The Columbia Register of last Friday says: "The Grand Lodge of the Knights of Pythias, which has been in session in Anderson, has adjourned and a number of the delegates from Charleston and other parts of the State were in the city yesterday en route to their homes, and all of them express the greatest desire for the entertainment by the citizens of Anderson." The meeting of Grand Lodge was in every way a success and the conducting of the order is splendid, more interest being taken in the work than ever before."

The Feast of the Pythians.

The Grand Lodge of Knights of Pythias finished its work and adjourned last Wednesday afternoon. The session throughout was a most interesting one. The delegates, all of whom seemed to be more than pleased with their stay in Anderson. It was only fitting that it should close with a brilliant entertainment, and the members of Chiquola Lodge, assisted by the citizens, did themselves great credit in giving the visiting Knights a banquet, which took place Wednesday night in the armory of the Patrick Military Institute. It was about 8 o'clock when the crowd assembled at the armory, and more than three hundred guests were seated around the tables, which were laden with tempting viands. The hall was beautifully decorated with flowers and evergreens, and the colors of the Knights, red, yellow and blue. The beauty of the scene was enhanced by the presence of the charming young ladies, who served the guests, and during the evening the Anderson Orchestra rendered delightful music. It was indeed a most happy occasion.

Col. Clinckales to Address the Graded School.

Editor Intelligence: Please state that Prof. John G. Clinckales will address the patrons and friends of the Graded School at the school building on May 28th at 2 p. m.

He will talk to the students earlier in the day, viz., at 12:30 and 1:30.

We make this mention because the hall is not large enough for pupils, patrons and friends. All are cordially invited and it is earnestly hoped that every patron of the school will be present.

Respectfully,
W. F. MONCRIEFF, Sup't.

The expenses of Great Britain are now about $500,000,000 yearly, or nearly $100 per acre, and every tick of the clock represents an inflow of a little over $10 into the British treasury, thus leaving an annual surplus of about $20,000,000.

We will present annually free a new 1897 bicycle (either ladies' or gents' wheel) in exchange for a favor we wish attended to in Anderson, also in every tick of the clock represents an inflow of a little over $10 into the British treasury, thus leaving an annual surplus of about $20,000,000.

One of Anderson's most prominent farmers says that he has had to buy new hoes for quite a number of years—that they would break and split—pull out at the building. Mrs. M. P. Parker and Miss Lenora C. Hubbard are also on the Committee and will receive relics and subscriptions.

Work on the electric plant out at Porton Shoals is being pushed rapidly toward completion. The contractors have probably doubled their working force. We hear that a light force is to be put on and that the electricity to light the scene is to be transmitted from the city. It will be impossible to complete the job by June 1st, the time originally named, but if the work is pushed as energetically as is contemplated will be completed long thereafter. What is likely the most difficult part of the entire job is now under way—building the last section of the dam in the middle of the river. The trouble is to keep the water walled away. The vents, one at either end of the dam, are hardly large enough to accommodate the normal flow of the stream, so that the last section of the work will require a large coffer dam to protect the workmen and the work. What is known as the "tail race," by which the water is discharged after it has left the wheels in the power house, will lie in the channel of that prong of the river which flows around the east side of the island just below the dam. A large quantity of stone will have to be removed from this to get the necessary fall, and considerable time will be taken on this work.

Everybody in Anderson was terribly shocked last Sunday morning when a telegram from Belton brought the sad news that Mr. E. H. Poore, a popular merchant in this city, had died suddenly of apoplexy at the home of his brother, Mr. Lun Poore, that morning in Belton. Mr. Poore on Saturday attended the picnic at Coccy's Bridge, where he formerly lived, and was apparently in his usual good health and as jovial and as energetic as Saturday evening he came over to his brother's to spend the night, and about 3 o'clock a. m. he awoke with the symptoms of apoplexy, and he died very heavily, and on going to his bedside found him lying on his back unconscious and struggling to get his breath. Physicians called in were summoned, and everything possible done to relieve the unfortunate man, but with no success, for he never regained consciousness and about 10 a. m. death claimed him as its victim. Mr. Poore was a son of the late Holland Poore, and was about 45 years of age. In his boyhood he joined the Shady Grove Baptist Church and throughout his life was a faithful member. He was twice married, and both his wives preceded him to the grave. By his first marriage three sons and one daughter are left to cherish the memory of a devoted father, and in their sore bereavement they are being comforted by the sympathy of wide circle of friends. Mr. Poore was one of the most generous, noble-hearted men we ever knew, and his death is a sad loss to the community. On Monday morning his remains were buried in the Belton Cemetery beside those of his wife, Mrs. L. M. Poore, of this city, conducting the funeral services. Mr. Poore was a member of the Knights of Honor and of the United Order of Woodmen of the World.
