

LATEST FROM ENGLAND.

[BY THE STEAMER ACADIA.] The English papers received by the Acadia, does not contain so much talk of war, as those which were received by the Queen, but they still appear to be dissatisfied with the McLeod proceedings, and make hard threats, in case he should be executed.

We extract the following items from the New York and Charleston papers:

The arrival of the packet ship England, on the 10th of March, and that of the steam packet Columbia on the 16th, revived the alarm and angry excitement occasioned by the report of Mr. Pickens earlier in the month. The former carried out the proceedings in Congress relative to fortifications and other preparations for war, and those of the Maine Legislature on the subject of the boundary; among the news by the latter was the letter of Angus M'Leod, denying his brother's presence at the affair of the Caroline, which the rabid journals of course laid hold of as disposing of the whole question, taking M'Leod away from the tribunals, and making it imperative on the Court and the Government to order his immediate discharge. Queer notions of law these journalists seem to have.

But before the Acadia left England, two new subjects of newspaper controversy had sprung up, and were in the full tide of discussion; these were the action of the Canadian Government in relation to the Catholic Seminary of St. Sulpice, and the division among the Oxford divines respecting the famous "Tracts for the Times," which seems to threaten very serious consequences, not only to the University but the Anglican Church itself.

The rumor current when the British Queen left England, concerning divers ships and squadrons being ordered to the United States, seems all to have died away. Touching the ships named as being under orders for immediate equipment, it is now said that their destination is China. But, per contra, the Hampshire Telegraph has the following:

"We have this day learned that our Government, in order to prepare for any emergency that may spring out of the case of M'Leod, (and if the republic execute him, we do not think that there is a man in this United Kingdom but will demand justice,) have directed six regiments to hold themselves in readiness to embark for North America—two of which are the 19th and 8th regiments, now in Ireland. It is also stated in private letters from the first circles in Paris, that Lord Granville, on the 27th ult., officially announced to M. Guizot, that the English government would find it necessary to send ten sail of the line to the same quarter. Of course a fleet of steamers will form part of such an expedition.

"The boy Jones," who had already been twice detected prowling about the apartments of the Queen, in Buckingham Palace, was a third time found there on the 16th of March.

The case of M'Leod.—We chronicle as a remarkable circumstance, the fact that our paper in London has taken a reasonable and common sense view of the M'Leod case—perceiving that it has come properly and in order before the judicial tribunals, and must therefore be disposed of in the first place, while its disposition there, one way or the other, interposes no obstacle to such final action as may be consonant with national justice, national equity and national honor. The London Spectator says:—

"Every thing seems to conspire to aggravate ill feeling and to neutralize better dispositions. What is Lord Palmerston doing? Rumor says that he has sent out peremptory demands for M'Leod's discharge, and orders for ships of the line to back those demands on the American coast. To what end has that been done? on what ground? in what fashion? Has Lord Palmerston consulted the law officers of the Crown, and made quite sure that the United States can be called upon to give up Mr. M'Leod, before he has made his appearance before the tribunals, on a charge which, being formally, however groundlessly made, must be legally disposed of? Has Lord Palmerston chosen the proper time and mode of urging the demand to secure success? The most reasonable demand may be so put as to make it impossible to accede: the country would be glad to know how Lord Palmerston had managed."

We give another extract, of a different character, but perhaps equally remarkable, from the Dublin Pilot, understood to be Mr. O'Connell's paper:

"War—England vs. Ireland.

"The time approaches when England must be humiliated or just, and Ireland may be free. * * * England may declare war, but who will war for England? Ireland? What! pay taxes, and shed our blood! And for what? * * * Why should Ireland war against France? There is no Irish feeling to be gratified, no Irish interest to be promoted, by such a war. What has Ireland done to France, or France to Ireland, that we should shed each others blood? * * * France invades Ireland—well, where in her complicated embarrassments will England find troops to defend Ireland, and preserve her province? Will Ireland defend herself, or leave the battle to the belligerents, and make no choice between masters? It is plain that England does not calculate on Irish co-operation. * * * A war against America is a war against friends. Were England never our tyrant, nor Ireland her slave, we would war with reluctance; but as it is—no we cannot war with America; our hearts forbid it—our hands would be powerless. We cannot swell the ranks of such a battle— and for what? For love of England!"

We copy the following from the National Intelligencer of the 9th inst.

OFFICIAL.

We are authorized to say that, under the pressure of the public business, increased by recent events, as well as by the approach of an extra session of Congress, the President finds it indispensable to make an arrangement for the employment of his time. He proposes, therefore, to call on his Fellow-Citizens, who may wish to see him, from 10 to 12 o'clock every day in the week, except Sunday.

From the Camden Journal.

The Court of Common Pleas and General Sessions closed its Spring Term for Lancaster District, on Saturday the 10th inst., the Hon. Judge Butler presiding. At this term, the most important case was the State against John Sweat, for the murder of Thomas Pickett. Sweat was convicted of murder, and sentenced to be hung on the 2d of July next.

The offence was committed on the 14th ultimo, at Hill Island, on the Catawba river, in Lancaster District. In our notice of the event, a few days after it occurred, we attributed it to intemperance, and we since learn, that on the trial, it appeared that nearly every individual present on the occasion, including the murderer and his victim, were more or less, under the influence of drink. How powerfully do such instances of crime appeal to the friends of Temperance, to redouble, instead of, as we fear is too much the case, relaxing their efforts in a cause, than which, there is none more deserving of its advancement, the most persevering exertions of the Christian and the Patriot.

John Sweat, we understand, is about thirty years of age, and has a wife and one child.

If you cannot avoid a quarrel with a blackguard, let your lawyer manage it rather than yourself. No man sweeps his own chimney, but employs a chimney-sweeper, who has no objection to dirty work, because it is his trade.

During the recent inundations in the river Rhone, there were seen on the banks of sand in the middle of the water, numerous wild bulls, horses, foxes, polecats, rabbits, rats, and other animals usually hostile to each other, congregated together, without doing each other any harm, and among them was a great number of snakes.

A Confession.—A young convert in the country recently got up and was making a confession somewhat after this sort, viz: "I have been very wicked, indeed I have; I have cheated many persons, very many; but I will restore four fold!" when he was interrupted by an old lady thus:—"Well I should think before you confess much, you'd better marry Nancy Stebbins, as you agreed to!"

The population of the State of New-York is 2,429,476. Of this number there are employed in the pursuit of agriculture 456,475; in commerce 28,595; in manufactures and trade 102,576; in navigation of the ocean 5,560; in mining 1830; in navigation of the canals, lakes and rivers 10,061; in the learned professions and as engineers 14,231.

Hon. Martin Van Buren Ex-President, will reside principally hereafter at Kinderhook, his native town, where he has purchased the mansion of the late Judge William P. Van Ness, occupying a retired and eligible site. He will, however, spend a part of his winters in New York.

In General Gaines in his dotage, that he is permitted to tote his wife about the country in the disgraceful manner he is doing? If so, he had better be removed from the service, that the reputation and character of that at least may be preserved.—Gloucester Telegraph.

Yes! there is no doubt of it. They had better dress Mrs. Gaines in uniform, set her astride a horse, and send her to fight the battles of her country in the everglades of Florida. As to the old General we fear he is past the age of his vigor and his manhood. It is really too bad that one of our Brevet-Major Generals should be lecturing about the country at 25 cents per head, and we are glad to hear that he has been ordered to Florida,—there he will have an opportunity with the Indians.—Boston Notion.

It is really shameful, that a man possessing the character which we trust General Gaines has not yet lost, should be found so miserable and peevish as not only to engage himself in such pitiful business, but to allow his wife regardless of the fiercer feelings of her sex, ever to lecture before a public audience for 25 cents per head. Shame! Shame! should be the motto on the escutcheon of that General, who allows the fair partner of his sorrows and his joys, like a poor actor, to "Fume and fret her hour upon the stage And then be heard no more."

[Spirit of the Times.]

TALLAHASSEE, March 26.

Awful Occurrence.—A few nights since, we learn that 12 negroes belonging to the Rev. Wesley Adams, of Jefferson County, were burnt to death. They were all in one building, and it is supposed were suffocated, and rendered insensible, as they gave no alarm, and when the doors were opened, uttered not a groan. The building was entirely destroyed. The loss of Mr. Adams is truly severe and distressing, and he has the sympathies of a large circle of friends.

Death of an Esteemed Citizen.—The Philadelphia papers announce the death of James Roulston, who expired on Monday night, in the 73d year of his age. The Philadelphia Gazette pays the following just tribute to his worth as a citizen, and excellence of his character.—Brother Jonathan.

"Mr. Roulston will be remembered as a participant in almost numberless beneficial enterprises in this city—a friend and counsellor of his emigrant countrymen from Scotland—as the Philadelphia type-founder for a long period—the indefatigable horticulturist—and more especially as the founder of the celebrated and most beautiful Cemetery bearing his name—but last and not least, as a pious, upright, frugal, and honest man. He reaped the rewards of his course as he passed onward to death, in a condition of ease and influence, unmarked with either arrogance or dictation. He lived by many beloved—he has died by many lamented."

HANBURG, April, 17.

Colton.—Since the accounts by the Acadia have been received, our market has been going down, and we now notice a reduction of 1/2 cents from last week's quotation. We however think, that prices have reached their level, and that our market will remain in the present situation until the next accounts are received.

ceived. Sales however, are readily made at present prices. We quote cotton 7 to 10 cts. Principal sales 9 1/2 cts, Carolina money. Arrivals large for the season.

Augusta, April, 15.

Colton.—The business in this article during the past week, has been very moderate in amount; and up to Tuesday evening, when the news by the Acadia was received, our quotations of this day week were maintained, except for ordinary and middling Cotons, which were sold 1/2 cent per lb. lower. Yesterday there was rather more disposition to purchase, but, as the change, in consequence of the news, the transactions were confined to a few small purchases, which were induced by a slight concession on the part of some small holders. In giving the quotations which follow, it is to be remarked that purchases to any considerable extent could not be made without pushing them up a little, as the principal holders ask higher rates. Extremes of the market 9 1/4 to 11 1/2 cts per lb.

OBITUARY.

Died, on the 9th inst., in this district, Mrs. ELIZA JANE, wife of Marcus Upson, of Pulmonary Consumption. She left her husband and two small children to mourn their loss.

Died in this town, on the 10th instant, Mrs. Caroline H. Brantwaite, wife of the late E. F. Brantwaite, Esq., aged 24. Amiable in her character, she performed all the duties of life with faithfulness, and was a pattern for imitation as a daughter, a sister, a wife, and a friend. But what availed all these virtues with the fell destroyer of death! We deeply sympathize with her afflicted relatives.—Southern Chronicle.

NEW GOODS.

THE SUBSCRIBERS are now receiving their Spring and Summer Stock of Goods, which they will dispose of on reasonable terms, and invite their customers and the public, to call and examine before purchasing elsewhere. BRYAN & MINOR, Edgefield C. H., April 14, 1841.

ABBEVILLE Mineral Springs.

THIS ESTABLISHMENT is now in complete order for the reception of visitors, and is extensively provided with every accommodation and comfort which persons in search of health or recreation, can desire. Mr. and Mrs. Lawlow, who are charged with its superintendance, are eminently qualified to give satisfaction, and the Directors can promise that as good a table and as clean and commodious rooms will be furnished, as are to be had at any watering place in the United States. These Springs are situated in a healthy and romantic region in the North Western corner of Abbeville District, near the Anderson line, and the place is as perfectly exempted from autumnal fevers as any place in our Mountains. The waters are confidently believed to be equal to any in the United States, in all cases of chronic disease of the liver and other glands, and of chronic inflammation in any part of the system—in cases of dyspepsia and sick head ache they have been singularly efficacious, having invariably given relief whenever adequately tried. In these cases they may be almost considered a specific, as well as in diseases of the skin and urinary organs. A Hack will be regularly run during the season from Abbeville C. H., which is 24 miles distant, to carry passengers coming to that place in the Stage.

BY THE DIRECTORS.

I hereby certify from personal observation, that the water of the Abbeville Mineral Springs is singularly serviceable in all cases of chronic inflammation and glandular obstructions. It does not appear to possess any highly stimulating or direct tonic properties, but imparts tone to the whole system indirectly by its wonderful effect in wearing out inflammation, and in correcting the secretions of all the glands of the body. A few Summers ago, I sent a patient to the Springs labouring under chronic gastritis, which I found very difficult to treat to advantage, and to my surprise the case was speedily cured by the use of the water alone. Subsequently to the above case, I sent another patient to the Springs who was reduced very low by uterine obstruction and chronic inflammation, with a pulse up to about 120 beats in the minute; she was soon entirely restored to health; by a light diet and the use of the water without any Medicine whatever. A. B. ARNOLD, M. D. Lowndsville, S. C., April 23, 1841.

I hereby certify from personal experience, that the Abbeville Mineral Springs Waters are excellent for Dyspepsia and Liver Complaints—It was taken there in the latest stages of Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint, when given out of all hopes of living, both by my relations and several Physicians who had attended me—It stayed at the Springs six or seven weeks each year for three years, and now I am able to attend to the most of my domestic affairs. I consider the Abbeville Mineral Springs preferable to any of the East Tennessee Waters, for I had tried them well previous to attending the above said Springs. Given under my hand this 5th day of April, 1841. JAMES HUEY, April 22, 1841. The Augusta Chronicle, Washington News, Edgefield Advertiser, and Columbia South Carolinian, will publish the above six times (weekly) and forward their accounts to Lowndsville, to M. Young, Treasurer.
