Mr. Ben Rainsford of Greenville spent the week-end in Edgefield visiting relatives.

Miss Kellah Fair will go to Beech Island tomorrow to visit her brother Mr. Warren Fair.

About the time many a fellow gets "hand in" picking cotton this year it will all be out.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Ouzts of Johnston were guests of Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Corley Sunday.

Miss Mary Eleanor Moore of Honea Path, is visiting her cousin, Miss Margaret Madden.

Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Page of Dunn, N. C., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Foy A. Vause last week.

Miss Nellie Bryant is spending this week in Thompson Ga. with her brother, Mr. Trapp Bryant.

Mr. C. C. Fuller, of Longmires is here visiting his son, W. W. Fuller, and daughter, Mrs. W. A. Byrd.

Mrs. Jack Connell of Augusta, accompanied by her children, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Jack Paul.

Solicitor and Mrs. T. C. Callison spent Sunday in Edgefield visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Reel.

Mrs. W. D. Allen of Chappells is here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Hollingsworth.

Miss Clara Burdine of Anderson has been a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Reel the past week.

Miss Nell Paul and little sister, Helen, have returned from a visit to Augusta and other Georgia towns.

Mr. George Fitzmaurice of Columbia was the guest of Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Byrd several days last week.

Miss Edith Ouzts has been spending the past week with her Cousin, Miss Lucile Timmerman, of Pleasant Lane.

Mrs. Maggie T. Hill of Belvedere spent several days last week in Edgefield visiting her son, Mr. R. T. Hill.

Mrs. L. J. Blakely of Ora and Mrs. W. S. Boyd of Salter's Station are here visiting their parents, Rev. and Mrs. P. P. Blalock.

Mr. N. D. Robertson returned to his home in Augusta to-day after spending some time in and around Edgefield with relatives.

It is a mighty good time to begin work on a fall garden and did you ever see a time when a vegetable was more needed?

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Rubenstein of Augusta spent Saturday in Edgefield visiting Mrs. Rubenstein's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Prescott.

Misses Cora Watson and Orrie Coursey of Johnston have returned to their home after a week's visit to Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Watson.

If you owe us, bring us your Liberty bonds or Saving Stamps and we will accept them on account.
Yonce and Mooney.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Bogue of Orlando, Fla., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Warren, Jr., Mrs. Warren being a sister of Mr. Bogue.

Miss Nellie Bryant had as her guests last week, Miss Thelma Roney of Augusta, Miss Thelma Milford of Johnston and Miss Margaret Smith of Trenton.

Miss Aileen Dozier of Columbia is spending a portion of her mid-summer vacation in Edgefield with her sisters, Mrs. N. A. Smith and Miss Charlton Dozier.

Captain and Mrs. L. Y. Moore, accompanied by Miss Frances Moore and Master Wilbur Moore, left Sunday to spend two weeks in Portsmouth, Va., and Hickory, N.C.

Mr. S. B. Nicholson who has been chosen official cotton grader under the State Warehouse Commissioner for this district, is in Columbia taking a post-graduate in cotton grading.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Kemp spent last week visiting relatives in McRea, Ga. and St. Augustine Fla.

Mr. Foy A. Vause left Monday in his car to visit several places in his native state, North Carolina. He was accompanied by his mother and Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Page.

The 1921-22 session of the Edgefield graded and High school will begin Wednesday, Sept. 7. Superintendent Tatum is getting everything in readiness for an auspicious opening.

The man who reports the cotton crop from Edgefield and doesn't report it very low, is liable to be "histed" in midair on the horns of the "bulls."

Some one has predicted that cobwebs will be spun across the doors of public gineries in Edgefield county after the middle of October. Well we'll see.

Mrs. J. D. Holston, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Holston Jr., Mrs. C. A. Griffin and Mr. Perry Whatley left Monday over the Dixie Highway for Asheville to enjoy the mountain breezes.

Col. A. K. Sanders of Columbia, the man who has made such a splendid success as superintendent of the penitentiary, spent Sunday in Edgefield as a guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Smith.

Misses Kate Samuel and Ruth Lyon returned Monday from Atlanta where they purchased a large fall stock for the Quality Shop. Their fall announcement will appear in due season.

Miss Ethel Sheink is away from her post at the store of Mr. Israel Mukashy on her summer vacation. She motored to Greenwood Monday and from there she will go to the mountains.

Mr. W. H. Turner, the popular manager of the Corner Store, is enjoying a short period of rest this week, spending most of the time with his mother, Mrs. M. C. Turner, in Greenwood.

Professor Charles F. Brooks, who was superintendent of the Edgefield schools for the past two years has accepted the position of principal of the Pinckney Street school in Greenville for the next session.

Mr. W. F. West has sold his interest in the Edgefield Warehouse Company to Mr. S. B. Nicholson. This valuable property near the station is now owned by Mr. M. N. Deal, Mr. W. F. Holston and Mr. Nicholson.

The members of the Baptist and Presbyterian churches of Edgefield can sympathize with each other in their dire extremity. It appears that the former can't get a pastor and the latter can't keep one after they get him.

Mr. and Mrs. Norwood Cleveland left Edgefield last week for a trip of five weeks to Seattle, Washington. Their two little sons will remain in Edgefield with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Padgett, during their absence.

It is a good time now to anticipate your needs and have your fall stationery printed. The Advertiser job office was never better equipped than right now to do satisfactory work. Entire satisfaction or your money back. What more could we offer?

The attention of our readers is called to the advertisement of the Wright Sash, Door and Lumber Co. of Johnston in this issue. This Company is well equipped for supplying rough or dressed lumber and mill work of all kinds. Get their prices before placing your orders.

Mr. Victor Diatch, the progressive proprietor of The Hub, left Sunday for Baltimore and New York to purchase a large stock of fall merchandise for every department of his store. In due season he will make an announcement of his new fall arrivals.

Mr. W. A. Hart and his son, Mr. Blondell Hart, are visiting relatives in Edgefield. Mr. W. A. Hart will soon move his family to Inman to reside, and Mr. Blondell Hart, who is a graduate of the Citadel, will teach again in Clinton the approaching session.

Miss Hortense Woodson, who fills an important position on the force of the Newberry Herald and News as linotype operator and as society editor, is enjoying a vacation of a week here at home and she has been affectionately greeted by her friends. During the comparatively short time that Miss Woodson has resided in Newberry she made a large circle of friends and makes her real worth felt to the community.

Hon. and Mrs. John E. Swearingen of Columbia, accompanied by Mrs.

John Bunch, were guests of Mrs. Mary Norris and Mrs. Mamie Tillman Saturday. Mr. Swearingen was very cordially greeted by his Edgefield friends who are very proud of the record he has made as the efficient head of South Carolina's educational system.

Miss Florence Mims has accepted a position as teacher of Expression in a junior co-educational college in Tonkawa, Oklahoma, which is supported by the state. She will leave for her new post in the middle southwest in less than two weeks, as she will be required to report for duty on the first of September.

Dates Changed.

Instead of being held on Aug. 30 and 31, as published in the program, it has been necessary to change the dates for holding the annual meetings for holding the annual meeting of the Woman's Missionary Union at Mountain Creek church to Wednesday and Thursday, August 31, and September 1. The dates will be changed in the program and it will be published again next week. Note the change of date to Wednesday and Thursday, August 31, and September 1.

Mrs. W. L. Dunoav tnnEter-tains.

On Tuesday evening, Mrs. W. L. Dunoav entertained at a delightful party in honor of Misses Lois Mims and Bessie Dunoav.

The rain ceased by the time the guests arrived so that the evening was a cool and delightful one. Games were played indoors and progressive conversation made the last part of the evening pass very quickly.

Music was furnished during the evening by some of the talented guests.

Delicious cream and cake was served.

Mrs. A. E. Padgett Entertains.

Thursday afternoon Mrs. A. E. Padgett entertained with an elaborate bridge party in honor of her daughter, Mrs. Norwood Cleveland.

There were about fifty guests present and eleven tables were arranged for those who participated in the game. The parlor and hall were beautifully decorated with a profusion of cut flowers. The top score was made by Miss Marjorie Tompkins who was awarded the first prize. There were several visitors present from Trenton. At the conclusion of the spirited game the hostess served a salad course with iced tea.

A Birthday Party.

Miss Elizabeth Lott entertained at a party on Monday night celebrating her sixteenth birthday.

There were about fifty present including Dr. and Mrs. Morrall, Messrs. Tom and Fred Salter, James Day and Lewis Moss, also Susan Mathis of Trenton.

The lawn which was attractively decorated with Japanese lanterns, was quite a nice place for progressive conversation as there were many nooks and corners especially set apart for lovers.

On the arrival of the guests, delicious punch was served on the lawn, being served by Janie Edwards, Effie Allen Lott, Sarah Hughes and Elizabeth Craig.

Progressive conversation was the chief amusement of the evening; also a contest was enjoyed during the eighth date. The prizes were won by Miss Susan Mathis and Mr. Tom Salter.

When the progressive conversation was completed, delicious block ice cream and cake was served.

As the delightful evening drew to a close, the birthday cake, with sixteen candles was cut, causing great merriment among the guests as their future was being unfolded.

The party was one of the most charming of the season.

The guests departed, wishing Miss Lott many happy returns of the day.

A Guest.

Father of Boy Appeals To Mob

M. E. Brazel, the father of William Brazel, the slain taxi driver, in a statement given The State yesterday made a personal appeal against mob violence, asking that the officers be allowed to bring the prisoners to trial and punishment un-molested.

"I am a law abiding man," Mr. Brazel said, "and though I know that no punishment, however cruel, could be possibly be too severe for these men, yet I would prefer to see the law be allowed to take its course. The lynching of the three men, or two of them, cannot give me back my boy and it may possibly cost the life of some of my friends or my murdered boy's friends. It is the sworn duty of the sheriff to protect his prisoners and I should not blame him for protecting them from a mob any more than I should blame him for risking his life to hold them should their friends attempt to rescue them. If I were in the sheriff's place I should hold them if it cost me my life and I now expect the sheriff and other officers to do likewise. I should be true to my oath; they will be true to theirs.

"The representatives of the law first arrested the men, who otherwise might by now have made good their escape, and I know that the law can be trusted to hold them and to punish them for their brutal crime. The death or injury of a sheriff or of some friend of mine or my boy's will not help me . . . bear my loss. If I were to read tomorrow that Fox and Gappins had been lynched I should feel no better or happier than I do now. These men have broken the law and will be punished without delay by the law. The lynching of them will not make their punishment more certain. The law has done its part in capturing the murderers and obtaining the evidence against them; it will do the rest by punishing them."

Mr. Brazel also made his appeal in person to men, supposed to be members of the mob, asking them to discontinue any efforts to take the men from the hands of the officers.

Mr. Brazel was a member of the searching party which located the body of the slain boy near Leesville last Tuesday and so knows the story of the killing in all its horrible details.—The State.

In Memoriam.

To My Mother, Mrs. A. F. Ouzts, Who-Went Home Aug. 19, 1920.

Just one short year since you left us, Ages and ages it seems, Often and often I see you, I see you only in dreams.

Always I am bending o'er you Striving to relieve the pain; Then I grieve, to find as always, That my striving is in vain.

I had ever tried to shield you From the storms that blew without, I had often felt their ragings Toss my weary soul about.

When our efforts prove so fruitless, Then it is God does his part, Thus it was He came and took you. Safely to his home and heart.

I am thinking, mother, dearest, Of the time, when not in dreams, We shall be again together, Where love in perfection streams.

Where the cloud is golden sunshine Where the rain is heaven's dew, Where the Light is always shining, There around His throne for you.
F. A. O.

Subscription Price Depends Largely on Circulation.

It is desirable that the patrons of the Yorkville Inquirer thoroughly understand the attitude of the publishers on the question of the subscription price.

In arriving at a fixed subscription price for a newspaper, it is necessary to consider the number of subscribers obtainable along with the probable amount of advertising business to be secured.

It is the desire of the publishers to make the subscription rate as low as possible, so as to put the benefits of the paper more easily within the reach of the largest number of people.

At a subscription rate of $2.50 a year, under present conditions, and with revenue from advertising, it would require a circulation of about 6,000 copies per issue to pay actual expenses of publication.

At the present time the circulation of the paper, although easily the largest of any county paper in the state, if not in the South, is less than 3,000 copies per issue.

It is the intention of the publishers to establish the subscription price of the Yorkville Enquirer at $2.50 a year if they can; but it must be distinctly understood that they are not committed to that proposition.

If it shall develop that it is impossible to furnish the paper at this price, the price will be raised next fall, before the time for the renewal of 1922 subscriptions.

Of course all who subscribe and pay for the paper now at $2.50 will get the paper for twelve months at that price, but if it shall be found necessary to increase the price later on, those who subscribe thereafter will be required to pay the increased price.

If the publisher can get as many as four thousand subscribers altogether, he will undertake to guarantee the $2.50 rate; but otherwise no definite promises can be made at this time.—Yorkville Enquirer.

Do you need anything in our line? If so we shall be pleased to supply your needs and accept Liberty Bonds in payment.
