

Fairbanks' Dirt's Worst Enemy

Largest package—greatest economy. Made only by THE N. K. FAIRBANK COMPANY, Philadelphia, Pa.

BUGGIES, BUGGIES!

Don't think of buying a buggy until you inspect my line, which is one of the largest in the upper part of the State. I always keep a large stock on hand for you to select from, and all makes and grades. "BROOKS" BUGGY on "Lappy" Springs is the easiest riding one made. "TYSON & JONES" cannot be beat for wear and tear and for superior workmanship and finish. The "COLUMBIA" is the best on wheels for the price you pay for it. Also, several other makes equally as good, but too numerous to mention.

WAGONS.—I always keep a full stock of the old reliable "Tennessee" Wagons, which need no introduction to the people.

A full line of BUGGY and WAGON HARNESS (single and double), extra harness, TRACES, BACKBANDS, COLLARS, BRIDLES and SADDLES, extra harness, also, a beautiful line of L.A.P. ROBES.

Don't buy anything on wheels until you see me.

If it don't suit you to pay Spot Cash for my Goods will sell them to you at same price, on good paper, and charge you eight per cent interest until paid.

DON'T FORGET ME.

J. F. FRETWELL.

P. O. 9.—Please call at my office and give your Note for Fertilizers purchased this Spring. All these accounts must be settled by Note by May 1st.

Attention, All Veterans!

The executive committee for the reception and entertainment of the United Confederate Veterans at the seventh annual reunion, to be held at Nashville, Tenn., on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, June 22, 23 and 24, has sent out the following circular letter, giving information of the greatest importance to those who intend going to Nashville on that occasion.

To Ex-Confederate Veterans everywhere—Greeting: The executive committee send out their cordial invitation to the United States the following information as to the next annual reunion: Transportation.—All railroad lines east of the Mississippi River have agreed on rates to the reunion of one cent per mile each way calculated on shortest route. Lines west of the Mississippi have agreed on about that rate. These tickets will be sold with a limit of ten days and a further extension on ten days additional of application to proper railroad official at Union depot in Nashville. For full information see your railroad agent.

Board and Lodging.—Meals can be procured at prices ranging from twenty cents up, and sleeping accommodations in all their power to provide entertainment for those unable to pay the rates mentioned above.

Camping Grounds.—Suitable arrangements have been made for desirable camping grounds convenient to all in their power to provide entertainment for those unable to pay the rates mentioned above.

Horses and Carriages.—Arrangements have been made to have horses and carriages furnished at reasonable prices, and persons desiring same can procure all necessary information by writing to Capt. M. S. Cockrill, chairman of committee on horses and carriages.

Sponsors and Maids of Honor.—Homes or quarters will be furnished, free of charge, to one sponsor and her chief maid of honor from each State, and the different State organizations will please send their committee at once the names and addresses of same.

Excursions.—To battlefields and to Hermitage, etc. Cheap excursions will be run to the Hermitage, the home of Andrew Jackson, and to the Confederate Soldiers' Home, and to many other battlefields. Full information later.

All Veterans are requested to organize themselves into bodies of twenty-five or less, with a chairman or commanding officer, who will, upon their arrival, be met by the reception committee at Union depot. We would suggest that you send a representative here some days beforehand to make all necessary arrangements.

All uniformed Confederate companies will report to the committee as soon as possible the number of men expected to come and name of commanding officer.

As stated by the commanding General, this will be the largest and most important United Confederate Veterans reunion ever held in the world. We would suggest that you send a representative here some days beforehand to make all necessary arrangements.

Joseph's Canal in Egypt.

How many of the engineering works of the nineteenth century will be in existence in the year 6000! Very few, we fear, and still less those that will continue in that far-off age to serve a useful purpose. Yet there is at least one great undertaking conceived and executed by an engineer which during the space of 4,000 years has never ceased its office, on which the life of a fertile province absolutely depends to-day. We refer to the Dair Jousouf—the canal of Joseph—built, according to tradition, by the son of Jacob, and which constitutes not the least of the many blessings he conferred on Egypt during the years of his prosperous rule.

This canal took its rise from the Nile at Assiut, and ran almost parallel with it for nearly 250 miles, creeping along the eastern cliff of the Nile Valley, with many a bend and winding, until at length it gained an eminence, as compared with the river bed, which enabled it to turn westward through a narrow pass and enter a district which was otherwise shut off from the fertilizing floods on which all vegetation in Egypt depends. The northern end stood seventeen feet above low Nile, while at the southern end it was at an equal elevation with the river. Through this cut ran a perennial stream, which watered a province named the Fayoum, endowing it with fertility and supporting a large population. In the time of the annual flood a great part of the canal was under water, and then the river's current would rush in a more direct course into the pass, carrying with it the rich silt which takes the place of manure and keeps the soil in a constant state of productivity. And this, with the irrigation scheme of Joseph which he had introduced, while the grateful Japanese—very polite and greatly wondering—passed from hand to hand, with ejaculations of surprise and delight, that conventional implement of civilization—a boot-butler.—Harper's Young People.

The Danger

to which the Expectant Mother is exposed and the foreboding and dread with which she looks forward to the hour of woman's severest trial is appreciated by but few. All effort should be made to smooth these rugged places in life's pathway for her, ere she presses to her bosom her babe.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

allays Nervousness, and so assists Nature that the change goes forward in an easy manner, without such violent protest in the way of Nausea, Headache, etc. Gloomy forebodings yield to cheerful and hopeful anticipations—she passes through the ordeal quickly and without pain—is left strong and vigorous and enabled to joyously perform the high and holy duties now devolved upon her. Safety to life of both is assured by the use of "Mother's Friend," and the time of recovery shortened.

"I know one lady, the mother of three children, who suffered greatly in the birth of each, who obtained a bottle of 'Mother's Friend' of me before her fourth confinement, and was relieved quickly and easily. All agree that their labor was shorter and less painful!"

Just a Common Liar.

"Old B." says some years ago in a Carolina town a crazy man was brought before an examining board to settle the question as to whether or not he should be sent to the asylum in Columbia. After the doctor got through with his examination, one of the committee had an old-fashioned "My friend, did you ever borrow any bags or rugs?"

"Yes, lots of them."

"Did you ever borrow your neighbor's newspaper?"

"Yes, many a time."

"Well, now, what became of the jugs, bags and newspapers?"

"Why, I carried them all back."

The old farmer gave a blow almost as loud as "Nancy Hart's" whistle, and said:

"Gentlemen, he's no lunatic! Just simply a common liar, and all the just in the world 'n' our cure him of lying!"—Hartwell, Ga., Sun.

A Marvelous Instrument.

Mrs. Mabel Loomis Todd, while in Japan, became readily accustomed—indeed, a good housekeeper would—putting off her shoes before entering a palace or a temple where the exquisitely fine matting or smooth, lacquered floor might be injured by contact with anything so coarse and heavy as the sole of a shoe, in which case, there might be a loosened nail to tear or scratch. But once, while traveling in a portion of Japan beyond the route of tourists, where she was the first foreign woman the inhabitants had seen, she had an odd experience.

She had just visited, in company with a Japanese gentleman who understood English, a temple of which the floor was of the most delicate and beautiful gold-leaf lacquer, and had of course discarded her European footgear while going so.

On coming out she sat down on the top step of the temple stairs and proceeded to resume her boots, when she found herself all over surrounded by a crowd, who chattered eagerly to each other, gesticulating, explaining, laughing at her, and then back to each other with further rapid conversation, which she did not understand.

Very curious, but perfectly respectful, who himself appeared interested, what it was all about, and why the people were so excited.

"It is the marvelous way in which you fasten your buttons so quickly with that curious steel instrument," he explained; and he suggested that she should allow it to circulate among the crowd and be examined. Having her boots completely buttoned by that time, she gratefully consented, and in a length she asked her companion, who himself appeared interested, what it was all about, and why the people were so excited.

Man vs. Wildcat.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., May 22.—Sportsmen here, and the great resort of the Cuban population of Ybor City and Tampa, was the scene of a fight to the finish this afternoon between a 15-pound wildcat and a Jamaica negro, known only as Sam. The negro was promised $200 if he succeeded in killing the wildcat inside of 30 minutes with his bare hands, and no kicking. Sam took the money.

At least 500 people witnessed the battle, which was bloody from beginning to end. The cat had been starved for several days and had also been teased and tortured until it was in a frenzy.

The negro stepped into the inclosure wearing brown canvas overalls and a jumper. The cat was let out of the cage inside the ring, and running to one side, stopped and began looking at the negro, who was advancing toward it. The cat was furious with rage, and when Sam was within 10 feet of it, leaped directly for his throat. The negro was expecting this and jumped quickly to one side but struck the cat with his fist as it went past him.

In a second the cat came back with a rush, and this time fastened its claws in Sam's thigh, tearing the canvas trousers and bringing the blood. Sam caught the cat by the throat, but he let go with a howl of agony as a strip of flesh was torn from his arm by the claws of the hind foot of the cat. With a spring quick as lightning the cat was on the man's shoulder, clawing his face and chewing his right ear. Then the negro got angry, and tried to tear the enraged cat from his shoulder and neck. In the struggle Sam fell and the cat leaped from him. The crowd cheered, and urged Sam to go on with the fight.

He was half blinded by blood, but he made another dash for the cat, and fell to the ground, faint from loss of blood and the terrific strain to which he had been subjected. He was given the $200, but says he never wants to fight a wildcat again.

Discovery of the Phonograph.

I discovered the principle by the merest accident, states Mr. Edison. I was singing to the mouthpiece of a telephone when the vibrations of the voice sent the fine steel point into my finger. That set me to thinking. If I could record the motions of the point and send the point over the same surface afterwards, I saw no reason why the thing would not talk. I tried the experiment first on a telegraph paper, and found that the point made an alphabet. I shouted the words "Hallo! Hallo!" into the mouthpiece, and heard a faint "Hallo! Hallo!" in return. I determined to make a machine that would work accurately, and gave my assistants instructions, telling them what I had discovered. They laughed at me. That's the whole story. The phonograph is the result of the pricking of a finger.—Michigan Christian Advocate.

In 1835 a tame elephant could be bought in India for $25. Now their prices range from $750 to $4,000.

Beware of Mercury!

Mr. Henry Roth, of 1848 South 9th Street, St. Louis, was given the usual mercurial treatment for contagious blood poison. He was twice pronounced cured, but the disease returned each time, he was seized with rheumatic pains, and red lumps were created on his body. "I was in a horrible fix," he says, "and the more treatment I received, the worse I seemed to get. A New York specialist said he could cure me, but his treatment did me no good whatever. I was stiff and full of pain; my work was useless so that I was unable to do even the lightest work. This was my condition when I began to take S. S. S., and a few bottles convinced me that I was being benefited. Continued the medicine, and one dozen bottles cured me sound and well. My system was purified, the blood was renewed, and I would soon have been a complete wreck but for S. S. S."

S. S. S. (guaranteed purely vegetable) is the only cure for red blood diseases. The mercurial treatment of the doctors always does more harm than good. Beware of mercury! Books on the disease and its treatment mailed free to any address by Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.
