Congressional Proceedings. WASHINGTON, March 5, 1866.

SENATE.—Mr. Johnson introduced a joint resolution for the representation in Congress of States lately in rebellion.

HOUSE.—Mr. Bingham, from the Committee on Reconstruction, reported the following joint resolution:

Whereas, the people of Tennessee have made known to Congress their desire that the constitutional relations heretofore existing between them and the United States may be fully established, and did, on the 29th February, 1865, by a large popular vote, adopt and ratify a Constitution of Government, republican in form, and not inconsistent with the Constitution and laws of the United States;

Resolved, That the people of Tennessee be and they are hereby declared to be one of the United States of America, on an equal footing with the other States, upon the express condition that the people of Tennessee will maintain and enforce, in good faith, their existing Constitution, excluding those who have been engaged in rebellion against the United States from the exercise of the elective franchise for the respective periods of time therein provided for, and shall exclude the same persons, for the like respective periods of time, from eligibility to office, and the State of Tennessee shall never assume or pay any debt or obligation contracted or incurred in aid of the late rebellion, nor shall any State ever in any manner claim from the United States, or make any allowance or compensation for slaves emancipated or liberated, in any way whatever, which conditions shall be ratified by the Legislature of Tennessee, or the people thereof, as the Legislature may direct, before this act shall take effect.

Notice was given that this resolution will soon be called up for consideration.

Messrs. Washburne and Boutwell (Republicans) and Mr. Johnson (Democrat) dissented from the views of the majority of the Committee.

Mr. Rogers submitted a minority report from the Reconstruction Committee, providing for the admission of Tennessee by Representatives on taking the oath required by the Constitution.

The Speaker laid before the House a message from the Governor of North Carolina, inclosing the resolutions of that State accepting the apportionment of public lands for agricultural culture.

Mr. Stevens objected to the reception of the paper, saying it was perfectly well known that North Carolina was not recognized as a State.

The House, by a vote of 100 against 37, refused to receive it.

WASHINGTON, March 5, 1866. In the Senate to-day resolutions were offered declaring that to Congress and not to the Executive belongs the power of re-establisbing civil Government in the lately seceded States.

In the House, pending the discussion of the Constitutional Amendment, Mr. Boutwell, from the Select Committee on Reconstruction, made a report signed by himself and by Mr. Washburne, of Illinois, stating that East Tennessee is loyal, but that Middle and West Tennessee is disloyal, and, proposing as an additional condition to the admission of the State, that the right of suffrage should be conferred on all persons without distinction of race or color.

The Bill declaring all black persons to be citizens, and conferring on them equal rights and immunities together with power for their protection, was debated.

WASHINGTON NEWS. From the Washington correspondence of the Charleston Courier, dated the 5th, we extract the following:

Senator Garrett Davis' speech in Congress yesterday hints at the possible policy of the President in case the present Congress refuses to admit the legally elected Representatives of the South.

It is customary with the Radicals to sneer at the apprehensions of assassination expressed by the President in his late speech, but it would seem that his fears are not altogether visionary.

THE UNIVERSITY APPOINTMENT AGAIN. In speaking heretofore of the appointment of a beneficiary from each District to the University of the South Carolina, and naming the 13th of the present month as the day upon which applicants from Edgefield should have presented themselves before our delegation for examination, we made, inadvertently of course, a serious mistake.

Robbery of the Southern Express. Last Friday night, the wagons of the Southern Express Company, says the Constitutionalist, 7th inst., while on their way from Blackville to Johnson's Turnout, were attacked by a party of white men at White Post.

General Butler's appeal to attend the reception of General Grant's flag is a variety of comments; the Philadelphia Age closes its article on the subject with the very unkind remark (italic and all): "It is said Mr. Grant's anxiety of watching his plate while the Imp is present, and his labor of changing his boots after he had left."

Manufactures in the South.

In this issue of the Advertiser will be found the admirable letter of Gov. Orr to the German Society of the city of New York.

In this letter Gov. Orr says what is profoundly true; that the need in South Carolina is not so much for agricultural labor, as for mechanical and manufacturing labor.

Resolved, That so soon as the treaty is perfected, the Government of the United States take immediate steps to remove and protect in their new homes, the colony, which shall consist of the a tire colored population of the United States.

Our Club Rates.

We are now furnishing the ADVERTISER to Clubs at the following reduced rates:

THE DEAREST SPOT OF EARTH. The dearest spot of earth to us is A. STEVENS'S, a little below the Planter's Hotel, Augusta, Ga.

PLUM & LEITNER. 211 Broad Street, Augusta, Ga. One of those brilliant looking places, where one sees huge glass globes, red and blue and green and yellow, in the window; and toilet articles of fairly like beauty; and rarities of Bohemian Glass ornaments; and when, as one passes, float upon the air, odors of Night-Blooming Cereus and Egyptian Lotus.

HARDWARE, GUNS, PISTOLS, &c., &c., Ad Infinitum. We invite special attention to the announcement to-day of Mr. D. D. COHEN, No. 218 Broad St., Augusta, Ga.

General Howard has issued a circular letter to the Assistant Commissioners of the Freedmen's Bureau, giving instructions for dealing with the question of matrimony among the freed people.

The Chicago Republican has a telegram from Cincinnati, stating that a private despatch, which is entirely reliable, from Washington, had received there, stating that Mr. Stanton would soon resign.

From far-off Benneville, the county seat of Marlborough District, by which flows the Great Pee Dee, comes to us a new and promising paper—the Eastern So. Journal.

Mr. J. M. Witt's Advertisement. As will be seen, by reference to another column, Mr. Witt has lately received a large number of "Burial Cases and Caskets."

An Excellent Pen. Messrs. R. ESTERBROOK & CO., New York, have our thanks for a few of their superior Steel Pens.

Remedy for Small Pox. A gentleman of veracity, one who has had Small Pox in his family, and in his neighborhood, has placed in our possession for publication the following recipe for the cure of Small Pox, which, he assures us, has been successfully used in several cases that have come under his observation.

Turned Up Again. The Rev. Dr. French has turned up again. Gen. Smith, Asst. Com'r. Bureau Refugees, Freedmen and Abandoned Lands, under date of Charleston, Feb. 7, has issued the following order:

Colonel Wm. P. Thomson, Commissioner of the Freedmen's Bureau, Louisville, Kentucky, has been indicted by the grand jury for obstructing the course of public justice.

General Joseph E. Johnston arrived in Washington on the 5th to testify before the Reconstruction Committee.

The trial of Mr. Biggers Mobley, of Chester, for an assault and battery upon one of his freedwomen, with intent to kill, has resulted in a verdict of Guilty.

The Atlanta Intelligencer, of the 25th, says: Mrs. Davis, wife of ex-President Jefferson Davis, reached this city on Saturday night, and left on Sunday morning for New Orleans, whither she goes as the guest of Gen. Howell Cobb for a short time.

The Charleston Courier says that $125,000 have been subscribed in that city for the purpose of securing white laborers for South Carolina.
