MISS MARIE MORRISEY NOT ALWAYS A SINGER SHE SAYS

Miss Marie Morrisey, whose concert on Thursday, Oct. 30, at the Opera House, promises to be one of the most delightful of the season, insists that her voice was not always received with the same favor as it is today.

It seems that Miss Morrisey has always been determined to sing. And when she was a little girl, she used to life up her voice and carol loudly for the edification of herself and all the neighbors.

One day, the policeman on the beat passed Miss Morrisey's house, and hearing strange sounds issuing forth, he finally concluded to investigate.

He was a good policeman, was Pat, and he took an interest in all the affairs of the street. So he presented himself before Miss Morrisey's mother.

"Madame," he said, "is that your child?" Miss Morrisey ceased her singing long enough to hear her mother admit the relationship.

"Well, Madam," said Pat, "what in the world is the matter with her to make her cry all the time?"

Don't let the week pass without giving a party.

Are You In Society This Week

Are you going to a Party? And then giving the return Party according to the rule? Or have you broken the chain? Don't break the chain and go into the scheme for the fun in it and help raise the largest amount of money ever raised by one entertainment.

Invite people out of town, invite people who are not usually invited out. Invite old people, children, young people, and on Thursday and Friday if it is your time to have a party, invite men in large numbers.

THE MONEY RAISED BY THIS SCHEME IS FOR THE HOSPITAL.
