

Heaven.

We know by very little about heaven. It is easy to dogmatize and speculate about our future home. We are very much concerned to know what kind of a place it will be, and just what we shall do when we get there. It is much more important that we should spend our time in preparing to enter heaven than in trying to picture it to ourselves or to others. The Scriptures have but little to say about heaven. They wisely leave us in ignorance of many things which we would like to know, but which would add nothing to our happiness or usefulness. It is impossible for us, in our present mode of existence, to understand what will be the nature of our future life. The Scriptures invariably represent heaven under figures and metaphors. Our danger is that we may literalize what was never intended to be so interpreted. No one would ever imagine that the heaven of John the revelator is a literal heaven. We shall not find golden-paved streets, nor jasper and sapphire gates of pearl in heaven. We are accustomed to associate these things with great splendor and great happiness. The writer sought to awaken in our minds some faint appreciation of the glory and the splendor of our final home. He could find no finer illustration of the purity, beauty and glory of heaven than in these costly and precious jewels.

Suppose for a moment that he should have attempted to portray the real beauty and bliss of our future home, where would he have found language suited to our comprehension? He could not have used the language of angels, for we must not understand it. What we demand of revelation is facts, not metaphors in speech which we can comprehend. We might have literal descriptions of heaven, and be wholly unable to appreciate them. It is not God's inability to picture heaven, but our inability to appreciate the picture, that makes revelation difficult. It is easy for us to find fault with our Bible because it does not give us full and complete accounts of many things that are left vague and indefinite. It would be much more sensible if we should find fault with ourselves because we are so stupid and ignorant. If we want to find out what heaven will be, we must turn our thoughts to what we shall be. It is easy enough for us to conjecture that we shall be made of gold and life half consecrated, half purified, half sanctified, into a life of perfect bliss and felicity.

Very few Christians read their Bible with their sins before them. They put them all behind them, and imagine that all the promises of God are unconditional. If there is any truth taught in the Bible, it is that our happiness will depend upon the degree of our fidelity and consecration in this life. Other wise every soul that enters heaven would be perfectly blessed. Many people will no doubt be astonished in heaven to find that their poor, half-hearted, broken and battered lives would have disqualified them for the degree of happiness they anticipated. It is only the untutored, unreflecting, immature mind that expects the future life to be without its development and growth. We expect that the laws of God, and the discipline are the same in all worlds. We shall no doubt find that each day or period of our existence will afford opportunities that may be neglected or improved, just as here. Redemption from sin is not freedom from law and responsibility.

We hold very firmly that our heaven will be just what we are prepared to enjoy. Our preparation is just what we ourselves make. We can not live poor, broken, feeble and aimless lives, and enter heaven in all the fullness of bliss and joy. We shall no doubt take up the song in heaven that we had learned to sing on earth. If we have been moping about on earth, we need not expect at once to stand on the golden heights of heaven.

Let us live right each day. Let us make the last day our best. Let us introduce to our first in heaven. Life is grand only as we make it so. We delude ourselves by supposing that we can live weak and heartless lives here, and enter heaven ready for its supreme joys. We should be preparing for our next day, a real preparation for our next day, and to find in it a foretaste of heaven.—Cumberland Presbyterian.

Religious Growth. One of the subjects that occupied the attention of the Plenary Council in Baltimore is the growth of the various religious denominations in the United States. Expert statisticians were employed to compile figures. Their results, which show both the absolute and relative growth, is interesting. By the census of 1880 the population of the United States was 51,445,880. The present population of the United States is 55,000,000. The gain in 25 years, therefore, is 3,554,120, or at the rate of 75 per cent. In 1850 there were 3,600,000 Methodists in this country. Since 1850 the total has grown to 15,000,000. This is an increase of 75 per cent. Keeping in mind the increase in population. The number of adherents of the various Baptist churches in 1850 was 3,000,000. Today it is 15,000,000. The increase in 25 years is, therefore, 12,000,000, or an absolute ratio, but a falling of when considered relatively. The Presbyterians in 1850 numbered 3,000,000. Now they number 5,000,000, an increase in twenty-five years of 66 per cent. The Lutherans, who have been materially benefited by constant and increasing immigration from Germany, Sweden, Holland and Norway, have grown from 1,250,000 in 1850 to 2,000,000 in 1880, or at the rate of 60 per cent. The Congregationalists have declined relatively very much. In twenty-five years they have advanced but 27 per cent, that is, from 1,412,000 in 1850 to 1,800,000 at present. On the other hand the other various reformed churches—Dutch, German and Evangelical—show an increase of nearly 50 per cent. The Episcopalians show a fair increase in numbers, but one relatively below the average. The Episcopalians in 1850 numbered 1,200,000. They now number 1,800,000, or an increase of 50 per cent. The Catholics, who have grown from 500,000 in 1850 to 1,500,000 in 1880, show a relative decline. They have fallen 60 per cent from 220,000 in 1850 to 150,000 in 1880. The denomination of Christians, who are numerous in Kentucky, Southern Indiana, Missouri, Illinois and Michigan, number 800,000, against 600,000 in 1850, an absolute gain of 60 per cent, yet a falling off relatively of 40 per cent. The most surprising feature of the tabulations just compiled is the growth of the Catholics. In 1850 they numbered in the United States 3,376,000. Now there are 5,000,000. This is a gain of 50 per cent. In twenty-five years, the Catholics have increased 1,624,000, or 48 per cent. The growth of the Catholics in the United States is a most interesting feature of the tabulations just compiled. It is a gain of 50 per cent. In twenty-five years, the Catholics have increased 1,624,000, or 48 per cent. The growth of the Catholics in the United States is a most interesting feature of the tabulations just compiled. It is a gain of 50 per cent. In twenty-five years, the Catholics have increased 1,624,000, or 48 per cent.

He Had Plans.

A wholesale house in Detroit in which the firm consists of four partners, with a solid old gentleman at the head, took on a new traveler a few days ago. He was engaged and packed off without having seen the senior partner, and he probably didn't care a cent whether such a person existed or not. He was coming in over one of the roads on a recent Saturday, and had taken a seat in the smoker to enjoy a fifteen-center, when a fellow traveler asked him how business was, and what firm he represented.

"Business is infernal dull, and I represent the house of Blank & Co., Detroit," was the answer. "Pretty solid house?" "Oh, yes; but rather cranky." "Going to be with it next year?" "Well, that will depend. When I get in I'm going to ask for a position in the store. I'm fitted for almost any place there, and I'm going to push myself." "And then you'll work for promotion?" "You bet! and if things come around right I'll have an interest in the old ranch inside of two years."

"I'll give you that?" "Well, the old crank who furnishes the doubloons to keep the business bonning has got two marriageable daughters, and I'm going to be his son-in-law or break both legs trying. I've got the pluck to travel, and you can bet a new hat on me any day in the year." The conversation died away very soon after that, and in a little time the traveler was left to the comforts of his cigar. He thought no more of the matter until he walked into the store Monday morning to report. The first man his eye rested upon was his fellow traveler on the train, and the old gent had his hat off, and seemed very much at home. He bowed to the drummer, and he smiled, and he went to the door and called after him in a forgiving tone, but the man escaped, and has not been seen in Detroit since.—Detroit Free Press.

Education is a better safeguard of liberty than a standing army. If we trench the wages of the schoolmaster, we must raise those of the recruiting sergeant.

AYER'S PILLS.

A large proportion of the diseases which cause human suffering result from derangement of the stomach, bowels, and liver. Ayer's Cathartic Pills act directly upon these organs, and are especially adapted to cure the diseases caused by their derangement, including Constipation, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Headache, Dizziness, and a host of other ailments, for all of which they are a safe, sure, prompt, and pleasant remedy. The extensive use of these Pills by eminent physicians in regular practice, shows unmistakably the estimation in which they are held by the medical profession.

A Sufferer from Headache writes: "I have used Ayer's Pills, and I can truly say they are my constant companion. I have had a severe sufferer from Headache, and your Pills are the only thing I could look to for relief. One dose will quickly move my bowels, and give me a refreshing sleep. They are the most effective and the easiest physic I have ever found. It is a pleasure to me to speak of them, and I will always do so when occasion offers."

"I have used AYER'S PILLS in numberless instances, and I can truly say that I have never known them fail to accomplish the desired result. We constantly keep them on hand at our home, and give them as a pleasant, safe, and reliable family medicine. Sold by all Druggists and by W. L. Page & Bro., Franklin St., Lowell, Mass., June 3, 1882."

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Druggists.

YOUNG, OLD, AND MIDDLE-AGED. All experience the wonderful beneficial effects of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Children with Sore Throats, Sore Ears, and any eruptions of the skin, will find it a most valuable and strong tonic. Sold by all Druggists; $1.50 bottles for $5.

FOR sale by A. B. TOWERS.

FRIGHTFUL CATARRH.
Pieces of Bone.
For four years I have been afflicted with a very troublesome catarrh of the head. So terrible has its nature been that when I blew my nose small pieces of bone frequently come out of my nostrils and nose. The bone most common, and at times exceedingly offensive. My blood became so impure that my general health was greatly impaired, with poor appetite and worse digestion. Numerous medicines used without relief, until I began the use of B. B. Breazeale's Catarrh Remedy. Since their use no symptom has returned, and I feel in every way quite restored to health. I am an old citizen of Atlanta, and refer to anyone any one living on Butler street, and more particularly to Dr. L. M. Gilliam, who knows my case.

A LITTLE GOLD.
Mr. E. A. Clark, of Atlanta, Ga., in speaking of $500 in gold stolen by the robbers, and paper, that the whole of the above amount was spent in a fruitless effort in finding relief from a terrible Blood Poison, affecting his body, limbs and nose—presenting ugly running ulcers. He now stands well, his hair has been cut, and he most speedily and wonderfully ranely ever before known, and an interested party who may need a Blood Purifier will learn from him that three bottles of B. B. Breazeale's Catarrh Remedy, relieved his kidneys, and added twenty-one pounds to his weight in thirty days.

Two Druggists.
We have been handling B. B. Breazeale's Catarrh Remedy, and take pleasure in saying it is superior to all other Blood Purifiers. It is sold by all our customers under satisfaction, and we cheerfully recommend it in preference to any other Blood Purifier. ASHER & MOORE, 224 BROADWAY, ATLANTA, GA.
