

THE NEWBERRY HERALD.

FOR THE HERALD.

I am crying, mother, crying,
Ere the crystal tears dry fast.
Tis no dark Platonic lying,
But a real genuine blast.
Let this arm, mamma, support me,
Calm thy fears and bow thine ear:
Listen to the awful secret
Thou, and thou alone, must hear.

Tough my scared and trembling playmates
Show their faces here no more,
And my boyish goods and chattels
Lay all scattered 'round the door.
Though no yelling boys surround me,
Prompt to do their leader's will,
I must show that I can stand it—
That I am their leader still.

Let no saucy boy now jeer me,
Mock the lion thus laid low;
'Twas no rival's hand that laid him—
But a goat that dealt the blow!
Here, then, on my Sunday breeches,
Whist, so busy at my play,
He, who, mad at my restrictions,
Wildly drew his head away.

But he flung his body with it,
In a way that made me feel,
Just as if a mighty cannon
Shot me with a ball of steel.
Seek him! Say that I have told you,
That he'd better leave the ranch;
For as soon as I am able,
I will make him rue the launch.

As for thee, my sapient mamma,
Glorious doctor of the sick!
Make a pepper poultice for me,
Make, Oh! mamma, make it quick;
Give that goat no hay or fodder,
Let him pad the hoof again.
I will let him know what comes of
Giving me this awful pain.

I am crying, mamma, crying,
Hark! the insubling billie's bleat!
He is coming! Quick—the door man!
Shut it! 'Tis too late,
Ah! no more he'll get to battle
His old brow against this wall;
Have you shut it? Thank you, mamma;
Now, Sir Billie, fare thee well.

NESTOR.

Mr. Potter's Resolutions.

Whereas, The State of Maryland has, by its Legislature, formally declared that due effect was not given to the electoral vote cast by that State, on the 6th day of December, 1876, by reason of fraudulent returns in the electoral votes from the States of Florida and Louisiana; and

Whereas, An affidavit by Samuel B. McLin, Chairman of the Board of State Canvassers of the State of Florida, for the election held in that State in November, 1876, for electors of President and Vice-President, has been made public, alleging false and fraudulent returns for votes for such election in that State, whereby the choice of the people of that State was annulled and reversed, and that the action of the Board of State Canvassers in making such returns, was influenced by the conduct and promises of the Hon. Edward F. Noyes, now Minister to the Government of France; and

Whereas, It is alleged that a conspiracy existed in the State of Louisiana, whereby the Republican vote in all the precincts of the parish of East Feliciana and in some precincts of West Feliciana, at the general election in November, 1876, was purposely withheld from the polls to afford a pretext for the exclusion by the Returning Board of that State of the vote cast in those precincts for electors of President and Vice-President, and that James E. Anderson, the Supervisor of Registration of East Feliciana, and D. A. Weber, Supervisor of Registration in the parish of West Feliciana, in that State, in furtherance of that conspiracy falsely protested that the election in such precincts had not been fair and free, and that the State Returning Board thereupon falsely and fraudulently excluded the vote of the said precincts, and by means thereof and other false and fraudulent action by the said Returning Board, the choice of the people of that State was annulled and reversed, and that such action of the said Weber and Anderson was induced and encouraged by the assurances of the Hon. John Sherman, Secretary of the Treasury of the United States; and

Whereas, The gravity of the evidence upon which they are reported to be based, and the official dignity and position of the persons named in connection with the said frauds make it improper that the same should be introduced into the end that the honor of the nation may be vindicated and the truth as to such elections be made known; therefore, be it

Resolved, That a select committee, consisting of eleven members of this House, be appointed to acquire into the fore said allegation as to the persons in office aforesaid in respect of the said election, and into the alleged false and fraudulent canvass and return of votes by State, county, parish and precinct officers in the said States of Louisiana and Florida, and into all the facts which in the judgment of said committee are connected with or pertinent thereto, and that said committee for the purpose of executing this resolution, shall have power to send for persons and papers, to administer oaths and to take testimony, and, in their discretion, to detail sub-committees with like full authority of said committee in every particular, and with power to sit in Florida and Louisiana, which sub-committee shall be committees of this House, and the Chairman thereof shall be authorized to administer oaths; that the said committee and sub-committees may employ stenographers and be attended each by a deputy sergeant-at-arms, and may sit during the sessions of this House and during the vacation, and that the said committee proceed in this inquiry and have leave to report at any time.

We live at the bottom of an ocean of air, and of necessity breathe more or less of the heavier poisonous germs constantly floating through it. To prevent such from asserting their prevalent effect upon the system, Dr. Bull's Blood Mixture should be used, as its efficacy is simply wonderful.

A Very Valuable Work.

The Pictorial History of the World, embracing full and authentic accounts of every nation of ancient and modern times, and including a History of the rise and fall of the Greek and Roman Empires, the growth of the nations of Modern Europe, the Middle Ages, the Crusades, the Feudal System, the Reformation, the discovery and settlement of the New World, etc., etc., by James D. McCabe, Published by The National Publishing Co., of Philadelphia, Pa.; Chicago, Ill.; St. Louis, Mo., and Dayton, Ohio.

It is a well-known fact that the great mass of the people are compelled to rely, for their knowledge of history, upon the outline works intended for the use of schools, which by their nature are brief and only designed for the comprehension of child. There has long been felt a genuine want of a more elaborate History of the World, covering the whole period from the creation to the present day, and presenting in a succinct and entertaining form the history of the various nations of the world. This demand we are happy to say is being met in "The Pictorial History of the World," a work which is destined to take rank as a Standard History. It is from the pen of James D. McCabe, a well-known historical writer, who has devoted years of study and research to the production of this work. The book is literally what it professes to be—a complete History of the World—for it gives a clear and concise account of every nation that has ever flourished upon the globe. The history of each country is related separately, and in the clearest and most comprehensive manner, and the deeds of all the great actors in the events of ancient and modern history are brought before the reader in the most vivid style. Ancient history is related in full, and the accounts of the Middle Ages, the Crusades, and the great nations of modern times, are equally complete and interesting. There is not a dry page in the book. It is as fascinating as a romance, and at the same time one of the most valuable works of reference ever published. We are constantly called upon to discuss the great questions of history, and the wars and quarrels of the nations of the old world requires us to be continually refreshing our historical knowledge. So many discoveries have recently been made, so many of the old ideas and traditions have been exploded, and shown to be mere myths and legends, that the subject of history may be said to be almost entirely new, and he who was well informed twenty years ago will find himself unable to discuss intelligently upon historical subjects now unless he has kept up with the advance of historical research.

The mechanical execution of the book fully sustains the high reputation of the publishers. It contains 1260 large double-column pages, and over 650 fine engravings, embracing battles and other historical scenes; portraits of the great men of ancient and modern times, and views of the principal cities of the world. The engravings in this book are genuine works of art, and were made at a cost of over $25,000. The great number and high character of these engravings make this the most valuable publication of the century, and a prominent feature of the work is a full History of the late War between Russia and Turkey.

This is the most complete and valuable History of the World ever published, and agents who take hold of it will reap a rich harvest. The price is so low that every one can afford to purchase a copy. It is sold by subscription only, and the publishers want Agents in every country.

At Edinburgh, Scotland, some years since, the Jewels of the Crown were locked in a box, that box in another, and so on, until they were supposed to be burglar-proof. They were then locked up in the vault of the castle, there to remain for one hundred years, the keys being placed in a mortar and fired in the sea. Scarce fifty years passed by, and the modern lock-pickers opened the vault and boxes without trouble. So the science of medicine, when studied with the aid of chemistry and the microscope, becomes plain and simple, and diseases that were regarded incurable a generation ago, now readily yield to remedies employed by the modern and progressive physician. A decade of years since, and women were taught to believe that their peculiar diseases and weaknesses were incurable; but now hundreds and thousands of once bed-ridden women in the United States will testify to the fact that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has effected that perfect and permanent cure.

TOLEDO, Ohio, Dec. 6th, 1876.
Dr. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.:
Dear Sir—About five years since my wife was taken sick, and though we employed the best physicians in our city, yet she gradually grew worse, so that she was confined to the bed. Every remedy I had tried, or could find, failed to cure or even give relief. At last I procured a bottle of your Favorite Prescription and to my surprise it gave almost instant relief, and with a little perseverance, an entire cure was effected.

Ever gratefully yours,
GEO. BODENMILLER.

DEATH.—Mrs. Jane D. Moses, relict of the late Chief Justice, died on the morning of the 13th instant, after a short immediate sickness, but which was a serious one from her protracted ill health for many months past. She had the sympathies of many friends in her long period of trial and suffering. Her long life in our midst had been of such a character as to entitle her to the good will of all. Few persons have had a kinder heart, or more sympathetic in the pleasures or sufferings of others. We doubt if any case of poverty or distress was ever presented to her to which her kind words and benevolent acts did not afford relief. In her days of prosperity she dispensed an elegant hospitality—and in her time of adversity and trouble she retained the respect of all who knew her. For more than fifty years she had been a consistent member of the M. E. Church in this place.—Santer Watchman.

FOR GOVERNOR:
WADE HAMPTON.

Prof. Joseph Henry, of the Smithsonian Institute, is dead.

Edison, of New York, the inventor of the telephone, the phonograph and other wonderful things, is worth $150,000.

The Southern Baptist Convention, which met at Nashville, Tenn., adjourned the 13th, to meet at Atlanta, Ga., next May.

The Southern Baptists have a flourishing Mission established at Rome. They have recently purchased a building for worship at a cost of $26,000.

Theodore Tilton has gone to Europe. We hope he'll stay there, and that Beecher and Mrs. T. will follow him, so that this poor afflicted country may have peace.

Contrary to general expectation the General Conference of the Southern Methodist Church, now in session at Atlanta, Ga., has decided not to elect any Bishops at this session.

Rev. Geo. B. Vosburg, of Jersey City, N. J., is on trial for attempting to poison his wife by giving her antimony in her medicine while she was sick. She doesn't believe the charge.

Mr. Ho Ah Kon, a Chinaman, has brought suit against the Sheriff of San Francisco for $10,000 damages for cutting off his cue, vulgarly called his "pig-tail," while he was imprisoned in jail.

Senator Butler has presented a petition in Congress, signed by many citizens of Columbia, asking a repeal of the National Bank law imposing a tax of 10 per cent. upon State Bank circulation.

The enormous sum of $805,000,000 has been expended on the United States Navy since the war, and there is nothing to show for it. But Secor Robeson, ex-Secretary, went in poor as a church mouse and came out rolling in wealth.

The State Convention will meet August 1st, in Columbia. The Congressional Convention will be held at the same time and place. State officers will be nominated, a platform will be adopted, and other matters of public interest will be attended to. Each County sends as many delegates as she has members in the General Assembly.

The National Party is organizing for the coming campaign. The Executive Council met in New York a week ago to devise plans. They propose to run a presidential ticket and to run a separate State ticket in each State, affiliating with no other organization. They are fighting against the "dollar of our dadies" and the "bloated bondholder," and declare themselves opposed to anything like communism; yet it is a significant fact that the communists are almost without exception "Nationals."

Hayes' Title.

In the House of Representatives the 13th, Potter, of New York, introduced a resolution to investigate the alleged Election frauds committed in Florida and Louisiana in 1876. The resolution recites the memorial of the Maryland Legislature and provides for a select committee of eleven members to investigate the confession made by McLin, Chairman of the Florida Returning Board, and also the allegations of fraud perpetrated in East and West Feliciana Parishes in Louisiana. No action was taken the 13th, the Republicans refusing to vote. The same thing happened again the 14th, 15th and 16th. The 17th the resolution passed.

It is not the intention of the Democratic members of Congress to try to unseat Hayes, but merely to see whether he has a clear title to the Presidency—a very useless expense to the country.

Up-country Enterprise.

Several citizens of Walhalla formed a company a short while ago to establish a cotton factory. They have just got the machinery and begun operations on a small scale. The Koonce (Walhalla) Courier thus speaks of it:

The Westminster Mills have two spinning frames with 264 spindles, one-fourth of which are not yet running for the want of some necessary equipments. They expect to start them soon. They are now turning out from 22 to 24 bunches of yarn per day and expect, when the other spindles are started, to exceed 30 bunches per day. They employ eight operatives, seven females and one male, which will be ample to run all the machinery. They started with only one experienced hand, but all the operatives are now well up to their business. They have as intelligent and neat a set of employees as we have ever seen, all appearing to be healthy and in good spirits. The company have built several neat tenement houses and a cotton house and everything looks thrifty and business like.

The cost of the cotton machinery proper is about $2,500, the buildings being a matter of fancy. The company has on hand about 75,000 pounds of seed cotton, enough to run them until the new crop. They will spin annually one hundred and fifty to two hundred thousand pounds. To this time they have spun about 12 bales of yarn which they retail at 90 cents a bunch cash.

There is obliged to be money in this business for the stockholders and also for the country. It is with in the reach of three or four citizens in every neighborhood, and we would like to see the business extended. Col. F. E. Harrison started the first one near Andersonville and the Westminster Company has now put a second in operation. The machinery is simple. The company was assisted in putting up their machinery by W. L. Perry, of Andersonville, and by a man named Hicks. It will hereafter be easier to start other mills, as the ice has been broken and it is easy to get men to direct the starting of it. This company deserves credit and encouragement for their enterprise, and we hope their example and success will stimulate others to invest in the same line of business until all our seed cotton can be sold and spun in the country.

State News.

Blackberries are selling in Charleston at 2½ cents a quart.

The four prisoners who recently escaped from the Penitentiary have been recaptured.

Mrs. Jane D. Moses, wife of the late Chief Justice F. J. Moses, Sr., died at her home in Sumter, the 12th instant.

The Columbia Canal Commissioners, appointed by the last Legislature, met in Columbia, the 15th, and organized by electing Mr. R. L. McCaughy, of Newberry, Chairman.

The State Executive Committee is composed of good men, but in politics about as impracticable as any set of men that could have been selected in the State. The convention of the party in this County didn't take any stock in their recommendations. We propose to hoe our own row so far as our County matters are concerned.

[Pickens Sentinel.]

The Executive Committee of the "Republican Party" met in Parker's Hall, Columbia, the 15th. The members of the committee present were R. B. Elliott, A. W. Curtis, F. L. Cardozo, C. C. Bowen, S. S. Swails, Wilson Cook, T. B. Johnston, Dr. J. F. Ensor and June Mobley. Their proceedings are veiled in secrecy, except that they proposed to make no State nominations. They will call a State Convention the 7th of August.

Hon. Thomas C. Perrin, of Abbeville, died the 14th instant, in the 73d year of his age. He was the first signer of the Ordinance of Secession; was a prominent and able lawyer; for many years before the war represented his County in the General Assembly; was for a long time President of the Greenville and Columbia Railroad Company—a man honored and respected by all who knew him as a perfect gentleman and sincere Christian. He died of palpitation of the heart.

Jeff David, colored, convicted at the recent term of Abbeville Court for the murder of George and Drucilla Franklin last December, was carried to the gallows Friday, the noose was tied, prayers said and the fatal drop was about to be sprung, when a respite came from Gov. Hampton, postponing the execution to the 14th of June. David was convicted on circumstantial evidence entirely; he has all along solemnly protested his innocence; even on the gallows with death staring him in the face.

Henry M. Hoyt has been nominated by the Ohio Republican Convention for Governor.

Our Washington Letter.

WASHINGTON, D. C.,
May 15, 1878.

The Democratic joint caucus met yesterday morning and decided to push the investigation of the frauds in Florida and Louisiana in connection with the last Presidential election. Clarkson N. Potter was deputed to present the resolution. The preamble substantially recites that as Maryland has complained that due effect was not given her Presidential vote because of frauds; and as by affidavit and otherwise, it appears that frauds were committed in Florida and Louisiana whereby the voice of the people of those States was stifled, it is proper to make inquiry to the end that the honor of the Nation be vindicated and the truth be made known. Conger attempted the role of Republican leader without authority and was left to urge his absurd points of order quite unsupported. Hale put himself forward in that capacity and was coached through the hard places by Gardfield, the whole force from the Republican side rallying around this Senatorial aspirant from Maine. Of course he was pregnant with all sorts of objections, but he was finally silenced on his points of order when he came in with his chef d'œuvre in the shape of an amendment whereby it was proposed to include a large portion of the United States in the investigation.

The allegations of frauds upon which it was based consisted chiefly of the old products of the "outrage mills" and the "bloody shirt" yarns that formerly preceded elections in the South. They had been revamped to adapt them to the present occasion. But he failed. He couldn't even get permission to have them read. The feeling appears to be that any specific charge of fraud, responsibly backed, should be included. But that it would be foreign to the purpose of the investigation to permit the Radical leaders to range all over the country for isolated cases of intimidation with which to offset and belittle the frauds by which whole States were deprived of their preferences and the results of a national election were wholly perverted. Little more was done than to get the resolution before the House yesterday, and it comes up on the expiration of the morning hour to-day as unfinished business. A struggle is anticipated, but there are Democrats enough in town favoring the investigation to insure the adoption of the resolution, provided they are in their seats at the proper time.

Though delivered a week ago to-day the merits of the speech of Gen. Gordon on the repeal of the resumption act are still being canvassed. He smote the contractionists hip and thigh, though never for a moment departing from the courteous bearing usual with him. In the estimation of the crowded chamber and galleries it was a masterly arraignment of those responsible for the financial legislation since the close of the war, judging from the cheers of approval that again and again interrupted the speech. He denounced contraction as justly chargeable with our prostrate condition of to-day, all the suffering, wretchedness and misery following legitimately from the unnatural methods by which it was sought to let us down from the inflation and artificial values of the war period. Those already with him in sentiment were confirmed, and many heretofore inclining to the contraction side had their views more or less radically modified. It must be an ingenious pleader and one thoroughly versed with his subject that could make the experience of England, France and Italy support the contractionists' views, after Gen. Gordon's use of the facts to fortify his own position; and they must put their best men forward if they expect to neutralize the damaging effect of the severe punishment inflicted by this dashing Georgian.

I desire to say one word in behalf of a faithful public servant, Senator Davis, of West Virginia, in connection with the investigation of the book-keeping methods of the Treasury Department. He forced it in the face of the years and gibes of the Radical crew which evidently hoped to make him feel that his pertinacity must be the result of stupidity, thus diverting him from his purpose by ridicule. But they found that he was not to be thus intimidated. Their explanations of the discrepancies in the Treasury books have always been about as clear as mud. And if money matters are found to be all right he will have made public the need of a change in the manner of keeping their books. It is safe to say that either fraud is covered up there or the book-keepers department of the Treasury needs such a degree of reformation as will enable one of ordinary intelligence to get some ideas of our financial standing by a careful inspection of the books.

Sitting Bull's threats are being urged to influence Congress to vote Mr. Hayes the authority to raise 75,000 volunteers between sessions. Don't do it.

Professor Henry's death is the local event now most discussed. He was at the head of the Smithsonian Institute, and his death, though not unexpected, is referred to by all with deep regret.

Rev. A. L. Brownlee and W. F. Pearson.
Our church and village was recently gladdened by a visit from Rev. A. L. Brownlee and W. F. Pearson, of the South Carolina Presbytery. Our pulpit, long vacant, was filled alternately by them on Sabbath last, and their eloquent sermons, replete with wisdom and piety, fell like the Balm of Gilead on the waiting hearts of a God serving, Jehovah worshipping people. In the bright beautiful morning, in the shadowy quiet eve, in the solemn hush of night did sweet Sabbath bells ring out their warning chimes calling all people to the house of prayer, where with unflinching energy and unabated zeal these worthy ambassadors of Christ preached in all its fullness of Jesus.

Oh name with wondrous meaning fraught,
O'er all the world by sinners sought,
For 'twas his blood our ransom bought,
A precious name is Jesus.

'Tis possible our church may be fortunate enough to secure the pastoral services of Mr. Brownlee. Fresh from the classic halls of sacred literature, he is but just entering on his great life work. God speed him in his mission of love, and grant him the high and holy privilege of drawing many souls.

Nearer to God—

To wear a crown, and bear a palm,
And join eternity's ceaseless psalm.

The Antecedents of Disease.

Among the antecedents of disease are innumerable in the circulation of the blood, an unnaturally attenuated condition of the physique, indicating that the life current is deficient in nutritive properties, a weak and languid system, inability to digest the food, loss of appetite, sleep and strength, and a sensation of unnatural languor. All these may be regarded as among the indices of a progressing disease, which will eventually attack the system and overwhelm it, if it is not built up and fortified in advance. Incorporate, without loss of time, making use of the greatest vitalizing agent extant, Hostetter's Stomach Balm, an elixir which has given health and vigor to myriads of the sick and debilitated, and is avouched by physicians and analysts to be pure as well as effective, which is immensely popular in this country, and extensively used abroad, and which has been the most one of the leading medicinal staples of America.

"EUREKA" is the sentiment of countless sufferers who find the balm of relief, and the fountain of their health and strength, in AYER'S SASSAPARILLA. It is the most potent of all the alternatives to purify the system and cleanse the blood. It possesses invigorating qualities, so that it stimulates the faded vitality and purges out the corrupting humors which mingle with the blood, promoting derangement and decay. We are assured by many intelligent physicians that this medicine cures beyond all others of its kind, and we can fortify this statement by our own experience.
