A man in Illinois has bought the exclusive right to sell confectioneries, etc., at the city fair.

Anderson is the place to bring your cotton to want a good price for it—and there is no mistake.

There were a good many intoxicated persons in town on Monday. Where did they get their liquor?

Messrs. Orr & Sloan have a large lot of stone and hand—a fact they desire the public to remember.

A wagon load of mountain women and babies was the attraction on the public road Saturday afternoon.

The Baltimore Sun tells of a young lady who has given $100,000 for a husband. We guess he was a local editor.

Remember that the premiums at the city fair, in all of the departments except one or two, are paid in money.

The farmers should make written contracts with both tenants and wage laborers. It depends on verbal agreements.

We have two weeks more in which to get articles ready for the County Fair. We are to have a good exhibition this year.

The railroad fare from this place to Anderson during the Exposition will be just the same. The tickets will be good for six days.

J. C. Thomas cut his left knee badly while working on Mr. Geo. W. Key's saw mill. He is able to walk with crutches.

The house carpenters are greatly retarded by their work because of the inability of their dealers to furnish them promptly lumber.

The Commissioner of Agriculture passed on Monday afternoon on his way to Atlanta with a car load of articles for the exposition.

There were 1614 bales of cotton received at the depot at this place during the month of September, considerably less than for the month of last year.

W. C. Branson has just opened a fine store of goods at Hones Path, and avails himself of the use of our columns to let the public of the fact.

W. P. Martin, of Belton township, was stricken with paralysis a week or so ago, and who has been quite ill, is improving and hopes soon to be up again.

Sunday was the busiest day of the season. The town was crowded with people from the country, and the merchants were busy waiting on their many customers.

R. F. Diver was the only representative from this county in the State Prohibition Convention, and fought the extreme views of the prohibitionists with all his power.

The public schools of this county will open on Monday, 31st October, and continue until the money apportioned for each district for the ensuing year is expended.

County Commissioners notify all parties who have demands against the county to present their accounts on or before the 15th of November next. The notice appears in issue.

The farmers seem disposed to hold their crops with a hope that the short crop will advance the price before we are sold. We certainly hope their hopes may be realized.

The freight train on the Anderson Branch Blue Ridge Division has changed the day of its running to 9 a. m. We are glad to see the morning and back to Belton the afternoon.

The number of our subscribers in the county has called in and settled their accounts this week. They appreciate the fact that the newspaper comes to them in law, labor and other discussions.

Anna Leak has a word or two of information for our lady readers this week. She would not fail to observe. She will be found on the streets and accounts, and will strive to give satisfaction to her customers.

We said that the farmers of this county were doing more than ever before. It is sensible. After all the drought may be a blessing to the whole country by drawing the attention of our farmers to soil, grain, and forage crops.

The Hopewell Township Singing Association met at Midway church on the 3d of this month. It was a very interesting and extended an invitation to all persons interested in the progress of the school to attend the meeting.

We have received the proceedings of the Singing Convention, and also the report of the Convention by Prof. J. H. Bell, but owing to the press upon our part this week we are compelled to defer its publication till next week.

The report is current that a large number of colored women of this town have formed a combination not to hire for less than six dollars a month. The women who have agreed to inflict on any of the men who break the compact is a sound flouting. We work in the past week because of a refusal of their employers to comply with their terms. They are likely to find out before long that the men are not quite so much importance as they imagine, and that the hungry stomachs of the half dozen others that the average cook feeds from the kitchen of their employers will doubtless have their influence.

Rev. W. B. W. Howe, D. D., of the Episcopal Church and Bishop of the Diocese of South Carolina, will visit the church at this place on Monday evening, and will preach in Grace church on Tuesday morning at 11 a. m. From Pendleton he will go to the city of Columbia, where he will preach the opening sermon on Friday in the chapel recently erected at that place by the Episcopal congregation. The Sunday following he will be in Greenville.

On last Tuesday afternoon as Capt. Joshua Acker and Miss Bettie McDavid were crossing Rocky River on their way to town, going home, they met with a serious accident and narrowly escaped a violent death. They were driving a mule, which became frightened at a sign painted on the timber of the bridge, and backed to the edge of the river. The mule, being in the stream, falling a distance of about twenty feet. Fortunately, the young lady fell into the water a sufficient distance from the mule, and was able to escape injury. Capt. Acker and daughter succeeded in getting out of the buggy in time to save themselves. The buggy was broken up and the mule considerably injured. Such a kind of a bridge should not be allowed, and the proper authorities should see to it that they are completely erased. This is not the first animal that has taken fright at the paintings on this bridge.

Mrs. A. M. Holland died at the residence of her husband at Holland's Store, in this county, on last night after a long illness of the age of about 66 years. She had been in feeble health for the past 10 or 12 months, being most of the time confined to her bed, and although every medical attention was used to arrest the progress of the disease that was gradually undermining her constitution she was unable to escape her fate. She was a lady of high character and strong mind, and was esteemed and loved by all her acquaintances, and her death is a great loss to her immediate family and relatives. She was buried in the Presbyterian church of Robert's church (Presbyterian) and an exemplary Christian and a valuable member of society. At the closing hour of her life she had the pleasure of the presence of her husband and all her children, eight in number, around her bedside, in whose presence she peacefully closed her eyes. Holland was a daughter of Mr. William Sharnard, who twenty-five years ago was a noted citizen of this county, and who had a large family of children, nearly all of whom still live in the county and are among the best of our citizens. Her remains were interred in the graveyard of the Generative church on Saturday at 2 p. m., in the presence of a large and sorrowing congregation of relatives and friends, after a solemn and impressive funeral service conducted by Rev. W. A. Hodges.

"Individuals may wear for a time the glory of our institutions, but they die not to the grave with them. Like good presses, they are made up during raindrops from heaven, and they may pass through the circle of the shining bow and add to its lustre, but when they have sunk in the earth again, the proud arch still spans the sky and shines gloriously on."—James A. Garfield.

W. F. BARR. Anderson County Bible Society. The 33d annual meeting of this body convened in the Presbyterian church at this place on last Sunday night, and was called to order by the President, Col. J. N. Brown, Rev. T. P. Bell then preached the annual sermon, at the close of which a collection was raised amounting to $14.40.

The Depository's report was read, showing that during the year there had been 275,000 copies of books sold, that there was now on hand in the chief and branch depositories $39.00 worth of books, that there were 6 churches co-operating with the Society, that there were 2 branch societies connected with the County Society—one at Hones Path and one at Belton—and that 20 depositories had been supplied with the Scriptures.

The old officers were then re-elected, as follows: President, Col. J. N. Brown, D. D., and J. S. Murray; Secretary, John W. Todd; Treasurer and Depository, A. B. Towers; Executive Committee, Rev. W. H. Sturges, Rev. J. E. Carlsle, Rev. T. F. Gadsden, Rev. T. P. Bell, W. J. Ligon, T. M. White, Dr. M. L. Sharpe, J. R. Clark, A. A. Moore, W. P. Poore, Helton, M. I. Brock, Hones Path, Thos. Crymes, Williamston.

The Secretary was required in this country through the local papers and urge them to co-operate with the Society in seeking out destitute persons and supplying them with the Word of God.

The Baptist church was chosen as the place of meeting, and Rev. J. E. Liley, of Wallula, President of Alder College, elected to preach the annual sermon. The next meeting will be held on the night of the 1st Sunday in October, 1882.

The Society then adjourned.

To Pastors. As the last meeting of the Anderson County Bible Society a resolution was adopted requesting the Pastors of all Churches of every denomination in the County to co-operate with the Society in seeking out persons and families who have no Bible, and who are unable to purchase one, that they may be supplied. Every Pastor who will help in this matter will be remembered in the minutes of the Society. Where persons are found destitute of the Bible, let application be made to the Depository, and they will be supplied. The names of persons so supplied are to be kept on deposit at the store of A. B. Towers & Co.

J. W. Todd, Secretary.
