

BISHOPVILLE MAN CALLS A MEETING OF REFORM PARTY

W. A. James Issues Call For Convention on October 18.

Suggests That Each Democratic Club in the State Send One "True and Tried" Reform Delegate to the Convention.

Columbia, Sept. 27.—A convention of the minority faction in South Carolina has been called to meet in Columbia on October 18th according to a call issued here today under the signature of W. A. James of Bishopville a strong Bleasite man and former member of the general assembly. The call follows:

"I hereby call for a convention of the reform faction of the democratic party, to be held on Tuesday, October 18th, in Columbia."

During the campaign just passed, appeals were made to save civilization, as was done in 1876, when negro domination was the issue. Men have been heard to justify questionable methods at the ballot box upon the same grounds as when dealing with negroes in 1876 and now it is up to us, and is our duty, to hold a great convention and demonstrate that we are as good white men as are those who contemptuously stigmatize the bone and sinew of this state as "Bleasites" and for the further purpose of increasing our faith in and consecrating our efforts to the continuance of the struggle for the principles upon which we stand.

"I suggest that each democratic club send one true and tried reformer as delegate to this convention.

"All newspapers who have any of the kind of people as subscribers, please publish one time."

JOHN ROBINSON'S TEN BIG SHOWS TO BE IN GREENWOOD

C. W. Tinney, the mail carrier with John Robinson's Ten Big Shows, which will give afternoon and evening performances in Greenwood, on Saturday, October 7th, is a very important personage—at least, in the eyes of the army of show folk whose mail goes through his hands. Also, excepting the managers and ticket sellers and takers, he is perhaps the busiest man with the show, for he looks after practically all of the postal wants (receiving and sending letters, parcels, registered mail, post office money orders, etc.) for no fewer than five hundred men and women. Quite a family, isn't it? You probably would not care for such a position. But it doesn't bother the circus mail carrier. He attends to this work, in conjunction with his other duties, (he is also musical director and has charge of the several bands of the show,) with as much ease as any healthy, able bodied person would experience in walking along a highway. He carries a spacious leather bag just like that of any regular U. S. mail carrier, but he wears no uniform. He has his credentials, and the uniform is not necessary.

In every town and city in which the circus exhibits, he visits the post-office thrice daily—in the morning, at midday, and late in the afternoon. He calls for all mail in care of the circus and subsequently gives the postmaster a list of the executives, agents, performers, musicians, etc., of the show and asks for their mail. Then he sends letters, parcels, papers, gets money orders cashed, sends money orders, etc., etc. Moreover he oftentimes has to send and receive telegrams and express packages for members of his big family. And he does it all very efficiently—if he doesn't, he'd have to step down and make room for someone else; for in all branches of the circus business, efficiency is the first requisite.

The circus mail carrier is, of course, a thoroughly reliable individual and he has to be, for he transacts hundreds of dollars' worth of business in the course of a week.

The circus mail carrier's compensation is liberal, but he earns every penny of it. However, he is not paid until the end of the season. The day on which the show closes, every person with the aggregation gives him a 'piece of money,' as the circus folk say. From each employe of the show he receives a sum which may range anywhere between seventy-five cents and five dollars, the executives, of course, being more liberal than the working men. Where there are five hundred attaches with a circus, the mail carrier can figure that he will receive at least five hundred dollars; never less; sometimes more. So, you see, besides the regular salary which is paid him for his services as musical director, he receives, for his side work, enough money to perceptibly swell his bank account.

Fall Suits for the Youngster

Half of the Battle of Life for the little fellow is won if his Clothes are JUST RIGHT

Not only must the growing boy be clothed in garments constructed with an eye to comfort, health and durability, but his appearance must at all times be considered. He is entitled to correct cut and good style just as much as his older brothers, and if he is well dressed now, he will dress well all of his life.

Our recent trip to the Eastern Markets is responsible for our extraordinary showing of boy's apparel (from head to foot) this Fall. And, as usual, Anderson's prices can not be beat in this section.

Boy's Suits .....	$2.50 to $5.98
Hats and Caps .....	25c. to $1.00

Hurrah! Ringling Day Almost Here

BIG CIRCUS AND GREAT SPECTACLE OCCUPY FIVE TRAINS CRAMMED WITH WONDERS

The big event for which the youngsters and grownups have been impatiently waiting is drawing near, for on Thursday, October 12, Ringling Brothers circus is to exhibit afternoon and night in Anderson.

Expectancy never ran so high before and it is likely that this district will send a large delegation to feed the elephants. Unusual interest centers around the gigantic spectacle, "Cinderella," with which the famous showmen are this season opening their wonderful main tent program. "Cinderella" is probably the best loved of all fairy tales and to see it produced with more than 1000 persons, hundreds of dancing girls and glorious pageants, indeed gives promise of making "childhood's golden dreams come true." In the same great tent, will come the marvelous circus numbers in which 400 men and women performers, scores of trained animals and a galaxy of special features are introduced. The majority of the acts are entirely new to America, the Ringling Bros. having secured the pick of those European performers who have been obliged to seek engagements in this country because of the war. The all-new street parade will take place show day morning.

W. E. SHRADER TALKS.

I have now procured a preparation which I can recommend to all my friends as being a splendid remedy for all forms of stomach and bowel trouble, indigestion, bloating, sick headache, heartburn, etc., and those suffering from being "sick at the stomach."

Natol Pineapple Pepsin Compound is sold on a positive guarantee of satisfaction or money back. It is made from fresh pineapple juice and pure scale pepsin. I ask every man and woman in Abbeville and the surrounding country who has stomach trouble of any kind to call and examine this splendid medicine. The McMurray Drug Co.
