

The Beaufort Republican,

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1871.

We have received the following letter from Chicago acknowledging receipt of draft forwarded by us.

CHICAGO RELIEF AND AID SOCIETY, CHICAGO, NOV 16th, 1871.

Dear Sir: I have the honor gratefully to acknowledge the receipt of your esteemed favor of the 9th inst., enclosing draft on New York for $50.00, the kind contribution of your citizens in aid of the sufferers by the disastrous fire in our city.

Allow me, in the name of the thousands of destitute and homeless ones in our midst, to convey through you, my most sincere thanks, to each and every participant in this generous action, for this most acceptable and timely relief, and accept for yourself the assurance of my heartfelt appreciation of the sentiment of sympathy embodied in your letter, and believe me

A Black man's Plea for his Race Against the Ring.

[From the Missionary Record—Colored Organ.]

The important developments in the affairs of this State within the last few months prove conclusively that there is something wrong. The undeniable facts that the Legislature has made appropriations to meet the current expenditures, and that the taxes have been promptly paid by the people, and that yet there is a want of funds to meet the legitimate expenses of the State, shows a record which is not enviable. No man of honesty can afford to shut his eyes to the glaring misapplication of the funds of this State, as shown in the inability to meet the current expenses. No State can hope to succeed and retain credit while its finances are so manipulated as to fail to pay its employees; in every department there is complaint that there is no money in the treasuries, either in State or county; in every one the employees complain that their salaries are not paid; the jails are crowded with criminals, while the sheriffs are complaining that they cannot meet the current expenses, because of the want of money in the counties to pay them. Yet the people have responded well to the taxes demanded, and have paid up. The State treasurer does not give the county treasuries any chance to speculate on State moneys collected, but demands and receives it, so that in this department the moneys are not squandered. In Charleston the auditor has certified the collection of two hundred thousand dollars paid over to the State this year. Other counties have done proportionately well, and yet there is no money to pay the State debts. It may be answered that the interest falling due on bonds issued has consumed this, to which we answer that the Legislature made appropriations to meet the interest, which, if it had been properly applied, would have met all the obligations of the interest.

We should be the last to question the integrity of the State officials, but frankness and a sense of duty demand that we say the truth. We by race are identified with the great body of voters in this State who have elevated the present State officials to their present places of power. We voted and worked for them; we believed that we were doing a noble work for good honest government when we hoisted at the head of our paper the names of men who now control the destinies of this State, and we regret to say, have so badly managed its affairs, that we are heartily ashamed of the work which we helped to do. We know that the colored men of this State will have to bear the odium of all the crimes or misdeeds of the whites who manipulate the finances of the State, and we do not desire that the innocent voters who know no more about this wholesale government than so many children, should be held up to the country as willing participants in these evils. This government of South Carolina is in the hands of white men, placed there by colored men's votes, and they control every thing in this State. If there is stealing being done, they do it; if there is robbery of the State of its millions it is not the negro who does these things. If there have been over issues of bonds for any purpose we tell the country that no negro has had any hand in this matter. The Legislature passed laws authorizing the issuing of certain amounts of bonds to meet the liabilities of the State. If there are over issues, the State officers, who control this matter, have done the wrong to the country and the people of this State.

The colored population are as poor to day as ever they were, so far as the State bonds has anything to do with their augmented wealth. These facts suggest to the people a "New Departure" here. With the credit of the State gone, with the treasury empty, with the reported frauds in the issue of bonds, with the reputation of the class of men who now guide affairs, is it not the duty of the people to rise up in their might and cast off the present incubus, and select another class of men to guide the State? There must be a change, there must be a uniting of all honest men of every class and race in this State for the maintenance of honest government. These public servants, proving false to trust, must be put out of power, and honest men put in their places. There are honest men in both parties who can agree to put down the wholesale robbery of the people, and it is plainly their duty to unite for the great object.

THE STATE CAPITAL.

[From Charleston Daily News.]

COLUMBIA, November 21.

It is understood that Governor Scott, in his forthcoming message, will endeavor to show that the debt of the State does not exceed thirteen million dollars. It is also understood that the State debt has been increased several million dollars as one effect of the exposure of the alleged bond frauds, owing to New York loans being called in under the financial pressure.

The negro rioters who were arrested at Singleton's Station, on the Wilmington and Augusta Railroad, at the time of the shooting of Isaac Casey, are to be brought tomorrow before two colored trial justices on writs of habeas corpus.

Daniel Black, another of the alleged Ku-Klux prisoners from Union County, was today examined before the United States Commissioners Boozer and committed for trial.

The annual report of the State officials are beginning to be received. The superintendent of the Lunatic Asylum reports to the Governor that that institution needs an appropriation of eighty thousand dollars to pay its debts and meet the current expenses of the ensuing year, and recommends the completion of the new building and the use of the old one for idiotic patients. This would cost at least $160,000, but the State lunatics are being daily turned away for want of room.

The hall of the Nickerson Hotel is being prepared for the approaching term of the United States Circuit Court and trial of the Ku-Klux prisoners. An exciting session is expected.

A severe storm is raging in Columbia tonight. PICKET.

THE COLUMBIA CABAL.

COLUMBIA, November 19.

The Blue Ridge stockholders, at their meeting last night, after electing a new board of directors, adjourned until next Friday evening. In the meantime important plans of consolidation will be developed, which will materially affect the selection of a new president in the place of Harrison, who declines a re-election.

It has leaked out that Mr. Worthington is not employed to prosecute the Ku-Klux trials by the United States Government, and it is reported that the State fees him heavily—to the extent of three or four thousand dollars.

State Financial Agent Kimpton and Judge Porter, of New York, are here. It is stated that the main purpose of their visit is to consummate the transfer of the Greenville and Columbia Railroad to the South Carolina Railroad Company, which was negotiated in New York a few days ago. The wisecracks, however, seem to attach much importance to Kimpton's visit to Columbia at this time, and it is rumored that an important mandamus is on the tapis. A Moses-Scott-Bowen clique is said to have been formed, one object of which is to force the resignation of State Treasurer Parker, but the movements of the cabal are exceedingly wary.

More Ku-Klux arrests are reported in Union and Chester counties. PICKET.

JOTTINGS ABOUT THE STATE.

Aiken is rapidly filling up with Northern tourists and invalids.

Our State exchanges nearly all allude to the appearance of black frost.

A tournament and fancy costume ball will take place at Anderson on Thursday, 30th inst.

Mr. Marshall Sharpe, an estimable citizen of Abbeville County, died last week, after an illness of only a few days.

The Commencement of Reidville Female College will take place Friday, November 24th. Addressed by Rev. W. P. Jacobs of Clinton S. C.

The death of Mr. Robert Pickens, an old respected citizen of Anderson County, is announced.

The Greenville and Columbia Railroad Company will commence to run their trains over the Blue Ridge Railroad to Wallhalla during the present week.

A colored laborer named Edward Darkin, employed by Messrs. Joyner, on the Wilmington, Columbia and Augusta Railroad, lost his life yesterday, by the caving in of the embankment.

The Columbia Phoenix, alluding to the statement from the New York World that a South Carolina national bank had failed, as the result of the decline of the State bonds, says, "So far as Columbia is concerned, and as respects all of its banks, we are assured that the rumor is unfounded."

A negro woman, named Tamer Clark, was shot and instantly killed by Mr. Henry L. Hunter, of Liberty Hill, Kershaw County, one dark night last week, while deprecating upon his premises. She had fled and refused to stop when hailed. Mr. Hunter at once went to Camden and delivered himself up to the sheriff.

A diffulty occurred on Tuesday last, in the piazza of the Benson House, at Anderson Courthouse, between Benj. Culbertson, white, and Jesse Williams, colored, which resulted in the latter receiving a pistol shot in the left arm. The wound proved to be very slight, and, on examination, a jury decided the shooting to have been justifiable.

The Union Times, alluding to the new officers for that county just appointed by Governor Scott, says: "All of whom will make good officers, and do their duties fearlessly, faithfully and honestly. We hope the commissioners will go to work at once and get the county out of the vexatious tangle it is now in. It will be our pleasure to aid and cheer them. In these appointments, the Governor has evidently succeeded in pleasing the people, and he cannot be complained of by his party."

How Tweed Became a Referee Lawyer.

[From the N. Y. Tribune, Nov. 14.]

"George," said Mr. William M. Tweed, several years ago, when first attempting to recover from financial bankruptcy through political intrigue. "George," addressing the Hon. George G. Barnard, then as now Judge of the Supreme Court, "I hear these referee cases are very profitable, and I'd like to have a chance in 'em."

"You can't Tweed," was the answer of the honorable judge; "you ain't a lawyer."

"Well! can't you make me a lawyer?" "Yes, after two or three year study." "But ain't there some quicker method," asked Tweed.

"Oh, yes," said the complacent justice; "certainly there is. Go to Professor—; tell him you are friend of mine, and he'll give you a diploma in the shortest way possible."

Accordingly Mr. Tweed repaired to the Professor, when the following conversation is said to have occurred:

Mr. Tweed. Professor, my name is Tweed; I am a friend of Judge Barnard's, and I want to be a lawyer. How long is it going to take?

Professor. Well, about two years.

Mr. Tweed. Two years, Professor! why, George told me you could fix it for me, right away. At the same time opening a well-filled purse.

Professor. You are a friend of George Barnard's, you say?

Mr. Tweed. Yes. Now, couldn't you let me have the diploma at once.

Professor. (smilingly.) Have you ever studied law, Mr. Tweed?

Mr. Tweed. Yes, sir—that is, I have had considerable practice in it for a number of years.

Professor. Well, if you have studied law and are a friend of George Barnard's, I think we can prepare your diploma and send it to you.

And thus Mr. Tweed, with a capacity which must have astonished as much as his liberality delighted the Professor, prepared himself in five minutes for the practice of a profession a knowledge of which the ordinary intellect requires years to attain. But those who are inclined to smile incredulously at Mr. Tweed's assumed knowledge of the law should remember that he has made all the law we have had in this city and county for years.
