Some Items of Fact, Some of Comment and All Helping to Give an Idea of What Our Neighbors Are Saying and Doing.

Lancaster News, Nov. 8: Mrs. Maggie Lou Ashley, wife of W. C. Ashley, died Saturday morning at the home of her father, S. S. Steele, in the Upper Camp Creek section, after a short illness. Mrs. Ashley was 25 years of age and had been married to Mr. Ashley about one year. Mr. and Mrs. John C. McDow, of South Lancaster, have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Miss Mary McDow, to Dallas D. Sawyer. The wedding will take place November 16 in the First Presbyterian church of North Charleston. Mrs. Theodore Shaw, of Quitman, Texas, is visiting relatives in Lancaster and the county. Mrs. Shaw is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. R. J. Blackmon, who moved from Lancaster county to Texas several years ago, where Mr. Blackmon is engaged in evangelistic work. He is a brother of Oliver C. Blackmon, of this city. Mrs. Blackmon before her marriage was Miss Dora Montgomery, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. David Montgomery of this city, and a sister of L. N. Montgomery of Lancaster.

Cleveland Star (Shelby), November 27: The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Jake White, who live one mile east of Shelby on the Cleveland Springs road, will sympathize with them deeply in the sad death of their little six-year-old daughter, Pauline, who passed away at the Presbyterian hospital in Charlotte on Wednesday, November 2, where she had been taken the day before for an operation, having been ill with peritonitis for some time. The many friends of Mrs. George Hoyle will regret to know that she has been confined to her apartments at the Central hotel with an injured foot for the past ten days. She slipped on a banana hull while out walking one morning, and as a result sustained a broken bone and she has since been walking on crutches. Engineers for the state highway commission have been busy for several days making surveys and soundings to ascertain information that is necessary in letting contracts for two concrete bridges on the Shelby-Cleveland road. The Methodists failed to buy the Stamey home at Fallston for a parsonage, but Rev. D. H. Rhinehardt, the new circuit rider, will occupy the Stamey house with his family until the first of the year. The Methodists will build a parsonage at Fallston for the pastor on the Belwood charge. No discount is allowed this year from taxes paid early, but taxpayers of Cleveland county are settling up as fast as usual. Sheriff Logan has collected between $15,000 and $20,000 this far and was very busy yesterday taking in tax money. He has made his first round and will make one more before settling time. He hopes to collect all by January 1st. Hon. H. L. Davis, auditor for the supreme court of the District of Columbia, arrived Saturday with Mrs. Davis to spend several days with Judge and Mrs. E. Y. Webb. Mr. Davis is a very brilliant and learned lawyer and has won many friends in Shelby by his friendly manner and noble Christian character. Mrs. Davis is a very charming lady and greatly admired by many Shelby friends.

Chester Reporter, Nov. 7: Last year Armistice Day was accorded very little attention. Here and there communities may have observed the occasion, but for the most part business went on as usual and the day slipped by with little or no observance. This year it is encouraging to note a wonderful change. There are probably very few counties in the state that will not stage a celebration of this important, epoch-marking date in the history of the United States; and in most instances the celebrations will be fully in keeping with the importance of the occasion. This is as it should be, and when America gets back to the spirit of sacrifice and humility and thanksgiving that marked war days a better time will dawn in the country's affairs, temporarily as well as in every other way. A symposium representing the views and opinions of the governors of 25 states as gathered by one of the news associations reveals the fact that these chief executives almost to a man are deeply impressed with the success of prohibition, although freely admitting, as any truthful prohibitionist will do, that there are far more infractions of the law than there ought to be. But there are infractions of every other law; so why expect or require 100 per cent efficiency from the law against the sale and use of liquor when violations of laws that have been on the statute books for centuries are of every-day occurrence, and are thought nothing of? There's nobody who would think of repealing the law against larceny because people go right along stealing; neither do they conclude that the law against murder is a failure, though men go right on killing, and juries go right on turning the guilty loose. The most wonderful results imaginable have been wrought in this country's economic, moral and educational life by the enactment of the prohibitive law; and when the old generation of drunks die off, who are largely responsible for much of the anti-talk, coupled with the fellows that have never worked, but have sold liquor for a living, and hate to get down to a sweat and brawn basis—when this crowd passes out of the arena of action prohibition will be considered as a matter of course and its violations will be rare. The death of Walker L. Kirkpatrick, which occurred at his home on Monday night, following a stroke of apoplexy came as a great shock to his many friends in Winnsboro. He had been quite unwell for several weeks, but his death was quite unexpected. Mr. Kirkpatrick was the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Kirkpatrick and was born at Mt. Pleasant, in Chester county, July 8th, 1869. He was a man of sterling worth and Christian character, and a deacon in the Zion Presbyterian church. He was also a prominent man in business circles. He was married in 1893 to Miss Maggie Pope of Fairfield, who with the following children survive him: Mrs. M. C. Cathcart, Miss Lucile Kirkpatrick and Joe Kirkpatrick. He is also survived by his father, one sister, Mrs. W. P. Youngblood, of Sharon, two brothers, Mr. J. A. Kirkpatrick, of Union, and Mr. M. C. Kirkpatrick of Chester. The funeral took place Tuesday afternoon at five o'clock in the Presbyterian church, the services being conducted by his pastor, the Rev. G. G. Mayes. The interment took place in the Presbyterian cemetery. Winnsboro News and Herald, Nov. 4th. The various congregations of the city will unite in a community prayer meeting at Bethel M. E. church Wednesday evening at 7.30 o'clock, the object and purpose of the service being to pray for the success of the limitation of the armament conference which convenes in Washington Friday. Col. J. H. Murfin will make a short talk. M. V. G. Gardner was operated on for appendicitis at the Pryor Hospital this morning. Mr. Gardner was stricken suddenly two or three days ago, but the operation had to be delayed owing to the fact that the appendix had ruptured. Though his condition was very serious, hopes are entertained for his recovery. Mrs. Lula Russell, formerly of Chester, and Mr. P. G. Moore of Columbia, were married at Farmville, Va., October 19th. Mrs. Moore has been living at Hampden-Sidney college, Va., since leaving Chester about two months ago. Mr. and Mrs. Moore will make their home in Columbia, after the 15th of November. The remains of Mr. Lucius L. Robinson, who was drowned in Pittsburgh, Pa., last Wednesday evening, arrived here yesterday morning, and were interred at Evergreen cemetery yesterday afternoon, after funeral services at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Jackson on Wylie street by Rev. Henry Stokes, assisted by Dr. D. G. Phillips. Mr. Robinson was employed on a government project and was at work as a lineman when drowned. The deceased was a splendid young man, and the sympathy of friends all over the county is extended his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Robinson, and brothers and sisters. Sheriff D. G. Anderson and Deputy Jas. G. Howz captured another still yesterday in the Wilksburg section; but we understand no arrests have been made as yet. The court of common pleas met this morning. The first case to be taken up is that of J. W. Boney vs. Mary C. Cornwell. Glenn & Glenn and S. E. McFadden for plaintiff; Gaston & Hamilton for defendant.

DOG TAX DUE. All Dogs Six Months Old on October 15, 1921, Must Wear Tax Paid Tags. NOTICE is hereby given that in accordance with the requirements of an act of the 1920 session of the General Assembly, from and after October 15, 1921, all dogs that were six months old, or older, on that date are liable to an annual tax of $1.25 per capita. This tax is collectible and payable at my office during the time prescribed for the payment of other State and County taxes. For each $1.25 paid I will issue a proper receipt and numbered brass tax paid tag, the receipt to be held by the party paying the tax and the tag to be worn by the dog, except while in actual use for hunting. Penalty for failure to secure the tax tag within the time for payment of other State and County taxes is not less than $5 nor more than $20, one-half to go to the informer. Applicants for tax tags, whether in person or by mail, must advise me of the number of the School District in which they reside, or the tag cannot be issued. H. E. NEIL, Treasurer of York County, S. C.

Prohibition agents, in the opinion of the board of temperance, prohibition and public morals of the Methodist Episcopal church, says a Washington dispatch, "should be instructed to remember their wives, children and the people of the United States when their lives are placed in danger by bootleggers or moonshiners." "Some people seem to be surprised that the board of temperance of the Methodist Episcopal church should suggest that prohibition officers have a right to defend themselves quickly and effectively when threatened by armed criminals," the board said in a statement issued recently, amplifying a previous statement along the same lines. "The cries of bereft children of faithful prohibition officers rise to heaven," the statement continued. "It is nothing less than murderous to expect prohibition officers to await the fire of bootleggers with guns in their hands. Bootleggers are the worst kind of criminals, frequently their wives, children and the people are dangerous in the extreme. When a bootlegger draws a gun he should be fired upon and that quickly. They (prohibition officers) owe it to themselves, to their wives, to their children and above all to the majesty of the law to do so."

As a result of the first test of a new aerial bomb, weighing 4,500 pounds, dropped from an altitude of 4,100 feet by an army airplane at Aberdeen, Md., a crater was blown into the earth 100 feet in diameter and 25 feet deep. The bomb was the heaviest and probably the most destructive ever constructed.

The Great War Is Over

The Soldier Boys are back home. They went out and fought our battles for us. They left home, school, job, and quickly adjusted themselves to the big job of fighting. NOW THAT THEY ARE BACK Let us not become unmindful of the service they rendered. OUR BANK is proud of the Legion Boys and stands ready to render any service possible, as it has always done with the mature soldier of the war with Spain, or the older boys of the Civil war. They are heroes all, in our estimation.

IF WE HAVE NOT BEEN OF SERVICE To you, possibly it is because you have not given us the chance.

Text: 'A First Aid for "Weak Circulation" Keep the favorite windows warm and safe. Many well-lighted parts of the house are not only uncomfortable but unsafe as well when a cold, raw wind is blowing outside. Cold drafts do get in, somehow. But you can turn them into warm ones with a Perfection Oil Heater. There are some corners that you just can't seem to warm up with your regular coal heater. A Perfection will do it and save "rushing" the furnace for hours at a time. Too much heat is almost as bad as not enough. Keep the chill out of the house with your regular heating device and then supply the rooms you use most with the cheery warmth of a glowing Perfection. The Perfection is remarkably light and durable. Put it just where grandmother wants it. It burns for about ten hours with a single filling. Economize on coal this year by using more kerosene for heating. The price of Aladdin Security Oil is only about half what it was a year ago. Almost all hardware, housefurnishing and department stores sell the Perfection Heater.'
