

election appears to be the general topic, and considerable excitement prevails; it is now my humble opinion that Fremont will have the ascendancy in New York, which point is now generally conceded to. Maine has gone 12,000 in favor of the Black Republicans, and it is also my conviction that Pennsylvania will go the Black Republican ticket, together with near the entire North; such is the lamentable state of things at present, that a dissolution of the Union is deemed a certainty, should Fremont be elected President.

After bidding our kind host of the Manhattan farewell, and placing our valise in the hack, we left for Jersey Ferry, and gazing back, more than usual, to the spot where for the last two weeks we had spent our time so pleasantly. However, no tear escaped our eyelids, and we were soon on the Jersey boat, which conducts us over the Hudson to Jersey city. Jersey City is in Hudson County, N. J., and is situated on the West bank of the Hudson river, opposite New York; this is a beautiful place, wide streets, and contains some fine hotels, several large iron foundries, a glass manufactory, and two banks; also ship building is carried on here. It is the Southern terminus of the Hudson and Patterson Rail Road.— Steamboats ply between New York and Jersey city, every half hour, during the day and night; its population is 25,000. Thence to Newark by the Jersey Rail Road, this city is located in Essex County, N. J., has many manufacturing establishments, to wit: india rubber goods, leather, paints, carriages and many others; situated on the Passaic river, it is well laid out and beautifully shaded, has two public parks, forty churches, six newspaper offices, and numerous literary institutions; its population is 50,000. Thence to Trenton in Mercer County, N. J. Trenton is the capital of the State, and is located on the Delaware river 30 miles from Philadelphia, and 57 miles from New York. The State House is a fine stone building, 100 by 60 feet, and commands a fine view of the river; the State Lunatic Asylum and Penitentiary, are both located here, and here the Delaware is spanned by a bridge 1,100 feet long.— Trenton is famous in revolutionary history, as the spot where General George Washington, after crossing the river, defeated the enemy, and took 1,000 Hessians prisoners; its population is 8,000. Thence to Philadelphia, thence to Baltimore, by Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Rail Road; thence to Washington, by Washington Branch Rail Road; thence to Richmond and Petersburg, by Richmond, Fredericksburg, Potomac and Petersburg Rail Road; thence to Goldsboro, by the Petersburg, Wilmington and Weldon Rail Road; of the above places I have given you notes previously. We now proceed to Charlotte, N. C., by the North Carolina Rail Road to Raleigh N. C. Raleigh is the Capital of the State, and is located in Wake County. The State House is a fine building, also, 2 Asylums are located there. It contains several banks and newspaper offices, is well laid out and tastefully shaded, its population is 4,600. Thence to Hillsboro, N. C., but, however, before reaching the latter point, we came up with the train for Raleigh immediately on the track, with her whistle blown off, fortunately she was discovered in time to prevent a collision, and drawn off by our engine to the turnout, when we left her and proceeded on our way to Hillsboro, which is a pretty little town. Thence to Greensboro, N. C., which is located in Guilford County, and is a beautiful place, containing an insurance office, a bank and newspaper office, and an excellent Female Institution, and some pretty Residences. Thence to Lexington, N. C., it is located in Davidson County. Lexington is quite a thriving place, with some fine buildings. Thence to Salisbury, N. C.; it is located in Rowan County, and is a considerable place, with some beautiful residences and hotels, and has three newspaper offices, its population is 2,600. Thence to Charlotte, N. C., it is located in Mecklenburg County, and is quite a thriving place, contains two newspaper offices, two banks, and also a branch of the United States Mint, and has some fine residences and public buildings, is the terminus of both the North Carolina Rail Road, and the Charlotte and South Carolina Rail Road, its population is 3,000. We arrived safe and sound in Charlotte, N. C., and stopped at Kerr's Hotel, where in quite a short space of time, we seated ourselves at his table, and the way his provisions vanished for a few minutes was astonishing, our appetites were soon appeased. Shortly after we quitted our room, where I am now sitting, and in front of me my pen, ink and paper, and as I am quite weary, I shall retire for the night, not knowing that you shall ever hear from me again.

Yours, &c., "OLD FANUEL"

Melancholly Accident. We regret to record the death of Dr. Jas. K. Gilder of this district, who was accidentally shot on Saturday the 6th inst. The circumstances as we have learned them are these: The deceased was hunting on Saturday afternoon in company with Mr. Noah Martin, Mr. George Neel and perhaps others. Having treed a squirrel in the endeavor to find it, Mr. Martin was walking around the tree, carrying his gun upon his shoulder, with the muzzle in front, when a limb becoming entangled in the lock it exploded, discharging the contents into Dr. Gilder's left side. The lead entered above the hip bone and lodged in the liver. The accident occurred on Saturday afternoon about 4 P. M., and he died about 3 A. M. on Sunday. Mr. Gilder was universally esteemed as a physician and citizen. He is cut off in his youth, and has left a large circle of friends to sympathize with his family in their bereavement.—Newberry Mirror.

FEVER AND AGUE. Fever and Ague cured without using Quinine, Arsenic, Mercury, Opium, or any of the poisonous drugs, or dangerous compounds, generally resorted to by sufferers from this long drawn, most afflicting, and annoying of all diseases, by resorting to Carter's Spanish Mixture, which contains none of the above deleterious substances, but cures effectually and fully by acting specifically on the Liver and Skin, Purifying the Blood, and expelling the remain of the old medicines with which the system has been clogged, opening the pores of the body, and allowing nature to assist itself in breaking up the disease, and recuperating its energy.

See the cure of Mr. John Longdon, of Va.; he had fixed and chronic Ague and Fever; chills twice a day for three years. Nothing permanently cured him until he tried Carter's Spanish Mixture; 3 bottles of which perfectly restored him to health; nor has he had a chill since.
