

verdict that the child came to his death from sickness and exposure. It does not appear that any vice mingled in this case of utter misery—poverty on one hand and cruelty on the other, are all the causes.

Pennsylvania is now fully represented in the diplomatic corps. She has two Ministers Plenipotentiary—Mr. Dallas, in Russia and Mr. Muhlenberg, for Austria; three Secretaries of Legation—Mr. Chew, Russia; Mr. B. Rush, England; and Mr. Clay, Austria. Mr. Richard Rush holds a semi-official station at London. Mr. Richard Vaux is the private Secretary of Mr. Stevenson. Altogether this state has seven representatives abroad. It was not long since that Mr. Ingersoll said that Pennsylvania had no representative in the Cabinet.—The want on her part of such honorable association with Mr. Kendall, and Mr. Blair, is amply compensated by her share of foreign embassies. Mr. Dallas must become the most popular diplomatist in Russia, if the Emperor Nicholas be refreshed with a perusal of the Bradford county letter, which feast is doubtless in store for him. Mr. Muhlenberg can amuse his Austrian Majesty with Berks county politics, and discourse as he is indirectly advised to do, of his ancient and aristocratic family. Happy Pennsylvania! The opinion will soon become general among the courtly circles of Europe, that the "Keystone State" can supply the best American ambassadors, both in politics and Pedigree.—Nat. Gaz.

From the Charleston Courier, Feb. 20. At a meeting of the Stockholders of the Southern Steam Packet Company, held yesterday, the following gentlemen were elected Directors for the ensuing year—James Robertson, B. J. Howland, John Fisher, S. D. Dickson, and T. J. Kerr.

At a subsequent meeting of the Directors, James Robertson was elected President, and J. W. Caldwell Secretary and Treasurer, (in place of T. J. Kerr, resigned.) Resolved, That the Directors instruct the Captain of the Neptune that he is prohibited, under a penalty, to be imposed by the Directors) from racing with other steam boats, under any circumstances.

Resolved, That the same be published in the papers of this City and New-York. J. W. CALDWELL, Sec'y & Treas'r.

Sullivan's Island.—The Legislature of this State, says the Columbia Telescope, at its late session had its attention called to the condition of Sullivan's Island, and the propriety of something being done for the preservation of it, and the fortress upon it. Resolutions were passed, requesting the Governor to confer with the proper Federal authorities upon the subject. We learn that in his Excellency's letter the Secretary of War replies, "that his Department duly appreciates the importance of the object of the resolutions—that it has already taken the best measures in its accomplishment—and that means for the continuance of these measures have been asked of Congress."

Medical College of the State of S. Carolina.—We have received the catalogue of this flourishing institution for the session of 1837-38. The number of students is as follows, viz: From Charleston 18, other parts of this State 84, Georgia 16, Alabama 10, North-Carolina 6, Florida 2, Mississippi 1, Tennessee 1, Virginia 1, Massachusetts 1, Maine 1—Total 141.—Char. Distressing and Awful accident!—On Saturday morning the 20th inst. Capt. GARRETT PENN, of the county of Patrick, was accidentally shot through the head with his own gun! The circumstances are briefly these. He had called that morning at his relation's Mr. James Penn—had set his gun as he walked into the house, against the step, and in a few minutes, was told that he had better move it, as the children might get hold of it—and on attempting to move it, and taking it up for that purpose, the lock, or cock, was abstracted in some manner, and it went off with the whole load of shot, passing through his head, entering just under his ear.

We scarcely know in what language to comment upon this truly melancholy and awful occurrence. The shock upon the whole country around, is sensibly felt—and to a large family of connexions, it is really heart-rending and over-powering.

Just rising in the world—just beginning to live, as it were—in the full enjoyment of health and happiness—blessed with a lovely wife and two little children—and every comfort that could be desired—in the midst of this feast of the soul, our highly esteemed, respectable and worthy young friend has been severed from time and without a moment's warning—called upon to appear before his God! To his afflicted and heart broken wife, this is a trying and killing dispensation of Providence—for one so superior in all the good qualities of heart, as Gabriel Penn, was not easily to be found—Poor fellow! his end is greatly to be lamented for he was a model of human excellence, industry and enterprise—and from his infancy up to manhood, characterised for morality, kindness of disposition, and gentleness and simplicity of deportment. He was universally respected and beloved—having not an enemy upon earth—but many warm friends and affectionate relations.—We have every hope and assurance that he is now in heaven, enjoying his reward—having professed to have religion, and practised that religion by action and deed.— Lynchburg Virginian.

MELANCHOLLY EVENT.—On Sunday morning, the 28th ultimo, there occurred to east a general gloom over our peaceful little town, one of those awful dispensations of Heaven, which in a moment blast the fondest hopes of families, and fill the heart with anguish too great for utterance. On the morning referred to, THOMAS H. MASON, son of W. M. T. MASON, Esq. in his fifteenth year, was found dead in a field within a short distance of the town, and conveyed to his father's house. It appears that on Saturday, the day preceding, young Mason, his brother and another companion, took their guns and went out to amuse themselves in hunting.—In the forenoon it rained, and, with slight intermissions, the day throughout was stormy and unpleasant. Though not constantly exposed to the weather, the two brothers, continued out till late in the afternoon, when, wet and fatigued, they turned their steps towards home. When near to town the older brother, walking faster, passed his brother, and came on, supposing he was just behind and would soon reach home. Night came, and his brother not arriving, he returned with some friends to the place where he had just seen him, and diligent search was made without success.—On their return the alarm was given, and our citizens promptly assembled in considerable numbers, and commenced a search in the neighboring fields and farm houses, which was continued throughout the night, and till about 8 o'clock on Sunday morning, when the body of young Mason was discovered lying on his face in a field of Mr. Solten's, within two hundred yards of the main road, and not ten minutes walk from his home. Exhausted from the effects of a cold rain—with but any refreshment since morning, [for he went out before breakfast, and fatigued with a long continued walk, it is supposed this unfortunate youth fell from extreme weakness, and found himself unable to rise again. On examining the body, it was found he had fallen with his hands under him, and from a severe contusion on the face he doubtless received a violent shock.—In this situation, it is probable, he was insensible to suffering, and, unconscious of his lonely bed, quickly sunk into the arms of death.

Though doomed to an early grave, Thos. H. Mason had already given promise of future usefulness by the unfolding of excellent qualities of both mind and heart, and the attainment of such an amount of classical learning as is rarely to be found even in well educated boys of riper years. The deep and sincere sympathies of a whole community are felt for the afflicted family; but, alas! sympathy cannot soften the intensity of suffering; it can only add its soothing power to the mellowing influence of time. May the Being who has stricken be their support in this hour of darkness, and bind upon their bleeding hearts the balsams and the balm of Heaven.

[Communicated.] ON THE DEATH OF T. H. MASON. Why, Oh most fell destroyer! hast thou sent Thy clammy seal upon that brow? And why, oblivion, teach us to forget 'The soul which lightened it, but now? A soul so guileless and so bright, It seemed by some kind Angel given; A star, whose rays might gild the night, And light for us the path to Heaven! January 30, 1838. J. D. M.

Foreign. FURTHER FROM GREAT BRITAIN. NEW YORK, Feb. 13. By the arrival of the British frigate Inconstant, at Halifax, on the 31st ultimo, advices from London to the 1st, and Cork to the 4th ultimo, had been received. The papers received by this arrival, although not later than we are in possession of by the Silvio de Grasse, contain considerable intelligence of interest relative to the measures which were being adopted by the Canadas, which it will be observed, were most active and vigorous.

The frigate Inconstant, by which this intelligence reached Halifax, has brought out the left wing of the 93rd Regiment, commanded by Major Arthur. The troops disembarked at Halifax on the 31st, where they were received with great enthusiasm by the inhabitants.

It is stated in the London Observer, of Dec. 31, that Ministers had under consideration the propriety of recommending to Parliament, immediately after the re-assembly of the two Houses, an increase of both the Army and Navy, the former to the amount of 15 or 20,000 men, and the latter from 5 to 10,000. One of the reasons assigned for this measure, in addition to the unsettled state of the Canadas, is the unfriendly tone of the Message of the President of the U. States, upon the boundary question.

It had been reported in the London that Sir Henry Harding, one of the most able and experienced Generals in the British service, had been appointed commander of the forces in Canada. We shall be most happy to find the report confirmed, as a better selection could not have been. The London papers of the 4th ultimo, which we received by the Silvio de Grasse, however were silent on the subject.

We regret to observe that the Asiatic Cholera had made its appearance in Waterford, Ireland, in the neighboring town of Carrick-Suir. It is said that there were 19 cases in Waterford on the first day of its appearance.

The following extracts are of considerable interest: Cork, Jan. 4.—Army.—The troops for Canada.—Orders have been received, we understand, to put the Fermoy Barrack in readiness for the immediate reception of a very large body of troops, both horse and foot.

Transports are expected at Cove (it is said that the line of battle ships Bellerophon and Vanguard, the former at 78 and the latter at 84 guns, have been ordered instantaneously to the Mediterranean, for the purpose) to take on board the depots of the 11th and 73rd, and proceed to Gibraltar, where they are to meet the service companies of the regiments, now in Cork, and take them on to Halifax.

From the Liverpool Chronicle, Jan. 3. An order from the Horse Guards was received in the Garrison yesterday morning, for Volunteers to serve in Canada, with a bounty of one guinea to each man. The order was promptly read on parade to the 25th Regiment, at the New Barracks, when 50 active fellows, including several of the Grandier Companies, turned out without hesitation, and offered their services to the 11th and 73rd Regiments, which are the Corps specified in the despatch; and to join their ranks, these volunteers all embarked next week at Cork on route to Gibraltar, where the 11th and 73rd are to await orders for Canada. The 25th will supply at least 100 volunteers, as the Horse Guard invitation is gone out this morning to the detachments at Bruff, Rathkeale, and Newcastle.

The 22d Regiment in Cork has been called upon for Volunteers to the Regiments in Canada.

From the United Service Gazette, Dec. 20. Royal Artillery.—Owing to the State of affairs in Canada, the two companies that were to have embarked yesterday for Jamaica and Barbadoes, have been countermanded, and it is supposed they are now destined to proceed to Halifax on route or Canada.

London, Dec. 30.—All is activity at the Horse Guards. Maj. Gen. Sir W. M. Beau has been ordered to hold himself in readiness to take charge of the brigade consisting of the 23d, 71st, 93d and 94th Regiments, destined for Nova Scotia and New Brunswick; drafts from the depots of the regiments now at the seat of war, have orders to rejoin their respective regiments, to make up the force of 600 men each; two companies of Artillery are ordered for the same destination, a brigade of Guards under Lord Saltoun, and the 1st battalion of Rifles are also ordered to hold themselves in readiness. Col. Fitzgerald has been appointed Inspecting Field Officer of Militia, to proceed forthwith to Canada.

Twenty five officers, on the half pay have been ordered out to assume the command of and direct the regiments of militia in Canada; many of them embark by the next packet. Among them are Col. Cox, Maj. Macphail, Baron de Rotteburg, Lt. Col. Fitzgerald, late of the Legion, &c.

FURTHER PARTICULARS FROM TRINIDAD. We give a brief statement of an insurance that had taken place at Trinidad, Cuba. The Boston papers contain some further particulars. We copy the following from the Boston Daily Adv.

By the Brig Adelaide, Captain Macleod, at this port, on Saturday from Trinidad, we learn that on the 5th January a part of the negroes of Don Juan de Armentero's estate rose, killed their black driver, and wounded a white man. They then proceeded to the woods, where they were joined by a number as "runaway slaves, runaway slaves, outlaws," and the following night made an attack on the plantation of Don Pedro Sanchez, where they killed two; but were repulsed and driven back into the bushes.

Next day a party of troops from the town of Trinidad and a considerable number of mounted men with dogs went in pursuit. They ascertained that the number of marauders was 60 and 70. They took several of the ringleaders, who were shot, and some of the runaways gave themselves up. It was then thought there would be no further trouble. But on the night of the 13th, having probably received a reinforcement from the mountains, they attacked the plantation of Mr. J. Baker formerly of Philadelphia.

Mr. B. had on his plantation upwards of 600 negroes; but the object of the marauders was frustrated, as none of Mr. B.'s slaves would join them. They attempted to burn his buildings, but as they were fire proof, they sustained but little injury. His steam-mill, carts, and many of the utensils in the manufactory of sugar, were destroyed, and his standing sugar cane set fire to; but as it was green, it did not burn much. Several of Mr. Baker's men were killed; a soldier was shot by his side.

The reports brought by Capt. Macleod that the negroes were headed by a white, a Spaniard, and that the American merchant were sending their property on ship-board, are probably mere rumors. The report that Mr. Baker had lost 2000 lbs of molasses, is entirely erroneous; as his whole crop would not probably exceed that amount and his case had not been ground.

From the Boston Post. Mrs. Wheeler, an intelligent lady who is now in the West Indies on a philanthropic mission, writes us from Trinidad de Cuba under date of the 14 ult. as follows: "You will learn by the newspapers of a rising among the slaves on the estates in this vicinity, but you must not believe half the reports nor feel any concern for me, as the true state of the case is not alarming. The rising extends only to a few runaway negroes—the slaves, on the three plantations where there has been a slight disturbance having uniformly stood by their masters."

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 12. Loss of Texian Packet Constitution.—Steam packet Columbia, Captain Wright, 45 hours from Velasco, (Texas,) arrived yesterday, reports the total loss of the steam packet Constitution, together with her cargo, with the exception of a small portion, which was very much damaged; on the second day after her departure from the Balize, she experienced a storm and a heavy sea, and had, for the safety of the passengers (no other chance to save their lives remaining,) to be run ashore, fifteen miles to the northward of the Sabine river. Fortunately all on board were saved.
