

HEAD OF THE AMERICAN LEGION

Killed at Indianapolis in Auto Accident—Two Others Injured.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 9.—F. W. Galbraith, Jr., national commander of the American Legion, was killed and Henry J. Ryan, of Indianapolis, national director of the Legion's Americanism commission, and Milton J. Foreman, of Chicago, national committeeman of the Legion from Illinois, were injured when an automobile in which they were riding went over a steep embankment here early this morning.

The three men were returning to the city from the country club in Mr. Ryan's car. The car failed to make a slight turn in the road and ran over the curbing, across the sidewalk and turned over several times, landing at the foot of a 20-foot embankment. All three men were thrown clear of the car as it went down.

Mr. Galbraith suffered a fracture of the skull in the fall and died on the way to the hospital.

Mr. Ryan, who was driving the car, declared he believed a defect in the steering apparatus caused him to lose control of the machine. Mr. Foreman suffered a fractured skull and is in a serious condition. Mr. Ryan was only slightly hurt.

Coroner Paul F. Robinson, who made an investigation immediately after the accident, said that a careful examination of the machine showed a broken connection of the steering wheel.

The three men were driving to the union station here from the country club, according to Mr. Ryan, when Mr. Galbraith accompanied by Mr. Foreman and William Q. Setcliffe, adjutant of the department of Illinois of the American Legion, were to have caught an early morning train for Chicago. Mr. Setcliffe and Mr. Foreman were returning there after attending a meeting of the national finance committee of the American Legion here, while Mr. Galbraith intended stopping there preliminary to starting on a speaking tour in behalf of the legislation before Congress sponsored by the American Legion.

Col. Galbraith was elected national commander of the American Legion on Sept. 29 last. During the war he served in command of the First Ohio National Guard at Camp Sherman, Chillicothe. Subsequently he was transferred to the 147th infantry and embarked for overseas service in June, 1918. Leading his regiment through the lines of the Germans under fire, he won the title of "The Fighting Colonel of the Fighting First."

In civilian life Col. Galbraith was president of the Western Paper Goods Company of Cincinnati. He was a Republican, but never actively engaged in politics, and was never a candidate for public office.

An election probably will be held here early next week to name Mr. Galbraith's successor. It was announced at national headquarters today. The new commander will be named by the Legion's national executive committee. This committee is composed of one representative from each of the State and territorial departments.

Mr. Galbraith's body will be removed to Cincinnati for burial.

President Expresses Sympathy.

President Harding telegraphed the following message of sympathy today to Mrs. F. W. Galbraith, Jr., at Indianapolis, widow of the national commander of the American Legion:

"Please know of my sympathy in the great and sudden sorrow which has come to you. It was my fortune to know Col. Galbraith, not alone as the national commander of the American Legion, but as a fellow-citizen of Ohio, and have highly valued his commanding personality, his tireless zeal and his intense devotion to country and his companions in arms. The Legion and the nation share with you the great loss which has come so suddenly."

To Decide Fate of Eight-Year-Old.

Xenia, Ohio, June 9.—Juvenile court authorities will decide the fate of James B. Langy, 8 years old, who late yesterday shot and killed his 10-year-old brother, Virgil, during a quarrel at their home near Cedarville, according to Prosecutor Williamson, of Greene county.

The lad was brought to the county jail here late yesterday. He told Prosecutor Williamson that he had been quarreling with his brother because he would not let him go fishing with him, but declared the shot that killed the boy was accidentally fired with his father's revolver while the two were "searching for a ghost" in an upper room of their home.

SOUTH CAROLINA IS LEADING

In the Building of Federal Aided Highways—540 Miles.

Columbia, June 10.—South Carolina has more miles of Federal aided roads completed or under construction than any of the five Southeastern States—Tennessee, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida and Alabama—with the exception of Georgia, which has many times the road mileage and a larger population and area. On June 1 there were under construction or completed in this State 450 miles of Federal aid highways, at a total cost of $4,951,753, according to figures made public by the bureau of public roads at Washington. The comparison with the States mentioned shows the following:

Table with 3 columns: State, Miles, Total Cost. Alabama 383 $3,761,425; Florida 165 5,490,690; S. Carolina 450 4,951,753; Tennessee 357 8,391,886; Georgia 1085 15,919,165

The total for the entire nation on June 1 was 23,210 miles of Federal aid roads, costing $386,186,139.

It is expected that from pending legislation in Congress will come a system of Federal highways to be constructed by the States and within the States, but with also a system of interstate roads, interlinked with county-seat-to-county-seat roads, but not subject to crazy-quilt local construction as is now possible, according to advices from Washington. It is expected that Congress will appropriate aid for roads on the basis of $100,000,000 a year.

Police Killed by Barricaded Man.

Toledo, Ohio, June 10.—Thomas Kelley, 48 years of age, of Oklahoma, was killed by police this morning following a battle which lasted two hours, and in which machine guns and hand grenades had been used to dislodge him from his barricaded room in the attic of his boarding house at 611 Walnut street. Before he himself was killed, Kelley shot and killed Patrolman Harry Dowell and his companion, Harold Mossberger, who had been called to the house to subdue him, after he had refused to pay a board bill and had flourished a revolver and threatened his landlady, Mrs. Nellie Key, and her son, Allen.

Stopping Chinks Entering U. S.

Havana, Cuba, June 9.—Forty Chinese, preparing to leave Guanabacoa, suburb of Havana, in a launch for Colimar, were surprised by police this morning and ten of them detained. It is asserted that they had arranged to board a sailing vessel at Colimar and enter the United States by landing at some unwatched point on the Florida coast. Hundreds of Chinese coolies, imported to work on sugar plantations, have been thrown out of employment by the ending of the 1921 harvest and are reported ready to sacrifice everything they have to secure entrance into the United States.

Cherokee Veteran Dies.

Gaffney, S. C., June 9.—N. C. Snead, Confederate veteran, former Gaffney postmaster, resident of this city forty-nine years, died at his home on Race street Monday night, his death being due to a stroke of paralysis which he suffered on the 5th of April. Being in his 83d year relatives and friends had not been very hopeful for his recovery, and for several days before his death he was only partially conscious. Mr. Snead had a stroke of paralysis three years ago, and since that time he had been slightly affected by its results.

FOUR HUNDRED ARE MISSING.

Red Cross Issues Statement in Regard to Pueblo Disaster.

Pueblo, Colo., June 9.—The local chapter of the Red Cross, which is in charge of relief work in the flood district of Pueblo, this afternoon issued a list of missing persons, the list containing 437 names.

The first unit of the huge refugee camp being organized here is in operation under the supervision of the Salvation Army. The refugee camp will have a capacity of 20,000. There are 1,000 persons in the Salvation Army unit and 1,500 more persons are expected.

Dr. J. C. Cornell, of the United States public health service, to-day announced that there were 83 cases of diphtheria, of which 34 are quarantined; 14 cases of scarlet fever, two of typhoid, five of smallpox and ten of chicken pox.

The flood wreckage of Pueblo will be cleared away by members of the American Legion.

An order prohibiting profiteering has been issued, and any firm or person charging more than the pre-flood prices will be punished by the military authorities, the order says. Rebuilding in Charge of Red Cross.

Pueblo, June 9.—The rebuilding of the city of Pueblo, including the reconstruction of wrecked homes, restoration of the business and industrial sections devastated by the water, and the administration of relief throughout the flooded district, to-day was turned over to the direction of the American Red Cross disaster relief administration.

"The American Red Cross has accepted entire responsibility for direction of city-wide reconstruction and rehabilitation in Pueblo and will have direction of every phase of the work, with no restriction in scope. Reconstruction will be limited only to the financial assistance that may be given," a statement issued to-night said.

According to the latest available figures from the Red Cross and other sources more than 430 persons are listed as missing as a result of the flood.

Buyers Churched to Avoid High Rents.

Denver, Colo., June 11.—C. J. Whitehurst, local insurance man, weary of being a victim of profiteering landlords, so he bought a church, in which his wife and small daughter and himself are living very comfortably. Mr. Whitehurst purchased the Fourth Congregational Community church, which was abandoned.

American Ship Hits Iceberg.

Halifax, June 9.—The American freight steamer Charlotte, from Philadelphia for London and Hamburg via St. John's, N. F., struck an iceberg about 200 miles off the New Foundland coast last night, according to radio messages received here to-day. Her bow was stove in and the steamship Columbia is proceeding to her assistance.

Removing Moss From Canals.

When moss grows in canals, it soon causes trouble. Yet how to remove it? George E. Stratton of the United States reclamation service offers several suggestions. If there is plenty of time, the canal can be dried out; the sun will kill the mossy growth. When the moss is stiff, submarine saws will cut it.

Dragging the bottom with a barrow is sometimes resorted to, but a chain is more effective. Thirty-five miles of canal were dragged with a chain at a cost of $9 a mile.—Popular Science Monthly.

Clever Trick.

Golden sausages were used by relief workers to carry money in parts of Asia Minor where bandits are at work. One of the best methods adopted was the taking of money from Constantinople to the interior of Anatolia by extracting meat from a string of sausage and substituting gold. This ruse succeeded because the robbers are mostly Turks and have the Moslem abhorrence of the pig and its products. The worker in charge of the golden sausages was held up several times but the hidden gold was never touched.

Caruso, in Italy, Much Improved.

Naples, Italy, June 10.—Enrico Caruso arrived here to-day on the steamship Presidente Wilson and was met by throngs of friends and admirers. He said he had come to Italy to have a perfect rest among his native people.

His voyage across the Atlantic had greatly contributed toward recuperation of his strength and vigor, and he feels completely fit, he declared. He said he hoped to return to America ready to sing again next autumn.

AMERICAN YOUTH WANDERS

Abroad—Tells Story of Being Sent Away by Brother.

Washington, June 9.—One American small boy, his only known name being "Mike," is waiting at Liege, Belgium, for the huge machinery of the United States government to find a home for him. He was found, with worn clothes and without money, on a road near the city last January and told the American consul he had lived in Trenton, Texas, but was sent away on a cattle ship by an older brother because he had fought with another boy.

"Mike" traveled to Paris with cowboys from the ship, the consul's report to the State Department said, and fell asleep at a table at a cafe while the cowboys went out "to see the town." They never came back, and Paris gendarmes turned "Mike" over to the American army of occupation on the Rhine as a mascot.

An order forbidding mascots deprived "Mike" of that refuge. He trudged away to Belgium as an international waif.

Now Trenton, Texas, has disowned him. The consul wrote the postmaster there, who said the young traveler was unknown. The State Department said he was not "Mike Gill-hoolley," the Belgian stowaway of a few months ago, and made public the tale in the hope that somebody may claim him.

By way of description the consul said "Mike" had a distinct Bowery twang to his tongue.

YEAR'S WHEAT CROP LARGER Than Last Year's, According to Forecasts of Production.

Washington, June 8.—The country's combined winter and spring wheat crop promises to be 43,000,000 bushels larger than last year's, based on forecasts of production announced to-day by the Department of Agriculture. There will be smaller crops of oats, barley and hay than were harvested last year, while the apple crop will not be half so large as that of 1920 and the peach crop will be much smaller than last year.

Winter wheat, which a month ago promised a crop of 629,000,000 bushels, came through May in bad shape in several of the important producing States, and as a result the forecast of production showed a reduction of 51,000,000 bushels, bringing the total to the same quantity as produced last year. Kansas, premier wheat State, reported a decline in the condition of the crop from 84 per cent of a normal on May 1 to 60 per cent on June 1, which resulted in a reduction in that State's forecast by 33,000,000 bushels. In Nebraska the condition dropped from 92 to 75 and in Oklahoma from 84 to 70.

The spring wheat crop forecast indicates 43,000,000 bushels more than last year's crop. The condition of the crop is better than a year ago, while the acreage is somewhat smaller than last year's.

An acre yield of 13.9 bushels is forecast, compared with 10.8 bushels last year.

100-Foot Whale Near Georgetown.

Georgetown, S. C., June 8.—Word was brought up from North Island yesterday that a dead whale about 100 feet long and huge of body, was ashore on the beach there. Immediately a number of boats were made ready and parties formed for going down to see the unusual sight. Those who had come back last night reported the sight well worth the trip. Decomposition had already set in. The length of the big fish is authoritatively stated to be somewhere between 80 and 100 feet. The head had almost totally disappeared, having probably been eaten off by the sharks, which seemed to be numerous in the water about the carcass.

BARBAROUS BANKING SYSTEM TOO LONG ENDURED.

Roanoke, Va., June 8.—"For fifty years before Wilson's administration our country had condemned itself to endure a barbarous banking system which, because of its two radical defects, necessarily resulted in panics," Senator Carter Glass said to-day in speaking at the 78th commencement exercises of Hollins College.

"These two defects—a fictitious reserve and a rigid currency—placed the smaller banks of the country in a state of servitude to the banks in the large financial centers, Mr. Glass said. "Every one admitted the defects of the old system; every one knew that currency should be based on business, not bonds, and should be elastic; but for years, until the country obtained the leadership of Wilson, no one was found with the courage to attack these Siamese twins."

Mr. Glass explained, producing facts and figures to carry his points, how the establishment of the Federal Reserve banks had revolutionized the financial system of the nation.
