Request Blanks Give Trouble.

Columbia State.
Gov. Hayward has addressed a letter to the State board of dispensary directors stating his position in regard to the use of request books. This letter was brought out by the action of the county auditor of Lee who, positively refuses to handle the books on the ground that the other duties of his office take up all of his time. There was also a letter written by County Auditor Gibbes of Richland, along the same lines. At a recent conference with the attorney general and Commissioner Tatum it was decided to place the responsibility on the county boards and the letter written by the governor to the State board explains his idea as to the law. It is as follows:
Hon. J. M. Rawlinson, Chairman State Board of Directors, Columbia, S. C.
Dear Sir: Your recent communication, through Mr. M. H. Mobley, clerk, enclosing copy of resolutions adopted at a meeting of the State board of directors, held March 6th, 1906, in regard to the use of request books, has been received. With this communication came also a copy of a letter from Mr. W. S. James, member of the county board of control which have been... does not care to have, request books used because it would make, as they think, the dispensary law unpopular in that county.

I wish it plainly understood that I am ready at all times to see that those officers under my jurisdiction, who have any duties in connection with the dispensary, fully discharge these duties.
The first step, it occurs to me, is for the county boards to see that the law with reference to request books is enforced by the dispensers themselves, and if in the discharge of this duty it is found that officers under my jurisdiction refuse to do their duty then it is time for me to take action.
I wish to assure your board of my purpose to operate with you at all times, and if for any reason request books should not be generally used it will not be through any lack of cooperation on my part. And I will be very glad if you will at any time call my attention to any specific direction on the part of any officers appointed by me.
I am advised by the comptroller general that the county auditors or account of the large volume of business where the use of request books is enforced will not have time to check up the books and give suggestions to their other duties, in connection with the tax department, as they should. The primary duty of an auditor is in connection with the tax department and I am satisfied that in the interest of the enforcement of law and business economy that arrangements can and should be made by which the county auditor can get such assistance through the county boards as will make it possible to have a thorough system of checking up. Should this assistance to auditors be furnished by the county boards the expense will be slight and will be equally borne by both county and town, as it should be.
The law is plain with reference to the use of request blanks. I fully sympathize with your board in its efforts to enforce this law whenever a county auditor refuses to carry out the law when assistance is furnished him, or when it is shown that he is able to perform the work without assistance, that I will promptly remove him from office upon the same being reported to me.
Very truly yours,
D. C. Hayward,
Governor.

GUBERNATORIAL RACE

State Senator Cole L. Bleese States His Position, as a Candidate For Governor, on the Dispensary and Other Matters.

Newberry, Special.—State Senator Cole L. Bleese was seen and his attention was called to the reports published in the newspapers throughout the State to the effect that he would be in the next gubernatorial campaign. Mr. Bleese was asked to make a definite statement in regard to his candidacy. He was asked the direct question, "Will you be a candidate for Governor this summer?"

"Yes, sir; I am in the race," he said, "I have been for some time and expect to be in until the finish."
"It appears that probably the leading issue in the coming campaign will be the liquor question; what is your position on the dispensary?" was asked Mr. Bleese.

"I think it very unfortunate that our people should have reached the point where dealing with the whiskey problem is to be the paramount issue of the State campaign," he replied; "especially at this time when matters commercial and industrial. There are many things which the people should consider in electing their officers besides this one. However, in 1892 I voted for the dispensary and I have been from that time and am now in favor of the dispensary system. That is; I am in favor of the repeal of the Bribe law. I am in favor of the dispensary system for the handling of the whiskey question, as I believe it to be the best solution. I think it too large a question to be made a local issue. It is a State issue, and should be decided by the whole people of the State in a primary election. I have always opposed submitting it in a general election, because that would allow a class of people to vote who should not be permitted to settle question between the white Democrats."

"Are you in favor of the State dispensary?"
"I am, because I believe it is the best way to manage the business. If, as some charge, it is corrupt, how much more corrupt would there be for corruption if there were 41 purchasing powers instead of one. In other words, I am in favor of the State dispensary management and the repeal of the Bribe law."

Mr. Bleese was asked what he would do with the counties which have already voted out the dispensary under the Bribe law.

"If the people of the State vote in favor of State management and the repeal of the Bribe law," was his reply, "the General Assembly would then pass such laws as would permit the dispensaries would be re-established therein. In 1901, when I was a candidate for Lieutenant Governor, I told the people all over the State that the whiskey question was not settled, although some candidates proclaimed from the stump in loud tones that it had been settled and that the people were satisfied. I knew then that it was not true and that the campaign then being managed in the form that it was was only to blind the dispensary people. It has come out as I predicted. The fight had then just begun. The combination against it of all its enemies was lying dormant for the purpose of striking it its death blow. Just as I thought the thing has turned out, and there are now people claiming to be for the dispensary who are hoping to get office upon it, and at heart would smash the life out of it if it were in their power."

"Are there any other matters which would like to mention?" was asked Senator Bleese.

"Yes, sir," he replied. "I am in favor of biennial sessions of the General Assembly. I am in favor of law prohibiting children under 17 years of age from working in cotton mills. I am in favor of a law limiting hours of labor in cotton mills to 10 hours per day, and for employees making it not more than 10 hours per day. I am in favor of liberal appropriation to Confederate soldiers' families, but no extensions for our State."

CONFERENCE AT END

Agreement Finally Reached At Algiers

NATIONS AGREE ON ALL POINTS

Controversy Regarding Morocco Which Threatened War Between France and Germany, Involving Other Powers, is Brought to an Amicable Conclusion After Long Conference Between Representatives of Contending Governments.

Algiers, Spain, by Cable.—The committee of the conference on Moroccan reforms reached an agreement on all points. This agreement will be sanctioned at the primary session of the conference.

A complete accord resulted from a long conference held between M. Revoll, head of the French mission, and Count von Tattenbath, of the German mission. The division and the policing of the ports of Morocco was arranged as follows:

Spain police Tatanan and Laurence; a Franco-Spanish mixed police will be established at Casablanca and Tangier and a French police alone will have charge of Magador, Safi, Mazagan and Rabat.

This gives France four Atlantic ports.

The duration of this police agreement was fixed at five years.

The settlement of the question of the State Bank of Morocco gives France three shares, including those of the French syndicate. The other nations have one share. Four banks supervisors will be appointed by the Bank of England, the Bank of France, the Imperial Bank of Germany, and Saxonia. The committee is visiting this country for the purpose of investigating the growth of cotton and its use by the manufacturers, and it will attend the annual convention of the New England Cotton Manufacturers' Association here April 25 and 26. The visitors will attend later a conference of growers and manufacturers of cotton to be held at Washington, D. C., and also propose to visit the cotton fields of the South.
