LOWNDESVILLE

Prof. Wendel Latimer, in charge of a fine school at Shady Dale, Georgia, at the end of his school term came home several days ago, and will spend a part of his vacation at the home of his step-father, Dr. T. O. Kirkpatrick.

Mr. Roscoe Horton, President of the Georgia Military College, came several days ago to enjoy a few days of rest here with his old home people. His friends, Maj. R. Mattox, at work in the above institution, and Mr. Rufus Hill, of Anderson C. H., came with him.

Mrs. Maud Simmons, who has a position in the Georgia Military Academy located near Atlanta, came over several days ago and will remain for quite a while.

Preliminary to the trial that is to engage the attention of the present Abbeville term of the Court, and by odds the most important that has been sent up from this place or section since 1876. The case referred to is the killing some time ago of Mrs. E. K. Scott. Mr. E. W. Harper as car owner, Mr. Alvin Harper driver and manager, Mag. J. G. Huckabee, and Messrs. R. H. Moseley and J. M. Huckabee went to Abbeville Monday to appear before the grand jury as witnesses.

Mr. James Latimer of the Medical College of Charleston is at home for quite a while.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. T. Baskin during the past few days have had a reminder of days not long past. Two or three years ago they had the most of their children with them, then came the separation. One to one place, and another to another, till all were gone—excepting one son—to engage in business or in search of an education. During the past week two, Miss Bessie from the Roper Hospital, Charleston; Miss Louise from the place of assistant, in the High school at Piedmont; Miss Una, a recent graduate at Winthrop; Mr. Tom, in business at Anderson. Two of the boys are in business at such a distance that they could not come, so with these two exceptions their children had a reunion at the old home.

Prof. E. C. Simpson, principal of the High school at Piedmont, came over the last of last week and spent several days with the above family.

Mr. Sloan Benson, of Little River, came over and spent a few days with his uncle by marriage, Mr. B. A. Bell and family.

Dr. C. A. Baskin, of Anderson, was visiting his kinsfolk of his old home near here the first of this week, Mr. John T. Baskin and others.

Mr. Henry Leard Huckabee, 61 years of age, died at Norris, Oconee county, Monday. He was sick only two or three days when the summons came. He was born and reared at the old Huckabee homestead four miles out. He was a good member of the Methodist church for years. He died as he had lived, leaving an unquestionable record behind him. He left a widow and five children, many relatives, and warm, and true and tried friends of all who knew him. His remains were brought to this place Tuesday, and placed in the Smyrna cemetery, a mile out, where he had always expressed a desire to be buried when the end came, Rev. J. C. Chandler and Rev. Jas. A. Clotfelter performing a short burial service at the grave. His widow and four of the children came with the remains, as well as several gentlemen friends who had been with the deceased since he was taken, waiting on him and using every possible means, night and day, carrying out fully the directions of his physician.

But, alas! nothing could be done to save him. He is gone. He was the youngest of the writer's brothers and his favorite. Having known him during a long life and closely associated the most of the time, he well knows where of he speaks. The immediate family and those of the sorrowing dear ones of the deceased are grateful indeed for the many, very many, kind expressions of sympathy and the many kindnesses extended by many in this place for the assistance most cheerfully given us here, in providing necessary conveyances to and from the cemetery. Troupé.

When Animals Sleep. Our Dumb Animals.

Elephants sleep standing up. When in a herd a certain number will always stand watch, while the others sleep, for the big, powerful beasts are timid and cautious at night and will not go to sleep unguarded.

Bats sleep head downward, hanging by their hind claws.

Birds, with few exceptions, sleep with their heads turned tailward over the back and the beak turned be-
