JUDGE EVANS' SPEECH.

We have read this speech with a feeling of gratification. It is a calm, dispassionate, collected array of facts, that must tell upon the public mind of our whole country.

The District, in our opinion, cannot be divided to suit the convenience of many of its citizens without making four new Districts—and with the lights now before me, I am entirely satisfied with it as it is.

The substance of the queries put— 1st, Are you in favor of the Division of Edgefield District? 2d, What is the plan of your proceedings, and the lines and boundaries of the new District or Districts you would create?

The ship Hargrave arrived at Boston on Saturday, brought the largest company of slaves in the latter day saints, that has ever crossed the Atlantic in one vessel. They are nearly all bound for Great Salt Lake Valley.

Over a large portion of the Ohio Valley, says the Cincinnati Columbian, it now rains so that the crop of hay this year will be far below an average yield.

On Thursday night, one of the wagons of Flag & Aymer's Circus Company was struck by lightning between Nashua and Concord, N. H., when one man and four horses were killed, one man severely injured, and the wagon shivered to pieces.

There were nine hundred acres of debt on the docket of the District Court, now in session at Austin, Texas—a fact which shows, rather bad state of things in that vicinity.

The Washington Sentinel re-appeared on the 28th ult., and will be issued weekly and tri-weekly, as usual, until the 23d of July, when the publisher designs also re-assuming the daily issue.

A complete restaurant on wheels, comprising kitchen, eating rooms, &c., is now to be seen daily circulating about the streets of Lyons. At regular hours the establishment pulls up in front of the silk and other manufacturers employing a large number of hands, and the enterprising proprietor, it is added, is rapidly making a fortune.

CITY CENSUS.—Mr. R. S. Pars, the compiler of the New City Directory, computes the present number of inhabitants in the city of Charleston at sixty thousand. The census was taken in 1850, when the present number indicates rather a rapid increase for five years.

ARRIVAL OF THE CANADIAN LATER FROM EUROPE. HALIFAX, July 2, 1856. The British Mail steamship Canada has arrived at this port, with Liverpool dates to the 21st ult.

GENERAL INTELLIGENCE.—The excitement in consequence of Cramp's arrival in England had subsided, and American affairs are generally quiet.

COMMUNICATIONS.

For the Advertiser. To the Voters of Edgefield District. In answer to questions propounded by a number of the citizens of the District, requesting the Candidates of the Legislature to give their views upon the Division of the District, and, if any favor it, to state where they wish the lines to run, &c.—

"NO WAR WITH AMERICA."

Immense placards, of which the following is a copy, have been extensively posted in England, by direction of the Manchester Peace Conference:—

No war with America—Fellow Countrymen! You have hardly escaped from a war with Russia before you are threatened with a new one with America! How long is this system of diplomatic ratiocination to go on? How long are the vital interests of the country to be placed at the mercy of men who care for nothing so much as the gratification of office pride?

Consider, for one moment, what train a war with the United States would entail upon the greater portion of the trade and commerce of Great Britain. The latest returns from the Board of Trade give the annual imports from that country, consisting chiefly of corn and cotton, at upwards of thirty millions; and the exports at near twenty-five to thirty millions sterling. To carry on this princely commerce between the two nations, there are employed more than three thousand ships, with nearly two millions of men, and the value of the annual imports of Great Britain that of raw cotton alone amounts to more than twenty millions and the cotton manufactured goods exported to upwards of twenty-five millions sterling. Upon the trade which this commerce creates there are depending for their daily subsistence nearly or quite three millions of people, chiefly in Lancashire and Yorkshire.

Now are you prepared to see this hive of industry—this vast population—factory hands, tradesmen and manufacturers, men, women and children—thrown out of employment, deprived of their regular resources, and in large numbers driven to beggary or to the commission of crime for their daily resources? Are you prepared to encounter the pauperism, the want, the famine, the depredations on property, and the civil commotions which will be the inevitable result of a war with America which would inevitably produce? To say nothing of bloodshed among men of the same race—the disgraceful carnage between the two foremost Christian nations of the world—of the squandering of the hard earned money of the people in deeds of mutual destruction, and a question which would be immediately to say nothing of these things, are you willing to sacrifice your trade, to sink your country into poverty, crime and commotion, and to plunge mankind into deadly strife, simply to gratify the mad ambition of bungling diplomatists? If not, then meet without delay, and with a voice and a determination about which there can be no mistake, declare to your government, and to the world, that there shall be no war with America.

WILLIAM STOKES. Sec'y to the Manchester Peace Conference. From the South Carolina. A SOLEMN WARNING TO HOUSE-BREAKERS. On Tuesday morning, Miss C. Mordecai, a sister of Mr. D. Mordecai, was quietly slipped out of bed and lighted the gas. She then discovered a man under her bed, and with great coolness and presence of mind stepped to the next room and called her brother, who was the only other person in the house. Mr. Mordecai, with a revolver in his hand, called to him. He did not reply—accidentally the pistol went off, which started him. Mr. M.'s repeated the question and getting no reply, he shot at him in the act of rising. He then saw a negro, who answered him that his name was Jim, and that he belonged to Mr. H. Lyons. The ball passed through his lungs, and he died almost instantly. A jury was empanelled, and an inquest held, when the following verdict was returned: That the deceased was slain by the coroner, D. B. Miller, Esq. The occurrence is a very sad one to Mr. M., who under the circumstances was entirely justifiable in the act.

The State vs. the Dead Body of Jim, late a slave of Henry Lyon.—That this morning, about 3 o'clock, said Jim was shot by J. B. Mordecai, from which he died. It was found that at the time the said wound was inflicted, the deceased was in the dwelling house of the said Mordecai, with intent to commit or accomplish a burglary, (as the jury believe,) and therefore deemed said D. B. Mordecai justifiable of the homicide aforesaid, &c.

Another sudden death.—Mr. Miller's jury was immediately summoned to another grave, in relation to which he has furnished us the following verdict: The State vs. the Dead Body of Mary Marsh, free negro.—That the said Mary Marsh, on yesterday evening, took a dose of opium, or some preparation thereof. That from the effects of said opium, she lingered, died about 1 o'clock this morning. And so the jurors aforesaid, upon their oath aforesaid, do say, that the said Mary Marsh, in manner and form aforesaid, died. They also returned a verdict, that the said Mary Marsh died in the peace and dignity of the same State aforesaid.

THE WORLD'S BENEFACTOR. Who, that has had opportunities of reading, but has heard of the philanthropist, Howard, the greatest part of whose life was spent in visiting the prisons of Europe, and administering relief to countless numbers of suffering inmates, and whose name will go down to remotest time, crowned with the honors which millions yet unborn will bestow upon it? In the same category we may place the name of Miss Nightingale, the devoted, self-sacrificing heroine of the Crimea. But while we give due honors to such names, we should do justice to a noble and generous heart, who was for one moment, to forget the name of Holloway. The possessor of an immense fortune, which would allow him to traverse the world in search of pleasure, he chooses, instead, to devote his leisure and his talents to the benefit of his fellow-creatures, by dispensing among them the most remarkable remedies ever yet compounded, and which he himself discovered, and which he has proved, by toil and research throughout the vast empire of nature. To these researches Professor Holloway was first incited by the enormous amount of suffering from various diseases which he everywhere saw around, and the sad inefficiency of medical art to meet and vanquish them; and the success which has met him at every step—yet no greater than the amount of unremitted well-earned reward. So great, indeed, has become the popularity of his medicines, even in the remotest corners of the earth, that his parent establishment in London outstrips the largest in the world; and their marvellous virtues have been extolled in almost every language from pole to pole. We have seen innumerable testimonials from persons who have used these remedies—stacks upon stacks—in which their wonderful powers are extolled in the highest degree. In a climate so variable as ours, the most insidious diseases are likely to take root before the patient himself is aware of it, and an immense amount of suffering and death is the result of ignorance of the proper remedies, which, if applied in time, would have prevented the fatal result. In every case of incipient disease, and even in cases far gone, recourse to Professor Holloway's never-failing remedies will save months of painful illness, if not life itself. We do not overrate the merits of these remedies; but what we are confident of, we are willing to bear testimony in its favor; and as far as our absolute knowledge extends, covering a space of years, we feel compelled to speak upon the subject in the warmest terms. Therefore, it is our earnest wish that not a family in the land should be ignorant of these Professor's remedies, and that they should always be kept on hand to use in cases of sudden illness, as they will operate as well as preventives as cures; while there is no possibility of danger to the system arising from their use.—Boston Intelligence.

FROM KANSAS. Two more companies of Northern Emigrants have been disarmed and detained prisoners.—Lexington and the River towns are determined not to allow Northerners to enter Kansas. On Wednesday last, says the Elizabeth City N. C. Sentinel, a man named Sizerby, having threatened William Davis, of that city, for having testified against him in a recent trial, the latter procured a gun, and shot Sizerby while sitting in the front of his dwelling, killing him instantly. Davis says he did the deed to save his own life.
