Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Seyles and daughter, Miss Maysie, Mrs. Kate Eargle and J. K. Bray, of Greenville, spent a short while in Walhalla Monday, having run over by auto from their home, stopping at Clemson and Richland en route. They were greeted by many friends here, who were delighted to meet them again. Mrs. Eargle and Mrs. Seyles were before marriage Misses Kate and Jennie Smeltzer, daughters of the late Rev. John P. Smeltzer, at one time pastor of St. John's Lutheran church and president of the Walhalla Female College. They were accompanied on the trip by another daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Seyles, Miss Edna, who stopped among friends at Richland. The party was greatly pleased with the many changes that have taken place in Walhalla since they were here, years ago. There are numerous friends of Mrs. Eargle and Mrs. Seyles who will regret that the shortness of their stay prevented their meeting these ladies. To all such we were requested to extend the warmest greetings. Walhalla and her people have a warm place in the hearts of these ladies, whose recollections of the town in years gone by are most pleasant.

Escapes An Awful Fate. A tongue-tongued could not express the gratitude of Mrs. J. E. Cox, of Joliet, Ill., for her wonderful deliverance from an awful fate. "Typhoid pneumonia had left me with a dreadful cough," she writes. "Sometimes I thought I would die. I could get no help from doctor's treatment or other medicines till I used Dr. King's New Discovery. But I owe my life to this wonderful remedy, for I scarcely cough at all now." Quick and safe, it's the most reliable of all throat and lung medicines. Every bottle guaranteed. 50c. and $1. Trial bottle free at all druggists.

A JUNE WEDDING ANNOUNCED.

Mrs. J. A. Steek Entertains in Honor of Bride-Elect, Miss Biemann.

In response to the following invitation—

"Mrs. J. A. Steek At Home Friday, May 17th, Five O'clock"

on the above afternoon, and at the appointed hour, twelve guests, feeling in advance that a pleasant occasion was in store for them, for all who have enjoyed Mrs. Steek's hospitality know what an invitation from her means.

After all had been seated around small tables tiny hearts, numbered and tied with bows of green ribbon, were distributed, by means of which each girl was enabled to find her partner for the approaching contest. Love being the central thought in the minds of all present, each heart bore an appropriate sentimental quotation. The hostess distributed "An Automobile Romance," in which blank spaces were left to be filled with the names of different parts of an automobile, and when filled out correctly it made a complete "Romance." This caused much merriment, and for a few minutes all were kept busy guessing. Much interest was shown, and at the close of the contest it was found that eight had filled it out properly and four had made two small errors. The first eight drew for first prize, a handsome hand-embroidered belt. This fell to the lot of Miss Eloise Strother, she having drawn the lucky number. The remaining four drew for the second prize, a dainty thermometer, upon the top of which was perched a green parrot. This was drawn by Miss Annie Crisp. The consolation fell to Miss Irene Strother. The hostess presented the honoree, Miss Biemann, with a lovely silver puff box.

A scroll tied with green ribbon and containing the following was given to each guest:

Proclamation.

Know ye all: Whereas, Wade, son of Theodore, of the house of Hughs, and Annie, daughter of Henry, of the house of Biemann, having reached years of discretion and understanding, seek admission into the State of Matrimony—

I, Daniel Cupid, Governor of the said State, hereby proclaim them candidates for such admission on and after June the first, nineteen hundred and twelve.

Written under my hand and seal this seventeenth day of May, nineteen hundred and twelve.

Daniel Cupid.

This announcement was no surprise to the many friends of Mr. Hughs and Miss Biemann. Both are well and popularly known here, being residents of this town. Their numerous friends are profuse in showering upon them, in advance, their heartiest congratulations and good wishes for their future happiness.

The color scheme, green and white, was carried out in every detail—in the place cards, contest, proclamation and even in the dainty sweet course, consisting of green and white mints, green and white cakes, and delicious cream. Mrs. Steek was assisted in serving by Misses Sue Maxwell and Gertrude Biemann.

Too soon the girls found dusk approaching, and, enjoyment and appreciation of Mrs. Steek's hospitality being expressed, a pleasant afternoon was brought to a close.

Those present were Misses Annie Biemann, Gertrude Biemann, Roxie Reid, Eloise Strother, Irene Strother, Bertha Schumacher, Sue Maxwell, Annie Crisp, Helen Beard, Katie Harrison, Gertrude Smith and Hattie Shelor.

The wedding will take place at the Biemann residence on Faculty Hill at 8.30 o'clock Wednesday evening, June 12th.

Shot at Mother, Kills Child.

Little Rock, Ark., May 19.—A mysterious prowler, whom the police called "Jack the Shooter," entered the residence of D. P. Coulter, three blocks from the center of the business district early to-day and attempted to assault Mrs. Coulter. The man fired twice at her. Her nine-months-old baby, lying on her breast, was instantly killed. Mrs. Coulter was not injured. The intruder then fled. The murder follows a long series of crimes believed to have all been committed by one person.

The Demons of the Swamp are mosquitoes. As they sting they put deadly malaria germs in the blood. Then follow the icy chills and the fires of fever. The appetite flies and the strength falls; also malaria often paves the way for deadly typhoid. But Electric Bitters kill and cast out the malaria germs from the blood; give you a fine appetite and renew your strength. "After long suffering," wrote Wm. Fretwell, of Lacama, N. C., "three bottles drove all the malaria from my system, and I've had good health ever since." Best for all stomach, liver and kidney ills. 50c. at all druggists.

Card of Thanks.

Editor Keowee Courier: Please allow us space in your columns to express our thanks to friends for the many kindnesses shown during the sickness and death of our little son and brother, B. E. The remembrance of their words of sympathy and deeds of kindness will ever be held sacred by us.

Mrs. L. P. Cantrell and Children.

Card of Thanks.

We desire, through your valuable paper, to thank our kind neighbors and friends for their faithful assistance and for their many words of sympathy during the illness and death of our dear wife and mother. May the God that she loved and served be your helper at all times, and when your work on earth is ended and you go up to the city of gold, may the doors be opened wide for you.

J. H. Brewer and Children. West Union, S. C.

Ford WHAT'S BEHIND IT? What is it that is selling 75,000 Ford cars in 1912? What is behind this enormous demand? Is it unusually clever advertising? NO! Ford advertising never attempts to be "clever"—never aims at the spectacular—never dallies with the English language—merely states the facts of the case so that he who runs may read, and, reading, stop running and buy a FORD. Is it unusually clever dealers? No! Ford dealers rank at the top—are all wideawake, keen, obliging, proud of the car and the good name of firm. But there are many clever dealers trying to sell other automobiles. WHAT IS IT? Nothing but this—the guarantee of accomplishment. What sells these 75,000 is the 100,000 Ford cars already in use (one out of every five on the street). Satisfied buyers are the backbone of the Ford success. Ford Distributors and Branches in all the principal cities and towns in this country are at your very elbow to give you the service we maintain.
