UNSHAKEN TESTIMONY

Time is the test of truth. And Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test in Wallhalla. No Wallhalla resident who suffers backache, or annoying urinary ills can remain unconvinced by this two-fold testimony.

W. S. Grahl, blacksmith, Spring St. Wallhalla, says: "I hurt my back many years ago and since then I have been troubled with kidney complaint. When I have one of these attacks, severe pains shoot through my kidneys and these organs do not act as they should. I have dizzy spells and severe pains in the back of my head. I have used Doan's Kidney Pills whenever an attack comes on and they have never failed to quickly relieve me. I think Doan's are a wonderful medicine." (State ment given Dec. 17, 1914.)

On April 9, 1918, Mr. Grahl said: "I am glad of another opportunity to say a good word for Doan's Kidney Pills and believe Doan's have effected a cure. I advise anyone suffering from kidney complaint to give this remedy a trial." Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Competition for Muscle Shoals.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 19.—George B. Benton, of Birmingham, Ala., who has entered into competition with Henry Ford for the Muscle Shoals (Ala.) nitrate plant, declared here to-day that any details of the proposition he submitted to the Washington government through Secretary of War Weeks must come from Washington. He was in Atlanta today on a business trip.

The Birmingham man is said to have the backing of large financial interests in his effort to acquire by lease the big water power project at Muscle Shoals, but he declined to discuss the identity of the men associated with him in the enterprise.

His proposal is said to provide that he would meet Mr. Ford's offer for the purchase and operation of the Muscle Shoals nitrate plant, and that he would operate the hydro-electric plant on a fifty-fifty profit-sharing basis instead of stipulated early payments.

More than five hundred buildings have been planned throughout the country as memorials to American soldiers and sailors and marines who were killed in the World War. CLEVELAND POLICE GET YACHT

Seven Men, Four Women Taken Into Custody—Whiskey Ring.

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 18.—Police early to-day took seven men and four women into custody in a spectacular seizure of the steam yacht Venice, said to be in the service of the whiskey ring operating in Canada and the United States. The seizure, made at Whiskey Island, west of the Cuyahoga river, netted ninety-five cases of imported wines, and liquors.

Six of the men seized, including Capt. Wm. L. Curry, of Toronto, Canada, said to be the owner of the yacht, are being held at police headquarters. All are charged with violating the prohibition law. The seventh man, the engineer, will be taken to headquarters later. The four women were not booked, but were held for investigation.

The police seized the Venice on a telephone tip from Capt. Hansen, of the United States Coast Guard, that the yacht, after steaming past the harbor entrance several times, had switched off all lights and docked.

When the police arrived at the dock a large automobile truck was being loaded from the yacht. A warning cry went up when the officers appeared, and lines were cast off and an attempt made to swing the yacht from the dock and escape. Police leaped aboard, smashed in the cabin windows, and at the point of revolvers, ordered the crew to surrender.

Capt. Curry, according to Police Capt. Costello, admitted he had also been captain of the yacht Tranquillo, seized by the police here last June, but denied owning the yacht when it was seized. Curry said the liquor seized to-day was valued at $155,000 and the yacht at $50,000. The liquor was placed on the Venice at Toronto, Curry said. The women, he said, had no knowledge of the nature of the enterprise, believing they were on a pleasure trip. All the women are from Canada, one being a Montreal stenographer, Curry said.

WADDY VAUGHN IN JAIL AGAIN.

Was Caught on Public Road—Driving Donkey Hitched to Cart.

Waddy Vaughn is once more in the hands of the county authorities, he having been arrested by Sheriff Alexander and Deputy Sullivan in the public highway at Huskamp's gin plant on Tuesday night, Aug. 16. The officers had information that he (Vaughn) was back in this country, and they were watching for him for hours before he finally showed up. It was considerably past midnight when Vaughn, driving a donkey that was hitched to a two-wheeled cart, came leisurely down the road and literally walked into the arms of the officers.

Vaughn was in jail on a charge of housebreaking and larceny. Earle Cheek was also occupying quarters in the jail, he being charged with the theft of an automobile. It was late in March or early in April that these men, conceiving the idea that they would be able to break jail if they chose to do so, got busy on the job, and the two made good their escape. Cheek was retaken shortly after the escape, but Vaughn kept the officers guessing for about three and a half months, though they were able now and then to hear of persons who had seen him. Hearing of his whereabouts some weeks ago, and learning of his habits, they set their net and he walked into it.

It was but a short time after Cheek and Vaughn made their escape that Otis Strandridge, Rob Scott and Bob Golden made their get-away from the Oconee jail. Each of these has been re-captured and is "doing his bit" for the county.

Pays Dear for His Roasting Ears.

A dispatch from Gaffney, S. C., says:

Roasting ears that he served on his table a few days ago cost T. P. Finney, insurance man, 60 cents each, although the retail price here is only 20 cents per dozen.

A month ago Mr. Finney rented and took possession of a house owned by Mrs. Clarence Gray. The land surrounding the house had been rented and is being cultivated in corn by Tom Wyatt. Thinking he was entitled to a share of the crop, Mr. Finney pulled eight roasting ears. Mr. Wyatt swore out a warrant for the insurance man, and the latter paid the owner of the corn $5, and also settled the court costs to have the case dropped.

THE WEEVIL—BALE AND BOLL.

Come, all ye farmers, around me, and all around me stand; We're up against a problem to beat the band;

We have with us the boll weevil—a mighty little trick, And in millions, billions of squares his bill he's going to stick.

And now he is here with us—and he's here to stay; We've got to turn our time to more foodstuff, corn and hay.

I hear some farmers say, "I don't know what we're going to do; There's a boll weevil in every square, and sometimes we find two."

Some say to pick him up, and some say just let him go, While others say, "We MAY have them—I don't know."

But there is one thing certain—certain and sure: If we don't do something, we're going to have millions and billions more.

We find them on the stalk, we find them in the sand; We've seen a good many fastened up in fruit jars canned—

And if that ain't a problem, then I'll be —! Some say he's worse in wet weather, while some say he's worse when it's dry—

But I just want to tell you he's on the job all the time—and that ain't no lie.

Now, we've ALWAYS had the BALE weevil; he appears in the guise of a man;

His bill, when not in his pocket, is ready in his hand—

In though the bagging and out with a wad—

And if he don't get the most of it, so help me—Hannah!

And now for the speculator—he breeds them all, But they don't hatch out till early in the fall;

But when they do appear, they come totally void of fear—

And you had just as well dry up, and never shed a tear. But I guess I'd better hush, Sift some meal and make up mush— For the little folks are hungry, And 'bout weevils care not a cuss!

TAKEN AFTER SIXTEEN YEARS.

Chance Remark Leads to Re-Arrest of Man on Murder Charge.

A Washington dispatch of recent date says: John Cousar, negro, was taken to Charlotte, N. C., recently by Deputy Sheriff Hunter to face charges in connection with the murder in that city, sixteen years ago, of Andrew S. Straight. Cousar had been taken in custody by the Washington police on charges of assault preferred by his wife, released on bond, and was re-arrested on a chance remark made by his wife. When arraigned, the police said, Cousar threatened to kill his wife, and she replied: "You have killed one person already."

Investigation caused the police to hold the negro for the Charlotte officers.

Andrew S. Straight, according to information sent to the Washington police, was murdered on Oct. 8, 1905, by three men, and the grand jury returned indictments against John Cousar, 15 years of age; his brother, Will Cousar, 18 years old, and John Beattie, 20.

Cousar is also known as Saddler and Parks, the police say.
