"Our informant, who tells us that at the senior promenade of the Anderson INTELLIGENCE, losing his watermelon crop, betting on Grant, was in error. We are glad to know this, and can assure 'the old man' that it took an awful amount of swarving to convince us that he had done so foolish a thing, especially as every good, sound Democrat in the county knew that Grant could be too easily defeated by the 'un-entitled,' and that there was no such good luck in store for an in his nomination. Garfield will be defeated, however, and 'the old man' has won a half crop from his neighbors the next handsome thing he can do is to invite us to 'get away' with the melons. 'We join you, with a proviso.'—Columbia Register. And what is the proviso?"

Mrs. Albert Baker, nee Miss Eliza Kay, died very suddenly at the residence of her husband, in Central, on Monday morning last. She was of delicate constitution, but for several weeks immediately preceding her death she had enjoyed unusually good health, and on Monday morning got up as usual and prepared to go to work. She died of the meal with more than usual relish, but before 11 o'clock she was a corpse, having died of hemorrhage of the lungs. Her remains were brought to this place on Tuesday morning and conveyed to Mountain Creek Church, where they were consigned to their final resting place in the graveyard adjacent, after impressive funeral services.

She was an excellent lady, and had many relatives and friends in this County who mourn her death.

The Columbia correspondent of the News and Courier sends the following bit of news to that paper under the date of the 19th inst: "A proposition emanating from one of the county chairmen of this Congressional district has lately been made to the chairman of the other counties composing the district, suggesting that the convention for the third Congressional district be held at Abbeville on the 8th of July. The matter was discussed informally by a number of the chairmen, but without agreeing upon any date or place for holding the convention. It has been suggested here that August will be early enough to nominate Congressmen, and that Newberry, from its central location, would be the proper place for the convention to meet. This idea will be presented in due time and will probably prevail."

So far as the time for holding the convention is concerned, we agree entirely with the suggestion, but it should not be called to meet earlier than August, but as the place of meeting we do not favor either of the places mentioned. Abbeville is more central than Newberry, but Hodges is more central than Abbeville.

Seeing that you have no correspondent at this place, and thinking that you would like to get occasionally the local intelligence from this interesting quarter, I have concluded to furnish you a few notes occasionally if acceptable. Dr. John Crynes is just recovering from a well nigh fatal attack of illness. His friends are rejoiced to see him convalescing. Dr. John Wilson, our ex-representative, is dangerously ill with chronic pneumonia. His many friends over the County will read it with interest, and with sadness not unmixed with hope, that he may be able to return to his home in the month for College Commencements, our young people are having a round of pleasures in attending them. Williamston may justly be proud of the high honors her sons have taken at these commencements for the last few years, particularly those of Wofford and Furman. A few years ago Wofford graduated G. E. Prince and John G. Clinkscapes, and Furman sent out M. E. Pickett, colored, and highly honored for thorough scholarship and high moral characters. These gentlemen are all in business in Williamston at present, but I think each of them is looking far above his present avocation. Last year John M. Lander graduated at Wofford with the highest honors conferred by that institution. This year the same institution sends out W. T. Lander wearing graceful and the same high honors. Per mobile fortuna! The sons of both of Dr. S. Lander, President of Williamston Female College. Worthy sons of a noble sire. Furman also sends W. W. Brown, son of Dr. B. F. Brown, of this place. He is not a whit behind the others in moral character and literary attainments. Of these John M. Lander feels it to be his duty to preach the gospel of peace, and, being deeply imbued with a missionary spirit, will soon go to bear the glad tidings of salvation to the spiritually destitute millions of heathen China. This does not surprise those who have known him from a child. W. T. Lander and W. W. Brown have given no indication as yet what avocation they will choose. Dr. Lander's College closed this week until August, and will give in my next all that I may know of the great enterprise now in contemplation, and that if consummated will make Williamston the banner station of the banner County of South Carolina.

Rev. Mr. Beatty preached a most excellent sermon in the Methodist Church at this place on the purposes of the manifestation of Christ—the destruction of sin—Sunday.

Crops are very much in need of rain about Williamston. Gardens are parching rapidly. The new bridge across the creek is complete, and the Council have the thanks of the citizens for their earnest efforts to have a real bridge put up. Uncle Tease Clement, the oldest man in Williamston, and an invalid for twenty years, is gradually weakening, and is expected to die very soon. Capt. Wm. Clement, his brother, has nursed him very tenderly. Three young ladies, Misses Landrum, Haynes and Cannon graduated in the Williamston Female College on Thursday last. The institution and the citizens are proud of such graduates as these. On and after Monday, the 21st inst. all the stores in Williamston will be closed at 6 o'clock p. m. The young men and boys are speaking of getting up a base-ball club. Some ladies from Charleston have come up to spend a few months in our town. They are sensible. They know something of our delightful water, salubrious climate, and the splendid accommodations afforded at the Williamston Hotel. Mrs. Ship, assisted by her brother, Mr. Richey, keeps none other than a first-class home. Mrs. Wm. Cooley was stricken yesterday morning at 6 o'clock with paralysis, and died this (Tuesday) morning about 6 o'clock. She leaves many friends and acquaintances to mourn her loss.
