

Office No. 61.
Residence, No. 17.

Wednesday, Feb. 2.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Trenton: Service in Presbyterian church at 8 p. m.

Ex-Gov. J. C. Sheppard spent Monday and Tuesday in Columbia.

Mr. Arthur S. Tompkins spent last week in Charlotte on business.

Mrs. S. E. Matthews of Kinston, N. C., is here visiting her daughter, Mrs. Chalmers Hughes.

Subject for Sunday in the Presbyterian church is "How to get rich and stay so." 11:15.

Mr. W. T. Reel was in town Saturday on business. His Edgefield friends are always glad to see him.

District Attorney J. Wm. Thurmond went to Greenwood Monday morning to attend the United States court.

Mr. Allen T. Samuel spent the week-end here with his family. He is now making Columbia his headquarters.

See the new Post-Card Photos in beautiful folders at Miss Eliza Mims' Studio. Something new—only $2.00 per dozen.

Now that Mr. Wiley Wells has broken the ice it should be easier for office seekers to take a plunge in the political pool.

Mrs. Carrie Cave of Charleston and Mrs. W. B. Johnson of Blackville spent last week here with their niece, Mrs. Chalmers Hughes.

We are grateful to those who have paid their subscription since we made the appeal. There are others yet who should heed the request.

Give attention to the garden as soon as the weather will permit. No more wholesome diet can be provided than tender, succulent vegetables for the spring and early summer.

Who can blame a mule for kicking when its owner feeds it by putting the ears of corn on the bare ground? If the average individual were treated thus, he would kick harder than a mule.

The regular meeting of the Edgefield chapter, U. D. C., will be held at the home of Mrs. R. A. Marsh Tuesday afternoon, February 8, at 3:30 o'clock. All members are requested to pay their dues at this meeting.

Do not fail to make your tax returns by February 20. Edgefield's capable and courteous auditor can be found in his office every day until that date. After the 20th the law provides a penalty for all unreturned property.

Judging from the number of kegs of manure that are being hauled from Edgefield now, one would think the soil of this section does not produce cane. A sorghum patch is a part of a farmer's plan for "readiness" to live at home.

We are now passing into February scarcely more than a dozen commercial fertilizers have been received from Edgefield this year. The unsatisfactory analysis of these high prices cause farmers buying later than usual.

It is money in raising stock, good stock. A gentleman does not many miles from Edgefield sold a yoke of oxen for $150. Ten years ago such a yoke would have been considered exorbitant but it is not so now. Higher prices prevail along all the roads.

M. Miner, the old war hero whom everybody esteems highly, came down to the Edgefield meeting and remained over Sunday. He said that there is more grain in his section than last year and that it is looking unusually well. In fact some of it is so far advanced.

We welcome "Polly Flinders" of Parkville to the news columns of this Advertiser. She is a good writer, and we would be delighted to have a letter from her every week. And the scores of Parkville readers of The Advertiser would likewise be delighted to have her chronicle the weekly happenings of this progressive community.

Business Meeting.

The Advertiser has been requested to announce that there will be a business meeting of the members of Horn's Creek church at the church next Sunday afternoon at three o'clock. All members are requested to be present.

Valentine Party.

All ye young maids and old, prepare for the leap-year opportunity that will be given by the ladies of the Methodist church Thursday night, February 10. At that time they will give a Valentine party in the opera house. Fuller announcement will appear next week.

Fine Race Horse.

While in Edgefield yesterday Mr. J. W. Hudson told us that he has just returned from Grovetown where he has Mr. R. L. Williams, the expert horse trainer from Michigan, training his blooded racer on the track of Mr. J. L. Dodge from New York. Mr. Hudson's fine mare is in the best of hands and is making a good record.

Sunday School Specialists.

Friday afternoon of this week at 3:30 o'clock Mr. Webb, general secretary of the state Inter-Denominational Sunday School convention, will speak in the Methodist church. Another meeting will also be held at the same place at night. Miss Agnes Ravenel, another experienced Sunday school worker, will be present and speak on elementary improvements in the Sunday school. The public is cordially invited to both the afternoon and night services.

Union Meeting at Edgefield.

A very pleasant and profitable session of the union meeting of the first division was held at Edgefield Saturday. Sunday morning the delegates listened to a very inspiring sermon by Dr. Jones. Mr. M. B. Hamilton was elected moderator of the union and Mr. Lemuel Harling secretary. The topics were very generally discussed Saturday to the profit of all present. A delightful dinner was served at the church Saturday. The next union meeting will be held at Stevens Creek church.

Good Man First to Announce.

The Advertiser's candidates column for 1916 starts with the formal announcement this week of Mr. W. G. Wells, one of the sterling citizens of the Colliers section, as a candidate for supervisor. Mr. Wells is known throughout the length and breadth of the county, having loyal friends in each section. He has filled this office before, giving the people a good, conservative, business-like administration of their affairs. If he is elected again this year, he will serve them to the best of his ability. His platform appears in full in this issue.

Frances Willard Meeting.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will hold their monthly meeting and annual observance of the Heavenly birthday of Frances Willard on Monday the 7th at the home of Mrs. Lovick Smith. Each member is requested to bring a contribution to the Frances Willard Memorial Fund.

The following is the program: Devotions, Mrs. J. W. Peak. Paper, "Prison reform," Mrs. W. B. Cogburn.

"Old letters of reminiscence," Miss Mary Evans.

Duett, Misses Eliza Mims and Mrs. E. J. Norris, "We are coming, dear leader."

"A life story of Frances Willard" Mrs. E. P. Jones.

"Reminiscences of early days," written by Mrs. R. C. Hoyt of Columbia, Miss Sallie May Nicholson.

Another Candidate For Supervisor.

The first announcement for our candidates' column was left at The Advertiser office Monday morning. The second announcement was made by Mr. J. W. Hudson who was reared in the lower section of the county where he now lives and has had considerable experience in road building in that section. Frequently he has been consulted in the past as to the best method of working the roads in his section. He has also had charge of the ferry near his home for a number of years. He has never before held public office but rendered valuable service to the people of 1876 when as a mere boy he took part in quelling the Hamburg riot. If elected Mr. Hudson will move to Edgefield where he will be centrally located, serving the people faithfully in every section.

Electric Lights for Saluda.

Saluda, January 28.—The town council has granted a twenty-year franchise for the installation and operation of an electric light and power plant to F. A. Hugh, of Atlanta, Ga. Under the terms of the franchise work is to be started within 90 days on the plant and it must be finished and in operation within six months from date. The business section of the town is to be furnished with a twenty-four-hour service and the residence section all-night service at a rate not exceeding 12¢ cents per kilowatt. The agreement requires that the plant must cost at least $6,000.

Death of Miss Mamie E. Lake.

The announcement of the sudden death of Miss Mamie Lake, which occurred Tuesday afternoon at four o'clock, was a great shock to her friends. She spent the month of January in Atlanta visiting relatives and some of her friends here had not heard of her return prior to the announcement of her death. She died of heart failure, life becoming extinct before a physician could reach her. Miss Lake was a daughter of the lamented Dr. John Lake. She was an active member of the Baptist church and was always a regular attendant upon Sunday school and the services of her church. She was also one of the most active members of the Edgefield chapter, U. D. C., having served as historian during the past year.

The funeral will be held in the Baptist church this afternoon and the interment will take place in the village cemetery. She is survived by one sister, Mrs. R. H. Mims.

Reading Notice.

The Charlotte Observer is offering a bargain rate to new and regular subscribers for the next thirty days. Their advertisement which appears in this paper today announces that subscriptions will be accepted to The Daily and Sunday Observer at a rate of six dollars per year; or the Daily only at five dollars. The regular price for the paper is eight dollars per year.

The Observer has made remarkable strides forward in the past few months, and with the announcement of this bargain subscription they also state that several new features will be added. First, and the most important, is the leasing of a special wire to Washington, which will be an additional service which puts them to quite an expense; a wealthy page by Herbert Kaufman, one of the most well-known writers in America today; also a full-page article on "Europe's Battlefront Lessons for America," by Frederick Palmer, the most famous war correspondent in the world.

Death of Miss Ella Scurry.

Early this morning our community was saddened by the announcement of the death of Miss Ella Scurry which occurred at her home at two o'clock this morning. Her health has been steadily declining for a year or more, much of the time being confined to her home. However, her friends and loved ones were not prepared for the separation, as her condition was not alarming until near the end. While Miss Scurry mingled but little with the people of the community, yet she always greeted most cordially the friends who called at her home. Her genial disposition and kindly manner won for her many friends.

She was born and reared in Saluda county where she has a large family connection. She was a member of Good Hope church in Saluda county near where she was reared.

The funeral will be conducted from the Baptist church this afternoon and her body will be laid to rest beside the grave of her brother, Mr. Ralph Scurry, who died about eight years ago.

Miss Scurry leaves two brothers, Mr. P. B. Scurry of Saluda and Mr. J. R. Scurry of Edgefield.

FOR SUPERVISOR.

To the Citizens of Edgefield County: I respectfully announce myself as a candidate for Supervisor of your county, and if elected will try to serve the people as near right as I conceive, pledging myself to abide by the results of the election, and support the nominees of the democratic party.

W. G. WELLS.

I hereby announce that I am a candidate for the office of Supervisor of Edgefield county and solicit the support of the people, pledging myself, if elected, to serve the people to the best of my ability and to abide the results of the Democratic primary election.

J. W. HUDSON.

THE BRAVEST BATTLE.

The bravest battle that ever was fought—
Shall I tell you where and when?
On the maps of the world you will find it not;
Twas fought by the mothers of men.

No, not with cannons or battle shot,
With sword or noble pen;
Nay, not with eloquent word or
From the lips of wonderful men.

But deep in a welled-up woman's heart,
A woman who would not yield,
But bravely, silently bore her part,
Lo! there is that battle field!

No marshalling troop, no bivouac song,
No banner to gleam and wave;
But oh! these battles, they last so long—
From babyhood to the grave.

Yet fateful still as the mighty stars
She fights in her walled-up town,
Fights on and on, in the endless wars
Then silent, unseen, goes down.

Oh, ye with banners and battle shot,
And soldiers to shout and praise,
I tell you the kinliest victories fought
Are fought in these silent ways.

Oh, spotless woman in a world of shame!
With splendid and silent scorn,
Go back to God as white as you came,
The kinliest warrior born.

Cigarettes for Minors.

There are a great many people who, upon reading about the recent fining of a man and his wife in Spartanburg county for selling cigarettes to minors, seem to have gotten the idea that these fines were imposed under a local law applicable to Spartanburg county alone; but in this they are mistaken. The law applies to the whole state, and is found in section 420 of the criminal code of 1912, as follows:

"It shall not be lawful for any persons or persons, either by himself or themselves, to sell, furnish, give, or provide any minor or minors under the age of 18 years, with cigarettes, tobacco, cigarette papers, or any substitute therefor. Any person or persons violating the provisions of the preceding section, either in person, or by agent or in any other way, shall be held and deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon indictment and conviction therefor, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars, or by imprisonment for a term of not more than one year nor less than two months, or both, in the discretion of the court; one-half of the fine imposed to be paid to the informer of the offense, and the other half to be paid to the treasurer of the county in which conviction shall be held."

There did business in Yorkville a few years ago a merchant whose aversion to cigarettes was so great that he did not care much to sell them to anybody. He had a partner, however, who did not share his feelings on the subject and he had to sell cigarettes to keep peace. But when he learned of the law prohibiting the sale of cigarettes to minors, he had his inning. He pasted the law on a card and put it on his showcase in a position where it could readily be seen, and whenever a sallow-faced, attenuated little cigarette fiend came into his store for either the manufactured article or the makings, he took special pleasure in reading the law and telling the youngster to go along.

During his membership in the General Assembly Mr. S. H. Epps, of this county made especial efforts to get through a law prohibiting the sale of cigarettes and cigarette papers in South Carolina; but each time he made the effort a lobby of cigarette manufacturers appeared in sufficient force to defeat his proposed measure.—Yorkville Enquirer.
