

The Herald.

THOS. F. GREENE, Editor.
W. H. WALLACE, Editor.NEWBERRY, S. C.
THURSDAY, MAY 18, 1882

A PAPER FOR THE PEOPLE.

The Herald is in the highest respect a Family Newspaper, devoted to the material interests of the people of this County and the State. It circulates extensively, and as an advertising medium offers unrivalled advantages. For Terms, see first page.

University Professors.
The Trustees of the State University met in Columbia the night of the 18th, and elected the following as Professors for that institution:

For the Chair of Ancient Languages, Rev. E. L. Patton, of Due West, S. C.; Modern Languages, E. S. Jones, of the University of Tennessee; Agriculture, Jno. M. McBride, of the University of Tennessee; History, Political Economy and Constitution Law, R. Means Davis, of Winnsboro, S. C.; Mental and Moral Philosophy, Rev. W. J. Alexander, of Darlington.

Rev. Mr. Patton is a Professor in Erskine College. Mr. Jones was one of the teachers at the Teachers Institute last year, and is said to be quite a pleasant gentleman. About Mr. McBride we know nothing. Mr. Davis is the teacher of Mt. Zion Academy at Winnsboro, and the editor of the Winnsboro News and Herald. We know no thing of Rev. Mr. Alexander.

None of the Professors are men of mark; none of them have an extended reputation as teachers—what their local reputation may be we know not. We can say, however, without any unkindness to any of them, that the Faculty is not composed of men of such brain, culture and reputation as would warrant any very high expectations as to the success of the institution, or as would reconcile the taxpayers of the State to a very lavish appropriation of the public money for its support.

The Trustees, no doubt, did the best they could in making their selections; for while the candidates were quite numerous there was a great scarcity of men of ability.

The Southern Baptist Convention.
Was held last week in Greenville. It was composed of delegates from the Southern States. Rev. Dr. Mell, Chancellor of the University of Georgia, was chosen President. The report of Rev. Dr. McIntosh, of Virginia, Secretary of Home Missions, shows that the Board of Domestic Missions has received during the year $28,370.08. In addition the State Boards have expended over $70,000—making a total of over $100,000 for domestic missions. This State contributed $9,200.

The report of the Treasurer of Foreign Missions shows receipts last year of $49,041.02.

At the General Conference of the Methodist Church, the Committee on Temperance submitted the following rules to be placed in the Book of Discipline:

"Let preachers and members observe the general rules which forbid drunkenness or the drinking of spirits unless in case of necessity. In cases of drunkenness let discipline be administered as in cases of immorality. Let our preachers and members abstain from the manufacture or sale of intoxicating liquors to be used as a beverage; and if any shall engage in such manufacture or sale, in such case let discipline be administered as in case of imprudent or improper conduct."

At a session of the Southern Baptist Convention a resolution gravely disapproving the action of the American Bible Society refusing aid in the publishing and circulation of Dr. Judson's Burmese version of the Bible was adopted. Dr. Jas. P. Boyce, in speaking upon the resolution, denounced the action of the Bible Society as an insult to Baptists all over the country, and that the Society had offended scholarship, Christianity and catholicity.

At a meeting of the Stockholders of the Piedmont Factory the 10th Mr. H. P. Hammett was re-elected President, and a dividend of 10 per cent was declared, to be paid in semi-annual installments.

A canister filled with blasting powder was found on the railing of the Lord Mayor of London's residence on the night of the 13th. Supposed to be an attempt on his life.

Register.

Again we say register. The vote of every honest citizen will be needed in the approaching election. It will be impossible to vote without registering. The time for registering ends the 20th of June. The Supervisor will finish up his rounds by the 1st of June, and will then open his office at the Court House. Those from all parts of the County who shall not have registered before the 1st of June can register any time up to the 20th of June. After that date the books will be closed. Do not let the opportunity slip by unheeded. We do not presume to try to teach intelligent men their duty; but we beg every lover of honest government to register and not to disqualify himself from doing his part in maintaining such a government. Not to register is to invite back the ignorant, corrupt and shameless government that preceded 1876.

Information gathered on Saturday shows that at least twelve were engaged in the Dublin tragedy. It is believed that in a cab which stood near the scene of the murder and loitering among the trees were armed men ready to effect a rescue in case the actual assassins were surprised. The police have now issued descriptions of four of the men on the car. Two of them are described as being about 30 years of age, with sandy hair, one about 35, of stout build and dark complexion, and the other about 20, with small, black moustache. The driver is described as being between 35 and 40, with red, bloated face.

A latter telegram says that a car driver from Kingsdown, named Bolger, has been arrested at Mo-ville and sent Dublin. There is reason to believe that the assassins had intended to murder eight persons.

Physicians are required according to the second section of "An Act to regulate the licensing of physicians and surgeons," approved December 17, 1881, to abide by the following:

"Every person now lawfully engaged in the practice of physic and surgery within the State shall, on or before the first of June, 1882 and every person hereafter duly authorized to practice physic and surgery shall, before commencing to practice, register in the Clerk's office of the County where he is practicing or intends to commence the practice," &c.

The following appropriations for improvement of rivers and harbors have been passed by Congress: Charleston harbor, (including Sullivan's Island) $300,000; Great Pee Dee River, $6,000; Wappoo Cut, $10,000; Wateree River, $10,000; Edisto River, $8,000; Georgetown harbor, $7,000; Salkehatchie River, $5,000.

N. G. Gonzales, Washington correspondent of the News & Courier, says: "Col. Aiken's rank as an agriculturist makes him the leading authority in the House on the subject, and if the next Congress be Democratic he will assuredly be the chairman of the agricultural committee."

The Presbyterian General Assembly, which was to meet to day in Atlanta, will meet in Columbus, Ga., on account of the prevalence of small pox in the first named city.

The Knights of Honor number 2,850 lodges, embracing over 130,000 members. The death benefits paid out last year to widows and orphans amounted to $2,300,000.

The Supreme Court of the United States has sustained the verdict of the Court Martial that tried Sergeant Mason and sentenced him to eight years in the penitentiary.

Col. Aiken's pet bill making the Bureau of Agriculture a Cabinet Department passed the House last week by an almost unanimous vote. It now goes to the Senate.

The President has signed the Chinese Bill. It differs from the first only in making the period of prohibition ten years instead of twenty.

The Southern Baptist Convention last week adopted resolutions looking to a new translation of the Bible by the Baptists.

Mr. George Otis Trevelyan has been appointed Chief Secretary to Ireland, to succeed Lord Cavendish, who was murdered.

The latest account of the condition of Senator Hill, of Georgia, is that but little hope is entertained of his recovery.

The Hon. Alex. H. Stephens has been nominated for Governor of Georgia by the Independents.

New Bishops.

The following were elected Bishops at the General Conference of the Southern Methodist Church in Nashville Tuesday: A. W. Wilson, D.D., of Baltimore; Linus Parker, D.D., of New Orleans; Attiens G. Haygood, D.D., of Georgia; J. C. Granberry, D.D., of Tennessee, and Kennon Hargrave, D.D., of Tennessee.

They held office during life. The Mayor of Raleigh, N. C. Basil C. Manly, died the 15th. He served with distinction in the Confederate army.

An Augusta policeman, tired of being dunned, attempted suicide on the 13th by shooting himself in the side.

W. E. Jackson, President of the Augusta Factory, and also President of the First National Bank, is dead.

The Hon. C. C. Washburne died at Eureka Springs, May 14.

State News.

White frost was visible in Greenville the 15th, while considerable snow is reported to have fallen in the mountains.

The Columbia Hotel was closed Saturday by the creditors of the proprietor, Mr. R. N. Lowrance. His indebtedness amounts to about $4,600—$2,000 of which is for rent.

The well known octogenarian Methodist minister, the Rev. Paul Derick, was robbed on Sunday last of his little hoard of savings, amounting to $175. While at church his house was entered, his trunk broken open and the money taken. This is one of the most cruel and dastardly robberies ever committed in Columbia. This money had been paid him by the Conference in December last, and was all that he had. We look upon this act as a sacrilege.

FOR THE HERALD.

The University and the Grand Canal—Registration, &c.

COLUMBIA, S. C., May 16, 1882.

DEAR HERALD: Columbia is dull just now, though not more so than other upcountry towns. When the Legislature is in session, or the State Fair or the State Convention is going on, Columbia is in her glory; at other times she exists as best she can. This is a dreadful place for newspaper reporters; they are either in a state of wild enthusiasm, or in a miserable stagnation. But the city is never entirely without resources. She always has a hobby that gives her people a chance to blow. Just now she has two hobbies—the State University and the Canal. The result of the election for additional professors in the University you, no doubt, already have. We do not care to say anything against the Trustees or the new professors. The former did the best they could with the material at hand—and the "material" couldn't help it that it wasn't better. Perhaps it will improve. We mustn't despair, but wait and see. A missionary was once telling a Russian of God—how great he was; and to emphasize his lesson, said: "He is greater than the czar." "Yes," said the Russian; "but the czar is young yet." So the University is young yet; and if given time may—in three or four generations—equal ante bellum days—if the people will kindly submit to be taxed to support it for so long a time—a supposition that admits of a considerable amount of doubt. But about the Canal. First, it may be well enough to say that the Canal isn't near completed yet; indeed work has scarcely gone beyond the survey and the local newspaper buncombe. The idea is to widen the channel to 150 feet and deepen it to 20; and the Columbians seem to take it as a matter of course that the rural taxpayers will cheerfully contribute the necessary half a million for the special benefit of the capital city. We predict that there will be a big rebellion among the "masses" in a year or two against the liberal appropriations for these two hobbies.

There is some talk of a call of the Legislature in extra session. We understand that the Governor is not in favor of it, but will act on the suggestion of a majority of the members. The call is very probable, as there seems to be an urgent and growing demand that the State shall be re-districted before the fall election. Otherwise the chances are that the Republicans will get a majority of the next Congressmen from South Carolina. The Democratic State Executive Committee, which meets in this city the 18th, will probably take the matter under consideration and make some suggestions.

Registration is progressing in the city at the rate of about two and a half blacks to one white. There is an apparent indifference among a large number of whites on the subject, we are sorry to say. Perhaps the indifference is only apparent, and they may all register yet. It is very important that they should do so. The law is, No register, no vote.

A gentleman who came down to-day from Spartanburg, reports a light frost in that city last night.

More anon. Ed. I. Tor.

Money for a Rainy Day.

"For six years my daughter was sick from kidney and other disorders. We had used up our savings on doctors, when our domestic advised us to try Parker's Ginger Tonic. Four bottles effected a cure, and as a dollar's worth has kept our family well over a year, we have been able to lay by money again for a rainy day."—A Poor Man's Wife.

Washington Letter.

From our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 11, 1882.

The Tariff Commission bill is at last out of Congress, having furnished the largest amount of chin-music of any measure before that body for years. Some of the speeches not delivered, but whose authors obtained "leave to print," are still coming out in the Record. I do not entertain any great degree of admiration for those Democrats who supported the bill and forced the party in Congress to throw away the advantage it might have derived from a square stand on the question. The pressure has already begun on the President; in behalf of persons anxious to serve on the commission; and the applicants do not consider that they know nothing about the subject of the tariff, but are completely absorbed with the idea of $10 per diem and expenses. The President will, it is hoped, put some experts on the commission, but it will require all his nerve and determination to withstand the appeals of the politicians. It is generally accepted here as conclusive that the commission will manage to perpetuate its existence for several years to come, and if it makes any report at all at the beginning of the next session of Congress, it will be merely one of a preliminary character. Indeed, the longer the protectionists can keep the commission in existence the better they will be pleased. It can be set down as a dead certainty that nothing will be done with the tariff during the life of this Congress, and if the Democrats of the next Congress surrender to the straight-out protectionists as they are now, any hopes the tariff reformers may have of a revision of the present tariff prior to the Presidential election of 1884 will prove groundless.

Much has been said and written lately about President Arthur's manners and habits and mode of life, but I am not inclined to believe half of it. It is reported concerning the "high old times" of himself and a few choice spirits over their wine at the White House. Yet it is unquestionably true that the President is a high liver. He likes good wine, good cooking, and the society of his particular friends. In addition to this he is an aristocrat in his feelings, tastes, and all his instincts. Some time ago there was a great flourishing of trumpets over the asserted fact that at last we had an old-time gentleman in the White House—a man of the old school, who would entertain royally and restore to the Executive Mansion to the courtly manners to which for some years it had been a stranger. But somehow this true is no longer sung among our society devotees. Beyond his aristocratic ways and his free use of wine, there does not seem to be the courtliness about the President and his abode which was anticipated. There is of late even a disposition to criticize his lack of courtesy. The other evening at his card reception his invited guests were kept cooling their heels in the open air more than twenty minutes after the hour named on the cards of invitation for the reception to begin. Several hundred people had been invited to call on him between the hours of eight and ten o'clock. The President set the time himself. When eight o'clock came it found two or three hundred early birds in front of the Executive Mansion waiting his pleasure. But they had to wait for nearly half an hour later, and the ladies, shivering in evening wraps at the White House door, heaped a good many feminine objections on the President's head, as under the circumstances they certainly had a perfect right to do.

The society people used to sneer at Hayes for not having wine at his card receptions, but at the levee the other night neither wine nor eatables were served and most of the invited guests went supperless to bed unless they took a cold bite at home. A select few were invited to dine, but the rest were not offered so much as a sandwich. To give the fraud his due, I must say that Hayes, with all his stinginess, never failed to spread the table on these occasions. But Mr. Arthur cares only for the company and countenance of a dozen or so choice spirits, and refuses to sacrifice his personal habits or comforts to the Presidential office. For his chums the White House doors are always ajar; for the public never. For his chums the White House cellar is stored with the rarest vintage and cigars by the hundreds. That told me of something. I was told the other day that the White House steward was asked by the President to send up a box or two of cigars of a certain brand. "But they are all gone," Mr. President," said Steward Crump. "Why, I got several hundred boxes not long ago." "I can't help it, sir; they are all gone. You can't see how I know, but I do. You know your friends smoke a good deal and drink a good deal. They can't drink more than they can carry away, but when they are asked to smoke, sir, they usually put a handful in their pockets to every one they put in their mouths, and when they smoke again they go to the boxes for another handful, not to their pockets for a cigar."

Phono.

A true assistant to nature in restoring the system to perfect health, thus enabling it to resist disease, is Brown's Iron Bitters.

Catarth is a most loathsome and insidious disease, and has been pronounced by scientists to be incurable. The proprietors will guarantee their great vegetable Specific, S. S. S., to cure it, or any other blood disease, if taken according to directions. C. C. Burns, Greenacres, Ind., says: "Cured my disease after all other treatment had failed. Price, $1.00 and $1.75 per bottle."

Church Literature.

An Essay Read Before the Newberry Circuit Convention.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 11, 1882.

This is an important subject, and one that will engage the serious attention of all true Christians. Recognizing its importance I should not have been chosen for this occasion, but having been appointed, and desiring to perform every duty required of me, I shall endeavor to present the subject, cherishing the hope that some good may result therefrom.

Any enterprise that has for its object the dissemination of good would command the sympathy and support of those for whose benefit it is prosecuted. Now the publication of our church literature, and not of ours only but that of every Christian Church, commands the attention and constant aid of our best men—men who have devoted themselves, their time, their strength, their energies, their talents, and oftentimes their means, to the promulgation of those grand Christian truths and principles which make us people happy; to promote civilization, to lift man above the level of the sordid cares, vexations and trials incident to the pilgrimage through this wilderness. Therefore these good men and true deserve, as I should be glad to see our church paper, the Southern Christian Advocate, the official organ of the South Carolina Conference, in the home of every Methodist within the bounds of the Conference, and when as a reference to the publishers of this paper what I might term a royalty to the Annual Conference on every copy for which we subscribe, then it seems to me our duty is doubled, are trebled, and we should give it our support, because, in the first place, we are aiding the replenishment of our Conference treasury. In the second place, we are aiding a meritorious man; and last, but by no means least, we are placing in our children's hands pure literature, the reading of which will print impressions for good upon their hearts and minds that will last them all through the journey of life; and not only so, but we will there find the best and purest thoughts of our spiritual leaders. And I venture to say that the single issue of this paper, since its foundation to the present time, has contained articles worth more than the price of the whole year's subscription, even if such things could be measured by a price or had a money value. And it may be said that this very paper has been the means of bringing a precious soul to Christ. Then will I thank God that he has the privilege of taking their church paper, and thereby aiding in the spread of Christian ideas and principles in the world. And what I say of our church literature, I say of all other church literature, and it does not need the great rolls of the Visitor being distributed among Lutherans and of Courier's among Baptists, and Southern Presbyterians among that denomination, and A. R. Presbyterians among that denomination. I say of all church literature, take your church paper, Lutherans, take the Visitor; Baptists, take the Courier; Methodists, take the Advocate, and so on and so on. Help to give them a large circulation, and thereby make the Editor's heart glad, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry Circuit Convention paper—whose Editor has grown old in the service of the Master, and whose venerable looks whitened by the frosts of many winters, has placed his paper upon the exalted Christian platform, Peace, rest, and his little reward in the knowledge that his labors are appreciated, and do your own souls and the souls of your loved ones good and glory God by spending his cause in the earth. And I will here say a word for the Newberry