The ceremony was solemnized by Rev. L. E. Poole under a beautiful arch of plum blossoms and evergreens in the parlor of the residence. The ceremony was witnessed by a number of the intimate friends of the bride. She was gowned in a becoming costume of plum silk and Georgette crepe, and carried a beautiful bouquet of Bride roses.

After the ceremony a reception was held, and at 2.30 Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell left for their home in South Carolina, taking the north bound train for Baltimore and Washington, where they will stop en route.—The Messenger, (Snow Hill, Md.)

DISTINGUISHED VISITORS.

Mr. Patrick Calhoun, and his son, Mr. George Calhoun, of San Francisco, Cal., were in the city yesterday on business connected with the Calhoun Falls Company, and other matters. It would appear from developments in the last few days that something is in the air with regard to developing the great water power on Savannah River. An attorney believed to be connected with the Duke has been in Abbeville for several days looking into the records of this county with regard to lands in that section. And it is known that Mr. Calhoun has been in this section for several weeks on some important business.

Mr. Calhoun is a financier of national reputation. What he undertakes to do, is generally done. If he should put his hand to the plow in this matter the field would be plowed, and it would mean a large measure of prosperity for the people of this county, and especially for those people who own lands in the western section of the county. They would come into their own in a few years.

The friends of Mr. Calhoun in the city, and his many kindred were glad to see him here again enjoying good health and in the full vigor of his usefulness.

CANDIDATES AND THE NEWSPAPERS.

Greenville News.—

When Andrew H. Miller of Greer ran for Congress last summer, the comment was made that he had probably bought and paid for more newspaper advertising space for his campaign than any congressional candidate in South Carolina annals. He used the advertising columns of practically every unit of the press in this district. In this he demonstrated that he is a business man who understands that publicity is a thing which is worth paying for and which should be paid for. He set the pace that successful candidates must follow in the future. His vote in many sections where he was not well-known and where he was little seen is eloquent of the political value of paid publicity.

The day has gone when a candidate could, for the asking, get complimentary write-ups of himself in newspapers. Now he has to pay for it because the newspapers are awake to the fact that there is no difference between publicity. The newspaper has space to sell the candidate for legitimate advertising and he must buy it as he purchase goods from a merchant. The old practice of throwing in a quarter of a column of complimentary notice to the candidate who inserted a card is also vanishing. As far as possible whatever appears in a newspaper in the interest of any candidate should be paid publicity. There is no news in the reiterated promises of a candidate as to what he will do, if elected; there is no news in a speech twice delivered.

There is no more reason why a candidate should get free publicity on which to travel into office than there is why an automobilist should get free gasoline to travel home on. Political publicity is no more than the advertisement of a person that he is on the market, so to speak, for the people's favor. He is a private citizen who puts in a want ad. for public office. No public end is served when a candidate gets free publicity—he simply gets something for nothing. A candidate is an advertiser and an advertiser is a candidate for public favor.

CALOMEL SALIVATES AND MAKES YOU SICK

Acts Like Dynamite on a Sluggish Liver and You Lose a Day's Work.

There's no reason why a person should take sickening, salivating calomel when 50 cents buys a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone—a perfect substitute for calomel.

It is a pleasant, vegetable liquid which will start your liver just as surely as calomel, but it doesn't make you sick and can not salivate. Children and grown folks can take Dodson's Liver Tone, because it is perfectly harmless.

Calomel is a dangerous drug. It is mercury and attacks your bones. Take a dose of nasty calomel today and you will feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone instead and you will wake up feeling great. No more biliousness, constipation, sluggishness, headache, coated tongue or sour stomach. Your druggist says if you don't find Dodson's Liver Tone acts better than horrible calomel your money is waiting for you.—Adv.

CORNER STONE OF GREENVILLE COURT HOUSE REMOVED

The contents of the corner stone of the old court house in Greenville, which is being torn away to make room for the new structure, were removed last Saturday. The contents were all in a decayed condition with the exception of one newspaper, the Southern Patriot, edited by B. F. Perry, later governor of South Carolina. The paper is dated Sept. 14, 1854, and contains the following poem, "Parody on Hohenlinder," which leads us to believe that the newspaper business has not changed much in one respect:

In seasons when our funds are low, Subscribers are provokingly slow, And new supplies keep up the flow Of dimes, departing rapidly.

But we shall see a sadder sight, When duns pour in from morn till night, Commanding every fourpence bright, To be looked over speedily.

Our bonds and due-bills are arrayed— Each seal and signature displayed— The holders vow they must be paid, With threats of 'Law and Chancery.'

Then to despair we're almost driven, There's precious little use in livin', When our last copper's rudely riven From hands that held it lovingly.

But larger yet these dues shall grow, When interest's added on below, Lengthening our chin a foot or so, While gazing at them helplessly.

'Tis so, that scarce have we begun To plead for time upon a dun, Before there comes some other one, Demanding fee ferociously.

The prospect darkens. On, ye brave, Who would our very bacon save! Waive, Patrons! All your pretexts waive! And pay the printer cheerfully.

Ah! It would yield us pleasure sweet, A few delinquents now to meet, Asking of us a clear receipt. For papers taken reg'larly.
