RAINFALL AND FOREST.

Some interesting observations have lately been made touching the influence of forests on rainfall, at the School of Forestry, Nancy, France. The results of these observations, made during the past six years, are summed up by the subdirector of the school as follows:

1. Forests increase the quantity of meteoric waters which fall on the ground, and thus favor the growth of springs and of underground waters. 2. In a forest region the ground receives as much and more water under cover of the trees than the uncovered ground of regions with little or no wood. 3. The cover of the trees of a forest diminishes to a large degree the evaporation of the water received by the ground, and thus contributes to the maintenance of the moisture of the latter and to the regularity of the flow of water sources. 4. The temperature in a forest is much less unequal than in the open, although, on the whole, it may be a little lower; but the minima are there constantly higher, and the maxima lower than in regions not covered with

These results substantially corroborate those made by M. Fautrait, when sub-inspector of the forests or Senlis, France, and given as follows:

1. It rains more abundantly, under identical circumstances, over forest than over nonwooded ground, and most abundantly over forests with trees in a green condition. 2. The degree of saturation of the air by moisture is greater over non-wooded ground, and much greater over masses of Pinus sylvestris than over masses of leaved species. 3. The leafage and branches of leafed trees intercept one-third, and those of resinous trees the half of the rain water, which afterwards returns to the atmosphere by evaporation. On the other hand, these same leaves and branches restrain the evaperation of the water which reaches the ground, and that evaporation is nearly four times less under a mass of leafed forest than in the open, and two and one third times only under a mass of pines. 4. The laws of the change of temperature out of and under wood are from the observation of M. Mathieu. The general conclusions seem to be that forest regulate the function of water, and exercise on the temperature, as on the atmosphere, an effect of "ponderation and equilibrium."

Many persons declare that they have no luck with bees. They provide good hives for them, and keep them in a dry celler during the winter. Still they do not do well. They. store little honey, often not enough for their own wants. These persons seem to forget that bees do not create honey. They simply gather it. The bee-keeper must supply the honey or take advantage of that furnished by forest trees, wild plants or those which are cultivated by his neighbors for other purposes. The willow, linden, and crab-apple furnish considerable honey, but is doubtful if it pays to set out these trees for the honey their blossoms secrete. If they abound in any locality, their presence is favorable to beekeeping. Bee-keeping is generally profitable in any region where dairying is a leading business, for the reason that dairy farmers commonly keep a large porportion of their pastures seeded with white white clover blossoms is of a light color, fine flavor and delightful aroma. The plant is in blossom a longer time than almost any other. The alsike, or Swedish clover, ranks next to it as a honeyproducing plant.

THE PLATFORM.

Correct Text of the Declaration of Principles Adopted at Cincinnati.

The Democrats of the United States.

in Convention assembled, declare : 1. We pledge ourselves anew to the constitutional doctrines and traditions of the Democratic party as illustrated by the teachings and example of a ong line of Democratic statesmen and embodied in the platform of the last National Convention of the party. 2. Opposition to centralization and to that dangerous spirit of encreachment which tends to consolidate the powers of all the departments in one. and thus to oreate, whatever the form of government, a real despotism. No sumptuary laws; separation of Church and State for the good of each; Common Schools fostered and protected.

3. Home Rule ; honest money, consisting of gold and silver and paper convertible into coin on demand; the strict maintenance of the public faith. State and National, and a tariff for Fancy and Plain Suits revenue only.

4. The subordination of the military to the civil power, and a genuine and thorough reform of the civil ser-

5. The right to a free ballot is a right preservative of all rights, and must and shall be maintained in every part of the United States.

6. The present Administration is the representative of a conspiracy only, and its claim of right to surround the ballot-boxes with troops and deputy marshals, to intimidate and ob struct the election, and the unprecedented use of the veto to maintain its corrupt and despotic powers insult the people and imperil their institutions.

7. We execrate the course of this Administration in making places in the Civil Service a reward for political crime and demand a reform by statute which shall make it forever impossible for a defeated candidate to bribe his way to the seat of a usurper by billeting villians upon the people.

S. The great fraud of 1876-77, by which, upon a false count of the Electoral votes of two States, the candidate defeated at the polls declared to be President, and for the first time in American history the will of the peo ple was set aside under a threat of military violence, struck a deadly blow at our system of representative government. The Democratic party, to preserve the country from the horrors of civil war, submitted for the time in firm and patriotic faith that the people would punish this crime in 1880 This issue precedes and dwarfs every other. It imposes a more sacred duty upon the people than ever addressed the consciences of a nation

9. The resolution of Samuel J. Tilden not again to be a candidate for the exalted place to which he was elected by a majority of his countrymen, and from which he was excluded by the leaders of the Republican party, is received by the Democrats of the United States with deep sensibility, and they declare their confidence similar to those which result in his wisdom, patriotism and integrity unshaken by the assaults of the common enemy; and they further assure him that he is followed into the retirement he has chosen for himself by the sympathy and respect of his fellow-citizens, who regard him as one who, by elevating the standard of public morality and adorning and purifying the public service, merits the lasting gratitude of his country with 'Kendall's Spavin Cure' has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four year ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I out him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ringbone was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure and with less than a bottle cared him so that he is not lame, neither can the bunch be found. Respectfully yours. P. N. GRANGER. PERSEVERANCE WILL TELL.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE

THE MOST SUCCESSFUL REMEDY ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and loes not blister. READ PROOF BELOW. FROM REV. P. N. GRANGER, Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District.

Stoughton, Mass., March 16th, 1880. B. J. KENDALL & Co., GENTS: In justice to know that I have removed two bone spavins with 'Kendall's Spavin Cure,' one very arge one, don't know how long the spavin had been there. I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four months to take the large one off and two for the sum one. I have used ten bottles. The horse ntirely well, not at all stiff, and no bane be seen or felt. This is a wonderful me icine. It is a new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me its sale will Respectfully yours, Chas. E. Parker. be very great.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE. Acme, Michigan, December 28th, 1879.
B. J. Kendall & Co., Gents: I sent you one dollar for your "Kendall's Spavin Cure" last summer which cured a bone spavin with half a bottle. The best liniment I ever a bottle. The best Yours respectfully, Homer Hoxie.

STATEMENT MADE UNDER OATH. 5 I treated with Kendall's Spavin Cure, a arly half as large as a hen's egg, and com etely stopped the lameness and removed the enlargement. I have worked the horse ever since very hard, and he never has been lame, nor could I ever see any difference in the size of the hock joints since I treated Emm with Kendail's Spavin Cure.

FLESH. Patten's Mills, Washington Co., N. Y., Feb. 21, 1878. B. J. KENDALL, M. D.: Dear Sir-The particular case on which I used your "Spavin Cure" was a malignant ankle sprain of sixteen months' standing. I had tried many things, but in vain. Your "Spavin Cure" put the foot to the ground again, and, for the first time since hurt, in a natural position. For a family linement it excess anything we ever used. Yours truly, REV. M. P. RELL. Pastor M. E. Church, Patten's Mills, N. Y.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE ON HUMAN

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE is sure in its etects, mild in its action as it does not ter, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach every deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, sprains, swellings, any lameness and all en-largements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man over used, acting mild and yet certain in its enects. Send address for Illustrated Circular which we think gives positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unquali-fied success to our knowledge, for beast as Price $1, per bottle, or six bottles for $5.
