

The Advertiser.

EDGEFIELD C. H.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 21, 1847.

The Caterpillar has recently made its appearance in Christ Church parish in the low country. On a plantation on which it appeared, its ravages have been considerable.

Rain.—Several heavy rains have again fallen in this neighbourhood. On Thursday evening there was a considerable shower, and afterwards the air became quite cool.

We refer our readers to another letter, of our regular and esteemed correspondent "Saluda," which we publish to day. In common with his other letters, which have been spread before our readers, doubtless it will be found full of interest. We learn from some other letters which we have seen, that the South Carolina, Georgia and Alabama Regiments, which are attached to General Quitman's brigade, were ordered, immediately after the surrender of Vera Cruz, to proceed to Alvarado, a town on the sea coast about thirty miles south of Vera Cruz. It was supposed that it would surrender with little opposition. The Palmetto Regiment was generally in good condition, though the men had suffered much from heat and fatigue, and the want of sufficient clothing.

Daniel Webster.—This distinguished man will shortly visit South Carolina. He will soon reach Columbia, where he will be the guest of the Hon. W. C. Preston, President of the South Carolina College. He has never before visited South Carolina.

Trade of Charleston.—We copy from the Charleston Mercury, an article upon the increasing prosperity of that city. We are heartily rejoiced to hear that the trade of Charleston during the present season, has greatly increased. The importing and wholesale houses, we are informed, have done a very heavy business. Some of these have sold several thousand dollars worth of goods a day, for a certain time, to country merchants, and others. We have no doubt, from all that we have heard, that there is room in Charleston, for other wholesale houses, and we hope to hear of other establishments during the next winter. The prosperity of Charleston is identified with that of the State generally, and should be a source of satisfaction to us all.

In consequence of the recent death of James J. Jeter, Esq., a Meeting of the Bar of this place, was this morning held, in the Court House, which was organized by the appointment of the Hon. A. P. Butler, Chairman, and N. L. Griffin, Esq., Secretary. The object of the meeting was explained by the chairman, in a few brief remarks, in the course of which, he set forth in a striking manner, the qualities of the deceased, which had given him high character, and ensured him success in his profession.

J. P. Carroll, Esq., offered the following resolutions, which were seconded by James Terry, Esq., and unanimously adopted:

1. Resolved, That we regard with the liveliest sensibility and regret, the death of our professional brother, James J. Jeter, Esq., that in him the community have lost a man, blameless in all his domestic relations; a man distinguished throughout life by his incorruptible probity, by his manly frankness and independence, and by his elevated disdain of every thing that savored of insincerity or artifice; a man whose strength of will and innate character, secured to him a reputable position in his profession, and a prosperous career through life, and whose noble qualities inspired universal confidence and respect.

2. Resolved, That in token of our sincere respect for the memory of the deceased, we will wear upon the left arm, the usual badge of mourning, for the space of thirty days.

3. Resolved, That as an imperfect expression of our sympathy with his bereaved family, in their affliction, a copy of these resolutions be sent to them.

On motion of F. H. Wardlaw, Esq., it was resolved, that the proceedings of this meeting be published in the Edgefield Advertiser.

A. P. BUTLER, Chairman.
N. L. GRIFFIN, Secretary.
Edgefield C. H., 16th April 1847.

Pipes.—Not Bag-pipes, of which in a previous number, we said something. But domestic Tobacco Pipes, made in Edgefield District, by a Lady. We saw lately at the store of the Messrs. Pess, in this place, a basket full of beautiful clay Pipes, manufactured in our District. Not one of these pipes was precisely like the other, but all bear a considerable resemblance, showing plainly that they were of the same family. On every one of them, was cut a flower or vine. To all lovers of the glorious Tobacco weed, we recommend the purchase of a supply of these pipes, and we will insure them good smoking. We are always in favor of domestic manufactures, and we would be pleased to see these pipes brought into fashion; by the good old ladies who love tobacco.

Volunteer Companies in Georgia.—We learn from the Augusta Constitutionalist, that the Company of Volunteers, for the United States service, which Capt. John P. Campbell, had been recruiting in Augusta, is now complete. It numbers eighty-six (86) rank and file. Captain Campbell received orders from Colonel Echols, who will command the regiment of which the above mentioned company will form a part, to proceed immediately to New Orleans.

Another Company, of which F. A. Jones has been elected Captain, has been raised in the counties of Scriven and Jefferson. This company has sent on an application to be taken into the service.

Illumination in honor of the Victory at Vera Cruz.—The City of Augusta, Georgia, was magnificently illuminated, and a grand display was made upon the receipt of the capture of Vera Cruz, Charleston, and Columbia, South Carolina, celebrated the victory with appropriate honors. The Students of the South Carolina College, got up one of the most beautiful spectacles of the occasion. At 10 o'clock at night, they formed a procession two and two, each man carrying a blazing flambeau, and thus they marched through the streets in silence, until at regular points or intervals, when the command was given, and they sent up a shout for Scott, Taylor, &c., with admirable effect. The lights were between one and two hundred in number, and were very beautiful. The main street of Columbia was brilliantly illuminated, rockets were thrown up, bonfires were kindled, and the cannon of the Arsenal poured forth salutes. A general joy pervaded all classes.

Rise of New Foundland.—The New Foundland Times, states, that the whole of the land about the neighborhood of Conception Bay, very probably the whole island, is rising out of the ocean, at a rate, which at no distant day, will render useless, or greatly injure, many of the best harbors. Observation proves the rapid displacement of the sea bed.

From our Correspondent.
Back of Vera Cruz, 25th March, 1847.
Mr. Editor.—The siege of Vera Cruz is, at last, at an end, and this morning at 10 o'clock, the garrison of the City and Castle march out, and lay down their arms. In a few minutes the banner of the Stars and Stripes, flew from the Castle of San Juan De Ulloa, as well as from the walls of one of the most strongly fortified cities in the world.

I must do the Mexicans justice to say, that with their scanty force, in men and supplies, they have held out remarkably well. The number of troops in the City and Castle have been variously estimated, at from four to five thousand men, with as good a supply of artillery and ammunition as could have been furnished to any city in the world, but I have no doubt that they were poorly supplied with provisions. On the 9th inst. we anchored off Point Sa. crucis, with a force of about fourteen thousand men, and immediately commenced disembarking, preceded by Gen. Worth's brigade, which was formed in line of battle in sail boats. On the same night Gen. Worth proceeded to invest the city, and took a magazine, situated near a rail road, in front of the town, at about two miles distant from the same, and also took the ruins of an old castle, which is said to have formerly belonged to the family of Melabrandes. On the 10th, one or two of our brigades met with some opposition, and had some fighting, and on the 11th, our brigade was sent on to their relief, and the Palmetto Regiment had rather a fierce engagement, which continued for about an hour, with a loss of seven men in wounded, including our Lieut. Col. Dickenson. Our own company, the "96 Boys," were much exposed to the fire from the batteries of the enemy, but escaped without injury. The cannon balls and shells fell thick around us, and though they missed their aim, they gave us some annoyance. Capt. Sumpter's company was exposed to the hottest of the fire from the small arms, and received the most damage. From the 11th to the morning of the 26th inst., the city was closely besieged, and we had various little skirmishes, with small parties of the enemy. The artillery from the city and the castle kept up an incessant fire on us during the whole time, and at all points of the compass. At 4 P. M., on the 22d, our batteries opened on the city, and continued to play until the morning of the 23th, when the enemy asked for a parley, and began to arrange with Gen. Worth; Gen. Pillow, and Col. Totten, the terms of a surrender.

30th March. I am now able to say, that the City and Castle have indeed surrendered, and that they are at this moment garrisoned by our troops. I had the pleasure yesterday, to see the enemy haul down his colors, and to see some flags, waving from every fortified point, both on the City of Vera Cruz, and the Castle of San Juan De Ulloa.

The terms of the surrender, as near as I can ascertain, are these.—The Mexican soldiers were to march out, and surrender their arms, and be released on the parole of their officers, that they would fight no more in the present war with the United States. The officers of course, were put upon their parole of honor to the same effect. All public property, with the arms and ammunition have been delivered into our hands. I understand, that we have received about six thousand stand of small arms, and near two hundred pieces of artillery. I do not know the quantity of ammunition that has been delivered over.

The number of killed and wounded on both sides is very small. We had from fifteen to twenty killed, and the enemy wounded, and the enemy near two hundred, and I am sorry to learn that the greater number of those were women and children and unarmed citizens of the town. It was impossible for the result to have been otherwise, for our batteries could not be directed against the city, and we had no means of ascertaining in what quarter the women and children had fled for safety.

Our brigade, under Gen. Quitman, is under orders to-day, to march against Alvarado, a town about thirty miles distant, and then to return and follow the main army under Gen. Scott, which will proceed immediately to Jalapa.

Our brigade will probably have a small fight at Alvarado; but I think at Jalapa or Puebla will be fought the great battle of the campaign. The health of the army is tolerably good, but the weather here is very unpleasant indeed, and the water is scarce and disagreeable.—When we get into the mountainous country, we hope to fare like princes.

You will know how to make allowance for my bad composition, for I have not even had a chance to visit the city, and I am every moment expecting to march.

Yours, &c., SALUDA.
LATER FROM THE BRAZOS.
From the N. O. Picayune, April 11.
The steamship Telegraph, Capt. Auld, arrived yesterday from the Brazos, having sailed the evening of the 6th inst.
To Mr. J. Harrison, of Virginia, we are indebted for papers and our correspondence. Mr. Harrison went to Mexico with Mr. Whiting, to bring back the remains of Lieut. Archibald Bots, who died in the service some month since.

A train was to leave Camargo on the 30th ult. for Monterey under the escort of the Virginia regiment.

From the N. O. Picayune, April 10.
BATTLE OF SACRAMENTO.
Defeat of the Mexicans—Fall of Chihuahua.

We find room to-day for an account of the battle of Sacramento, fought for the possession of the City of Chihuahua. We do not find Sacramento laid down on any of the various maps we have of Northern Mexico. We presume it cannot be far from Chihuahua, however. It will be recollected that on the 23d February the American troops were at Carmen, moving South. Carmen is not much over 100 miles from Chihuahua. The battle took place on the 23th March, when we may suppose the Americans had advanced 60 or 80 miles further South. The number of the Americans, according to the Mexican report we gave on Tuesday last, was only 900, while the Mexicans, by their own showing, had about 1600, and ten pieces of artillery.

We will only add further that the despatch of Gen. Heredia, who commanded the Mexicans, is given in El Republicano of the 22d ult., from the papers in the War Department "relating to the loss of Chihuahua." The place whence written is omitted. Garcia Cande's account of his participation in the battle we do not find in any of the papers in our possession.

From the N. O. Picayune.
VERA CRUZ, April 2, 1847.

We have not as yet heard from Alvarado, although there is no doubt the place is by this time in quiet possession of the American arms. This morning a detachment, composed in part of the 2d Dragoons under, Col. Harney, started for Antigua, an old town north of this, to take possession, and from this point reconnaissances will probably be made towards Puente Nacional and Jalapa.

From appearances, I do not think that Gen. Scott will march with the main army into the interior for some days to come. He is straitened to a degree for want of transportation, and it would be bad policy to move until every thing is in readiness. The latest movements—those by way of Antigua and Alvarado—will have the effect of bringing all the horses, mules and subsistence in on both sides the main road to Mexico into the American camp.

Among others who have arrived here with the week, are two or three gentlemen from Matatlan. They say that both Upper and Lower California are in peaceful possession of the Americans. They say nothing of the arrival of Gen. Kearney in California, but he might have reached Monterey, on the Pacific, without their knowing it. They speak of a boat belonging to one of our men of war having been upset, and that all on board perished. I shall endeavor to obtain further particulars.

I doubt whether Vera Cruz was ever as quiet and peaceable as at present—it certainly was never as well governed.—Gen. Worth has adopted a series of municipal laws and regulations, which are enforced to the letter, and I believe all are satisfied. Goods are coming in under the new tariff, the mole is a scene of great activity, and all is bustle.

It will be seen that over four hundred cannon have been captured. Some of these in the castle of San Juan De Ulloa are magnificent pieces. As for ammunition, all the magazines are full of it.

G. W. K.

STATE AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY OF SOUTH CAROLINA.

The following Premiums will be awarded by this Society, at its semi-annual meeting at Aiken, on the 4th Wednesday, (28th), in July next:

- 1. For the best Stallion for Agricultural purposes, a Silver Cup of the value of $10
- 2. For the best Mare for Agricultural purposes, a Silver Cup of the value of 10
- 3. For the best Bull, (native,) over 3 years, a Silver Cup of the value of 10
- 4. For the best Cow, (native,) over 3 years, a Silver Cup of the value of 10
- 5. For the best Jack, bred in S. Carolina, a Silver Cup of the value of 10
- 6. For the best Mule, bred in S. Carolina, a Silver Cup of the value of 10
- 7. For the best Ram, adapted to our climate, a Silver Cup of the value of 5
- 8. For the best Ewe, adapted to our climate, a Silver Cup of the value of 5
- 9. For the best Boar, adapted to our climate, a Silver Cup of the value of 5
- 10. For the best Sow, adapted to our climate, a Silver Cup of the value of 5
- 11. For the most successful and extensive experiment with Marl, for three consecutive years, one complete set of Farmer's Register, by Edmund Ruffin.
- 12. For the best essay on the Agricultural capabilities of Barnwell District, and the best means of developing and improving them, a Silver Cup of the value of 10
- 13. To the successful competitor in a Ploughing match, with double or single team, a Silver Cup of the value of 10
- 14. For the best Subsoil Plough, 10

From the Ala. Baptist.
DOMESTIC MISSION BOARD.—DR. JOHNSON'S AGENCY.

With regret we learn Dr. Johnson of South Carolina, has been compelled by a painful domestic affliction to abandon for this year at least, all his agency for this Board.

He purposed visiting the principal places of Georgia and Florida, with the view of awakening a general interest on behalf of Domestic Missions, and with special reference to the Baptist church in Tallahassee, Fla. His heart has been for some time, fixed on establishing the cause of truth in that place. He designed erecting a house of worship there, so soon as he could secure funds sufficient. On his outward trip he purposed directly for the Board; on his return, for Tallahassee. He prosecuted his mission for one month and a half with the most encouraging success, when he was suddenly summoned to return home—his wife having been subjected to a severe stroke of the palsy. Her condition requiring him to remain mostly at home, he received and accepted the call of the Edgefield church, to become their preacher for the remainder of the present year.

Dr. J. will retain his commission, and act for the Board as opportunity will permit. His standing in the denomination, his well known abilities, both as a Minister of the gospel and as an Agent, led us to expect much from his connexion with the Board; and during the time he labored, our expectations were more than realized. He shares our sympathies in his affliction, and our prayers that it may be removed, and that he may soon be able to resume his useful and responsible labor.

R. HOLMAN, Cor. Sec'y.

We extract the following item of news from the Palmetto State Banner, of yesterday.

CAPTURE OF ALVARADO, &c. &c.
From the N. O. Picayune Extra, April 14.

U. S. steinship Edith, Capt. Couillard, from Vera Cruz, evening of the 6th inst., arrived at the Bahia on the morning of the 11th—reports that Alvarado was taken by the navy, without a battle, on the 4th inst. On the 5th inst., Col. Harney, in command of the 2d Dragoons and a detachment from Gen. Twiggs's division, took possession of Antigua, capturing one officer and eight Mexican tancers.

The army was to move on the 7th inst. in the direction of Jalapa by divisions, Gen. Twiggs leading the advance, followed by Gen. Patterson with volunteers, and Gen. Worth, with the first division of regulars bringing up the rear. The health of the army so far was good.

The two ports reported to have been taken by our forces are Flacoatlan and Cosmolapan, above Alvarado. They have fallen without resistance. They are important points, situated upon the fine inland waters which have their outlet to the Gulf at Alvarado.—Mr. Kendall informs us in a postscript to one of his letters that Com. Perry is about starting with all his vessels, with the intention of capturing every city, town and port on the entire Mexican coast.

The very latest report at Vera Cruz, was that Santa Anna would dispute the passage of our troops to Mexico, with an army of 20,000 men, but it was an indefinite rumor, to which Mr. Kendall attached but little importance.

OBITUARY.

Died on the 18th inst., Mrs. SARAH ANN, wife of Capt. Eugene Burt, of this District, in the 33d year of her age.

The certainty and universality of death, together with the fact, that it terminates man's probationary state, and fixes his destiny unalterably for eternity, makes it an event of the most thrilling interest to every human being. And yet there are few who so shape their worldly course, as to be thoroughly prepared to meet the summons of the present obituary. Her was a meek and gentle spirit, whose sole object in this world would be, a faithful discharge of her duties, first to God and then to the little circle of friends, who were to whom she was bound by the strongest ties of affection. She was, for many years, the subject of severe bodily affliction. But three long years of anguish she bore, with unflinching patience and christian fortitude. Her fortitude was peculiarly christian. It sprang not from a stoical indifference to consequences, but from the most exalted confidence in the redeeming blood of the Savior. But it was only in the closing scene, that her faith made that bright exhibition of itself, which will forever remain an un fading source of consolation to her bereaved family. To her, even the dark valley and shadow of death, seemed to be rendered beautiful and pleasant, by the glories which the eye of faith revealed in the heavenly world. No chilling doubt cast its gloomy shadow across her path, and when conscious that she was breathing her last, and that in a few moments she must experience the great change, she assembled her little family about her, and exhorted them in the most affectionate manner, to prepare themselves to meet her in heaven, to look at her and know that she was dying, but that death had lost its sting, that she was perfectly easy, and perfectly happy, and fully assured of a speedy entrance into the joys of heaven. She urged her advice upon her children, with the most intense feeling, indicating by every expression the immense importance which she attached to a proper preparation for death. She died as she had lived, without an enemy, and beloved by all who knew her. She had been for many years, an exemplary member of the Baptist Church.

Died, at his residence in Edgefield District, on the 13th inst., Mr. SHREWD NEILSON, Senr., in the 75th year of his age, having survived his beloved companion near one year. Truly we may say, a Father in Israel has fallen. He had been a member of the Little Stevens Creek Baptist Church, about thirty years, and acted a great part of that time as Deacon. His benevolence and sympathy were active and universal, and they who knew him best, were best prepared to appreciate his worth. Brother Neilson was a friend to the Missionary cause, and every institution which has the Glory of God and good of man for its end. At the meeting of the Church, previous to his death, he presented the suggestion of Brother Taylor, relative to measures for getting contributions to the Missionary cause, at which time he exhibited his warm-heartedness and open handedness. The time of specific action by the Church was deferred until the next meeting, before which, he has been called home, to receive his crown. He has left behind children and grand-children, and a large number of friends and acquaintances to mourn his loss, but they have the consolation of knowing, that he has left an unimpaired character of virtue and integrity, of devoted piety and active faith. The dead are blessed, who die in the Lord, they rest from their labours and their works follow them.

Died in this village, on the 13th inst., EUGENIE IVES, infant son of Charles A. and Mary J. Meigs, aged 6 months and 15 days.

But withers in the rising day;
Thus lovedly was this infant's dawn;
Thus swiftly fled its life away."

Died in this village, on the 14th inst., Major JOHN SPEED JETER, within a few weeks of being 55 years old. For several of the last years of his life, Major Jeter had labored under a distressing decay of vision. About eighteen months before he died he had an operation performed on one of his eyes, with but little or partial relief. Some two weeks since, he had an other operation performed on the other eye, and his death indirectly resulted from the consequences of this operation. For some days he suffered under excruciating pain, which bore with his characteristic and manly fortitude.

There were traits in the character and events in the life of the deceased, well calculated to arrest the attention of the community in which he lived. Major Jeter was, during his whole life, a citizen of Edgefield District, and for the last 36 years, was, without interruption, a resident of Edgefield village, to which he was strongly attached, by feelings of pride and long association. After having passed through the usual course of academic studies, under the tuition of the celebrated Dr. Wadzel, he placed himself as a student of law, under the instruction of Abram Jiles Dozier, Esq., for whom he always expressed a high respect. In 1811 he was admitted to the Bar, and soon acquired, by great assiduity and attention, a lucrative practice. In 1814 he married Miss Sabra, the eldest daughter of Capt. John Simkins, who died in July, 1829, leaving two daughters surviving her, both of whom have also survived their father. In 1816, by a strong popular vote, the Major was elected a member of the popular branch of legislature, and was successively returned as such, until 1820, when he was elected Solicitor of the Southern Circuit. His success in this election was a strong evidence of his great popularity and influence in the Legislature, as few persons, at that time could have prevailed against the distinguished incumbent, the excellent and venerable Robert Stark. In 1824, Major Jeter was again elected to the same office, which he held till its term expired, at which time, by some alteration and curtailment of the Circuit he lost his position. In 1834 he was again elected a member of the House of Representatives, and was again returned in 1836. In 1835 he was elected to the State Senate, and was again returned in 1842. During his last term in the Senate he became distressingly afflicted with the dimness of vision, which induced him, from a sense of duty, to give up his place before its term had expired. His success in life, and especially in a jealous profession, amidst the competition of uncommon talent and ability, is a practical and enduring commentary on the moral value and great utility of the quality for which he was preeminently distinguished.—uncompromising integrity. He was, in his true and fullest sense, an honest man, which has been well said, to be the noblest work of God. To this leading quality he added, an intrepid decision of character, and great industry. In approaching his purposes, he was frank and direct, but sometimes impulsive to a fault—whilst he was tenacious of his own rights, his sense of justice, and regard for honor, were safe guarantees against his violating the recognized rights of others. His mind was so constituted as to induce him to take direct, safe, and obvious views of things, hence he always acted under a safe, sound, and unembarrassed judgment, in relation to conduct of men. He possessed uncommon powers of observation, and had a memory, so far as it regarded individuals, as tenacious, as his talents for observation was strong. He was a quick observer, and an accurate judge of men. In this respect he had peculiarities that made him extremely interesting, enabling him frequently to be graphic and striking, in his descriptions of scenes and persons, if ever he got sight of a man, and an opportunity to form his own opinion, it was one which he would maintain, against all the world's beside. His appreciation of men of elevated sentiments, and striking peculiarities of character, was much higher than his estimate of great ability founded in learning, ratiocination. If there was any one who depicted a man, thing, or a low character, it was John Speed Jeter.—Like all men of strongly marked character, his aversions of the time being, and I believe they were temporary, were strong and undisguised, but his friendship was abiding. To sum up his character in a few words, he had the qualities of heart and mind to inspire confidence and command respect. By industry he acquired a handsome fortune, and by judicious prudence he avoided debt. As a public officer, he was conscientiously faithful, remarkably dispassionate in the transaction of business, and firm and impartial in the prosecution of individuals. He was no respecter of persons whilst acting under the obligations of public duty, but with straight forward directness he acted alike to all. As a husband, in affection, delicate attention and fidelity, he may be justly quoted as a model worthy of imitation. In the relation of parent, filial piety and affection would do him the justice, which would be in vain attempted here,—his heart and soul seemed to have been given up to his children.

Take him all in all, Major Jeter was a person remarkable for high and many qualities, with some striking peculiarities, that will long be remembered with interest, by the friend who has offered this short but melancholy tribute to his memory.

J. F. GRIFFIN,
Commission Merchant,
AND Receiving & Forwarding Agent.

HAS declined the idea of removing from Hamburg, and avails himself of this method to correct that impression.

He will continue to devote his attention to the best interest of his patrons, and solicits a continuance of their favors.

Hamburg S. C., 17th April, 1847.

April 21

New Spring and Summer GOODS.

THE Subscriber is now receiving from New York, his supply of SPRING AND SUMMER DRY GOODS, which is the largest and most desirable stock he has ever offered in this city, consisting of a very great variety of the newest and most fashionable styles of GOODS for which have been imported this season. He would respectfully invite the Ladies to call and examine his assortment of which are very rich and beautiful. People from the country, visiting the city, would do well to call and examine his extensive assortment before purchasing, as he is determined to sell on the lowest terms, for Cash, or to punctual Customers.

Ladies and Gentlemen's Wear.

DRESS GOODS,

WM. H. CRANE,
Broad street, next door West of the Rail Road Buildings.

Augusta, Geo., April, 1847.

April 21

Bargains! Bargains!

Selling off at Cost.

INSERTION and Scalloped Trimmings 3 yds. for 25 cents.

Openwork Bonnets, worth $6, for $3 50, Common Straw Bonnets, 25 to 32 cents, Needles and Pins, at 5 cents a paper, best quality.

Crockery and Hardware, with Dry Goods, and a well assorted stock of Fancy Goods and Perfumery, will be sold at Cost, for one month from the 1st of April.

Come in time to get Bargains.

R. S. ROBERTS,
April 21

TO THE FAITHLESS!

If any doubt the wonderful powers of "DR. CULLEN'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PANACEA," we invite them to call upon Mr. Isaac Brooks, Jr., Jefferson street, fourth door west of Schuylkill Sixth street, below Locust, and learn from his own lips of one of the most astonishing cures of Scrofula ever performed on a human being—or call at the residence of his father, Eleventh and Vine streets. Sold by

JOS. T. ROWAND,
376 Market street, Philadelphia.

R. S. ROBERTS, Agent, Edgefield C. H. South Carolina.

April 21

Books and Stationery.

SELLING AT COST!

TYTLER'S Universal History, Bell and Stok's Practice, Frost's History of the United States, illustrated, Gunn's Domestic Medicine, Milton's Poetical Works, Burns's do do Scott's do do and Waverley Novels, Barnes' Notes on Isaiah, do do on the Gospels & Epistles, United States Exploring Expedition's Voyages Modern Cookery, by Eliza Acton, D'Israeli's Complete Novels, Mrs. Lincoln's Botany, Smith's Grammar, Davies', Smiley's and Pike's Arithmetic, Walker's Dictionary, New York Readers, Constock's Philosophy and other Miscellaneous School Books, for sale at the Cheap Store, of

R. S. ROBERTS,
April 21

STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA
EDGEFIELD DISTRICT.

IN THE COURT OF ORDINARY.

BY JOHN HILL, Esquire, Ordinary of Edgefield District:

Whereas, W. A. Harris, and Caroline S. Jeter, hath applied to me for Letters of Administration; on all and singular the goods and chattels, rights and credits of John S. Jeter, late of the District aforesaid, deceased.

These are, therefore, to cite and admonish all and singular, the kindred and creditors of the said deceased, to be and appear before me, at our next Ordinary's Court for the said District, to be holden at Edgefield Court House, on the 4th day of May next, to show cause, if any, why the said administration should not be granted.

Given under my hand and seal, this 19th day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and forty seven, and in the seventy first year of American Independence.

JOHN HILL, c. s. e.
April 21

Tan Bark Wanted.

THE Subscriber wishes to purchase between Fifty and One Hundred Cords of good TAN BARK, for which the Cash will be paid. Apply to M. FRAZIER, April 14

Selling off at Cost for One Month Only.

THE Public are now convinced generally of the truth of the above, and that Cheap as my Goods were before, COST is a different thing, and never were Goods sold so low in this District. I shall go North the end of this month, and then old prices will be resumed. My stock is but little reduced by the purchases made as yet. People are just beginning to find out that I am in earnest, and I trust none will lose this opportunity of obtaining bargains from the best assorted stock in the country.

R. S. ROBERTS,
April 14

Head Quarters.

Upper Battalion of the Seventh Regiment will appear at the Pine House, on Saturday the 1st of May, armed and equipped as the law directs, for Drill and Instruction. The commissioned and non-commissioned officers of the day previous.

The Lower Battalion will be and appear at the Cherokee Ponds, on Saturday the 8th of May next, armed and equipped as the law directs, for Drill and Instruction. The commissioned and non-commissioned officers of the day previous.

Major Mills is charged with the execution of this order to his battalion.

By order of

SAM'L POSEY,
Lieut. Col. Com'dr. 7th Regt. S. C. M.

J. F. OSBOURNE, Adjutant,
April 7

Restmental Orders.

THE Upper Battalion will parade at Col. Towles on Saturday the 17th of April for Drill and Review. Officers will attend the day before for Drill and Instruction.

The Lower Battalion at Mount Willing on Saturday the 24th of April for Drill and Review. Officers the Friday before for Drill and Instruction.

Officers will extend this order to their battalions and companies.

By order of

R. B. BOUKNIGHT,
Col. 10th Regt. S. C. M.

April 7

Valuable Lands for Sale.