For so the world hash done
Since mystles grow, and reases bloys,
And morning probight the sun.
But have a care, ye young and fair.
Be since you pledge with truth;
Be cortain that your love will wear
Reyond the days of youth!
For if yogive not heart for heart,
As well as hand for hund.
You'll find you've played she "unwise" part,
And "built upon the sand".

Tis well to save, 'ils well to have
A goodly store of gold,'
And hold enough of shining stuff,
I for charity is cold.

Illy place not all your hope and trust
In what the deep mine brings;
We cannot live on yellow dust,
Unnixed with purer things.

And he who piles up wealth alone
Will often have to stand
Beside his coffer chest and own. Beside his coffer chest and own, 'Tis "built upon the sand."

Tis good to speak in kindly guise,
And soothe wher'er we can;
Fair speech should blind the human mind,
And love liok man to man.
But stay not at the gentle words;
Let deeds with language dwell;
The one who pittes storying birth. Let deeds with language dwelt;
The one who pities starying birds
Should scatter crumbs as well.
The mercy that is warm and true
Must lend a helping hand,
For those who talk, yet fail to do,
But "build upon the sand."

Don't Stay Late To-night.

The heart of home is beaming With rays of holy light, And loving eyes are gleaming, As falls the shades of night; And while thy steps are l-aving The circle pure and bright, A tender voice, half grieving, Says, "Don't stay late to-night."

The world in which you movest, Is busy, brave and wide : The world of her thou lovest, Is at the ingle side; She wills for thy warm greeting, Thy smile is her delight, Her gentle voice, entreating, Says, "Don't stay late to-night."

The world-cold, inhu ann-Will spurn thee if thou full; The love of one pure woman Outlasts and shames them all : Thy children will eling 'round thee, Let fate be dark or bright ; At home no shaft can wound thee, Then, "Pon't stay late to light."
