

have separated from their Northern Brethren for the preservation of these principles is duly considered, the effect must be of a most salutary character. It must be felt through the body politic. Statesmen, whose tendencies are ultra vires and consider. They will reflect thoughtfully and profoundly on the probable results of those ultra measures, which have forced a separation between large religious bodies, who are the disciples of the Prince of Peace, are lovers of peace and union. And under such reflection better counsels will prevail, and esto perpetua will be written upon our destiny.

In the magnitude of the work, to which we have set our hands, you will see the greatness of our obligations to do this work faithfully, and with our might. Let us then acquire our selves like men in this "coming up to the help of the Lord against the mighty." Let us lay aside slothfulness, extravagance, worldliness, and covetousness. Let us cultivate spirituality, heavenly-mindedness, humility, faith and love for God.

Your Delegates in Council have formed a Southern Convention, and entered upon the work of propagating the Gospel of Jesus Christ, by the appointment of the Foreign & Domestic Mission Boards. In the service of the former I thus address you, in the assured confidence that you will not fail in your prayers, your influence, and your contributions for the support of such a noble enterprise. You will not let the reproach of the foolish builder come upon them. This you will not do. You cannot consider this cause of the Lord, as a pauper cause, begging for its support. You will regard it as your cause, the cause of righteousness and truth, receiving your best services for its advancement on the principle of duty to God, and affording you the opportunity of laying up your hundreds and thousands in a treasury, where thieves never enter, and where rewards ever increasing are ever to be enjoyed. I close with the words of our adorable Redeemer: "It is more blessed to give than to receive." Let every one, then, the poor as well as the rich, give as the Lord hath prospered him, cheerfully not grudgingly.

Affectionately, Yours,
WILLIAM B. JOHESON.
P. S.—All Baptist papers in the South and South-West, and others friendly to the Missionary cause, will please give the above an insertion in their columns. W. B. J.

Yesterday morning, about half past 10 o'clock, a young woman of very respectable appearance, named Henrietta Blanchard, went into the Auction Mart, in Camp street, where Mr. Kendig and a negro broker named Pettway, were walking, and drawing a pistol, deliberately shot Pettway, the ball entering his left side, passing through his body and coming out in front. Pettway, as we are informed, immediately exclaimed, "I am shot by the mother of my child." The young woman did not attempt to escape, but throwing the pistol on the floor, called on a gentleman who was in the store to take her before Recorder Baldwin, and on her being asked why she had shot Pettway, she replied it would be time enough to explain her reasons when she was before the Recorder. She was immediately taken into custody by Captain Winter and Lieutenant Bielman, and conveyed to the Second Municipality police jail. Pettway was conveyed to his residence in Phillippa street, and as we learn last night, is likely to recover. The young woman appeared to be and continued throughout the day perfectly composed, betraying not the least excitement.

The causes which led to this affair are painful to contemplate. The story is soon told. It is a record of seduction, desertion and revenge. As we heard it, the young woman was seduced by Pettway under promise of marriage—a child was the fruit of their intercourse which is since dead. Pettway refused to marry her, endeavoring to blast her character and offered her money to be released from his engagement, which she promptly refused demanding as due to her honor, fulfillment of his promise. Finding all her endeavors fruitless to obtain repatriation and goaded to desperation by his shameful conduct towards her, she formed the deliberate design to be revenged, and so far accomplished her purpose as we have stated. The foregoing statement, we believe, embodies the leading features of it. It is needless for us to say that in this community where cases of seduction are so rare, the sympathies of the public are altogether with the young woman. She is confined in the Second Municipality police jail, but is allowed all the liberty that she can enjoy within the enclosure of the prison walls. We understand that Recorder Baldwin will admit her to bail, if there is a good prospect of Pettway's recovery, as we learn, there is.—N. O. Bee, 25th ult.

The Comet.—The second great Comet of 1845, which is now traversing our heavens, is attracting attention at all the observatories. Its nucleus is said to be as bright as Jupiter. Its tail is broader than that of 1843. It is said to most resemble the drawing of the comet of 1819. "This is the fifth comet seen this year—and astronomers predict that there will be two more along during the year—making seven, which is more than ever were seen in one year, entitling this to be called "the comet year."

The Clarksville (Tenn.) Standard gives the adventures of a beautiful young lady who became insane a few weeks ago from reading novels, and fled from her home on the 29th ult., in the garb of a man. She arrived at Clarksville seeking employment as a journeyman tailor, which she obtained. Her father arrived a few days after, and succeeded in finding her. She was conveyed to a Lunatic Asylum.

Cotton Bagging.—The Griffin Jeffersonian of the 27th inst. says—We have seen at the store of Mr. A. G. Colbert, of this place, a piece of cotton Cotton Bagging, from the Upson manufactory, which appears to be stouter and stronger than any we have heretofore seen. We do not profess to be a judge of the article, or able to produce upon its fitness for the purpose intended; but we would advise planters to call and see it; to us it appears to be a first rate article. If our home manufactory can be substituted for the foreign or Kentucky bagging, it is just that amount of money saved to the State, and that much more of the staple consumed.—Savannah Georgian.

Harvest in Virginia.—The Richmond Compiler of Saturday last, says—Some few farmers in this neighborhood have cut their May wheat, and represents the quality so very superior, and the yield about an average one, greatly better than was expected. The late wheat promises even better, and should it receive no injury in the brief space before harvest, will be a very fine crop. The harvest for the late wheat will begin about the 10th or 12th inst. No contracts for wheat have been made, and we believe this year none will be entered into. We have not had rain for some time, and vegetation begins to suffer in this vicinity.

The Weather.—After a long spell of dry weather, with such an intense degree of heat, as we do not often suffer, even in June,—decidedly the most oppressive of our summer months,—we are at last relieved by cool showers, and not a unreasonable or unpleasant atmosphere. We hear of rains in the country also, but fear that they come too late for the crops. The corn is past recovery; and those only who were fortunate enough to get an early stand of cotton, can hope for any thing like corresponding returns from our great staple. Of the rice, we hear nothing that is good; and altogether, the prospect is a very gloomy one for the Southern planter, who has no remedy before him but patience and economy, and these are just the very things of which he has, proverbially, been the last person to make use of.—Patriot.

We are happy to inform our readers and patrons that we have succeeded in making an arrangement with Mr. W. Gilmore Simms, by which we shall secure his correspondence for the Patriot and Transcript. Notices of new books, of the arts, the progress of American letters, and the character of foreign literature, may be occasionally expected in our columns from this pen. In this way, and through this means, we trust to enliven our sheet and relieve the monotony of a mere newspaper, with the agreeable variety of a tasteful miscellany. Our arrangements will probably succeed to this, by which still more to increase our claims to the favor of the public.—Patriot.

Movement of Troops.—We think it very probable, says the New Orleans Courier of the 26th ult., indeed we have no doubt, that orders have been sent to General Taylor, at Fort Jesup, near the Sabine to march the troops under his command, amounting to about 1500, to the western frontier of Texas. This is a judicious and well timed movement on the part of our government. Precaution is the mother of safety—an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.—Patriot.

Gerrit Smith, the Abolitionist, is lecturing at Montreal on "the Character and Sinfulness of American Slavery." What has Montreal to do with the business? So asks the N. Y. Journal of Commerce. We wonder, ourselves, at the impudence of these fanatics. Do they expect to enlist the British Canadians in their crusade against the rights of the Southern States, or wish their accessories to open their arms still wider to the runaway? Such fellows as Gerrit Smith and Cassius M. Clay, should be transported to Africa, to convert those Heathen Chiefs, who sell their fellow beings to the white wretches, more black hearted than the ignorant seller, and coop them up on ship board to perish for want of air, and wholesome food. We will wager any thing that these white fiends, who value not the life or comfort of a fellow-being, were not born on this side of the Potomac, but are men nurtured in the same cold climate as Gerrit Smith.—Sav. Geor.

A valuable invention is thus noticed in the Washington Constitution: "Hemispherical Sundial.—We were shown to-day by Mr. James P. Gardner, of Tennessee, the inventor, a drawing of his Hemispherical Sundial; and but a few minutes attention to the plan of its construction, convinced us of its entire superiority over every thing of the kind. It shows the apparent mean time, the length of the days, the rising and setting of the sun, and the cardinal points of the horizon, with the greatest exactness. It is vouched for by some of the first mathematicians in the country. It has been patented by its intelligent and modest inventor, and we sincerely wish him all the success with which its most decided merits must ultimately command."

The National Intelligencer copies the above and remarks that it does no more than justice to the merits of the invention it describes.

Rain at Last.—Saturday evening we had a most refreshing rain accompanied by high wind, very vivid lightning, and some hail. Several trees were prostrated in various parts of the city, and we understand hail fell in the vicinity, particularly on the Thunderbolt road, to a much greater extent than in town. The mercury in the thermometer placed in the door of the Savannah Reading Room, fell thirteen degrees in about fifteen minutes. Though the fall of rain was not immense, the change of temperature was truly grateful to exhausted nature.—Sav. Rep., 30th ult.

We understand (says the Columbia Chronicle) that the Committee appointed by the citizens of Columbia to select an orator to deliver a funeral oration on the life and character of Gen. Andrew Jackson, have selected Col. John L. Manning, who has consented to do so.—Courier.

The Season.—We have had several light rains during the present week and two or three heavy rains during the last two days of the last week, and these have in some measure relieved the low and upland crops. We regret however, to be obliged to say that the river continues to increase in saltness. We yesterday saw the managers of rice crops from every part of the neighborhood, and they all agree that the rice crop must be short, unless we have rain at an early day. The Pee Dee is now salt as high up as Col. Hunn's plantation which is 10 miles above town, and of course the same distance on the other rivers. The crops however in those neighborhoods are at present very fine, while in the immediate neighborhood, they must be short already at least a fourth, owing to the long drought and salt water.—Winyah Observer.

Correspondence of the Georgian.

TALLAHASSEE, June 24.

Dear Sir—On yesterday the first State Legislature of Florida, under the St. Joseph Constitution, met in this city. A quorum of both Houses being present, the Senate was organized by the unanimous election of the Hon. James A. Berthelot as President of the Senate, and Thomas F. King as Secretary. Mr. Berthelot, President, we understand, is a native of your city. This, no doubt, will be gratifying to his old friends and acquaintances.

On to day the House was organized by the election of the Hon. Hugh Archer as Speaker, and M. D. Papp as Chief Clerk, all Democrats good and true!

The Democratic majority on joint ballot in the Legislature is twenty-four. In fact, the Whigs have but 17 members out of 58.

Yours, truly,
Editor Georgian, Savannah.

White Children among the Indians.—The St. Louis Republican states, on the authority of a gentleman perfectly cognizant of the fact, that the Osage Indians have among them about twenty white children, whom they purchased from the Comanches, by whom they were stolen from their parents in Texas and New Mexico. The same paper says in addition:—

"Our informant states that such of them as have been seen by the whites are said to be sprightly and intelligent children, of both sexes, but generally have been taken so young as to have lost all recollections of their parents, homes, or of the place from whence they were taken. The Osages will only sell them for horses or goods. Occasionally they bring one into the settlement to barter off. A few days since a gentleman of Newton county purchased for a horse, a pretty girl, about eleven years old. A few days before our informant left, another Osage brought in a boy, about eight or nine years old, which he, however, did not succeed in selling. "Should not the United States officers look to this, and is it not the duty of the Indian Agent to enquire into this? The Osages have purchased them; the tribe is poor, and they should be paid for the restoration of them. The subject is important enough to enlist the early attention of the proper officers."

No Gentleman.—Profanity is generally condemned as a low, vulgar, ungentlemanlike vice. The condemnation is just, for it is utterly inconsistent with every trait of the gentleman, according to the proper definition of that term. A gentleman is a man who respects the rights and feelings of others, as the best means of promoting their happiness. According to this definition, a gentleman will not swear; for he will not deliberately check the veneration of others by irreverent appeals, and much less will invoke more than human power to aid him in inflicting pain. And among whom do we find this vice most addicted to other vices, and especially intemperance. Drunkards generally swear because intemperance impairs self-respect and respect for others. To swear like a pirate is a proverb. Why? Because profanity is the usual vice of the violent; and as piracy is the greatest crime of violence, it is naturally accompanied by the last degree of profanity.—Philadelphia Ledger.

HAMBURG, July 2.
Cotton.—Since our last report our market has been dull, owing to the lightness of the stock and the small quantity offering for sale, in fact we hear of no sales from store, and but a few sales from wagons, at prices ranging from 5 to 6 1/2. We omit quotations with the remark that the extremes may be set down at 5 to 6 1/2 cents. Stock in Hamburg, on 1st July, 207 1/2 bales. Rec'd in the month of June, 378 " Shipped by R.R. in the m. of June, 7360 " Groceries.—There has been no change in prices since our last report, except in the articles of Flour and Lard, which have advanced a shade.—Republican.

HAMBURG, July 5.

Cotton.—There is not enough Cotton arriving to make a market, and we can barely give quotations of the irregular prices going since our last report. We quote extremes from 6 1/2 to 6 3/4 cents.—Journal.

COTTON GINS!

THE undersigned respectfully informs his friends, that he has resumed the Manufacture of COTTON GINS, and flatters himself from his long experience in the business as maker of the celebrated Jones's Gins, to receive a share of their patronage. He deems it useless to accompany this notice with a long list of certificates of recommendation, as to the capacity of his Gins, when he can assure them that out of near 1500 Gins made by himself not one have been condemned or returned. His Gins are of the best materials and warranted. Attached to the Saws is a Mote Cleaner, and experience has proven it to be a valuable addition, as it keeps all the motes of any size from passing through with the Cotton. The Brush Wheel has also undergone considerable alteration. Upon the whole, his Gins need only to be tested to be highly appreciated. Planters can be assured that no Gins will leave his Shop without the Saws and Ribs having been examined and set by himself alone, and respectfully solicits a call from them before they purchase elsewhere.
