TAKE A DOSE OF PISO'S
THE BEST MEDICINE FOR COUGHS & COLDS

A Hot Time.
"That fellow cooked his reports."
"I suppose that is how he happened to get into a stew."

For COLDS and GRIP
Hicks' CAPUDINE is the best remedy—relieves the aching and feverishness—cures the Cough and restores normal conditions. It's liquid—effects immediately. 10c, 25c, and 50c. At drug stores.

It's up to a man to choose between two evils when he is asked to beat the carpet or take care of the baby while his wife does it.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets first put up 40 years ago. They regulate and invigorate, stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated tiny granules.

"Kin by Marriage."
A caller was talking to a small Harlem girl who is extravagantly fond of her mother. She likes her father well enough, but he is far from being first in her affections. The caller, knowing the situation, asked the child why she didn't love her father as she did her mother.
"Oh, you see," she explained, loftily, "he is only kin to us by marriage."

Church Unity.
Richard, aged five, was being interviewed in regard to his school work.
"And where do you go to Sunday school?" was next asked.
"To the Episcopal," he replied.
"What have you learned there?"
"Honor thy father and thy mother," he said. "And, do you know, I went down to the Methodist church the other day and they were teaching the same thing there!"—Lippincott's Magazine.

Mutual Expectations.
A notoriously close-fisted man was taking his golfing holiday in Scotland, where he hoped to improve his game, and by driving a hard bargain, had managed to secure the exclusive services of a first-class caddy, who was known to be a very good player.
"Mind, now," said the ambitious southerner, "I expect to receive some really good tips from you during my stay here, you understand?" "Aye," replied the Scotsman, hitching up the heavy bag. "An' Ah'm expectin' the like frae ye, ye ken."—Golf Illustrated.

Lovemaking and Practice.
The only way to become an expert at lovemaking is to practice. This was the information handed out to a handful of hearers by the Hindu philosopher, Sakharan Ganesh Pandit, in a lecture on "The Science of Love."
"Love is a divine discontent," said the philosopher, "and if you want to arouse love in others it can be done only by giving them love. How to develop the emotion of love in another is the great question of today—the art of making love. It needs a great deal of study and a great deal of practice."

Why the Boy Gave Thanks.
Alan had played the entire day with little brother without an impatient word. After saying his customary prayer that night, his mother suggested that he add: "I thank God I was not impatient with little brother today." This he did with much fervency; after which he remarked that there were some other things he would like to thank God for, and forthwith he closed his eyes and said:
"I thank God I offered my candy to mother before taking any myself."
"I thank God I offered my candy to little brother before taking any myself."
"And I thank God there was some left."—Lippincott's.

THE FIRST TASTE
Learned to Drink Coffee When a Baby.
If parents realized the fact that coffee contains a drug—caffeine—which is especially harmful to children, they would doubtless hesitate before giving the babies coffee to drink.
"When I was a child in my mother's arms and first began to nibble things at the table, mother used to give me sips of coffee. As my parents used coffee exclusively at meals I never knew there was anything to drink but coffee and water."
"And so I contracted the coffee habit early. I remember when quite young the continual use of coffee so affected my parents that they tried roasting wheat and barley, then ground it in the coffee-mill, as a substitute for coffee."
"But it did not taste right and they went back to coffee again. That was long before Postum was ever heard of. I continued to use coffee until I was 27, and when I got into office work, I began to have nervous spells. Especially after breakfast I was so nervous I could scarcely attend to my correspondence."
"At night, after having coffee for supper, I could hardly sleep, and on rising in the morning would feel weak and nervous."
"A friend persuaded me to try Postum. My wife and I did not like it at first, but later when boiled good and strong it was fine. Now we would not give up Postum for the best coffee we ever tasted."
"I can now get good sleep, am free from nervousness and headaches. I recommend Postum to all coffee drinkers."

Infantile Paralysis Puzzle.
Providence, R. I.—Since June 1 285 cases of infantile paralysis have been reported to the State Board of Health. Of this number 23 have resulted in death. Nine other suspected cases are being watched.
Every effort to determine the cause, treatment and cure of the malady have proved practically futile. Not only have children been afflicted, but many adults have been victims and several have died.

Few Farmers Die of It.
Washington—Tuberculosis alone is responsible for more than 50 per cent of the deaths among printers, lithographers and pressmen, according to an announcement of the Census Bureau.
Farmers and agriculturals generally suffer less from the disease than any other class of workers. Janitors, sextons, clerks, clerks, barbers and bartenders are others who suffer greatly from the ravages of the disease.

Conditional Pardon for Morse.
Washington—Friends of Charles W. Morse believe they have found a way for President Taft to let the convicted New York banker out of the Atlanta penitentiary without actually pardoning him. In effect it would be to parole Morse but that end would be accomplished by issuing a "conditional pardon." The banker's friends point out that President Cleveland pardoned a federal prisoner conditionally with the provision that he report to the U. S. attorney for the five years.

A Chain of Rural Schools.
Washington—Looking beyond the political phase of the elections November 8, the department of agriculture officials are awaiting the outcome of the vote that a Kentucky county will cast on a proposed $500,000 bond issued for a modern system of rural schools. Jefferson county, one of the wealthiest in the Bluegrass region, following a movement of its citizens purposes to supplant the small district schools in its jurisdiction with a chain of rural schools.

MIGHTIEST GATES MADE.

Steel Portals That Will Lock Panama Canal—Hundreds of Men Shape Tons of Steel.

Pittsburg.—Enormous gates are being made in Pittsburg for the Panama Canal. They will be the largest in the world. Any one of the 92 of them, for there are to be 46 pairs in all, will be about as high as a 6-story building, as wide (65 feet) as many city buildings are, and 7 feet deep, or thick. The structural steel that will go to make them will weigh 60,000 tons, or more than 8 times as much as was used to build the Eiffel Tower in Paris.

The mighty portals, designed to admit a world's commerce from one ocean to another, will cost $5,500,000. The builders are the McClintic Marshall Steel Construction Company, a half of whose independent plant here has been given over entirely to the gate contract. Of the 60,000 tons of steel required the heaviest single pieces will weigh about 18 tons.

The thousands of individual pieces, numbered and fitted to go together as children's blocks, will be shipped by steamer via Baltimore and with the will go over 400 skilled structural steel builders from Pittsburg to set them up. The advance guard of experts leaves here in December and the first work will probably begin early in 1911. It will take three years to complete the job.

AUTOS IN POSTAL SERVICE.

Plan to Serve Several Rural Routes With One Car.

Washington.—Expedition of the mails by the extension of the use of automobiles in the postal service is being arranged by the Postoffice Department. Heavy automobile express wagons are being substituted for the old type of horse-drawn wagons used in transporting the mails between the railway stations and postoffices and their various branches. The Postmaster General has signed contracts for four additional automobiles to be used in the mail collection service at Cleveland and for three at Indianapolis.

The motorcycle is being extensively used in the collection of mails in suburban towns. One plan for the rural delivery service is the substitution of light automobiles for horse carts to cover several routes.

JAIL FOR RICH AUTOMOBILIST.

Ran Down and Injured Couple Out Driving in Carriage.

Norristown, Pa.—W. Gordon Dyer, one of the wealthiest men of this place, who was convicted of aggravated assault and battery because an automobile he was driving ran down and injured a man and wife riding in a carriage, was sentenced to nine months' imprisonment in the county prison and to pay a fine of $250.

Dyer, while driving his automobile on September 10, ran down the carriage driven by Walter Smith, near here. Smith and his wife were badly injured and their horse was killed.
Dyer's father was a railroad contractor and quarryman, and left an estate worth more than $1,000,000.

"Bearded Lady" a Bride

South Bend, Ind.—Grace Gilbert, who has been the "bearded lady" attraction of several road shows, was married here to Giles E. Calvin, a farmer of Kalkaska, Mich.
The bride has a beard 18 inches long, while the groom boasts nothing but a mustache.

Summary.

Comptroller General Jones will shortly send out a letter to the county auditors of the State, calling upon them for the income tax returns. The amount received by the State last year for income taxes was approximately $20,000. The comptroller general is of the opinion that the amount should have been at least $50,000.
The second annual county fair of the Colleton County Fair Association will be held November 8-11.
Hugo Richards Garden, organizer and captain of the famous Confederate Palmetto Battery, died at Southport, New York. Death was caused by apoplexy. Mr. Garden was 70 years old and was born at Columbia. He was a lawyer in New York for 25 years.
The Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, of Lee county, offered a prize of $10 for the cheapest corn production, which was won by Harry C. Brearly, his cost per bushel being 30 cents. He also produced 71 1-4 bushels on his acre.
Elaborate ceremonies attended the presentation to the battleship South Carolina of the naval trophy won by that ship in attaining highest percentages in the spring and summer target and manoeuvre practices of the Atlantic fleet off the Virginia and Massachusetts coasts.
The average yield of corn per acre in South Carolina has increased from seven bushels in 1900 to 16.7 bushels in 1909, as against 37 bushels in 1900 and 35.9 bushels in 1909 in the State of Illinois.
Two miles north of Pickens, State Constable C. L. Cureton captured M. M. Cook with eighteen gallons of liquor. His mule and buggy were confiscated. Mr. Cook stated that he bought the whiskey in the mountains of North Carolina. He is in jail waiting for Court of General Sessions.
One of the most substantial reports on corn production that has been made to the United States farm demonstration is by L. C. Chappelle, of Richland county. He produced 88 bushels of corn on nine acres of land.

VITAL PALMETTO EVENTS

Condensed News Items of General Interest Gathered Within the State Boundary Lines.

CORN EDUCATION.

Free Bulletins for School Teachers on Corn Production.

The United States department of agriculture has recently issued two bulletins of universal interest to rural teachers. They have been prepared by Dick J. Crosby and F. W. Howe, specialists in agricultural education, and are entitled "School Lessons on Corn" and "School Exercises in Plant Production." These bulletins are based on the sensible assumption that the child is primarily interested in the practical and experimental side of any science, and that any general interest in agriculture will be the result of some special agricultural experiment in which he may be engaged.
Three thousand boys in South Carolina this year raised an acre of corn. Many of them will receive the diploma awarded by the State board of education for producing twenty-five bushels per acre. We confidently expect five thousand boys to take part in the corn contest next year. The air is full of corn talk. The teacher of South Carolina should have a part in extending this movement and should use this acute special interest as a means of teaching general agriculture.

Through the kindness of the department of agriculture and the courtesy of Senator Tillman, Mr. W. K. Tate, State supervisor of elementary rural schools, has 5,000 copies of these bulletins for distribution. A supply has been sent by him to each county superintendent of education. Any teacher may have copies of these bulletins by writing to Mr. Tate in Columbia.

The Capers Republican Convention.

The "lily white" Republican convention called by John G. Capers, national committeeman from this State, met with delegates from all but nine counties and formed a party organization, the prime object of which is to eliminate the negro from the councils of the party and build up opposition which will have some influence in elections. The convention decided not to put out a ticket this year, but to nominate candidates for Congress in all seven South Carolina districts in 1912.

Magistrate Carn "Not Guilty."

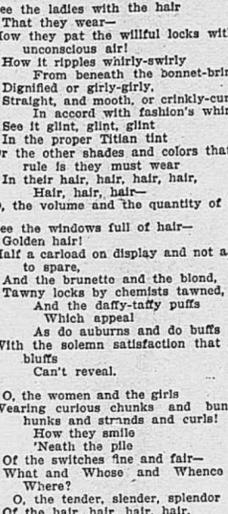

Dallas V. Carn, the Berkeley county magistrate, who was arrested for the murder of James Varner, a negro man, over whose body he held an inquest, following the murder of Varner, was discharged from custody. Magistrate Wilder, of St. Johns, before whom the preliminary hearing was held here, Julius Dangerfield, who was arrested on the same day and on the same charge, has been bound over for trial at the term of the Court of General Sessions, which convenes at Moncks Corner on Monday, November 7.

Invited to Monument Unveiling.

Gov. Ansel and the members of his staff have been invited to attend the unveiling exercises of the monument to Gen. James Shields, veteran of three wars, United States Senator from three States and who was presented with a beautiful sword by this State, for services rendered in the Mexican war, at Carrollton, Mo., on November 12.

The ONLOOKER
By WILBUR D. NESBIT

The Hair

(With the obviously necessary apology.)
See the ladies with the hair
That they wear—
How they pat the willful locks with an unconscious air!
How it ripples whirly-swirly
From beneath the bonnet-brim,
Dignified or girly-girly,
Straight, and smooth, or crinkly-curly
And according with fashion's whim.
See it glint, glint, glint
In the proper Titian tint
Or the other shades and colors that the rule is they must wear
In their hair, hair, hair, hair,
Hair, hair, hair—
O, the volume and the quantity of hair!
See the windows full of hair—
Golden hair!
Half a carload on display and not a lock to spare,
And the brunette and the blond,
Tawny locks by chemists tawnyed,
And the daffy-taffy puts
Which appeal
As do auburns and do buffe
With the solemn satisfaction that their bluffs
Can't reveal.
O, the women and the girls
Wearing curious chunks and bunches,
Hunks and strands and curls!
How they smile
'Neath the pile
Of the switches fine and fair—
What and Whose and Whence and Where?
O, the tender, slender, splendor
Of the hair, hair, hair, hair,
Hair, hair, hair—
O, the gleaming and the seeming of it,
hair!
Ah, when their heads are bare
Of the hair!
When it covers all the table and is scattered everywhere,
Telling tales of tonics tested till they gave up in despair!
How it clutters, clutters, clutters
Every inch there is of space
How it flutters, flutters, flutters
From the hooks and every place—
Here a switch and there a switch
Till they don't know which is which,
And the bed, the door, the bureau, and the window sill and chair,
Bear the hair, hair, hair, hair,
Hair, hair, hair—
Bear the airy, fairy plentitude of hair!

A True Story.
"The hat is very becoming to you," declared the salesman.
"I'm not sure. I can't make up my mind," says the customer, studying the mirror.
"Oh, but it is. It suits your face exactly. You have a face, if you will pardon me for saying so, that calls for hats of a style few people can wear. Now, put that hat on anybody else and they wouldn't wear it with the distinction that you will."
"But isn't it too wide?"
"No, indeed. With a straight, finely chiseled nose like yours, and with your eyes, you can wear a wide hat. That's the very hat for you."
"That's just it. If any one of a hundred others could wear this hat as you can they would be delighted. It isn't everybody whose face is of the exact type for this hat. You'll take it? Thank you."
No, gentle reader. This is not another lowdown fling at women and their senseless subservience to fashion. This is a verbatim report of the sale of a new hat to a man.

The Coming Hit.
"This is great!" says the delighted manager to the happy author. "This is by all odds the finest libretto I have ever seen for a comic opera. You are the worthy successor to Gilbert and Sullivan. Where did you get the idea for this?"
"It was easy," modestly answers the author, pocketing the check for advance royalties. "I simply took the reports of a Paris murder trial and worked in a few topical songs here and there."

As Far as She Was Concerned.
"Pardon me, may I have this chair?"
"I presume so. But perhaps you would better ask the proprietor before you take it away with you."

The Average.
"What do you mean by 'the average man?'" we ask of the student of human nature.
"I mean," he explains, "the result that would be reached if we could subtract 'as bad as others think you' from 'as good as you think yourself to be.'"

Arousing Envy.
"Ah," mused the vain young woman, hastening through the heavy snow-storm, "there are those hateful Jones girls. They are always commenting because I wear last season's dresses and cloaks. Now they'll be eaten up with envy because they'll think I have a new polka dot outfit."

Repentance.
"And aren't you sorry, now that your quarrel with Brown is all over?"
"Sorry? Indeed, yes. Since I stopped speaking to him I have thought of a dozen cutting things I might have said to him."

AWFUL BURNING ITCH CURED IN A DAY
"In the middle of the night of March 30th I woke up with a burning itch in my two hands and I felt as if I could pull them apart. In the morning the itching had gone to my chest and during that day it spread all over my body. I was red and raw from the top of my head to the soles of my feet and I was in continual agony from the itching. I could neither lie down nor sit up. I happened to see about Cuticura Remedies, and I thought I would give them a trial. I took a good bath with the Cuticura Soap and used the Cuticura Ointment. I put it on from my head down to my feet and then went to bed. On the first of April I felt like a new man. The itching was almost gone. I continued with the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment and during that day the itching completely left me. Frank Gridley, 325 East 43rd Street, New York City, Apr. 27, 1909." Cuticura Remedies are sold throughout the world; Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props, Boston, Mass.

"That First Invented Sleep."
"Now blessings light on him that first invented this same sleep! It covers a man all over, thoughts and all, like a cloak; it is meat for the hungry, drink for the thirsty, heat for the cold, and cold for the hot. It is the current coin that purchases all the pleasures of the world cheap; and the balance that sets the king and the shepherd, the fool and the wise man even. There is only one thing, which somebody once put into my head, that I dislike in sleep—it is that it resembles death. There is very little difference between a man in his first sleep and a man in his last sleep."
From Cervantes.

When He Hedged on Faith.
"Dar's nuttin' lak' faith," said Brother Williams. "I once prayed a fat turkey off a high roost, but the sheriff took him 'f'm ez I wuz gwine home ter cook him, an' I wuz took ter jail."
"Why didn't you pray your way out of jail?"
"I would 'adome it," was the reply, "but I didn't want Providence ter know I was in no sich place."

Thynn—Yes. Did you have it made at an upholsterer's?

Weak Heart
Many people suffer from weak hearts. They may experience shortness of breath on exertion, pain over the heart, or dizzy feelings, oppressed breathing after meals or their eyes become blurred, their heart is not sufficiently strong to pump blood to the extremities, and they have cold hands and feet, or poor appetite because of weakened blood supply to the stomach. A heart tonic and alterative should be taken which has no bad after-effect. Such is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which contains no dangerous narcotics nor alcohol.
The ingredients, as attested under oath, are Stone root (Collinsonia Canadensis), Bloodroot (Sanguinaria Canadensis), Golden Seal root (Hydrastis Canadensis), Queen's root (Silingia Sylvania), Black Cherry bark (Prunus Virginiana), Mandrake root (Podophyllum Peltatum), with triple refined glycerine, prepared in a scientific laboratory in a way that no drug could imitate.
This tonic contains no alcohol to shrink up the red blood corpuscles; but, on the other hand, it increases their number and they become round and healthy. It helps the human system in the constant manufacture of rich, red blood. It helps the stomach to assimilate or take up the proper elements from the food, thereby helping digestion and curing dyspepsia, heart-burn and many uncomfortable symptoms, stops excessive tissue waste in convalescence from fevers; for the run-down, anemic, thin-blooded people, the "Discovery" is refreshing and vitalizing. Stick to this safe and sane remedy, and refuse all "just as good" medicines offered by the druggist who is looking for a larger profit. Nothing but Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will do you half as much good.
