

The prospect of his trial—An effort to secure his release on bail—The present condition and appearance—Noble conduct of Mrs. Davis, &c., &c.

Washington, Monday, June 4, 1866.

The probabilities in regard to the occurrence and the result of the trial of "Prisoner DAVIS," as the official reports from Fort Monroe style him, are now, in the eyes of the public, the most interesting and the most important of the day.

THE TIME OF HIS TRIAL.

In a matter in regard to which no conclusion has been reached, it is not surprising that the public mind should be agitated. The trial of Davis is a subject upon which the Northern public are, if possible, even more anxious and inquisitive than the communities of the South; because the eagerness with which the eyes of the press are turned to the fate of the great captive, is in any way upon the fate of the great captive.

THE FEDERAL COURT IN VIRGINIA.

It is reported that the Federal Court in Virginia will adjourn at Norfolk last week, and re-assemble tomorrow, (Tuesday), in Richmond. It is understood here that the counsel for Mr. Davis will appear before the Court some time this week and demand that the trial, under the indictment already found against him, be proceeded with.

PRESENT CONDITION OF MR. DAVIS.

I was conversing yesterday with a photographer of this city, who, by permission of General Miles, the Commandant at Fort Monroe, had an interview with Mr. Davis three days ago. He describes the State prisoner as a man of very ordinary appearance, though his physique still retains much of that nervous energy which always distinguished him.

HIS PERSONAL APPEARANCE.

His appearance, however, was very much altered. Previous to his capture, it will be remembered, it was his habit to clean shaven, wearing only a small strip of beard around his throat. Since his imprisonment, he seems to have discarded the use of the razor altogether.

HE REFUSES TO ALLOW HIS PHOTOGRAPH TO BE TAKEN.

In response to a request that he should sit for his photograph, he quietly declined, saying that he had been so sadly changed by his recent manner of life that he feared that none of his old friends would know him.

WOMAN'S CONSTANT AND PERSISTENT.

She is indefatigable in her efforts to alleviate the hardships of her husband's imprisonment, and by her activity and zeal, has already accomplished much in that respect. It is understood that she has been successful in procuring the counsel of Mr. Davis, and has resolved upon an effort to secure the release of their client upon bail.

BLONDIS OUTDOING—THE LATEST SENSATION.

You may recall one DeLave, a light-roped performer, who a long time ago astonished the natives of Rochester by his feats above the Genesee Falls. He has just returned here from many years spent in South America and Mexico, and is going to give the public a new sensation.

Major Wilson Coleman has been unconditionally released from the arrest under which he has been held for three months past by the United States Military authorities of South Carolina.

Speaking of fashions we find place for a suggestive incident, which it is to be hoped will prove a warning to others similarly situated. The scene took place at Detroit, during the baptism of a young lady. The minister requested her to kneel down to receive the water, but she was kept above the surface by the floating properties of crinoline, and was buoyed up so successfully that it was after much difficulty, and many forcible attempts to submerge the lady, that the minister succeeded in baptizing the fair one.

A clergyman in a certain town, as the custom is, having published the bans of matrimony between two persons, was interrupted by the clerk's reading the hymn which begins with these words, "Mistaken souls who dream of Heaven."

THE WEEKLY HERALD.

NEWBERRY, S. C.

Wednesday Morning, June 13, 1866.

Mr. THOMAS P. SLIDER, of Charleston, is the authorized agent of this paper, to procure advertisements and receipt for monies due.

Special Notices.

The great difficulty experienced in collecting small accounts, both for advertising and subscription, makes it imperative on us to say that hereafter all orders for either must be accompanied with the cash. Departures from this rule to accommodate our friends, it is found by experience will not do.

Advertisers will oblige us by bringing in their favors on Monday whenever practicable, and in no instance later than nine o'clock Tuesday morning.

Communications of general interest are acceptable at all times, but it is requested that they be written in plain hand, and not too lengthy. Let them be brief.

Attention is directed to an article in today's paper, on the subject of labor: a problem, the solution of which is of prior consideration, as it vitally affects the industrial and domestic status of the country.

The Metals.

No little confusion and annoyance was manifested on Monday, by the non-arrival of the mail. It was reported left at Frog Level, and the Newberry office thrown into; that we would have no mails for an indefinite time.

State Items.

We learn by the Anderson Gazette, that Preston Belcher, a youth of extraordinary fair promise, who had a few days since left there for Abbeville, to resume his school studies, was accidentally killed by a younger brother.

From the same paper we learn that the Masonic fraternity will celebrate St. John's festival, on the 23d of June, in a becoming and appropriate manner, to which the public are invited.

The Columbia Carolinian favors the new fashion of lifting hoops, and suggests that as the inventor has made a fortune at the same, that some enterprising fellow might invent a hoop to lift higher and make a bigger fortune.

The decision of Judge Nelson, in the case of James Egan, of Lexington District, and whose order for the discharge of the prisoner we published last Saturday, is regarded throughout the country with great favor and commendation.

A meeting of the citizens and planters of Edgefield District, in aid of the Hamburg and Columbia Railroad, was held at Edgefield Court House on Monday, 4th instant.

Addresses were made by Col. Wm. B. Johnston, Governor; M. L. Bonham and Luke Culbreth, Esq. Fifteen thousand dollars were subscribed in aid of the enterprise.

Governor Pickens is very ill, and consequently, did not attend the meeting, as was expected. A barbecue in aid of the project is to be given at Aiken on the 4th of July.

The Advertiser says: "Major Wilson Coleman has been unconditionally released from the arrest under which he has been held for three months past by the United States Military authorities of South Carolina."

The Advertiser also informs us of the death of Dr. John G. Williams—"the act of his own hand." The Rev. Henry C. Herlong of that District, is also dead.

Mrs. Robert Coombs, who has returned to her home in Georgia, says her husband's advice to the young men of the South is that they remain in the South, which she still considers a country much preferable to Brazil, Mexico or Cuba, and, by patient endurance and active industry, rebuild upon the surest of foundations their own shattered fortunes and that of their native land.

For the Herald.

The Labor Question.

Messrs Editors: It requires no great intellect and no great study to make plain to us the deplorable condition of our country. Not only have we lost our political importance—not only have we lost a great part of the flower and strength of our society—not only have we wasted the wealth of the land in unsuccessful war—not only has much of our territory been so desolated as to be, for a time incapable of recuperation, under even the most favorable circumstances; but we are drawn in debt; we are threatened with grievous taxation; our permanent property has scarcely any value; our productions are prevented by the absence of the capital and the labor essential to produce. To be indifferent to this state of affairs is as criminal and absurd in theory as it is impossible in fact.

Obviously, this effort must be made either at home or abroad? The general mortification at our failure to establish the Confederacy, and the general poverty of the nation—assisted by the vague love of excitement necessarily engendered by the war—led us to look to foreign countries for relief.

Perhaps these comparatively unknown lands still have charms for some of us. I think they will vanish on careful examination. Let us, in the first place, look at Mexico. There the soil is undoubtedly productive, and so abundant as to be obtained at prices little more than nominal; and the climate is, in many places, probably as delightful and salubrious as one could reasonably desire.

There is no little confusion and annoyance was manifested on Monday, by the non-arrival of the mail. It was reported left at Frog Level, and the Newberry office thrown into; that we would have no mails for an indefinite time.

There is no little confusion and annoyance was manifested on Monday, by the non-arrival of the mail. It was reported left at Frog Level, and the Newberry office thrown into; that we would have no mails for an indefinite time.

There is no little confusion and annoyance was manifested on Monday, by the non-arrival of the mail. It was reported left at Frog Level, and the Newberry office thrown into; that we would have no mails for an indefinite time.

There is no little confusion and annoyance was manifested on Monday, by the non-arrival of the mail. It was reported left at Frog Level, and the Newberry office thrown into; that we would have no mails for an indefinite time.

There is no little confusion and annoyance was manifested on Monday, by the non-arrival of the mail. It was reported left at Frog Level, and the Newberry office thrown into; that we would have no mails for an indefinite time.

There is no little confusion and annoyance was manifested on Monday, by the non-arrival of the mail. It was reported left at Frog Level, and the Newberry office thrown into; that we would have no mails for an indefinite time.

There is no little confusion and annoyance was manifested on Monday, by the non-arrival of the mail. It was reported left at Frog Level, and the Newberry office thrown into; that we would have no mails for an indefinite time.

There is no little confusion and annoyance was manifested on Monday, by the non-arrival of the mail. It was reported left at Frog Level, and the Newberry office thrown into; that we would have no mails for an indefinite time.

There is no little confusion and annoyance was manifested on Monday, by the non-arrival of the mail. It was reported left at Frog Level, and the Newberry office thrown into; that we would have no mails for an indefinite time.

There is no little confusion and annoyance was manifested on Monday, by the non-arrival of the mail. It was reported left at Frog Level, and the Newberry office thrown into; that we would have no mails for an indefinite time.

There is no little confusion and annoyance was manifested on Monday, by the non-arrival of the mail. It was reported left at Frog Level, and the Newberry office thrown into; that we would have no mails for an indefinite time.

There is no little confusion and annoyance was manifested on Monday, by the non-arrival of the mail. It was reported left at Frog Level, and the Newberry office thrown into; that we would have no mails for an indefinite time.

There is no little confusion and annoyance was manifested on Monday, by the non-arrival of the mail. It was reported left at Frog Level, and the Newberry office thrown into; that we would have no mails for an indefinite time.

There is no little confusion and annoyance was manifested on Monday, by the non-arrival of the mail. It was reported left at Frog Level, and the Newberry office thrown into; that we would have no mails for an indefinite time.

ment of thousands, when I say that the negro will not work out of bondage. It is probable, when the excitement of freedom wars of and sickness and hunger come on, he will set himself to labor more earnestly than he has done for the past year; but it is contrary to the fundamental principle of his constitution that he should be industrious. Those very qualities which made him a useful slave must render him a useless freeman.

It is probable, when the excitement of freedom wars of and sickness and hunger come on, he will set himself to labor more earnestly than he has done for the past year; but it is contrary to the fundamental principle of his constitution that he should be industrious.

It is probable, when the excitement of freedom wars of and sickness and hunger come on, he will set himself to labor more earnestly than he has done for the past year; but it is contrary to the fundamental principle of his constitution that he should be industrious.

It is probable, when the excitement of freedom wars of and sickness and hunger come on, he will set himself to labor more earnestly than he has done for the past year; but it is contrary to the fundamental principle of his constitution that he should be industrious.

It is probable, when the excitement of freedom wars of and sickness and hunger come on, he will set himself to labor more earnestly than he has done for the past year; but it is contrary to the fundamental principle of his constitution that he should be industrious.

It is probable, when the excitement of freedom wars of and sickness and hunger come on, he will set himself to labor more earnestly than he has done for the past year; but it is contrary to the fundamental principle of his constitution that he should be industrious.

It is probable, when the excitement of freedom wars of and sickness and hunger come on, he will set himself to labor more earnestly than he has done for the past year; but it is contrary to the fundamental principle of his constitution that he should be industrious.

It is probable, when the excitement of freedom wars of and sickness and hunger come on, he will set himself to labor more earnestly than he has done for the past year; but it is contrary to the fundamental principle of his constitution that he should be industrious.

It is probable, when the excitement of freedom wars of and sickness and hunger come on, he will set himself to labor more earnestly than he has done for the past year; but it is contrary to the fundamental principle of his constitution that he should be industrious.

It is probable, when the excitement of freedom wars of and sickness and hunger come on, he will set himself to labor more earnestly than he has done for the past year; but it is contrary to the fundamental principle of his constitution that he should be industrious.

It is probable, when the excitement of freedom wars of and sickness and hunger come on, he will set himself to labor more earnestly than he has done for the past year; but it is contrary to the fundamental principle of his constitution that he should be industrious.

It is probable, when the excitement of freedom wars of and sickness and hunger come on, he will set himself to labor more earnestly than he has done for the past year; but it is contrary to the fundamental principle of his constitution that he should be industrious.

It is probable, when the excitement of freedom wars of and sickness and hunger come on, he will set himself to labor more earnestly than he has done for the past year; but it is contrary to the fundamental principle of his constitution that he should be industrious.

It is probable, when the excitement of freedom wars of and sickness and hunger come on, he will set himself to labor more earnestly than he has done for the past year; but it is contrary to the fundamental principle of his constitution that he should be industrious.

It is probable, when the excitement of freedom wars of and sickness and hunger come on, he will set himself to labor more earnestly than he has done for the past year; but it is contrary to the fundamental principle of his constitution that he should be industrious.

It is probable, when the excitement of freedom wars of and sickness and hunger come on, he will set himself to labor more earnestly than he has done for the past year; but it is contrary to the fundamental principle of his constitution that he should be industrious.

It is probable, when the excitement of freedom wars of and sickness and hunger come on, he will set himself to labor more earnestly than he has done for the past year; but it is contrary to the fundamental principle of his constitution that he should be industrious.

It is probable, when the excitement of freedom wars of and sickness and hunger come on, he will set himself to labor more earnestly than he has done for the past year; but it is contrary to the fundamental principle of his constitution that he should be industrious.

It is probable, when the excitement of freedom wars of and sickness and hunger come on, he will set himself to labor more earnestly than he has done for the past year; but it is contrary to the fundamental principle of his constitution that he should be industrious.

LOCAL ITEMS.

THE FROLIC AT HARMON'S MILL.—In company with candidate T. P., followed by big X, on Saturday last we started behind the old roans for the big-nic, and arrived without further accident than the dropping of a pipe stem. Space not admitting of a full detail, we are forced to notice only principal features, and that briefly.

The frolic was just taken, and every one had expected the first course would be fish, yet when dinner was ready and the tempting spread displayed to the hungry company, no disappointment was felt. The dinner was capital, and as various as it was excellent, and abundant, and most ample justice was done to it.

The frolic was just taken, and every one had expected the first course would be fish, yet when dinner was ready and the tempting spread displayed to the hungry company, no disappointment was felt.

The frolic was just taken, and every one had expected the first course would be fish, yet when dinner was ready and the tempting spread displayed to the hungry company, no disappointment was felt.

The frolic was just taken, and every one had expected the first course would be fish, yet when dinner was ready and the tempting spread displayed to the hungry company, no disappointment was felt.

The frolic was just taken, and every one had expected the first course would be fish, yet when dinner was ready and the tempting spread displayed to the hungry company, no disappointment was felt.

The frolic was just taken, and every one had expected the first course would be fish, yet when dinner was ready and the tempting spread displayed to the hungry company, no disappointment was felt.

The frolic was just taken, and every one had expected the first course would be fish, yet when dinner was ready and the tempting spread displayed to the hungry company, no disappointment was felt.

The frolic was just taken, and every one had expected the first course would be fish, yet when dinner was ready and the tempting spread displayed to the hungry company, no disappointment was felt.

The frolic was just taken, and every one had expected the first course would be fish, yet when dinner was ready and the tempting spread displayed to the hungry company, no disappointment was felt.

The frolic was just taken, and every one had expected the first course would be fish, yet when dinner was ready and the tempting spread displayed to the hungry company, no disappointment was felt.

The frolic was just taken, and every one had expected the first course would be fish, yet when dinner was ready and the tempting spread displayed to the hungry company, no disappointment was felt.

The frolic was just taken, and every one had expected the first course would be fish, yet when dinner was ready and the tempting spread displayed to the hungry company, no disappointment was felt.

The frolic was just taken, and every one had expected the first course would be fish, yet when dinner was ready and the tempting spread displayed to the hungry company, no disappointment was felt.

The frolic was just taken, and every one had expected the first course would be fish, yet when dinner was ready and the tempting spread displayed to the hungry company, no disappointment was felt.

The frolic was just taken, and every one had expected the first course would be fish, yet when dinner was ready and the tempting spread displayed to the hungry company, no disappointment was felt.

The frolic was just taken, and every one had expected the first course would be fish, yet when dinner was ready and the tempting spread displayed to the hungry company, no disappointment was felt.

The frolic was just taken, and every one had expected the first course would be fish, yet when dinner was ready and the tempting spread displayed to the hungry company, no disappointment was felt.

The frolic was just taken, and every one had expected the first course would be fish, yet when dinner was ready and the tempting spread displayed to the hungry company, no disappointment was felt.

Latest News.

We gather the following from the Columbia Patriot: A St. Albans dispatch reports an engagement between Col. Scanlan's regiment (Pennians) and some British cavalry near Pidgeon Hill, in which the latter were routed. The Pennians captured 100 horses and 3 flags. Scanlan subsequently ordered a withdrawal from Canada soil.

Two new cases of death from cholera are reported in New York. The passage of the bankrupt bill at this session is considered doubtful. The consolidated bank of London has stopped payment.

The powers all accept the conference which is to meet at Paris at an early day. The belligerents are still preparing for a conflict nevertheless. Prussia and Italy agree to postpone hostilities until it is known whether the Conference fails. It is said that Napoleon will preside.

New Orleans, June 10.—The Liberte advanced from Oajaca on Cordova and captured sixty-five confederate citizens. The latest outfit—Fenian invasion terminated. Nothing done. Gen. Beauregard arrived safely at Liverpool. Great respect is shown him by the people.

The Rinder Pest has broken out in New York. Mr. Davis, it is thought, will be kept in custody until tried. The European Conference is accepted, and will meet in Paris at an early day. Meanwhile warlike preparations are unabated. The Austrian army numbers 600,000. Cotten has advanced in the English market, 1d. to 1 1/4d.

Columbia S. C.—An attempt was made on Saturday afternoon last by a party of fifteen, three or four in number, to kill Mr. John Hall who was returning to his mill. The purpose was robbery. Two shots were fired at him, but he made his escape. About 5 o'clock the same afternoon two negro prisoners escaped from the guard house at the campus, one was shot through the leg, but neither have been recaptured.

In the same city on the same afternoon a young gentleman of African descent accidentally shot himself by the careless handling of a pistol, wound painful, not dangerous. 500 men are engaged in cleaning the streets and alleys in Chicago. Devil a one at all, at all are cleaning the streets of Newberry.

For the Herald.

In Memoriam.—ANNA MORRISON. An angel from another world, With bright, yet folded wings, She stayed with us a little while,— She charmed us with her speech and smile, And then with radiant wings unfurled, To heaven she soaring sings.

In spirit now I seem to see A bright angelic form Surrounding ex, whose eyes of light, Whose golden locks, whose smile as bright As heaven's own, reveal to me To whom that ox belongs.

In spirit, too, I seem to hear,— So sweet it comes to me,— A voice of music and of love On all the winds around, above, Calming each trembling doubt and fear In heavenly melody.

The light of heaven itself comes down, For she descends at times; Her presence hushes all the air, A pure and holy atmosphere Hangs, over head, and wondrous low, From far off heavenly skies.

O death! there is no death to one Whose heart is full of love, He comes, but in a form of light, He comes, the opening heav'n now bright, The world's earthly life is gone, The angel's is above. Newberry, May 22, 1866. J. A. C.

Special Notices.

THE STAY LAW having been removed, by those having the power to do so, and there being a great probability that many people will be distressed on account of debts made before the war, and that I may do something towards mitigating that distress, I make the following proposition to all those who will settle with me before the first of October next: First, those who owed me and were killed in the war, leaving families, I will settle with their Executors at one-half; 2d, those that have been disabled, at a discount of one-fourth; 3d, with all that were in the war; at a discount of one eighth; 4th, with all others; by taking notes that I can use in liquidation of my own indebtedness, or produce of an kind at the highest market price.

N. H. BLEASE. P. S. I hope that all who are indebted to me will come forward and make some arrangement about these old matters immediately. You must not expect me to call on you, for it is impossible for me to see every one; so after the time for the above compromise expires, you find yourself settling with the Sheriff, don't say that you were sued without proper notice. Those indebted to me in adjoining districts please take notice. May 22—24. H. H. E.

Messrs Editors: You will please announce J. D. SMITH, as candidate for the office of Tax Collector, Newberry District and on line May 2, 1866. MANY FRIENDS.

Messrs Editors.—You will oblige the friends of Mr. W. J. LAKE, by nominating him as a candidate for Sheriff of Newberry District. April 11, 14. NEWBERRY.

Messrs Editors.—You will please announce N. F. JOHNSON, as a candidate for Sheriff of Newberry District, and oblige April 4, 14. MANY FRIENDS.

The friends of Capt. THOS. M. PAYSINGER respectfully nominate him as a suitable candidate for Sheriff of Newberry District. YOTERS.

Messrs Editors.—Information wanted of the late whereabouts of C. W. ARTHUR, who was in the first Mississippi regiment, Confederate States Army, and D. S. ARTHUR, of Virginia Troops, Confederate States Army, regiment unknown. The widowed mother of these gentlemen earnestly desires to know of their fate, and all true friends of the helpless, needy and distressed are requested to send any information they may have or get to Mr. HENRY, keeper of the hotel as Brandon, Miss. All papers friendly to a distressed mother, will please copy as many times as they possibly can. MARY ARTHUR. Who is a man's widow and a member of the adopted Judge.