MORSE-WIER.

A wedding that was beautiful in every detail and of interest to a wide circle of friends, was that of Miss Janie Morse, the popular and lovely daughter of Mr. Amos B. Morse, and Mr. Van Noy Wier, of Athens, Ga. The ceremony took place at 9 o'clock on Thursday evening, at the home of the bride on North Main street, and was witnessed by the young friends of the couple and the relatives of the two families. Miss Margaret Burton of Newberry, presided at the piano, playing a Medley of old love songs just before the entrance of the bridal party.

Promptly at the appointed hour little Misses Emily Morse and Sarah Smith, sister and cousin of the bride, in dainty dresses of pink organdy, entered to the strains of Lohengrin's March, holding ribbons through which the others passed. First, Misses Oney and Cara Morse, then Miss Mamie Morse, sisters of the bride, gowned in exquisite dresses of white net and lace and carrying pink Killarney roses. The groom and his best man, Mr. Lythgoe Wier of Athens, entered from the side, the bride entering on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage, meeting at the altar.

During the ring ceremony, which was impressively performed by Rev. H. Waddell Pratt, the bride's pastor, Miss Burton played softly Listz's Dream of Love.

The bride never looked lovelier than she did in her handsome wedding gown of soft satin and duchess lace, the graceful train falling from the shoulders and her veil caught with orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of bride roses showered with valley lilies and she wore the groom's gift, a necklace of pearls.

In the parlor where the ceremony took place, an altar was improvised with ferns for a background and pedestals topped with vases of white carnations made an artistic arch under which the bride and groom stood.

An informal reception followed the ceremony.

In the dining room the decorations were in pink and white. Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Smith welcomed the guests here and cake and ice cream was served during the evening by Misses Mary and Jeanie White, Helen and Grace Milford, Elizabeth Thomson and Janie Vance Bowie. The library was attractive with decorations of bright autumnal flowers. Mr. and Mrs. J. Allen Smith, Jr., received, and in this room the beautiful wedding gifts of silver, cut glass, china and bric-a-brac were displayed. Miss Mary Perrin and Miss Mamie Morse served punch at one end of the spacious veranda and Mr. and Mrs. T. G. White received.

About midnight the bride and groom left to spend their honeymoon in the mountains of North Carolina, making the trip by automobile. On their return they will go at once to Athens to make their future home, the groom being a prosperous business man of that city. It is with sincere regret that the friends of the bride see her leave her old home where, by her sweet personality she has endeared herself to scores of friends.

COMMITTEE PLANS TO HASTEN REPORT

Washington, Aug. 28.—Coupling its public hearings with consideration of proposed amendments to the peace treaty, the Senate foreign relations committee plans an extended session tomorrow to hasten work on its report to the Senate.

After completion of its open meeting during the morning, the committee will close its doors and take up pending amendments.

"It Must Have Been Dead at Least 6 Months But Didn't Smell."

"Saw a big rat in our cellar last Fall." Writes Mrs. Joanny, "and bought a 25c. cake of RAT-SNAP, broke it up into small pieces. Last week while moving we came across the dead rat. Must have been dead six months, didn't smell. RAT-SNAP is wonderful." Three sizes, 25c, 50c, $1.00. Sold and guaranteed by The Rosenberg Mercantile Co., P. B. Speed.—Adv.

Mrs. W. E. Owen and children went down to Mr. Owen's brickyard at Angus, near Greenwood, last Friday and spent the day very pleasantly. They were accompanied by Miss Sophie Reames and Ellis Mabry.

Rather late to plant Rutabagas, but it is just the right time to plant your Turnip patch. We have a good supply of all the favorite varieties of Turnip seed which we bought right and will sell right.
