

NATURE'S CURE-ALL

Cure a felon. —
 Cure malaria. —
 Lemon juice will:
 Prevent diphtheria.
 Make the hair fluffy.
 Beautify the complexion.
 Cure a sore throat or cough.
 Drive away a sick headache.
 For the hair, add the juice of a lemon to the last rinsing water of a shampoo.
 For a sore throat, gargle with pure, undiluted, unsweetened lemon juice.
 For a cough or cold, mix equal parts of lemon juice and strained honey, and take a tablespoonful ever hour.
 For malaria, mix the juice of half a lemon with two tablespoonfuls of water and a little sugar, and drink three times a day.
 For a sick headache, mix one part lemon juice and two parts boiling water, and sip a teacupful as hot as possible every two hours.
 For a felon, cut off the end of a lemon, stick the finger into the hole and bind it on. Let it stay for a day or two, when it will be ready to lance.
 For the complexion, mix equal parts of rose water and glycerin and dip a cut lemon into this and rub the face with it. After it dries, rub with cold cream.

SIGNS AND SUPERSTITIONS

A cat's sneeze is said to be a sure sign of rain.
 A goat has a peculiar cry which it utters when rain is near.
 The bark of a fox at night is said to be a sure sign of storm.
 The sand mole makes a mournful sound when the frost is near.
 If the deer's coat is gray in October, a severe winter is to follow.
 It is regarded as a sure sign of death in Germany to hear a cricket's cry.
 Rain is, in many parts of this country, expected to follow close upon the loud chirping of crickets.

At the sixteenth century wherever spiders were seen gold existed also.

An insect sacred to the Egyptians, the beetle has small place in plain folklore. It is considered unlucky in England to kill a beetle.

The ancients maintained that there was a close connection between bees and the soul. Porphyry speaks of "those souls which the ancients called bees."

German tribes regard stag beetles as of a diabolic origin, and all beetles are thoroughly detested in Erin. It is believed that to see a beetle will bring a heavy rainstorm upon the following day.

FACTS AND FANCIES

Any form of torture is preferable to that inflicted by the rustic seat.
 Hero is another inviolable rule: No boy preacher knows much about sin.
 Some men are born that way. Others grow round shouldered carrying life insurance.
 The trouble with the amateur show is that two or more performances nearly always are given.
 One husband is as good as a college education, yet some women insist upon a post-graduate course.
 A hero may also be described as a man who has taken the precaution to establish friendly relations with the reporters.

The recent charge that George Ade isn't funny can also be substantiated in the case of any other citizen against whom it may be brought.

When a man spends half his time bending his elbow over a bar he ought not to complain of a cramp when he has to sign a few checks.

FROM "BECAUSE OF JANE"

"There are but two classes of people in the world—the born getters and the born givers."
 "The young at heart will always like to see a fat man sit down suddenly on the floor. Verbal witticisms are no use to them."
 "The ladies talked together about clothes, and characters, and complaints, and children—the four of which comprise the whole polite female after-dinner conversation."

"She always had the indefinite feeling that tomorrow was going to be splendid. Some people keep it until they die. And to lose it—their age."—Because of Jane, by J. M. Rose.

Don't Let Baby Suffer With Eczema and Sk. Eruptions.

Babies need a perfect skin-covering. Skin eruptions cause them not only intense suffering, but hinder their growth. Dr. Hobson's Eczema Ointment can be relied on for relief and permanent cure of suffering babies whose skin eruptions have made their life miserable. "Our baby was afflicted with breaking out of the skin all over the face and scalp. Doctors and skin specialists failed to help. We tried Dr. Hobson's Eczema Ointment and were overjoyed to see baby completely cured before one box was used" writes Mrs. Strubler, Dubuque, Iowa. All druggists or by mail, 50c. Mother of Eighteen Children

"I am the mother of eighteen children and have the praise of doing more work than any young woman in my town" writes Mrs. C. J. Margin, Boone Mill, Va. I suffered for five years with stomach troubles and could not eat as much as a biscuit without suffering. I have taken three bottles of Chamberlain's Tablets and am now a well woman and weigh 168 pounds. I can eat anything I want to, and as much as I want and feel better than I have at any time in ten years. I refer to any one in Boone Mill or vicinity and they will vouch for what I say. Chamberlain's Tablets are for sale by all dealers.
