter, says that the process of its manufacture is a very simple one and involves the use of the best quality of refined sugar and its melting and boiling with the addition to it of tartaric acid to the extent of about one-tenth of one per cent. of the weight of the sugar. It must be boiled in an enameled vase, under pressure for forty-five minutes. The liquid will then have assumed a golden color and on cooling will have the consistency of ordinary honey. If a little true honey is mixed with it the mass will assume the flavor to such an extent as to be indistinguishable from the genuine article.

 Bee keepers are endeavoring to obtain legislation which shall enact that some substance shall be added to artificial honey so that it may be distinguishable at a glance from the genuine article. On the other hand, it is claimed that the artificial honey may be very useful to bee keepers because by mixing it with inferior, or unsalable honey, a marketable article may be produced.

So many peanuts are eaten in this country that the native supply is not sufficient for the demand, and about $3000 worth of the African nuts were imported from Marseilles in 1906 and over $73,000 worth in 1907. The west coast of Africa produces quantities of peanuts.

DROPPED COFFEE. Doctor Gains 26 Pounds on Postum.

A physician of Wash., D. C., says of his coffee experience: "For years I suffered with periodical headaches which grew more fre-

"Finally wife bought a package of Postum and persuaded me to try it, but she made it same as ordinary coffee and I was disgusted with the taste. (I make this emphatic because I fear many others have had the same experience.) She was distressed at her failure and we carefully read the directions, made it right, boiled it full 15 minutes after boiling commenced, and with good cream and sugar, I liked it-it invigorated and seemed to nourish me.

other things to no purpose. "Postum not only seemed to act as an invigorant, but as an article of nourishment, giving me the needed phosphates and albumens. This is no imaginary tale. It can be substantiated by my wife and her sixter, who both changed to Postum and are hearty women of about 70. "I write this for the information and encouragement of others, and with a feeling of gratitude to the in-

FUGITIVE WALKER BACK FROM MEXICO

New Britain Bank Defaulter Landed in San Diego, Cal.

WAS PENNILESS WHEN CAUGHT

Charged With Taking $541,882, the Aged Financier Now Declares That He is Innocent-Story of His Crimes and Wanderings.

San Diego, Cal.-Penniless and in well-worn but well-kept clothes, William F. Walker, who disappeared from New Britain, Conn., February 10, 1907, leaving, as treasurer of the New Britain Savings Bank, a shortage of over a half million dollars. was landed here from the steamer St. Denis. His long fight to prevent extradition from Mexico thus came to Walker was brought from Esenaga, Lower California, by T. F. Egan, Superintendent of the State Police of Connecticut, and Detective Hoffman, of the Pinkertons.

A large crowd gathered at the pier to see the prisoner landed, and there were many cameras pointed at the gangplank when he started ashore. But he kept his face hidden and was hurried into a cab by his two guards. He was driven to a restaurant, followed by the crowd.

Walker shows the heavy marks of hi long incarceration. His hair and beard of yellow-gray are straggly, and his face is pasty white and heavily seamed. He had not a penny. When he was captured in the mountains of Lower California he had only $1.01 in his clothes, and this has been spent.

After frequently declaring that he would have nothing to say to the newspapers, he finally made this statement: "The fight is not yet over. I am an innocent man. I did not like my treatment in Mexico. All the money with which I left New Britiain was my own. I have none left."

After leaving New Britain and sending a message to his wife that he had been killed in a trolley accident, signing a false name to the telegram, Walker went to Rhyolite, Nev., where, it is understood, he bought some property. He then came to San Diego, and from here went to Lower California, in Mexico.

The route for the trip East has not been decided on by Walker's guards. They expect, however, to have him in New Britain at the end of the week.

Story of Walker's Crimes. At the time of Walker's disappearance the books of the New Britain bank were being examined by the State Banking Department. His shortage was first estimated at $640,-000, but this figure was afterward reduced to $541,882. This included the funds of the Baptist Convention of Connecticut, amounting to $50,- Walker, while a fugitive, sent a confession to the president of his bank, in which he said that the loss was occasioned by a bond swindle into which he had been inveigled by a former employe of a Wall Street firm of brokers. The swindlers, he alleged, got $110,000 in cash at one time, and $24,000 at another time. It was also reported that he had been victimized by a gang of wire-tappers in New York City, who took several thousands from him.

When captured on the other side of the Mexican boundary line Walker put up a stiff legal fight to prevent his extradition, and his case went to the highest courts of Mexico, the final decision being that he should be turned over to the United States and Connecticut authorities.

Walker, the defaulting treasurer of the Savings Park of New Britain, who is expected to arrive here within a week, probable spend the remainder of the summer in jail, after being taken before a Judge of the Superior Court on a bench warrant and made to plead. WOMAN POISONS BABIES.

Rector's Wife Also Takes Fatal Dose at Portsmouth, Va.

Portsmouth, Va .- Mrs. Brown, wife of the Rev. W. A. Brown, rector of the Episcopal Church at this place, and her two small children are in a dying condition at her home here as a result of the woman having fed poison to the two babies and then having taken carbolic acid herself with suicidal intent.

Mrs. Brown, prior to her marriage was a Miss Romkey. Her family is said to be prominently connected in Alexandria, in which city she was socially well known in her girlhood days. No reason is assigned for this act of the young mother. Her marital relations have seemingly been happy. She went about her intention deliberately however, poisoning the two children and quietly waiting until they were beyond human aid before taking the dose which will result in her own death.

UNITED STATES MUST HAVE A HARD HITTING NAVY

Unforgivable to "Hit Soft," Roosevelt Says in War College Speech.

OPENS NEWPORT CONFERENCE

War Excusable Only in Case Nation "Intends to Hammer Opponent Until That Opponent Quits"-Fleet Must Be "Footless."

Newport, R. I .- At the end of a perilous sea trip from Oyster Bay to Newport, during which his own and his family's lives were imperilled when the yacht Mayflower ran down and sank a lumber schooner in the Sound, President Roosevelt appeared before the Naval War College here and made the strongest plea he has ever made for a greater navy.

The plea amounted to a Presidential demand for more battleships, more sailors and better fighting equipment without delay. And casting off the mask of diplomacy in which he hitherto has veiled his public utterances on this subject, the President frankly gave the country inferential notice that the restriction of Japanese immigration, which he advocates, may "very possibly" plunge this country into war with Japan unless the navy is made big enough to awe the Orientals into ac-

The speech delivered to a body of men, the majority of whom are fighting officers, won instant approbation and the President's trenchant demands were enthusiastically applauded. As a result it is learned the suggestions for the construction of our fighting craft hereafter will come more from the officers of the line than from the bureau-or swivel chairchiefs.

In a secret conference following the public speech fourteen Rear-Admirals, only a few of whom are on the retired list, faced the President. He insisted, during the hour's discussion, that existing methods must be revised if the maximum of constructive efficiency is to be attained. structive efficiency is to be attained in the building of the nation's war ships. He declared that a way must be found to avert effectively such results as have provoked recent criticism of certain constructive, features of the new battleship North Dakota and her sister ship, the Delaware, both of the Dreadnought type. Com-manders Albert L. Key and William S. Sims, whose reports to the National Executive have levelled these criticisms, personally participated in the discussion and refused to recede from their position.

The President was entertained at luncheon by Admiral Merrill, president of the Naval War College. Mrs. Roosevelt and the children did not come ashore from the Mayflower during the forenoon. At 3 p. m. Mr. Roosevelt returned to the Mayflower and the yacht sailed for Oyster Bay, the naval vessels in the harbor firing
