What "M" Sees and Hears on His Rounds About the City and Along Route No. 3.

Mr. L. D. Caldwell and son Hammond have gone to Greenville, and from thence the former will go to Atlanta for a few days on special business. Master W. T. McDonald Jr. is attending to the store during his absence.

Mrs. J. S. Norwood and daughter of Louisville, Ky., are in the city the guests of relatives and friends who are glad to see them.

Miss Nellie Cochran of Anderson is in the city the charming guests of relatives. Mrs. Jarrel and her little granddaughter, Miss Eleanor Gambrell, returned to their home in N. C. after a week's stay with Mrs. John M. Gambrell and family.

Miss Georgia Edwards is home again after a delightful stay of several weeks with friends in Greenville.

Messrs. Johnnie Tolbert and Andrew White have returned from a most delightful trip to Knoxville, Tenn. They stopped over in the Land of the Sky and took in the Biltmore farm near by on the fertile bottom land of the French Broad river. They saw one hundred acres of as fine corn as ever grew out of the ground.

On the other side was another fine acres set to alfalfa about waist high, and which the 200 fine sleek cows were feeding. A little story goes thus: While these two young men were looking at the cattle, they saw among them a pretty calf which they liked very much and was told by the keeper it was only worth seven hundred dollars, whereupon they replied, you misunderstood us, we did not wish to purchase the whole herd but the calf alone. The keeper turned his head and smiled audibly and the young men stood agast, being shocked by the price, they too smiled and turned away to look at the poultry. They were most pleased with everything around Biltmore and every convenience that the mind of man could suggest was there. They continued their journey for 65 miles up the French Broad taking in the scenery which was grand, picturesque and beautiful. On every side great mountain peaks lifted their heads far into the sky, then a yawning canyon, next fertile valleys along which glided the gently flowing river reflecting these beauties of nature in its placid bosom.

These young men are home but came without the calf.

ON ROUTE 3.
A protracted meeting has been going on in the Baptist Church for the past week and evening conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. B. Hillhouse assisted by Rev. H. W. Pratt of this city. Large and attentive congregations were in attendance at every service.

Mr. Wilson is a self made man, industrious and a good farmer, and last but not least he reads the Press and Banner and keeps up with his friends and relations on route 3.

Miss Sara Evans one of Lebanon's accomplished and highly cultured young ladies is now teaching in the graded school at Honea Path.

Miss Gessie Ables of Route No. 2 is the charming guest of Misses Lillie and Pearl Smith of Lebanon. We were delighted to see her as she was formerly one of our patrons on route 3.

BELLEVEUE.

We have been absent from home for some time, and failed to write up the Bellevue news. On the morning of the 10th of August, in company of Messrs. W. D. Morrish and W. H. Hurdley, Misses Edna and Bettie Morrish, we left home, and after a drive of ten miles we reached McCormick and were met by Mr. and Mrs. Frank McGhee and "Little Edna," of Iva. They were having a campaign meeting in McCormick on that day and there was quite a crowd. We purchased our tickets to Spartanburg. The train was crowded with old soldiers on their way to Spartanburg to attend the reunion. There was such a crowd in the city that night it was almost impossible to find a boarding place. We finally landed at the Argyle Hotel.

It was our intention to reach Linwood that night, but the trains do not make connection, and were delayed on account of the reunion of old soldiers. Our escort was so disappointed that we did not reach Kings Mountain that night that he forgot himself, and made the remark that it was a pity all the old soldiers hadn't died in the war.

We were entertained for awhile that night by the Salvation Army singing and playing in front of our hotel. The next morning we left Spartanburg about ten o'clock and reached Kings Mountain at twelve, and were driven out to Linwood, a distance of five miles. We found the place crowded with boarders—about 150—most of them attending the Teachers Institute, which lasted for two weeks. Instead of the nice quiet time we were expecting to have, we decided we had certainly got into it, but we stood it pretty well—made up our minds we had it to do.

On the first Saturday night we were there the teachers had no studying to do, so it sounded very much like they were tearing the house down—but we fell asleep while the noise was going on.

Father Lyndsay and his wife and Dr. Ernest Lyndsay and wife have charge of the new dormitory, while Rev. A. T. Lyndsay and family occupied one of the buildings and took charge of some of the boarders. Rev. A. T. Lyndsay and family reside at the parsonage at Pisgah, a distance of two miles.

We felt as if we were among friends. Mrs. Lyndsay is a niece of Dr. Sloan of precious memory and a sister of Dr. T. W. Sloan.

Dr. Phillips and family of Chester had been there for a month, but left a few days before we did. Dr. Wylie Sloan and family stopped on their way from Atlantic City. Dr. Phillips preached for us on Sabbath night; he preached in the morning of the same day at Kings Mountain. We also heard a lecture by a Presbyterian minister, missionary to Japan.

We went to Linwood to get the benefit of the mineral water. They have eighteen springs, all nicely fixed up. The place has been nicely fixed up during the last few years.

On the morning we left home Mrs. W. D. Morrish was making preparations to entertain that night in honor of Misses Brown and Kay, both of Anderson. Miss Bessie Morrish and Mr. Frank Stewart of Iva. A large crowd was present. Cake and cream were served.

Mrs. Saunders and children of Texas are on a visit to Dr. J. B. Britt of Princeton, S. C.

Miss Ellen Morrish is in Atlanta, the guest of Mrs. W. W. Morrish.

Mrs. John Wardlaw entertained Thursday in honor of Misses Ruth Robinson and Mabel Kennedy.

Mrs. S. P. Morrish had a few friends to dine with her on Thursday.

Miss Janie Lee Morrish entertained a number of her friends Thursday night. Cake and cream were served.

Mrs. W. H. Kennedy entertained Friday night.

Mrs. J. L. Kennedy is with friends in Elberton.

Rev. R. Bradley has not been at all well during the past week.

The following Elders were ordained at Long Cane on the first Sabbath: Messrs. John Wardlaw, W. D. Morrish, W. W. Wardlaw and Andrew Young.

Mr. Curtis Feanell of Savannah, Ga., came up to this place, his childhood and youth spent here, and he will spend a few days with his father, Rev. H. C. Feanell and family.

Mr. S. B. Cook and family, who have made their home at Latimer for several years, moved to this place Tuesday and are occupying one of Mr. Jas. M. Baker's houses on Bell street. We are glad to welcome them to our town.

Miss Annie Lou Lower of Augusta, came up last week and has since been at our home and will be here on Tuesday.

Mr. J. Moore Mars, in second race for Senator from this county in the coming State Legislature, was in and around this place Tuesday and Wednesday. His business in this section ended on Tuesday definitely stated that he is given above.

Capt. W. G. Johnson of Chester, was among his old friends in this place Tuesday and Wednesday.

On Tuesday, J. B. Huckabee, who has been working at the power plant for the past few months, came to this place, his home. While here he had a chill, and about 1 p. m. he started for his place of business and after getting out about two miles was found by a negro in the road under the horse that he was driving unconscious. The man who found him brought him to his father's Mr. J. M. Huckabee.

Dr. J. D. Wilson was called in and after trying him for sometime decided that it was best to take him to the hospital at Anderson. At that hour 5 p. m. there was no train due then. Mr. D. L. Barnes kindly proposed to take him in his auto. Dr. Wilson and Mr. Henry Moseley went with them. Mr. Huckabee having gotten much better was brought back the next day and at this writing is still better.

A traveling man representing a New York hardware house, Mr. B. Dreyer, was here for two days last week. He is a Boer from South Africa, a race of people who were quite notorious a few years ago. He said that he took part in the fights which then took place in and around Ladysmith. He talked quite intelligently and gave quite a glowing description of his native country. The writer was pleased to meet him and hope to meet him again.

Misses Annie and Edna Hawthorn of Latimer, were with friends in this place for several days last week.

Mr. W. A. Simpson, near here was the first to put a bale of 1910 cotton crop on this market. He brought over two bales Wednesday to Mr. W. M. Speer at 12 1/2 cents per pound.

Mrs. John Baker of Anderson, came down Monday and is at the home of her kinsman, Mrs. T. Baker, Mr. John Baker of the same place came Friday and is at the same home.

Miss Mary Wilson of Grain Ridge, just ended a visit of some days at the home of her brother, Dr. J. D. Wilson.

Miss Lillie Fennell has been for a week with her brother, Dr. J. F. Fennell and family of Waterloo.

Monday "Labor Day" was very quiet. The rural carriers rested.

Rev. R. W. Humphries has carried on a meeting in this place since last night was a week ago with two preaching services a day at 11 a. m. and 8:30 p. m. Rev. J. P. Dendy of the Baptist Church assisted. There were several accessions to the church and no doubt much good has been done. Some stirring, earnest sermons by both the pastors were preached and their effects will be felt.

Richard Pashal's (colored) mother who was 95 years of age died last week. She was probably the oldest person in this section.

Some very heavy rains near here last Friday and Friday night. Big hail in places.

A late issue of the Press and Banner mentioned the name of Due West, as being a good farmer, and especially corn raiser. Such reports are very gratifying to all who have the welfare and prosperity of the country at heart and such should be given to the public. This is the case with the farmer, who although on a small scale, has proven himself to be a corn raiser, and by the way his name is Nance too. It seems to "run in the family." Mr. Enoch Nance, three miles out, planted one acre near his home with an improved variety of corn. He has just gathered the fodder from it, between six and seven hundred bundles, which at a fair valuation, lacks a little of paying all expenses of preparation, fertilizing and working and gathering, and good judges say that he will get 65 or 70 bushels of corn, clear profit from the one acre. With a plenty of corn or hominy, there will be a plenty of hog too, and with a plenty of hog and hominy the Nance family will be well supplied. GRAND JURY PRESENTMENT.

State of South Carolina,
County of Abbeville.
Court of General Sessions.

To his Honor J. S. Wil on, Presiding Judge:
We, the Grand Jury for Abbeville County, at this, the September Court of General Sessions for the year 1910, beg to make the following presentment:

We have disposed of all bills of indictment handed us by the Solicitor as in our judgment was right and proper.

Having at the June Term of Court made a pretty thorough examination of the several county offices we did not consider it necessary to make any further examination of them at this time.

A committee of our number visited the Poor House and County Jail and reported everything in a satisfactory condition, except as to the jail, where they found a lot of the panes out of the windows. We recommend that these be replaced before cold weather sets in.

We have to present Magistrate W. B. Bowie for malfeasance in office.

It seems that one John Harris was arrested by virtue of a warrant issued by Bowie charging Harris with obtaining goods under false representation—to this charge he pleaded guilty, and was fined by the Magistrate eleven dollars. Instead of turning over this fine to the County Treasurer as the law directs, he paid $6.73 to the prosecutor and retained the balance. We give the names of W. E. Leelle, R. E. Cox and J. F. Bradley, County Treasurer, as witnesses in this case.

It has been called to our attention that one Frith, a white man, has under so-called indenture proceedings, turned over to the care and custody of a negro man his little daughter, aged about two years, who is now living with this negro. We give the name of J. R. Tarrant as the person who reported this case to us.

In conclusion, we desire to express our thanks to your Honor, the Solicitor and other officers of the Court for the forbearance and uniform kindness shown us during our term of service.

Respectfully submitted,
J. H. Bell, Foreman.
