

Scraps and Facts.

The United States supreme court on yesterday, disposed of the so-called Webb-Kenyon liquor cases without determining the constitutionality of the Webb-Kenyon law or passing on its construction.

The Yorkville Enquirer.

Entered at the Postoffice in Yorkville as Mail Matter of the Second Class.

YORKVILLE, S. C.

TUESDAY, JUNE 15, 1915

When people want to scrap, they always find a way.

Sometimes we fear that this state suffers more from violations of the law by the prominent and proud, than by the obscure and humble.

One of our exchanges manages to agree with both Bryan and Wilson. That reminds us of what Tillman is alleged to have said of a prominent South Carolina Democrat, that he was "too d-d unanimous."—Greenville Piedmont.

There are those who suggest that one of the immediate advantages of war with Germany would be the seizure by the United States of $100,000,000 worth of interned ships now in American harbors.

Announcement has been made that Mr. Bryan is going to stump Kentucky in behalf of prohibition. Good. It will be remembered that Lloyd-George is on record as saying that alcohol has done more harm to the British cause than German bullets.

Opinion is divided in Great Britain as to whether it would be best for the allies if the United States should declare war against Germany.

There are conflicting reports as to how the last American note has been received in Germany. One report has it that the Germans look upon the note as being more conciliatory than had been expected.

It never really pays for man to do wrong on his own motion, and it pays much less for him to do wrong on the motion of someone else.

We notice many people attending the anti-Levite meeting, which is being held in the evangelist bears down on the other fellow's faults and shortcomings, especially so-called "society" people, whose may be, but when he comes down on their own meanness—well, McLendon is a crank and don't know what he is talking in his ranting.

Most rational people have a more or less clear conception of the responsibility that rests upon them to take nothing in this world that concerns their welfare for granted, and the fact that so few people do their duty in this respect is clear to everybody except the delinquents themselves.

It is common to estimate that not more than 10 per cent of a given number of people, selected at random, ever do their own thinking, and it is well understood among this 10 per cent, that many of those in the 90 or 95 per cent class, who are supposed to be actual leaders of thought, do not think at all and are only followers.

Ordinarily the most pitiable fellow to be imagined is he who depends entirely upon someone else to do his thinking—who argues that he has always followed the other fellow, and for that reason will continue to follow.
