

Special and Local.

THURSDAY, JULY 17, 1884.

Dr. William McCarley, of No. 4 Township, died on Wednesday, the 9th of July.

Mr. Geo. D. Alderson, a commercial traveler representing a Baltimore house, died at the Newberry Hotel Saturday night, July 12, of congestion of the stomach and bowels, after a very short illness. A special train left Newberry early Monday morning with his remains, which were carried to Baltimore. They were accompanied by his daughter who arrived Sunday evening.

A movement is being made to re-establish the Young Men's Prayer-meetings at the Methodist Church. A meeting will be held there next Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

The union services will be held in the new Reformed Presbyterian Church next Sunday night.

The proprietor and business manager of the Herald has been confined to bed nearly three weeks, and we hope that anything that may be missed in the make-up of the paper will be overlooked.

Missionary Meeting at New Chapel

The Women's Missionary Society of New Chapel will have a picnic at the church Saturday, the 19th inst. Addresses will be made by Revs. J. A. Sligh, J. A. Clifton, J. Steek, D. D., and J. W. Dickson. All mission societies and the public generally are invited to attend.

Excursions

From Columbia to Sullivan's Island every Saturday, via Atlantic Coast Line, via Sumter and Lane's. Round Trip only $3.00. Tickets good to return the following Monday.

C. M. Smith, Agent Columbia. T. M. Emerson, Gen. Pass. Agt.

Go to R. C. Williams's next door to Z. L. White's, and get your Picture Frames.

Excursion to Greenwood

An extra train will be run from Newberry to Greenwood to-day, arriving at the latter place at 10 a. m. A mass meeting at that place will be addressed by the Congressional candidates and others. And a match game of baseball will be played between the Newberry and Greenwood boys.

Personals

Miss Laura Whaley, who recently finished her course at the Clinton Orphanage, left Newberry Tuesday for Spartanburg, where she will attend the State Normal Institute.

Mr. W. A. Cline went last week to Hickory, North Carolina. He will spend some time in that section of the State, for his health.

Maj. C. H. Suber is spending some time at the White Sulphur Springs, West Va.

Miss L. W. Simkins and E. B. Blease spent part of this week in town.

Newberry Paper the latest novelty in stationery at Coffield, Petty & Co's Book Store.

Piedmont Fair Association

A meeting was held in Greenville on the 8th, and the Piedmont Fair Association was organized. It is intended for Oconee, Spartanburg, Newberry, Pickens, Laurens, Abbeville, Anderson and Union. Mr. A. Van Johnston was elected one of the Vice Presidents, and the committee appointed to canvass for subscriptions in Newberry is composed of the following gentlemen: Alan Johnston, A. Kilgore and J. C. Wilson. The next meeting will be held during the week of the State Agricultural Society and State Grant, in Greenville, 1st of July.

Primary Election Managers

Following persons have been appointed managers of the Primary Election:

- D. O. Herbert, Jno. E. Jones, Packer.
J. O. Thompson, Ed. Kennedy and Thos. W. Keitt.
W. C. Cromer, John W. Scott and J. Clayton Abrams.
No. 5—Thompson Conner, C. W. Buford and B. M. Chalmers.
No. 6—John G. Piester, P. B. Workman and Jno. W. Reeder.
No. 7—J. B. Young, J. R. Ervin and J. O. Holloway.
No. 8—J. C. Goggans, Geo. Long and Thos. P. Blair.
No. 9—J. W. Bowers, J. C. Banks and W. P. B. Harman.
No. 10—J. B. Bostest, G. M. Slagle and G. M. Mills.
The managers for No. 3 and No. 11 have not been appointed.

Vigilantes in Newberry

About a month ago a seventeen year old white girl, of No. 10 Township in this County, gave birth to a negro child. We withhold her name, out of respect for her family. Last Saturday a party of some forty white citizens of the Township proceeded in their own way to administer summary justice to the reputed father, Jim Kinard. Openly and without disguise they captured him and gave him, we are told, 200 lashes well laid on them then carried him through the town of Newberry, a short distance above Helena, and told him to go to Mississippi. It is said that he signified his willingness to have his neck broken if he is ever caught again in Newberry County.

We dislike exceedingly to publish this matter, but we do publish it because we regret even more that such things are possible in a civilized community. The punishment administered to Kinard was unchristian, sided and partial. And we mention this occurrence because we wish to say that the laws of our State against foundation and adultery should be more rigidly enforced, and that the offenders against these laws should be so whipped by public sentiment as to whip about a better state of public morals. Justice should be sure, sharp and impartial, otherwise we must not be surprised at the laxity in morals that prevails in some parts of our State.

Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) has cured me entirely of bad Blood Poison. I went 100 miles to get it, and it made me sound as a new dollar. J. W. WATKINS, Meadville, Pa. June 1-1m.

They Want To Teach.

At the examination of colored applicants for positions as teachers in the public schools, two weeks ago, some of the questions were curiously answered. For the benefit of our readers we give a few answers under the head of "Theory and Practice of Teaching."

Question: What are the principal objects of a recitation? Answer: "Stand erect and be submissive." "Know thy Lesson perfect." "Stand correct and be perfect." "Principal object of recitation is regulating the class and to keep order."

Q.—What works on teaching have you ever read? A.—"Astronomy, Philosophy, Shakespeare." "Philosophy, Theology."

Q.—What is your method of regulating whispering in school? A.—"Demand it to stop at once and no more of it." "Tell them the first time they do it must not whisper and if they do it again make them sit far apart."

Q.—What is your method of teaching spelling? A.—"A scholar to spell by Cite until it know all the letters and then recite."

Q.—What do you consider just punishment for truancy? A.—"Make them stand up out in the door on one foot for ten minutes."

Q.—How would you commence to teach grammar to a class which had received no instructions in the science? A.—"Let them recite on the book until they become familiar with it. 'First teach them the Cleave.'"

These are specimen answers taken from the papers of some six or eight applicants, who were not the most successful.

Peabody Scholarships

There will be three Peabody scholarships for this State in the Nashville Normal College for the session beginning Oct. 1st, next, which will be filled by competitive examination. This examination will be held at Spartanburg on the 6th of August. The applicant for a scholarship must be at least 17 years of age, present to the President of the College a certificate of irreproachable moral character, gentlemanly or lady-like habits, and good general health, declare his intention to make teaching a profession, must give a pledge to remain at the College two years, if the scholarship is continued so long, promise to submit cheerfully to all its requirements in study, discipline, etc., and to teach in the public schools of his or her own State at least two years, if there is opportunity. The applicant must obtain from the State Superintendent of Public Instruction for his State, a certificate that he has passed a satisfactory examination before said Superintendent, or other competent person duly authorized, in the studies required for admission to the second or "middle class" at the College, viz: In Spelling, Reading, Penmanship, Grammar and Analysis, Rhetoric, Geography (civil and physical), Arithmetic, Algebra, United States History. No particular text-books are prescribed for this examination. The candidate should give evidence of such knowledge of the above branches as would justify awarding their further study at the State Normal Institute. The examination will be held at the College with reference to their classification, etc.

Gentlemen or ladies thus admitted, who complete the prescribed course of study and training satisfactorily, graduate regularly, and receive from the proper authorities a diploma, admitting them to the degree of "Licentiate of Instruction." ("L. I.")

The Peabody Scholarship money will not be paid until the student has been a member of the College one month, at which time the amount of each succeeding month, $25 will be paid to an amount not exceeding $200 for the year; no payment will be made for the fraction of a month. It is expected that this money will be appropriated by the student to the payment of board and other College expenses first of all, and no certificate or diploma will be granted to any student known to be in arrears in these respects.

JALAPA ITEMS.

Uncle Mark Boyd preached to a large congregation at Tranquil church, on last Sunday a very able sermon, causing many a moist eye. We love Uncle Mark dearly, and wish he could live forever.

Fighting during last week with the grass, prevented our items from making their appearance. Should we have a week's fair weather, we will come out victorious.

Mosquitoes and flies are numerous and bolder than for many years past.

Peaches are rotting on the trees before the fruit is fully ripe.

Watermelons will be a rarity for some time yet, as most of the vines have been injured by the excessive rains and many have died.

Gardens are just royal, and we are living as kings ought to, vegetables in the greatest abundance.

The least sickness in our section for the season of the year that we remember for the past 10 years, we feel quite grateful.

Places candidates will likely visit: July 18th, Miss Jamie Chalmers's School Picnic at E. P. Chalmers's Spring near Jalapa; 19th, Harp's gin house and New Chapel Church; 20th, Barbecue at Walton; 21st, Barbecue at Jacob Hipp's; Aug. 9th, Barbecue at Thos. Hayes.

If you want a good harmless joke on a candidate ask Uncle Bealy Mangum how about Florida.

Col. Wm. Lester has a home made stump burner, somewhat like the smoke stack of a locomotive, that took our fancy. Some air admitted at the bottom and it soon runs the stump into ashes.

J. Wm. Folk, by invitation, delivered an address to Tranquil Sunday School on Sunday, subject, "Know thyself."

Dr. R. P. Clark has a field of cotton of some 6 acres nearly shouder high, the very finest we have seen during this season; his neighbor's adjoining is small of the humble bee variety, and the Dr. is meditating whether or not to plow his way to keep from shading his neighbor's cotton.

Mr. Jas. Johnson has some fine cotton also, and while inspecting other's grass a white flag was put in his farm. No need of these flags as Jimmie is a worker. Col. Cannon has been somewhat feeble during the past week, we trust to see the Col. and Missionary Jane during the week. N. G.

THE COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS.

Court met Monday morning, and adjourned Wednesday morning at half past nine o'clock.

Judge Aldridge delivered a brief charge to the Grand Jury, in which he said that it is the duty of the State to give its children the advantages of a rudimentary education; but when it has done what the Constitution requires, and taught them to read, write and cipher, it has done its duty.

Two indictments were handed out, one true bill was found, and the Grand Jury was discharged Monday morning.

The following cases came up: The State vs. General Myers, stealing live stock—pleaded guilty; sentence, six months in the Penitentiary.

The State vs. Hampton Mitchell, assault of a high and aggravated nature—pleaded guilty; sentence, three months in the Penitentiary.

The State vs. Antony Henly, guilty of assault and battery of a high and aggravated nature; sentence, one year in the Penitentiary.

The State vs. Green Owens, murder—guilty of manslaughter; sentence, ten years in the Penitentiary.

The Grand Jury made their report which we give in substance: The offices and books of the various county officers, except that of School Commissioner which will be examined hereafter, were examined and found well kept. The Grand Jury deplore the fact that funds in the hands of the Sheriff, Clerk, Probate Judge and Master cannot be paid out, after long years have elapsed, because the cases from which they arise have not been determined.

The taxable property of the County has increased, and the financial condition of the County is improving. The floating indebtedness is small, and the funded indebtedness (county and school) originally about $36,000 will be entirely paid in two years at farthest.

The offices and books of the Trial Justices in town appear to be correct, upon examination, and the books of the County Justices, so far as examined appear to be correct. The Grand Jury know of no cause of complaint against them, but take pleasure in noting that litigation in these courts has considerably decreased.

The attention of the County Commissioners is directed to the condition of the New Cut Road from Pomaria to the Court House, which is impassable, especially at the Epps Hill and the adjoining swamp.

The special committee, consisting of the foreman and G. M. Bowers, D. N. Lane and F. M. Schuppert, performed two days' extra duty in making investigations, and were assisted by Jas. K. P. Goggans, Esq., three days.

MEETING OF BOARD OF TRUSTEES.

The Board of Trustees of the Prosperity High School Association, actuated by a sense of duty to themselves as well as the school they represent, in order to correct a public impression, feel constrained to make the following statement of facts: They did not proceed to provide a principal and assistants for the scholastic year of said school, to begin on the first of September next and end with the scholastic year in June, 1885, for the reason that they did not feel authorized to do so until after the election of three new trustees, who were elected by the association at its meeting on the 8th day of June, 1884.

2. That by the constitution of said association it does not lie in the power of the board of trustees to draw any funds from the treasury of the association by any act of theirs for any debt or obligation they may make for principal or assistants, except that they can draw funds to pay the salaries of the principal and assistants of said school. All other funds arising from the school is the property of the association.

3. That the board of trustees for said high school for session 1882-3 did employ Mr. J. C. Cork as principal at a salary of $500, Mr. J. C. Cork as first assistant at a salary of $300, and Miss Marie Street as second assistant at a salary of $200, aggregating $1,000, and guaranteed the same.

4. That for the session of 1883-4 they employed Mr. J. C. Cork as Principal at a salary of $525, Mr. E. O. Counts as first assistant at a salary of $350, and Miss C. L. Boulware at a salary of $275, and guaranteed 75 per cent. of said salary.

5. That the scholastic year 1882-3 yielded only the sum of $1025.

6. That the scholastic year of 1883-4 yielded only the gross sum of $1868.93.

7. That the proceeds of the school for the terms 1882-3 did not pay the principal and assistants by the sum of $855, which the board of trustees paid out of their own funds.

8. That the gross proceeds of the school for the scholastic year 1882-4; $1868.93, was appropriated to paying trustees of association for collecting and paying out, $23.61; for salary of principal and assistants: $1350.—($1412.90) leaving for association $455.93. This balance the association appropriated to the refunding of Board of Trustees for scholastic year 1882-3 $235, to the payment of A. H. Wheeler for money paid for building wing $65, and of Wheeler & Mosley, $50, and the committee of Board of Trustees for staging for commencement exercises 1884 about $20.—($490)—being a deficiency of the debts of about $31.60.

9. That shortly after the meeting of the association and the election of the three new members of the Board of Trustees for 1884-5, the Board met, organized and proceeded to fix the salaries as follows: For principal, $600; for first ass't, $500; for second ass't, $400; making a total of $1500; and appointed a committee of their body to wait upon the old faculty—Profs. Cork and Counts and Miss Boulware—and to tender them the charge of the school for the session of 1884-5 in their former positions at the salaries fixed, the Board guaranteeing 75 per cent. of said salaries.

The Board of Trustees do aver that the above statement of facts is true, that the constitution of the association, the minutes of the association and of the Board of Trustees will verify.

By order of the Board of Trustees, A. H. KOHN, Sec'y.

Knights of The Golden Rule

At the last regular meeting of this order (Friday 11th, inst.) the following officers were just installed to serve the ensuing term:

- Commander, C. C. Chase;
Vice-Com. J. T. Bynum;
Master at Arms, Thos. Cook;
Treasurer, G. M. Girardeau;
Secretary, T. Q. Boozer;
Prelate, W. W. Hodges;
Herald, D. M. Ward;
Warden, J. M. Sill;
Santinel, B. H. Lovelace.

This order which organized only thirteen months ago, with barely enough members to procure a Charter—ten to nine members—has steadily increased in membership until it now numbers 40 to 50. These officers, with two exceptions, have been twice re-elected and now enter upon their third term.

The Knights extend a cordial invitation to all good and worthy people to join in their efforts and participate in the bounties and benefits secured to them. From what we can hear and see and have read, we think favorably of the organization. We know some of the Knights and know them to be worthy men and clever fellows.

Various and All About.

We learn that a cutting affair occurred on the place of the Hon. George Johnstone last Sunday night between Fred Gallman and Benson Cook, in which Cook was severely cut about the back and arms with a knife. He was "killed up," but was not dangerously hurt. Gallman thought that Cook had been too familiar with his wife, and this led to the attack. The parties are negroes.

The committee appointed by the Board of Trustees to receive the building and grounds of Newberry College met yesterday morning, and accepted from Robt. H. Wright, a deed conveying the same to the Synod.

The Judicial Convention for this circuit will meet at Union on the 23rd inst.

WHAT OTHERS THINK.

Somebody seems to be making special efforts to have the accusations made against George Johnstone by friends of Col. D. Wyatt Aiken in Newberry published as widely as possible. There is no method so sure to secure a man's success as the bringing of false charges which are easily disproved against him.

Col. D. Wyatt Aiken delights in posing as the farmer's friend and appearing before the public as a horny handed son of toil. His friends, not content with sustaining him in this perfectly harmless connection, now seek to create the impression that Mr. Johnstone is the farmer's enemy, and industriously circulate the story that that gentleman declared in a speech in Columbia that the agricultural interest was becoming too strong and would have to be throttled to prevent it from absorbing the power of the State. Now Col. Y. J. Pope, of Newberry, publishes the statement of the five gentlemen composing the committee to which the speech alluded to was made. They unite in declaring that Mr. Johnstone did not then or at any other time to their knowledge attack the agricultural interests of the State. What he did say was that an effort was being made to give the Board of Agriculture power over the disposition of certain phosphate rights which should properly be left with the people through their representatives in the Legislature, and that that Board was acquiring too much power and should be checked. That is the whole story and its dissemination will surely show the people the truth and gain their sympathy for a slandered man.

One of the witnesses called by Col. Pope is Maj. E. B. Murray, of Anderson, whose response in defence of his opponent by a prompt and frank statement of the facts is magnanimous, manly and exceedingly creditable to him. He evidently has no tolerance for the methods used by Col. D. Wyatt Aiken's friends and supporters, including the sweeping application of offensive epithets to men who have offended in nothing except in daring to oppose Col. Aiken's desire to retain his clutch on office, and the widespread publication of cruel, injurious and unfounded charges against his leading opponent.

We have heretofore opposed Col. Aiken's re-election because we believed him to be the enemy of the public schools and of the unity of the democratic party.

The opposition will be none the less strenuous after the friends of the member from the Third District, presumably with his approval, denounce men like George Johnstone, R. E. Bowen and E. B. Murray as "political upstarts" and endeavor to rain them because their honorable ambitions clash with his.—Greenville Daily News.

A LETTER FROM COMMISSIONER BUTLER

COLUMBIA, S. C., July 14, '84.

Dear Sirs:—In closing my letter to Col. Johnstone, published in your last week's issue, I said that owing to my afflictions I could not write more extensively than I would have done so, however, if I had supposed that what I wrote would have been construed as reflecting upon those gentlemen who had previously published statements, as coming from me, in reference to Col. Johnstone.

I have always entertained the kindest feelings of friendship for Col. Holloway and for Mr. Sligh and I would not, under any circumstances, do either of them an injustice, and it is for this reason that I will trouble you to allow me space in your paper for a few more lines in regard to this matter.

I desire to explain more fully than I have done the statement made by me, upon which Mess. Holloway and Sligh made their statements, and I will do this as briefly as possible and I hope satisfactorily.

A bill was before the Legislature proposing to give certain powers to the Agricultural Department, in connection with the phosphate interest and that in my opinion were necessary for the proper development of the phosphate territory. This bill was recommended by Mr. E. L. Roche, the Special Assistant of the Department, and who is in immediate charge of the phosphate interests, and had my approval. It passed the Senate and went to the House; was reported favorably by the House Committee on Mines and Mining; and had two readings in that body. On the third reading it was opposed by Col. Johnstone, upon whose motion it was referred to a special committee and he was appointed Chairman. This committee reported adversely upon the bill. I was very much surprised at this action as I supposed that the bill would commend itself to at least a majority of the committee, and I inquired the objections to it, and was informed that Mr. Johnstone had used the argument before the committee that the Department of Agriculture was seeking powers that it ought not to have and that unless it was restricted it would have to be throttled. I was very indignant because I felt that this was an unwarranted and unjustifiable attack upon the Department and I immediately to Mr. Johnstone and talked with him about it. He did not deny using this argument then; and in talking with Mr. Jos. L. Keitt recently I repeated this statement and told him that I did not suppose that Mr. Johnstone would deny it now.

At the time this matter occurred in the Legislature, and subsequently in the Legislature, and subsequently in the Legislature, I talked with some of my friends, among them Mr. Sligh and Col. Holloway about it and doubtless showed some feeling in the matter because from the information I had received I believed that it was an effort to lessen the usefulness of the Department, and this I regarded as detrimental to the agricultural interests of the State. I have since talked with Col. Johnstone and he has assured me that he had no such intentions and I have regretted that in my own mind and possibly by what I have said, did him an injustice.

I regret also that my language was such as to mislead Mr. Sligh and Col. Holloway, and I desire to add that I know they did not intend to misrepresent any thing that was said.

Respectfully, A. P. BUTLER.

A Great Sculptor and His Works.

These ladies of Kentucky have accomplished a most creditable act recently. It is the purchase of Joel T. Hart's masterpiece, "Beauty's Triumph." Hart is the only great sculptor Kentucky has ever had. Hon. Edward J. McDermott, of Louisville, thus describes him:

"His life was beautiful in its simplicity and virtue. His heart and mind were wedded solely to his high calling. His only aim was to achieve something great and to leave behind him an honorable name. The marble was his chief and best medium for the expression of the strong feelings and the exalted ideas in his breast. He hoped to speak, through his living works, to the men and women of future time, and lived to see assured the fruition of that bright dream and trusted mainstay of his long life.

"Mr. Hart was born in Clark county in 1810, and died in Florence, Italy, in 1877. His remains are now in Florence, but they will be removed to Kentucky, the Legislature having appropriated $1,000 for that purpose. He went to school only three months, but by persistent effort educated himself, and towards the end of his life was able to write some creditable poetry. To fit himself for his art-work he studied anatomy with success in Transylvania University. He was always frugal, temperate, laborious, genial and devoted to his friends. His figure was a little above the medium in height and strength. His features indicated a strong will and a sunny disposition; a full beard covered his face. In early youth he worked as a stonemason, and at twenty began to carve letters on tombstones and to make models in a marble-yard. In the course of the next sixteen years he made a large number of good busts of such men as Andrew Jackson, Cassius Clay and John J. Crittenden. In 1849 he went to Florence, Italy, to put into marble his model of Clay's statue, made for the "Ladies' Clay Association," of Richmond, Virginia. On this model and statue he worked, with interruptions, for sixteen years. In 1867 he completed the statue of Clay now in the court-house of Louisville. His other important works are a fine copy of the Venus de Medici, a bust called "Penseroso," representing a handsome woman with downcast eyes; the "Morning-glory," a beautiful little girl holding a morning-glory in one hand and her scant, flower-filled gown in the other; an exquisite, lady-like hand and wrist resting on an outstretched glove; a colossal bronze statue of Clay for New Orleans, and "Beauty's Triumph." All of these works are great and will ever be highly esteemed, but his fame must chiefly rest on the "Triumph of Beauty." Of this he felt assured, and with pleasure and confidence staked all his meed of praise on that great work, making it the chief effort of his genius, the bright dream and solace of his laboring life. It may be fairly called a poem in marble."

Mr. McDermott's memoir of Hart was written for the Lexington Memorial Association, the President of which is Mrs. W. C. P. Breckinridge. All admirers of art will be afforded an opportunity during the continuance of the Southern Exposition this summer and fall, at Louisville, Kentucky, to observe and examine in the hand of the management has arranged to obtain all of them. The group will be complete and will be arranged by citizens of Louisville whose taste in matters of this kind can not be excelled. Gen. Jas. A. Ekin, whose distinguished services in the U. S. Army are well remembered, is Chairman of the Art Committee of the Southern Exposition. Gen. Ekin has been in charge of the management of the fine architectural and decorative ability so essential in a successful effort to prepare an art gallery.

The Southern Exposition.

The original design of the Southern Exposition at Louisville, Kentucky, was to gather under one roof the typical products of Kentucky and her sister States. In its success our people are almost as much interested as those of Kentucky, from the fact that whatever tends to advance her interests cannot fail to affect us favorably also. The Exposition will be a splendid medium to advertise the great capacities of this State and we earnestly hope some action will be taken by our citizens looking to a representation; with a little exertion on their part, an exhibit of our mineral, agricultural and manufacturing products can be collected and sent to Louisville, which will repay a thousand-fold all the expense connected therewith.

The Exposition will assuredly be a success, there is no question but that the attendance will be largely in excess of last year, when it reached 770,000. It has gone ahead of all others in the character of its Art Gallery and Music. This year the former will, if possible, be more attractive than before, and the fact that Cappa and Gilmore will again furnish the music is itself a guarantee of its tone. The Live Stock Exhibit will secure an immense attendance, it is stated that at one time there will be shown a collection of horses whose aggregate value will exceed $1,000,000. No other State but Kentucky can produce an exhibit such as this.

The management this year under the direction of Bennett H. Young, President, is a live one, and a guarantee that everything will be done which energy, skill and public spirit will require.

TEACHERS WANTED.

A first and second assistant in the Newberry Female Academy for the ensuing scholastic year. The first assistant will be required to teach the usual English branches taught in a first class high school. The second assistant, Drawing, Painting and Calisthenics, in addition to the primary branches.
