

The Charleston Mercury will be pleased to know that its editor, Mr. R. B. Rhett, Jr., will revive its issue on the 1st of December.

From Jas. Conner's Sons, Type Founders, New York, we have received the November No. of his Messenger. It is beautifully printed by French & Wheat, Ann Street.

By advices per Steamship City of London, to the 9th instant, has been confirmed as Premier, and Lord Clarendon, as Minister of Foreign Affairs.

Another Company. Capt. D. A. Dickert, pursuant to orders of Gov. Perry, has raised a company from the 39th Regiment. It will be remembered that Capt. Dickert displayed much gallantry during the war, as commander of Company H, 3d S. C. V. The Lieutenants are W. B. Whites, A. J. Hipp, and J. W. Stouedemire.

Our Book Table. NAMELESS. By Fanny Murdaugh Downing. One volume, 16 mo. cloth. From the press of W. B. Smith & Co., Field & Fireside Publishing House, 58, Fayetteville Street, Raleigh N. C. Price $2.00.

We find upon our table, with the compliments of the publisher, a copy of the above work. We have given it a very rapid reading, and do not feel able to bestow so good a notice as it deserves. It is an ingenious and felicitous story of heart-life amid the blandishments of fashionable society, the plot being creditably sustained. The ideal is certainly charming—many of the passages are replete with gems of thought. The book is readable and we recommend it to lovers of light literature.

The Charleston Courier remarks that judging from the many enquiries propounded, that the nature and object of the Direct Tax now being collected, are not thoroughly understood, and for the enlightenment of those wishing information, thus sets it forth:

In August, 1861, Congress levied a Direct Tax of $20,000,000 upon lands and houses in the several States of the Union. This Tax was for the purpose of defraying the expenses of the war. All the States were accorded the privilege of assuming their proportion of the Tax and paying the same at once. In consequence of the struggle, the Tax could not be collected in the States comprising the late Confederacy, and, as the cessation of hostilities, many of us well know, the Government provided means for securing the amount due, under the penalty of forfeiture of property should the parties assessed fail to comply with the regulations. Of the amounts claimed from the Southern States under the head of the Direct Tax of 1861, Virginia, is set down for $387,550,666; North Carolina, $576,194,66; South Carolina, $568,370,66; Georgia, $684,367,33; Alabama, $539,313,33; Mississippi, $413,054,66; Louisiana, $385,588,66; Tennessee, $669,498; Arkansas, $261,886; Florida, $77,522,66; Texas, $355,106,66.

In the present depleted condition of South Carolina, we do not perceive how with justice the Government can force an immediate payment in cash or Treasury notes of the taxes due, and, on that ground, we uphold Governor Perry in his effort to have the collection of the taxes postponed for a brief period at least. If the State should have the privilege of assuming the debt, it would be a benefit not only to ourselves but the country at large.

The Jamaica Revolt. A prompt and terrible retribution has fallen upon the wretched actors in the late revolt in the island of Jamaica, in which the most cruel and bloody scenes were enacted. The following extract from the Kingston Correspondence gives the scene of execution:

On the north stands the late Court House, like a huge spectre as a witness of its sad disposals, and before it is the beam, and the crutched supports, for so many necks. Immediately in front of these, their faces towards them and their backs to the south, are the doomed rebels. In this effort to have the collection of the taxes postponed for a brief period at least. If the State should have the privilege of assuming the debt, it would be a benefit not only to ourselves but the country at large.

Among the powers which, besides England and Turkey, have made known their intention of taking part in the conference for the purpose of studying means for preventing or repressing the cholera, are Austria, Prussia, Spain, Portugal, Roman States, Bavaria, Saxony, Hanover, Wurtemberg, the Haeseatic tow's, Denmark, Sweden, Belgium, Holland, Greece and Baden.

A mortgage deed was recorded on the first instant, in the office of the Recorder of Trumbull County, given by the Atlantic and Great Western Railway Company to John R. Penn, of New York, as trustee, for thirty millions of dollars, for which seven per centum bonds are to be issued. The instrument required one thousand dollars of stamps.

General Robert E. Lee recently forwarded a request to the War Department for permission to retain a few old United States pieces of artillery for the instruction of his military school in gungah practice. Stanton replied by sending an officer at once to remove the guns to Richmond. A highly amusing proceeding.

General Longstreet says that on the first of April, 1865, the Confederates had under arms but two hundred and fifty thousand men, while the Federals had in actual possession ninety-eight thousand Confederate prisoners of war.

The deaths by cholera at Paris are said to have numbered, at the latest advices, about two hundred a day; but precautionary measures appear to have prevented the spread of the disease.

The Mexican News.

NEW ORLEANS, November 16, 1865. We have highly interesting news from Mexico. The Brownsville Mexican Republican of the 7th instant announces the capture of Monterey by the Liberal forces under General Porras.

The Republican also says that no Liberal reinforcements have arrived from Brownsville. A merchant who had arrived at Brownsville says that a large French force was landing at Bagdad.

An extra of the Republican says that Generals Pedro and Mendot had arrived and joined General Cordo before Matamoros, with eighteen hundred Liberals, and that previously they had surrounded and utterly destroyed an Imperial garrison of one hundred men, including a number of French troops.

The Liberals claim that Matamoros is completely at their mercy, and that they can take it whenever they please. The Matamoros Ranchero says that the Liberals have offered to give four hours, in which to plunder Matamoros, to all the United States troops at Brownsville who will join them in taking the city. The Ranchero warns the United States commander at Brownsville to keep a sufficient force there to prevent his troops joining the Liberals for that purpose.

The Galveston Bulletin of the 12th instant says that Colonel Jones and General Escobedo and staff had arrived there from Brownsville.

Captain Sinclair, of the Liberal forces, formerly a Lieutenant in the Alabama, had captured an Imperial transport on the North Rio Grande, taken her into Brownsville and turned her over to the United States authorities, who placed a guard on board of her.

General Canales, at the head of a Liberal force, was marching towards Bagdad, and would try and capture it. An Imperial gunboat had passed up from Bagdad, to Matamoros.

NEW ORLEANS, November 16, 1865. A firm of wealthy Matamoros merchants, who left there on the 7th instant, say they have no fears of the place being captured; that it is well fortified, the troops armed, in good spirits, and well supplied.

NEWS DIRECT. The steam ship Manhattan, from Vera Cruz on the 7th instant, arrived in New York on the 17th inst.

It was rumored in Vera Cruz that Juarez was in Texas, on his way to Piedras Negras. It was also rumored that the United States troops in Texas were more and more approaching the river, as if contemplating some hostile movement.

A Republican camp had been attacked by the Imperialists near Matamoros, and among the prisoners taken were three soldiers in United States uniform. They were handed over for trial to a Court Martial, which would no doubt order them to be shot.

NEW ORLEANS, November 16, 1865. News from Texas state that the Indians are creating great alarm on the Northern frontier of that State.

Advices from Austin say that Provisional Governor Hamilton will soon issue an order for the election of delegates to a State Convention, the election to be held about the 15th of December and the Convention to assemble about a month after.

The Houston Telegraph of the 10th inst. learns that orders have been received in the State from Washington not to muster out of the service any more troops, nor to sell any more Government property, until further orders.

The Germans in Texas are preparing to plant cotton extensively and to raise it by their own labor. They also invite their countrymen to emigrate to the State.

A curious law-case has been tried in France, to discover who was the rightful owner of a well. Swearing and complication was going on about the matter at a lengthy extent, when the Judge, astonished, exclaimed, "but this is all about a little water. What can it matter so very much, that you should both put yourselves to so much trouble and expense about it?" "Monsieur," replied one of the advocates, "dryly, 'the pleasures are, both of them, wine merchants.' The value and significance were seen at once, and created a roar of laughter.

The Springfield Republican narrates a curious railroad accident which occurred at Clinton, Connecticut, a few days ago. An express train was approaching, when a cow, annoyed by a small dog, dashed on the rails. When the train had passed, the cow lay with her head cut off, and the little dog with his tail cut off, sat between the rails looking after the retiring cars with a face indicative of the most intense astonishment and disgust.

In Eastern Florida, there is a sentiment favoring the dismemberment of the State, and the annexation to the Eastern and Southern portions of Georgia.

Matamoros, on the 5th ult., was still in possession of the Imperialists. Several unsuccessful attacks have been made by the Liberals, but they were driven from the field with great slaughter. Imperial loss slight.

LOCAL ITEMS.

We record the death of an old citizen and public functionary, Mr. Thos. Chambers, which took place on Sunday last.

THAT WINDOW.—Passing by the store of M. & C. Cotton and produce merchants, a few morning's since, our eyes were drawn as by a magnet to a most wonderful and fanciful display at their front window. As a public announcement of the same was strangely overlooked by these gentlemen, we deem it a duty in behalf of the public, who might otherwise remain in ignorance, to call attention to such a beautiful and unique attraction. Look at it wonder seekers and sight lovers. The Senior, a staid, sober, married man, had no hand in this artistic embellishment, but the Junior, who is single and full of imaginative powers, we bet high is the genius who succeeded so happily in the beautiful arrangement. The focus of attraction is on the side next to the tin establishment.

KILLED.—Jesse M. Lawson, long unfavorably known to this and other communities, met with a sudden, but none the less just death, on Wednesday last, near Chappell's Depot. His criminal courses had long since made him notorious, but as such courses eventually bring their merited reward, he is another example to the many in the past. It appears that while under arrest of a federal guard, and while at the depot at Chappell's, the cats having just arrived, he sprang from the platform and succeeded in getting to the cover of woods near by. His guard, private Murray, immediately gave pursuit, and on approaching near, Lawson begged him not to fire, stating that he would return peacefully, but embracing his opportunity, sprang forward and grasped the musket of Murray. A desperate struggle then ensued, each determined on the other's destruction, and yet though Murray was the weaker of the two, he finally succeeded in recovering possession of the gun, and firing it at the other at almost arm's length. We are told by the guard that never had he fought so hard or been ended with such strength.

The ball entered the breast and caused death immediately. The body was brought to Newberry. Lawson is said to be a native of Georgia, and by those who knew him there, that he bore a character of the worst kind.

THE CHANCES OF THE ADMISSION OF THE SOUTHERN MEMBERS INTO CONGRESS.—The well-informed correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger, writes from Washington, Nov. 10:

The opposition are in fine feather over the result in New Jersey and New York yesterday, and they declare that the coast is now clear for action. What they propose, is to have an early caucus, at which a plan of action shall be agreed upon, and this action is to be made binding, if possible, on all the opponents of the President's policy. The bold feature of the programme will be the exclusion of the Southern Representatives, and there is too much reason to fear the game will be successful. Indeed bets of two to one are making that the South will not be admitted unless all the demands of the Radicals are acquiesced in. A union of the Democratic members with the Northwestern Conservative Republicans may possibly upset the proposed scheme; but the chances are that the opposition will have things pretty much their own way, even though so... burns while their fiddling is in progress.

THE ROMANCE OF BRIGANDISM.—A BAND OF FRIENDS.—The Europe, of Frankfurt gives the details of a horrible crime, recently committed at Zajebla (Croatia). The cure Lemie was sitting at supper, when six brigands forced their way into his house, and whilst three of them guarded the door, the others proceeded to bind all the servants and lock them up in the cellar. They then turned upon the cure and demanded all his money, inflicting divers cruelties on the old man. They even went so far as to pull out his nails with pinners. They then cut off his fingers, and afterward his hands, and finally decamped, leaving their victim in that horrible state, and carrying off all his ready money, together with his watch and plate, worth about one hundred florins. The cure died the next day of his wounds.

OBITUARY. Died on the 7th of November, of Congestion, JOHN ANDREW, son of Robert L. and Anna P. McCaughin, aged four years, eight months and eighteen days.

"Full short his journey was; no dust Of earth unto his sandals gave; The weary weight that olden must, He bore not to the grave. He seemed a cherub who had lost his way, And wandered hither; so his stay With us was short, and 'twas most meet That he should be no deliver in earth's clod, Nor need to pause and cleanse his feet To stand before his God: O best word—evermore!"
