

Forces of Allies On The Offensive

Germans Score Decidedly in East But Loose Ground in the West

London, Dec. 7.—After a long battle fought with the greatest stubbornness, the Germans have succeeded in occupying Lodz, Poland, an unfortified city. According to the Berlin report, the Russians suffered severe losses and are in retreat.

This success of the German, largely because of what preceded it, is considered by military experts a really remarkable achievement. Less than a fortnight ago the army to which this victory has fallen was surrounded by Russians and cut its way out only at the last moment, losing great numbers of men and many guns. Yet it was able within a few days to take the offensive and defeat the Russians defending Lodz.

This was made possible by the network of strategic railways on the German side of the frontier, over which reinforcements can be sent where they are most needed. The Russians, on the contrary, were unable to send fresh men to stiffen their centre to meet the German wedge and were compelled to fall back.

There will be undoubtedly much more fighting before the campaign in this district is concluded. Lodz was won only after hand-to-hand fighting in the suburbs of the city and the whole Russian line, from north to south, is now straightened out and will contest every foot of ground with the invaders.

In the meantime, taking advantage of the preoccupation of the Germans in the east, the allied French, Belgian and British forces have begun an offensive movement in the west. They are now virtually in possession of the left bank of the Yser canal, and in northern France, particularly in the neighborhood of La Bassée, where the Germans hold a very strong position, the allies are beginning with a heavy cannonade to feel their way eastward.

The advance, slight as it is the northwest, has ended for the present at least, in the opinion of many, the German menace of the coast ports. It is believed that so long as the Germans are compelled to keep up the strength of their army in the east, they will be unable to assume the offensive in the west. There is a report, however, that the Germans have kept the pick of their western army in the Aisne valley, whence, at an opportune moment they can be hurled against the French lines and make another effort to get through to Paris.

ANTI-VICE COMMITTEE REPORT.

Madison, Dec. 6.—Anti-Vice committee which the Wisconsin legislature ordered to investigate social conditions, submitted a report today showing the result of 15 most exhaustive studies. The report says the greatest cause of commercialized vice is the use of intoxicating liquors. The contributory causes are: Public dance halls and road house, poorly lighted parks, lack of parents responsibility, lack of proper amusement, recreation facilities and riding in automobiles. The committee found the wage question had no material relation to girls downfall. Many recommendations were made in the report one being that the age of consent be raised from 14 to 18 years. It urged the enactment of a law similar to the Mann White Slave measure, applicable between cities, towns and villages of this state.

Mrs. Weinraub Injured.

Calhoun Falls, Dec. 7th.
Last Saturday morning about ten o'clock Mrs. Sarah Weinraub was thrown out of a buggy near her home and was badly cut about the face and head, and besides receiving a sprained back, she suffered severe bruises about her arms and body. After having her wounds dressed by Dr. Tate, she was resting well this morning.

Careless Disregard for Life.

The careless disregard of life in former days is illustrated in a grisly story to which Lamb added a characteristic touch. A naval officer, in describing an action in which he had played his part, mentioned how two sailors were carrying a shipmate below who had both legs shot off, when another shot came along and took off his arms, whereat the sailors at once threw him out of a port, though he was still alive. "Shame, and a shame," interrupted Lamb. "He might have lived to have been an ornament to society."—London Daily Chronicle.

AID FOR FATHERLESS FROM THE THEATRES

Mr. Cheatham Suggests A Benefit Performance For the Orphans Of the State.

Mr. Editor:

If there is any one form of charity that appeals to every normal human heart, it is the care of orphan children. In South Carolina there are a number of first class orphanages, operated by the several denominations. The Episcopalians have one at Yorkville, the Baptists one at Greenwood, the Methodists one at Columbia and the Presbyterians one at Clinton. The financial stringency produced by the European war has caused a marked decrease in the receipts of all these institutions. The superintendents are crying out for help. The little fatherless children need bread.

All over the country efforts are being made to raise food supplies for the suffering people of Belgium. Such efforts are commendable. The cause is worthy of them, but, shall we allow the fatherless of our own State to suffer hunger while we ship food across the sea?

I am in the moving picture business and I am moved to suggest to my fellow managers that we give some practical help to the orphans of our State.

I suggest that every moving picture theatre in the State give one performance for the benefit of the denominational orphanages, between now and Christmas. Let the managers agree that all receipts above actual expenses be given to the orphanages. Let each church appoint one man and these together take charge of the box office and see that proper equal division of the proceeds be made. Let the price of admission be whatever sum the visitor cares to pay, never less than a regular price. And the hearts of many hundreds of little homeless children will be made happy during these days of stress and suffering.

I suggest that in towns where there are more than one moving picture theatre a different day be selected by each theatre.

Pastors of churches will mention the benefit performances; newspapers (always ready to help a good cause) will advertise it, and the movement may be made a worthy effort to feed the little ones who are crying for bread.

LOWNDESVILLE

Lowndesville, Dec. 5th, 1914.

Mrs. R. E. Moseley and her children, of Anderson, came down the latter part of last week and were with relatives till next day.

Prof. J. B. Kay, in charge of a fine school at _____, came up Thanksgiving Day and spent a day or two with his home. Miss Lella Moseley, who is employed in one of the city schools of Anderson, came down last week and was here for a day or two.

Mr. John S. Wall, of somewhere, who sent here and had circulated some notices that he would be here at Mr. E. J. Huckabee's livery stable as headquarters for last Saturday, prepared to buy and pay cash for the horses and mules that were brought to him, was on hand, and several of the above stock were shown him, but no trade was made.

Mr. Robert Smith, who had been in Messrs. Cooley & Speer's employ for some time, having made somewhat more satisfactory business arrangements with a firm in Greenville, went up and began work last week.

Mrs. Jas. A. Clotfelter and her little daughter, wife and child of the pastor-elect for this charge, came in Monday and the family are pleasantly housed in the Lomax old home on Bell street.

Mrs. T. D. Brownlee, of Anderson, came down this week and spent a day or two with the family of Mr. R. H. Moseley.

Rev. J. C. Chandler, by the last S. C. Conference, was returned to this work for another year. We are all well pleased, as both the brother and his wife are highly esteemed by all of our people.

"Christmas" is on the way. If not its stately, then its wabbly, 'steppings are to be seen occasionally. This is bad.

Mr. Bingley Speer is much travelled; came a day or two ago and will remain for a short time at his old home among kindred and friends.

An almost continuous east wind and rain day and night for eight days, have with the hauling that has been done, put the roads in worst condition that they have been in for years.

Business is dull, and so is news. Nothing doing. Troupe.

Don't forget "The Million Dollar Mystery" Thursday night. Every picture gets more interesting.

"The Million Dollar Mystery" every Thursday night at the Opera House and on Tuesday night "The Perils of Pauline." Don't miss these pictures for they are the best yet.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Latimer arrived in the city on Saturday to be the guests of Mrs. Ella Latimer and Miss Latimer for the week.

The Tuesday morning Bridge club met with Mrs. Frank B. Gary on yesterday morning.

It is with regret that the news comes to us that Dr. and Mrs. D. G. Mahon will leave Abbeville in a few days and will make their home for the future in California. Dr. Mahon has an uncle there and we hope that Dr. and Mrs. Mahon will soon feel at home in the West.

Mr. Cheatham had some of the finest pictures at the Movies last week that has ever been shown. Some visitors from the country say they have never seen better. They say when they want amusement they come to the movies. From now on until Xmas specially fine pictures will be on.

Come and enjoy an evening of first class pictures.

Mr. Willie Lyon, of Anderson, spent Sunday with parents, Sheriff and Mrs. C. J. Lyon.

Judge E. B. Gary spent the week-end with his family in the city.

Miss Duncan, who was the very attractive guest of Mrs. F. B. Gary last week returned to her home on Sunday. Miss Duncan was charming and was very popular while in the city. She was shown a great deal of attention while here.

The friends of Mrs. Jas. S. Cochran are sorry to learn of the illness of her mother and hope she will soon be better.

Mrs. T. G. Patterson left yesterday for her home in Baltimore.

Miss Elizabeth Sharpe has finished her engagement in the city for the winter and has gone home for a few weeks. She will return in February to her engagements for the spring.

Don't fail to see the big feature pictures at the Opera House Friday and Saturday. Manager Cheatham has a special matinee on Saturday, beginning at 2:30 for the benefit of those coming in from the country.

MILLIONS FOR RELIEF

New York, Dec. 6.—The Rockefeller foundation already has spent about $1,000,000 for the relief of the starving population of Belgium. The foundation further is "ready to spend millions of dollars if necessary in this direction."

A statement detailing the activities of the foundation, authorized tonight by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., as president of the foundation, said:

"The foundation has thus far dispatched one ship load of food 4,000 tons, to Belgium, which already has been received and distributed; it is now loading a second ship in New York harbor, which will carry 6,500 tons, and has purchased for delivery at Philadelphia for a third ship 280,000 bushels of wheat. These three ship loads represent an expenditure of about $1,000,000. It has also sent a commission to Europe to advise as to how and where further relief to non-combatants may be most effectively provided, and is ready to spend millions of dollars if necessary in this direction."

"The foundation also has just contributed $45,000 to assist in the relief of the poor of New York city, realizing that the war and the industrial depression have created great want at home" and "acting upon requests from various local charitable organizations."

Sovereignty.
The truth is this: All sovereignty is in God, in the moral law, in the providential design which governs the world—and which is gradually revealed by the inspiration of men of virtuous genius, and by the natural tendency of humanity in the different epochs of its existence—in the purpose which we have to attain, and the mission which we have to fulfill. There is no sovereignty in the individual, there is none in society except in so far as the one and the other conform to that design, to that law, and direct themselves toward the attainment of that purpose. An individual who rules is either the best interpreter of the moral law and governs in its name or a usurper to be overthrown.—Mazzini.

To Lovers of Nature.

It is better for all nature-lovers to protect everything possible in either plant or animal life. We have laws protecting both, and one is now proposed, whereby the wild pigeon and our 15 species of wild ducks are to be protected by preventing their sale on the markets. This will not at all interfere with the true sportsman, but merely put a veto on the commercial hunter. The ducks are great devourers of snail, slug, and worms, and pigeons snail largely on seeds of weeds.—Los Angeles Times.

COMMITTEES APPOINTED FOR COTTON LOAN SCHEME

Last Important Step Taken Preliminary to Active Operation of $185,000,000.

Washington, Dec. 4.—The last important step preliminary to the active operation of the $185,000,000 cotton loan fund was taken today by the cotton loan committee when it completed the State committees in 11 of the Southern States. These committees will select local committees at once in every cotton producing community. The cotton loan committees also announced tonight that a meeting of the chairmen of the State committees would be held here December 15 to discuss details of the loan plan. The committee for Florida was not given in tonight's statement and it was said a committee may later be named for Missouri.

Although the plans for putting the fund into the hands of cotton producers have gone steadily forward, it was indicated tonight that possibly a large part of the $100,000,000 contributed by Northern banks might never be used. Officials here realize that some Southern producers are not particularly enthusiastic over the plan in view of the interest to be paid on loans, and of the prices now quoted on cotton on the New York and Liverpool exchange. At the same time it was said the plan is regarded as successful whether a dollar is borrowed under it or not. The very fact that the cotton exchanges have reopened and that cotton is selling for fairly good prices, officials declared, was due to some extent at least to the completion of the loan fund.

The State loan committees are composed of bankers and the following were among those announced tonight:

Alabama—J. H. Barr, chairman, Birmingham; A. M. Baldwin, Montgomery; N. P. Renfro, Opelika; Geo. A. Searchy, Tuscaloosa; H. I. McDeldery, Talladega; E. C. Melvin, Selma.

Georgia—R. F. Maddox, chairman, Frank Hawkins and W. S. Witham, Atlanta; E. W. Stetson, Macon; W. F. McCauley, Savannah; D. C. Ashley, Valdosta; John H. Reynolds, Rome.

South Carolina—R. G. Rhett, chairman, Henry Schachte, and E. H. Pringle, Jr., Charleston; E. W. Robertson, Columbia; C. G. Rowland, Sumter; John M. Kinard, Newberry.

With the President.

"There is nothing the president has in mind," said Representative Underwood, after leaving the White House "with which I am not in accord and I see no reason why the programme he will suggest should not be carried out before adjournment. If there is one thing that every Democratic member of the house—and I believe it applies to the senate as well—has his mind set against, it is extra session next year. I do not believe there will be one."

Discussing the legislative programme, Mr. Underwood declared there would be a vote on the Hobson resolution for submission to the States of a constitutional amendment for national prohibition. This has not been included in projected legislative programme discussed since administration leaders returned to Washington.

To Rush Appropriations.

According to both majority leaders, appropriation bills will be rushed. Conservation legislation, the ship purchase bill and the house Philippine independence bill are first on the programme of general legislation. Senator Kern asserted after his talk with the president, that there would be time after the appropriation bills were passed for legislation to which there was not much opposition.

Speaker Clark was given a rousing ovation by Democrats and Republicans.

Vice President Marshall was greeted cordially and after the invocation permitted senators to hold an informal reception for several minutes before he formally declared the senate in session.

Committees from both houses were sent to the White House to notify the president that congress was in session awaiting his pleasure.

Clark—Bosdell.

Miss Nellie Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Clark, and Mr. C. H. Bosdell were married at the Baptist church Sunday afternoon, December 6th, 1914 at two o'clock, by Rev. Louis J. Bristow, in the presence of a few friends. The only attendants were: Miss May Clark and Mr. Paul Hall.

The bride has many friends in the city who wish for her much happiness. Mr. Bosdell is a young business man of much promise.

The Weakness of Dickens.

In the "I. o. Dickens" it is said that the basal weakness of that wonderful man was that for him there was "no city of the mind built against outward ills for inward consolation and shelter." Here lay the tragedy of his days—that he lived from without inward, not from within outward; lived in the open, glittering and noticed, with the curtains of his soul up. More than most men he was dependent on what others said and did. Applause was the stimulant on which he lived and without which his life lost its interest and joy, making him restless and unhappy. Such a manner of life is precarious, for public favor is fickle and uncertain. Life cannot be carried to the highest ends without a spring of strength hidden from the multitude; a place of retreat; a closet of prayer.—Rev. J. F. Newton, Cedar Rapids Liberal Christian church.

Carbohydrates.

The carbohydrates were so named because they contain much of the substances carbon and hydrogen. Carbon, which forms the most of coal and wood which we burn to heat our houses and run our manufacturing, forms a great part of our bread and vegetables, and after being eaten it is burned up, or oxidized, in our bodies to make the heat which helps us to digest our food, and stimulates our nerves to action, to the giving out of the energy required in daily life. The carbohydrates, or starches and sugars, include all the different kinds of bread and cakes, biscuits and crackers, cereal, and all the different kinds of sugar-containing sweets, preserves and pastries. This class includes, too, most of the fruits, which are made up of starches and sugar mainly, though some of them contain vegetable proteins.
