

owes his reputation not so much to his scholarship, as to his advocacy of the "divine right" of government; in contra distinction from the rights of the State and the People, and the active and most unjustifiable stand he took against the suffrage party in R. I. during the recent difficulties there desecrating the pulpit on the Sabbath, with his anti-republican doctrines, and tendering the use of the College buildings as barracks for the troops of King Charles' Governor King.

But we forbear further remarks;—simply referring to his somewhat celebrated work on Political Science and his sermon delivered about the time of the R. I. difficulties in which he contended virtually that submission to tyrants was a Christian duty, for ample verification of all we have said concerning him. In concluding, however, we cannot forbear to mention the names of Orestes A. Brownson of Boston, Capt. Alden Partridge of Norwich Vt. and Doct. H. S. Patterson of Philadelphia as gentlemen who are every way fitted to fill the Chair, and to satisfy the wants of the people of the State. The first named, in particular, is well known to the leading men in S. Carolina, to need any commendation at our hands.—Old Dominion.

Case of John C. Colt.—This individual, whose case has excited so much attention in New York, has finally defeated the sentence of the law which he was doomed to suffer for the crime of murder, by committing suicide. It will be recollect that Friday last was the day designated for his execution. No particular hour having been fixed by the Court, the Sheriff, it appears, acceded to Colt's request, to defer the execution until 4 o'clock in the afternoon. At 2 P. M., the criminal was left alone in his cell, with the understanding that he was not to be disturbed until the last moment, and when it was again entered he was found dead, having stabbed himself to the heart. The doubt, whether or not he would be executed, created no little excitement in New York, and the fire in the dome of the prison, a few minutes before the time appointed for the execution, tended of course to increase it.—Baltimore American.

Caution.—A scarp galloons named B. F. DOUCIN, alias ROBERT DUNHAM, has recently made out and collected several Accounts due this Office in Augusta, Geo., and perhaps elsewhere. In one instance he forged our name to an order, that he might with more certainty obtain the money. We understand that he is a Printer by profession, and is a resident of Hamburg, S. C. All persons are cautioned against paying accounts due us to any person except D. W. Wells or Post Masters, who are at this time the only authorized Agents we have. And it would perhaps be well for those indebted to Newspaper establishments, generally, to call upon every unknown travelling Agent for his authority to collect, before paying him.

We think the case stated above is the strongest proof of hard times yet adduced. To think that any man should have the hardihood to forge Printers' Accounts, and endeavor to collect them, is to us the most marvellous species of insanity that we ever heard of. In most cases, we should set a man down as a fool who would attempt it, for it is with the greatest difficulty that we can collect our own accounts; but it seems that the rascal Doucain was more fortunate than he probably will be again.

Albany Police.—A Curious Case of Female Deception.—One of those strange and almost unaccountable cases of deception which we hear of one or twice in an age was developed at the police office on Saturday afternoon. A person who has for the last four years followed the business of a tinker and tarsener alternately in this city, and who is well known to many of our citizens, was brought up before Justice Osborn, charged with hanging out false signals—he being not exactly what outward appearances would lead honest and unsuspecting persons to believe—sailing under false colors.

About two weeks since this person was married to a very respectable and hard working girl, who by her industry had laid up a considerable sum of money. The poor girl found out in a few days that all is not gold that glitters—that appearances are deceitful—in short, that her dear husband was a woman! This fact being fully established to the satisfaction of all parties, the faithless swain or rather deceitful jade was arrested, examined at the police, and sent to jail. A crowd of the curious followed her ladyship to her new lodgings, making many original and spirited remarks, called out by the novelty of the case.

No other reason can be assigned for this strange marriage alliance except the desire on the part of the husband to possess himself of the money which the object of his affections had saved up from her hard earnings and unwearied industry.—Albany Citizen.

Agricultural.—We have seen a certificate, to the effect, that Mr. Latta, of this District, produced from off two and three quarter acres of land, which has been cleared 16 years, 360 bushels of shelled corn. One measured acre of the above, gave 100 bushels and 14 quarts. Our down country friends, who are so much in the habit of bragging on corn, wheat, potatoes, turnips and beets, would do well to beat this before they say much more on the subject of agricultural wonders. This was not done for a premium not coming under the provisions of the society, and may therefore be looked upon as a necessary result of paying proper attention to our old lands.

The production of wheat by Colonel Wright, of 38 bushels to the acre, is very appropriately handled by the committee.

On the day of the exhibition, potatoes were exhibited by Mr. E. W. Smith, some of which weighed 33 lbs.

James Brian, Esq. exhibited a very large specimen of winter turnip, something less than a yard in circumference, say between 19 and 20 inches. These vegetables turn up here to perfection.

Capt. J. D. Gore exhibited an enormous radish, the largest we have ever seen; but we hear even it has been beaten, having heard of one Radish which four children had been eating all day, and there was any quantity left.

Our friends must not think we are inclined to be marvelous on this subject, for these are facts well authenticated.

From our Correspondent.

HAMBURG, November 26, 1842.

Business has been rather dull here for the last two weeks, our Cotton receipts have not been as large as is usual for the season, owing I presume, to the very low prices, which are indeed discouraging. I do not perceive much change in prices for the past week, and now begin to hope that we have seen the lowest point. The last accounts from Europe, which came up to the 4th inst., I think was a little more favorable, and at least will tend to keep prices from going lower. If there has been any change the past week, I think it was in favor of the seller, as Cotton is much easier sold at the former week's prices, and on some descriptions at a $\frac{1}{2}$ advance. I must still quote low, sales from \$3 to \$4 per cent, but not much at either of these prices, principal sales from \$3 to \$3 cents. As there is not that rush of Cotton on the market, that there was some three weeks since, our Rail Road is getting clear, and we are now able to get Cotton off, by either the road or river, without much delay.

Exchange is plenty and rather lower, at par on Charleston and Savannah, $\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. prem. on New York. Our Bank is doing a good business, and her bills is equal to Bentons Drops.

AUGUSTA, Nov. 24.

Remarks.—We shall abstain from any speculative remarks in regard to the present condition of our cotton market and to its prospects, as the next intelligence from Europe may have some influence in changing it for the better or for worse. If the mail had been received regularly, on Tuesday night last we might have had the news by the steamer of the 4th inst. from Liverpool.

Cotton.—The receipts since our last notice of the market have been light and we may say also that the stock on hand is light, as the shipments have been to as large an extent as the preceding weeks.—The demand for the article is still fair, though prices have not improved. The range of prices may be quoted at \$4 to 7 cents; the principal sales having been made at \$5 to \$5 1/2. We quote, ordinary \$4 a $\frac{1}{2}$, middling \$5 a $\frac{1}{2}$, middling fair and fair \$5 a $\frac{1}{2}$, and prime and choice \$6 a $\frac{1}{2}$, choice square bales 7 cents. More confidence is entertained that the better classes of cotton have reached their lowest point.

Exchange.—By referring to our table it will be seen that no material fluctuation has taken place since our last review, except in Central Bank notes, which have suffered an increased depreciation and in two other items.
