LOWNDESVILLE

News has reached here of the death of three noble women, who were well known to many people of this town.

Mrs. Martin, wife of Dr. Jas. L. Martin of Abbeville, died suddenly at her home on last Saturday morning. She had visited here many times during the years her husband filled the pulpit of the Presbyterian church at this place. The deceased was a sweet, gentle christian of brilliant intellect and forceful character. She is survived by her aged husband, one daughter and many friends who extend deepest sympathy to the bereaved ones in their great sorrow.

Mrs. Rossie Crowther Knox died at her home in Antreville last Monday. She was a devoted member of the Presbyterian church, a loyal friend and a sincere christian. By a former marriage she leaves one son, Jesse B. Harkness, her only child. The funeral services were held at Little Mountain church, conducted by her pastor, Rev. H. C. Fennell. The many friends mourn with the son in the death of his devoted mother.

Mrs. Onie Clinkscales Rogers died at her home near Antreville last Tuesday after a long illness. She was the only child of the late Wm. Clinkscales and Louise Baker Clinkscales. She married J. Frank Rogers, who died many years ago, leaving to her care six small children, whom she reared in tender love, educated and sent forth into life as noble men and women. The deceased was a faithful member of the Methodist church and was loved greatly for her generous nature, her neighborly spirit and her true, christian character. Funeral services were conducted at Shiloh by her pastor, Rev. Mr. Duckworth. She is survived by four daughters, two sons and many friends who mourn her loss.

These three godly women had long since passed the meridian of life. Mrs. Martin having lived more than four score years, each of the other two was over three score years of age. With all the trials and disappointments incident to long lives, their feet trod only the path of righteousness and they leave to their children the heritage of a consecrated motherhood. It is sad to realize that mother's feeble body reposes in a flower-covered mound in the city of the dead, yet it is sweet to believe that her purified spirit rests in that city not made with hands whose Maker and Builder is God.

Rev. and Mrs. Clotfelter and their daughter, Miss Doris, of Townville spent several days with friends here this week. They have many friends here who are always gladdened over their visits to their old home.

Mr. DeWitte Harper of Greenwood spent the week-end with his home folks at Riverside Farm. He was accompanied by Miss Nancy Harper who visited her cousin, Miss Bessie Harper.

Friends of Dr. Jas. B. Moseley will regret to learn of his illness for the past week. Dr. Moseley is a Confederate soldier, who still suffers from a wound received in battle, but only illness or absence from home detains him from his place in the Sunday school.

Mr. S. H. Ballenger of Greenville has been the recent guest of his parents, Rev. and Mrs. Ballenger.

Mrs. W. T. Cunningham is spending this week in Anderson with Messames Thos. and St. Claire Baskin and her grandson, Gordon Jr.

Rev. and Mrs. H. G. White were business visitors in Anderson this week.

Miss Veva Bonds has closed her school at Diamond Spring after a most successful session. Miss Bonds is an old student of the Due West Woman's College and is meeting with much success as a teacher.

Mr. Jas. Sherard of Calhoun Falls worshipped at the Methodist church last Sunday. He has many friends here who are always glad to see him.

Ray and Ralph Clinkscales of Elberton were visitors in town this week.

Mr. and Mrs. M. P. McCalla and their two fine sons have returned from Greenwood. Mrs. McCalla went to see her mother, Mrs. Minnie Harper Nickles, who has returned from an August hospital, and is conalescing rapidly.

Prof. Laird has returned to his school duties and reports his mother as doing nicely after a serious operation.

Friends of Mrs. J. Moseley Hucklebee will be sorry to know that she is not responding to medical treatment and is quite indisposed at present. Her little grandson, John Lindsay Harper, who stays with her most of the time, has been quite ill at the home of his grandparents for the past week.

Mrs. S. H. Ballenger and children of Greenville are visiting Rev. and Mrs. Ballenger.

Miss Nettie Kennedy of Price's Mill has been the pleasant guest of Mrs. D. K. Cooley.

Mr. A. G. Baskin of Diamond Spring was a business visitor on the streets Thursday.

Miss Pauline Ballenger spent the week-end at Starr with Miss Louise Chapman.

Dr. Jas. Latimer of Anderson has been called to the bedside of his mother, Mrs. Dr. Kirkpatrick who has been quite sick for the past week but is better at this writing.

Miss Mattie Lee Harper has been the recent visitor of Mrs. Eugene Clinkscales of River Crest farm.

Mrs. Jno. McCalla has returned from a visit to her parents at Gaffney.

LIVESTOCK MEN TO MEET AT CLEMSON

Annual Gathering of South Carolina Livestock Association To Be April 6 and 7

Clemson College, March 29.—The South Carolina Livestock Association will hold its annual meetings at Clemson College on Thursday and Friday, April 6 and 7, according to announcement of W. J. Sheely, Extension Animal Husbandman who is secretary-treasurer of the association. The detailed program has not yet been announced, but it will cover various phases of livestock work in South Carolina under present conditions. There will be discussions concerning the profitable feeding and marketing of beef cattle and of hogs, as well as much special subjects as the problem of soft pork and other feeding questions. Several noted livestock specialists will be on the program for addresses.

One of the special features of the meeting will be a study and discussion of the results of the winter feeding experiments with beef cattle which have been conducted at Clemson College during the winter. Methods and rations used in this experiment will be discussed, and buyers from eastern stockyards will place values upon the finished steers, thus furnishing a practical demonstration of grading cattle for market.

Clemson College is glad to entertain the livestock men at the annual meeting this year, and it is hoped that a specially large number will take advantage of the opportunity to pay the state's agricultural college a visit. Besides the work which the college is doing in animal husbandry dairying, and other lines of agriculture, there are various things of interest here which the members, many of whom have never been to Clemson, would find instructive.

Secretary Sheely announces that the program will be ready within a few days.

SUING HENRY FORD FOR ELEVEN MILLION

Miami, Fla., March 30.—Damages in the sum of $11,000,000 are sought of Henry Ford by Edward S. Huff, Miami electrical engineer, in a suit initiated here today. Huff claims that he originated the magneto now in use on motor cars manufactured by Ford and claims that Ford has not paid him in full for the invention.

Counsel for Huff this afternoon received word from Fort Myers, this state, that service in the suit had been secured there on Mr. Ford at his winter home.

Huff claims to hold the patents on the magneto used on all motor equipment manufactured by the Ford Motor company of Detroit and asserts that he had been paid only $10,000 in royalties on his patent. When the last royalty payment was made there was attached a voucher stating that the check was payment in full for the royalty. Huff said that attorneys advised him that his cashing of the check would not jeopardize his interest in the magneto patent.

According to Huff's counsel, Huff was employed in the Ford plant in 1908 as an electrician and it is asserted that Ford told him in the presence of Dr. W. E. Sanborn, of Detroit, that he wished Huff to invent a magneto which could work on a fly wheel, adding that such an invention would make Huff a rich man.

Huff thereupon left Ford's employ, went to work on the invention and finally perfected the magneto now in use. He said he assigned his patent to Ford on an agreement that he was to receive fifty cents royalty on each of the first 20,000 machines manufactured. Royalty was paid for the first 20,000 but these payments then ceased and Huff now claims royalty on the magnetos placed on the thousands of cars since. The royalties estimates at $11,000,000 or more.

INHERITS $100,000 NECKLACE

Oakland, Cal., March 28.—James C. Blum, Jr., by becoming the father of a girl has won the right to inherit two necklaces, one of diamonds and the other of pearls valued together $100,000. His mother, Mrs. Rosa Blum, bequeathed them to be his when his wife gave birth to a daughter.

Blum, who already had come in possession of the rest of his mother's $300,000 estate, brought suit last year to get the necklaces because his wife had borne a son. He contended that that was sufficiently close to fulfilling the terms of the will but the court thought otherwise and dismissed the case. The will provided he should be given half the estate at 35 years of age and the rest except the necklaces when he was 40.
