Don't forget that the fall and winter months are the best for making stable and good manure.

The election is over, and our people have settled down to work, and are endeavoring to make up for lost time.

Cap. J. Clark Wardlaw, formerly conductor on the Blue Ridge Railroad, is now conductor on the Laurens Road.

Every suspicious character seen on the streets and highways should be made to give a satisfactory account of himself.

The Abbeville County Fair will be held on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week, and will not doubt be a success.

The Town Council should increase the price for the tax on our people may be protected from the ravages of thieves and burglars.

The annual report of the County Commissioners will be found in another column. ... and see what use has been made of your money.

The corn crop in this County is not as good this year as it was last, though the general impression is that our farmers will take enough for their own use.

The Carolina Review is the name of a new paper published at Lancaster, in this State, by Messrs. Welsh & Hull. It gives promise of success and usefulness.

The free ferry across the Savannah, when it becomes generally known on the other side, will be the means of our merchants bringing many dollars' worth of goods they otherwise would have lost.

All persons indebted to the old firm of E. B. Murray & Co., either for advertising or subscription, are earnestly requested to come forward and pay up, as it is important to settle up the business of the old firm as early as possible.

Mr. John O'Donnell, recognizing the importance of bringing his business before the public through the medium of our columns, informs our readers that he is prepared to furnish them, or any others, with everything in his line, at the lowest price for cash. See his advertisement.

We regret to record the death of Mr. Thomas Campbell, which occurred at his home in Belton on Friday last week, in the 56th year of his age, from general debility and old age. Mr. Campbell was a remarkably active and industrious man, and has left a large and respectable family of children, grand-children and great-grandchildren, who mourn his death. Throughout his long life he was distinguished for his integrity and integrity of purpose, and leaves behind him a name and character untarnished.

It gives us especial pleasure to note the increase of the trade of Anderson during the present year. We are informed by our merchants that their credit trade this year has been smaller than ever before since the war, while their cash trade has been the best. Their collections have never been so good, which proves that the condition of our people, financially, is improving. Our farmers have economized in every possible way, and are now reaping their reward, while our merchants are enabled not only to balance their books, but to hold out superior inducements to the trading public.

Our readers will regret to learn that Mr. A. M. Geer, one of the most respectable and prominent citizens of this County, is ill from the effects of a stroke of paralysis, which he received on last Thursday night. He had been in usual health up to the time of his attack, which was so severe at first that his friends feared the worst results. We are pleased to learn, however, that he is improving, and it is now hoped and believed that he will be again restored to health. We trust his restoration will be complete and permanent.

Mrs. Peggy Leavelle, wife of Rev. John Leavelle, who resides in Belton, in this County, died at the residence of her husband on last Friday night after a lingering illness of many months. Mrs. Leavelle was an aged woman, who, by a pious life, had commanded the respect of all acquaintances; and her husband has the sincere sympathy of the community in this bereavement, which takes from him in old age the partner of his life for near half a century past. The remains of the deceased were interred in the Baptist church-yard at Belton on last Friday morning, after a very impressive funeral service by the venerable Rev. W. P. Martin.

As might have been expected, a few of the dissatisfied colored radicals about Anderson are endeavoring to persuade their fellows that they can never live at peace with the white people, and that they should make their arrangements to leave this country and go to Liberia as soon as possible. We believe they have more sense, however, than to be influenced to such a course. Those who seek to make them dissatisfied with their present lot are the laziest and most trifling of their race, and are never better pleased than when they have arrayed themselves against the whites. Their efforts to break Liberia will prove as futile this time as they did two years ago, and the sooner they cease to listen to the advice of these meddling vagabonds and make up their minds to work to make something for themselves, and their children the better for them.

Mr. William Smith, of Broadway township, died suddenly from an attack of apoplexy on last Monday morning, in the seventy-eighth year of his age. He was born on the 1st day of January, 1801, and during his long life he has uniformly maintained the reputation of an upright and industrious citizen, and as such has been respected and liked by his neighbors and acquaintances. He has always been engaged in agriculture, and never grew too feeble or too indolent to his occupation to give up active labor until the day of his death, having been engaged in picking cotton on Monday morning until within an hour or two of his death. A shower of rain compelled him and his sons, who were with him, to leave the cotton field and repair to the house, where he conversed on the piazza for a few moments. He then went into the house to warm, and upon reaching the fire he fell, so that but for his aged wife, who was near enough to catch him, he would have fallen into the fire. Every possible attention was paid him in the hope of producing a revival, but it availed nothing. He never spoke again, and in a short time his spirit had flown. Mr. Smith had eleven children, all of whom are grown and now living. About two years ago he united with the Dutch Reformed Baptist Church, and has been a consistent member since. His remains were interred at Neal's Creek on last Tuesday, after a very solemn funeral service, which was attended by a large concourse of persons, who were present as a last token of respect for the deceased.

Maj. Joseph M. Adams, of Oconee County, died on last Friday morning, after a long and distressing illness. He was an excellent gentleman and an accomplished scholar. For some years previous to the war he was the principal of the flourishing male academy in Anderson, and was a thorough and successful instructor. After the war Maj. Adams was admitted to the Bar, and practiced law as the partner of Gen. S. McGowan at old Pickens Court House until he decided to follow agricultural pursuits, and accordingly removed to his plantation near Perryville, in Oconee County. For the past two years he has been in declining health, so that his death was not altogether unexpected. On Friday last his remains were interred in the family burying ground at Deep Creek, in this County, after a solemn funeral service conducted by Rev. J. S. Murray. His family have the sympathy of this community in their bereavement.

Look out for burglars, and be prepared to give them a warm reception. Have your windows for such visitors always at hand. No head of a family performs his whole duty, unless he keeps on hand a supply of Dr. Harter's incomparable remedies. Dr. Harter's Liver Pills, or Dr. Harter's Fever and Ague Specific, may be needed at any day, to preserve or restore the health. For sale by all druggists.

STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING. The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Anderson Farmers' and Mechanics' Association will be held in the Court House at this place on Thursday next, 21st instant, when a considerable amount of important business will be transacted, among which is the election of officers for the ensuing year. Every stockholder is requested to be present and participate in the deliberations of the meeting.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH. The fourth quarterly meeting for Anderson Station, South Carolina Conference, will embrace Saturday and Sabbath next, 16th and 17th insts. Services began on last night and will continue each night during the remainder of this week and a portion of next. The official Conference will convene immediately after the eleven o'clock service on Saturday. The boards of stewards and trustees are earnestly requested to attend this meeting, ready to report, as it is the last and most important one of the year. Rev. A. Coke Smith, of Greenville, one of the most promising young ministers of the State, will preach on Sabbath night and the two or three nights following.

NEGRO BURGARS. The houses of two colored men living four or five miles from this place were broken open on Friday last while they were in the field at work, and several articles of clothing stolen. The facts were at once reported to Mr. Joseph T. Pant, Chief of Police, who promised to keep a sharp lookout for any suspicious characters that might come this way. It was not long before one of the burglars made his appearance on our streets, and being unable to give a satisfactory account of himself was arrested and lodged in jail. Soon after this three others were noticed, one of whom was arrested, the others making their escape. They came from different directions, but from their general demeanor after arriving in town it was evident that they were of the same party, and were bent on plunder and thievery. We regret that the two arrested had to be released, as there was not sufficient evidence of their guilt at the time to warrant their confinement, though since they have been liberated sufficient evidence to convict them of burglary has come to light. Such vagabonds are becoming too numerous in the South, and if their devilment can't be stopped in one way it can in another. The thieves went in the direction of Greenville. Since writing the above we have been informed that several dwelling houses in the town of Anderson were entered on last Tuesday night by thieves, who were discovered in the act of plundering and ransacking, but were shrewd enough to make their escape. The soundless were seen in the houses of Messrs. H. O. Herrick and Wm. M. Archer, but not soon enough to catch them. The particulars were given us too late for a detailed statement of the facts. Be prepared for the visits of these fellows and be sure that you take good aim.

Parents should guard against the preparations which merely stupefy children, and make them indolent. When resting and suffering, they need some intelligent treatment as Dr. FARRER'S SMOOTHING DIAPHRAGM. For sale by all druggists.
